SHEEHAN IS ON THE RACK.

Mr. Goff Calls Him a Thief in Concluding the Examination.

A Decidedly Exciting Scene Before the Lexow Investigation Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Chairman Lexow of the Senate police investigating committee intimated at the opening of today's session that should Commissioner Sheehan show further contumacy, Mr. Goff would be likely to take him off the witness stand and notify the matter to the grand jury.

Commissioner Sheehan was accompanied into the investigation chamber by his brother, Dr. Sheehan, as private. The commissioner had brought some bank books with him.

James W. Ryan, the Tammany leader of the Ninth assembly district, was first placed on the stand today.

"Did you send out a notice," asked Mr. G. H. Peabody, to a list of people who are under police protection?"

"I did not."

"Now, here is a type-written slip attached to a circular setting your name in connection to the election district opposite. Will you swear that the circular set out from your headquarters?"

"I swear I don't know anything about it."

"Did not a clerk keep write a letter to you not more than to John Tammany Hall?"

"I ask him, not me to threats."

"You go before the grand board in their interest?"

"No, sir; I appear as a citizen sometimes."

"Do you think it interesting," broke in Chairman Lexow, "that a political organization look after police matters?"

Commissioner Sheehan was called to the stand. He was holding several packages and some type-written papers, but declined to tell Mr. Goff what they were. Mr. Goff read an interview with Commissioner Sheehan published years ago. He had stated in the interview in which Mr. Sheehan was quoted to have said:

"It is also true that arrangements have been made by Tammany to stop the payment of police blackmail."

"Is all true?" asked Mr. Goff.

The commissioner wanted to explain. He said he was not politically.

"You have not politically led anything," suggested Mr. Goff.

"You can be democratic without being politics," replied Mr. Goff.

"I will not be cross-examined by counsel," exclaimed Mr. Goff.

"You must try it," suddenly replied the witness.

"You will answer the questions as I put them," shouted Lexow to him.

"I will answer them in my own way," Senator Cantor spoke up excitedly. "Don't put that down, sir stenographer." Turn to Chairman Lexow, "Shall we stand? You put the question to what you are asking witness questions?"

The witness attempted to talk the off with his gloves. "Hold, hold time."

"You can't drown me," shouted Senator Cantor.

"Come to order," shouted Senator Lexow, who seemed considerable excited.

"I will have my way," shouted Senator Cantor.

Then Mr. Goff caused additional excitement by saying in a whisper audible to all:

"Information has reached me that the room is packed with Pequot committers who came here tonight by arrangement to witness Sheehan's defeat and threaten to expose the commissioner. Let the sheet explode."

"Why, this is astonishing," gasped Senator Cantor. "I accuse of that is impertinence."

Counsel then asked Commissioner Sheehan for his bank books, but was refused.

Chairman Lexow ordered that Sheehan's refusal to show his bank books be laid before the district attorney and the grand jury.

"You are a gentleman of the committee or supplies?" questioned Mr. Goff after recess.

"Yes."

"Do you know the officers of the Buffalo Steel House company, which has assigned the election booths?"

"No; Commissioner Murray had charge of selecting what booths were made."

"The company performed the work in violation of the law relating to the employment of labor on public works," said Mr. Goff.

"We received a certificate from labor union."

"And that is all you did?"

"It was not in our province. The booths were completed when the notice reached us."

"What was the condition of the department?"

"Excellent."

Mr. Goff then went into the reported visit of Commissioner Sheehan to Wall street to sell advance information, as to the decision of the court of appeals in the Sugar trust matter. The witness denied he was a "bookie of decisions," as charged by a local paper. He denied that he had visited H. O. Havemeyer and others in Wall street for the purpose of selling them advance information. The men who said he had done so were mistaken.

"Did they lie?"

"I don't say that; I deal of the whole story was a fabrication."

"You would not appoint a man who has committed a crime?"

"No."

"You are a detective, though," exclaimed Mr. Goff.

"I am not," the witness said quietly.

"Can explain what you are driving at?"

Lawyer Grant rose and asked that the line of inquiry be excluded as it was not pertinent to the issue.

Senator Cantor, who was presiding in Chairman Lexow's absence, said: "The witness will be allowed to explain everything at the proper time. He should be glad of an opportunity to clear himself of the charge. If he is innocent it should be known."

Mr. Goff produced papers and discussion hearing the witness's equations capital purpose of proving that Commissioner Sheehan has misappropriated $1000 while comptroller of the city of Buffalo.

"I do not know, sir."

Mr. Goff read the following document, dated November 8, 1892:

"Received from J. Sheehan, chairman, the sum of $500 in payment of any deficit that may be in the accounts of a proper committee. Signed, E. J. McGuire, Schuyler Ryan."

