MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS.

THREE COMPANIES DECLARE DIVIDENDS

Iron Blossom and Colorado Pay Regular Amounts—Sioux Cut To Three Cents.

(Special to The News.)

Provo, Nov. 10.—The directors of the Sioux Consolidated, Colorado and Iron Blossom Mining companies met here this morning and declared dividends, amounting in all to about $183,000.

Colorado and Iron Blossom each declared dividends of 8 cents a share, or $80,000, the former being payable Nov. 20, the books closing on the 15th, and the latter being payable on the 25th, the books closing on the 20th.

The dividend of the Sioux Consolidated was reduced to 3 cents a share, about $23,000, which is payable on Nov. 20, the books being closed on the 15th

Although it was a foregone conclusion that Sioux would cut the dividend this month or next, few persons were prepared for the drop from 7 to 3 cents. Most people had it figured out that a 5-cent dividend would be paid, though some thought it might cut to 4 cents; but few persons expected the drop to 3 cents. The reason assigned for the cut is the fact that the ore is lower grade than formerly.

The action of the directors of the Iron Blossom also came as a pleasant surprise, it being thought that the dividend might be passed this month in order to allow the company ample funds for extensive development work. It is stated that the mine is in good condition, and the company is well able to pay this dividend and yet have sufficient funds on hand for all purposes. Both this mine and the Colorado are reported to be looking well.

STOCKS WEAKER TODAY.

Colorado, Mason Valley and Prince Con. Show Declines.

The market generally was a little weaker on the mining exchange this morning and trading was not heavy. Prince Con. which has showed the effect of a bull movement for several days, fell back to $1.22½ this morning, and Mason Valley, which has been firm around $2, was active as low as $1.95.

Colorado also dropped this morning, sales being made as low as $1.20. Iron Blossom was unchanged and Sioux was traded in at 55 at the opening, though it declined to 54 before the close. Red Warrior, the newly listed stock, was also active at $2.50. Columbus Consolidated received some attention at 68.

The smaller stocks were also weak. Provo sold as low as 9, and Mineral Flat was traded in at 2½. Mountain Lake came out on a bid of 6½, while Bullock sold at 1 cent. Seven Troughs has gained a little, being traded in at 13 this morning. Indian Queen was active at 3¾.

OPOHONGO SHIPS GOOD ORE.

Mine Is Producing Two Cars a Week —Water Is Being Reduced.

(Special to The News.)

Provo, Nov. 10.—Manager Hatfield of the Opohongo mine, expects to develop the property to the point of making it one of the big mines of Tintic. The mine is now shipping two cars of ore a week, which carries 8 to 25 per cent copper $1.50 to $3 gold and 8 to 16 ounces silver.

The pump installed in the Tintic Central last week is rapidly reducing the fifty feet of water which has interfered with the work. After the water is cleared out sinking in the shaft will be proceeded with.

Of this amount 66,359,617 pounds were for domestic consumption, an increase of 14,254,462 pounds as compared with September, and 56,261,238 pounds were for export, an increase over September of 6,182,465 pounds.

ACTIVITY IN GOLD MOUNTAIN.

Visitors to the Gold Mountain mining district located about 30 miles south of Goldfield, report a great deal of work being done which will result in a good camp being opened there in the near future. Small shipments of ore have been made from several properties and the ore is said to carry good values, the predominating values being in gold, with some lead and silver. Some of the ore taken out is exceptionally high grade. Some of the old mines in this section are being worked and among the old bonanzas which are shipping ore is mentioned the Rattlesnake, one of the oldest and best shippers in southern Nevada. The Randolph property is also said to be making a fine showing.

A 5,000 gallon tank left Goldfield recently for Gold Mountain, consigned to Bob Crosby, who has completed the erection of five stamps of the old Western mill which for a long time stood near the brewery in Goldfield, and in a short time the mill, with a supply of water to be held in reserve in the big galvanized tank, will begin to pound on ore.

DALY-WEST MINING SUIT NOW IN DISTRICT COURT

H. Otto Hanke, J. J. Daly and Others Would Examine the Company's Books.

The trial of the case of H. Otto Hanke, H. R. Macmillan, J. J. Daly and others against Josiah Barnett, secretary and Herbert S. Cohen, assistant secretary of the Daly-West Mining company to obtain a writ of mandamus against them to examine the books, accounts and contracts of the mining company, was begun this morning in Judge George G. Armstrong's court. In a deposition read in court which was made by Mr. Hanke, it is alleged that the present officers and directors of the company are not operating the mine in the best interests of the stockholders, and accusing them of gross mismanagement.

In answer to the charges, the officers of the Daly-West Mining company declare that Hanke, Macmillan and the other stockholders are seeking to secure information as to the condition of the company for the benefit of the Ontario and Daly-Judge mining companies.

H. H. Macmillan was the first witness called this morning. He testified that he had purchased 500 shares of stock in 1908 as an investment. Shortly afterward he attempted to obtain permission of both Barnett and Cohen to examine the books but they both refused. He also made several other attempts to get some information about the condition of the company before the stockholders' meeting, which was held in Denver on February 26, 1909, but he was again refused permission to examine the books. Mr. Macmillan was still on the stand when the court adjourned at noon today. The case will probably consume two or three days.

REVIVAL OF SILVER REEF.

Discovery of 100-Ounce Ore Reported In Company's Property.

Reports from the old Silver Reef camp in Washington county are to the effect that high-grade silver ore has been discovered in the property of the Reef Mining company in that section. Henry Welte, manager of the company's holdings, has been working the claims for some time. He has sent word that a silver ledge has been uncovered, which is a foot in thickness, and has ore carrying 100 ounces in silver. Mr. Welte says that the ore grows richer and the vein wider as depth is reached.

