NEWS OF THE WEST.

Colorado Woman Arrested for Obtaining Money by False Pretenses.

LARGE SUM OF MONEY FOUND.

A Theatrical Troupe Stranded at Laramie, Wyoming—Other Items.

A report that Sheriff Bogart of Teller county, Col., has unearthed $170,000 near Hadding and Cripple Creek has reached metropolitan centers of the country. The Bonding days are living up to Cripple Creek's and the killing of "Buck" Montgomery, the shotgun messenger.

District Judge C. S. Zimmerman and wife arrived home yesterday from Salt Lake City, where the judge has been, says the Hailey (Idaho) News-Herald, under instructions of an injunction. Judge Zimmerman says he is visiting Salt Lake for the first time, very much disappointed and glad to get home.

A scientist has been working the pocketbooks of the women and of Wyoming for some weeks. He has taken in the ladies of Cheyenne so much, says the Cheyenne Sun, and has offering a check or order on the firm of Annabel Lewis, and receiving the money in cash, when he would disappear.

Sallie Bamhill's troup was stranded in Laramie, Wyo., last week. The Republican says he arrived there from the West with very penniless, and his Laramie performance failing to leave a balance on the right side of the ledger, his baggage was attached by the Union Pacific. Bamhill, the original and sole manager, is raising funds to release his baggage.

The Evanston (Wyo.) Herald says: Sheriff John Watt is serving some uncomfortable thirteen at which at eyes out. On the night of the murder, which gave nine chilly to eyes, he received a telegram from his mother, who resides near Aberdeen, O., informing him of the sickness and probable last illness of his aged father, and urging John to his bedside.

Says the Hailey News-Miner: The survey of the New Pass Indian reservation, which is to be thrown open to settlement next May, is nearly finished, and the Indians have already picked out the best they are going to claim. The reservation contains 700,000 acres of land, over one-half of which is said to be good arable land, susceptible of a high state of cultivation.

San Francisco Chronicle: The engineers have not as yet reached a settlement with the officials of the Southern Pacific. All conferences looking to a peaceful solution of the differences arising from the new wage schedule which was recently put into effect have failed, and the engineers are still in the sulkiest and most resolute position of not knowing what will happen.

The Colorado Springs Gazette states that the prime have arrived. Agnes Unskill is wearing money under false pretenses. She went to one of the express offices and drew $5 which her mother has sent her from Denver as a present. A few days later she came again and declared that she had never drawn the money but that some one had signed her name. She was permitted to sign for the second $5 and was immediately arrested.

There is a probability of a strike at Lethbridge, Mont., among the coal miners, says the Helena Herald, and if there is there will be a boycott put on the coal on this side of the line. If there is no strike, however, we understand that it was decided at a meeting of the directors held at Great Falls on the 31st ult., and at which Mr. Hill was present, that no trains would be run over the Great Falls & Canada while the strike lasted or the boycott managed.

Poultry Notes.

Pullets are not good breeders.

Plumage, symmetry and so on depend on the chic.

Observe which hens are the best layers and breed from them.

Give fowls all the range and exercise that the weather will permit this cold weather.

An eastern exchange says: "Eggs are shipped to New York from Belgium. They are packed in flat boxes, filled to with cut straw. The boxes hold from 60 to 80 dozen each. The box by weight is about the same as those shipped from the west in barrels. Freight averages from 1½ cents to 2 cents per dozen, while their price range with those for western stock."

For "condition powders," no medicine, no patent "egg food," no "substitute" but the same common sense applied to the hen as to the cow.

It is the mother hen influence the internal qualities. A good layer, if mated to the right sire, will impart this desirable quality upon her progeny.

The western are like the hens in a live—spring, except for the purpose of procreation. Hens will lay better and the eggs will keep better without them.

It is as important that when the hens are nearly molted, as is often necessary during the winter, to see that the food and water are kept clear of filth.

In selecting a male bird for breeding take one that is bold and lively in his gaitings, glossy in plumage, long well developed, broad, full breast, muscular thighs and legs as well as well spaced.

Hens eat considerable grass during the summer, and something of a like nature should be provided for them in winter.

Put straw in the resting place of the hens and geese. It will help keep them warm. Change it often enough to keep clean.

One of the sure ways of keeping the cows at work this cold weather is to feed the grain among them and let them scratch it out.

If the hens are laying well in winter, they must have lime in some form. Give them crushed oyster shells, old plaster or mortared.

Yellow corn gives a yellow tinge to the flesh of dressed poultry. Wheat and buckwheat whitens it. Feed according to the demand of your market.