The announcement of the fortunate discovery was not entirely unexpected, for it had long been the conviction of those in a position to know that there was in the neighborhood silver ore of as high grade as was found in the days when Silver Reef was a flourishing camp.

The success of Manager Welte has caused much elation among the officials and stockholders of the company. The promise is that work will be pressed with all possible vigor.

The ledge was struck by sinking a shaft from the bottom of the incline, which is down 400 feet.

WILL MINE TUNGSTEN ORE.

Modern Machinery Now Being Installed at the Tungsten Property.

Arthur G. Burritt, president of the Ohana Mining company, who recently returned from a visit to the property in the Blackhorse mountains, Nevada, reports great preparations going on for the development of the noted Tungsten property, located about 26 miles south of Osceola. The mine has been developed for years past in a desultory sort of way, but a much more energetic campaign of development work is going to be carried out under the direction of Mr. Fletcher, who is installing an air compressor and machine drills.

Good deposits of tungsten ore are not common in the United States. Another important deposit is known to exist about 12 miles south of Benson, in Cochise county, Arizona, in the Whetstone mountains, in the form of wolframite, the tungstate of manganese and iron. It is said to be unlike any other deposit known, and occurs in a light colored granite that is intrusive in mica schist and limestone. The ore is said to be an original constituent of the granite, and after being mined and handpicked, assayed about 10 per cent tungstic trioxide.

BARNEY'S CANYON ROCK.

Taken From Shaft Sunk by Jesse Knight Similar to Bingham Mines.

Samples of rock shown today from the bottom of the shaft now being sunk by Jesse Knight at the North Bingham company's property at the head of Barney's canyon, are interesting from the fact that the formation and character of the rock seems to be identical with that of Bingham. The shaft is in vein matter which has a talcy appearance and carries pyrites of iron which is said to be associated with other metals. A force of 10 or 12 men are said to be at work at the property.

At the Argus property in the same vicinity a tunnel is being run farther down the canyon, with the idea of crosscutting the big vein which outcrops on the hill, and which is thought to have some connection with the mines of Bingham. At the Argus there are about six men working and at the distance of 200 feet from the mouth of the tunnel some iron is being encountered similar, it is said, to that found near the surface in the shaft being sunk by Jesse Knight at the North Bingham.

NIP AND TUCK FILES ARTICLES.

The Nip and Tuck Mining company of this city filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk Tuesday. Its capital stock is $250,000, divided into shares of the par value of 25 cents each. The officers are J. B. Cass, president and director; C. H. Thompson, vice president and director; H. P. Clark, secretary, treasurer and director. The company owns a group of eight claims located in the Bradshaw district, Beaver county, Utah.

INLAY SAID TO BE IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Joseph Lippman Says Three Shifts Will Soon be Put to Work In the Mill.

Joseph Lippman, who returned yesterday from the Imlay mine in Humboldt county, Nevada, reports the mine in splendid condition, with every prospect of making a dividend payer. The management is much pleased over the new developments in the No. 1 level, where a new ore body has been discovered which bids fair to rival any deposit found in the property thus far. The ore is a sulphide and carries good values.

At the present time two shifts are working at the mill, which is giving a satisfactory account of itself. As soon as the water flow increases sufficently another shift will be put to work. This will not be long. A shipment of concentrates is now on the way to market and Superintendent Turner expects to send along another one next week. The reserves of the mine, which is a gold proposition, are being added to right along, and a steady production is said to merely be a question of time.

CHANGES NARROW CLOSE WAS FIRM

New York, Nov. 10.—Opening changes in prices were narrow in spite of quite active trading. Many stocks started unchanged from yesterday's prices and the small gains and losses were evenly divided. Northern Pacific declined ⅝. International Paper preferred gained 1 and Pittsburg Coal ¼. The weakness of Pennsylvania, Reading and Union Pacific made it difficult to hold up the list. Denver & Rio Grande broke 2 points, Minneapolis, St. Louis 1½, Pacific Telephone 1⅜, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific, American Woolen, American Agricultural Chemical and United Railways & Investment 1. Some recovery was made later in sympathy with the bidding up of the Interborough-Metropolitan stocks. Activity dwindled on the rally. Colorado Southern second preferred, Corn Products and the Pittsburg Coal stocks rose 1.

Prices hardened slowly but there was little business done. Butterick Publishing rose 3. Utah Copper 2 and Baltimore & Ohio 1. United Railways & Investment preferred fell 2 and Western Union, Pullman and American Steel Foundries 1.

Bonds were steady.

Scarcely any demand prevailed and stocks were offered down. New York Central yielded 1⅜. Great Northern preferred 1⅜ and New York Central and International Harvester 1. Pacific Mail gained a point.

A temporary hardening of prices failed to arouse any following and the market sold off again. National Biscuit and Mercantile Marine preferred lost 1, American Sugar 1⅝ and New York Central and Manhattan 1. St. Louis-Southwestern preferred advanced a point. There was some improvement at 2 o'clock.

The market closed firm. The slow hardening of prices in the final half was based on an assumption that the advance of the Bank of England's rate tomorrow was improbable. Union Pacific rose 1½, Amalgamated Copper and St. Paul 1. Pennsylvania got up to 140. United States Steel to 90, St. Joseph and Grand Island second preferred rose 2⅝, Pittsburg, C. C. and St. L. and Interborough-Metropolitan 1¼ and International Pump, Anaconda and American Cotton Oil 1.

Delaware & Hudson fell 1.