Mr. Goff read another letter dated December 8, 1892. It was addressed to E. J. McGuire, and said:

"Dear sir—You are hereby authorized and requested to use or pay out the money put up in my for the purpose of making good the shortage which was in my account at the time I turned over the comptroller's office to you. Signed, John C. Sheehan."

Commissioner Sheehan stepped down to give way to Timothy J. Mahoney, ex-comptroller of Buffalo. Mr. Mahoney identified his coupon receipts and the time and receipts.

"Why gave you these receipts?" asked Mr. Goff.

"Mr. Sheehan's brother William, I felt Will that I would not sign the receipts for money which I had not received, and asked him to tell John to come and see me. He came to later and I told him to pay up as soon as possible."

"Do you say the coupon account was missing on the date account?"

"No."

"What did he say?"

"That he would pay up as soon as possible."

"How long elapsed before the story of the coupons came to public?"

"About two years."

Commissioner Sheehan was recalled.

"I have some questions to ask you," said Mr. Goff. "Will you produce your bank books?"

"No."

"You a defaulter, a grand larceny thief, refuse to produce your books in the face of this evidence?"

"You're a liar. You know you are (?)," yelled Commissioner Sheehan.

"Your language is intemperate," Senator O'Connor admonished Mr. G. H. was read the minutes to show he had used the bank whole activity.

"Are you fortunate? was taken soon tomorrow."

Japan Was Prepared.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—"I saw just two years ago today the Japanese in Manchuria. Was and it is as perfect as ever. Not only that, but the lands afford every conceivable passage in Corea I. winter from Corea to the great wall near Peiho. The variety of Japan is a genuine continuum," said the Rev. Maurice J. Walker to a reporter at the Wilcox Friday.

Speaking of the war, Mr. Walker said:

"Japan was obliged to engage in foreign warfare to prevent a repetition of the revolution in 1871 in her own month. For years she has been preparing herself, not only that, but for the eventuality and the last campaign in China. For after a year she, Japanese photographers have traversed every part of China, with the exception of the country is better known today in Tokio than in Pekin.

Another Minister Resigns.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The resignation of Count Eulenburg, which was the first report in consequence the resignation of Count Eulenburg, as state chief Herr Herrfurth, Von Heyden-Linden, Prussian minister of agriculture, seems to be correct, the reported resignation of the chancellor has not been yet accepted.

Railroad Scandal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A Paris dispatch says: The league of the Nine Swords, striking without a jury to suppose another conversation in defiance of the Hotel Bristol, charged seventeen months imprisonment for not publishing an article in the Le Jour against the Panama scandal.

M. Fauvel, manager of the Le Jour, appeal was from before a jury of composedly in the same offense and acquitted.

CHINA'S EMPEROR WAKES UP.

He Wants to Know Why Japan Cannot Be Exterminated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A London dispatch says: A dispatch to the Central News from Tien Tsin says:

The news Mercury learns the emperor is intensely angry at the existing condition of things, and is determined to investigate affairs personally. Accordingly he is summoning viceroys, governors and other officials before him.

It is asserted he intends to learn why a small country like Japan cannot be exterminated.

Died For the Friend.

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 31.—News reaches here today of the lynching of Rudy Martin in Christian county yesterday by a mob. Martin was asked by a dozen or more men who asked for information of Bill Goode, the last white prisoner in Christian county. He was asked about the latter's crimes, especially that of horse stealing. The men told him they had come to hang him, but if he would give Goode's evidence on Bill Goode he would be spared.

"If I must die for my friend, gentlemen," said he, "let the hanging proceed. Bill Goode has been my friend, and I will shield him."

The mob quickly did its work, and left the body swinging from a limb upon a lone country road.

STEAMER WRECKED.

A Hundred and Twenty Passengers Perished.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—The Union Steamship Company, whose boats ply between Australia, New Zealand, was wrecked Sunday evening on Great Barrier reef, off the northeast coast of New Zealand. The steamer had a large number of passengers and 111 of them were drowned. The number of people saved is not positively known, but among the rescued are none of the passengers.

The night was very dark, and the officers and seamen on the steamer were ignorant of the proximity of land until the steamer struck on the rocks. Captain McIntosh, the master of the Waitaka, was on the bridge at the time. He, together with most of the crew, were lost. The sea was tempestuous when the steamer went aground.

Attempts were made to lower some of the boats, but several of them were either smashed by being thrown to the sea against the side of the steamer or else the falls were cast off, or were capsized before they could be laid down in the sea. Everybody in the boats perished.

Those remaining on board refused to attempt to escape this way.

In the meantime the people on shore had gone to the assistance of the shipwrecked people. Two Maoris boarded three life rafts and three white women survivors, but succeeded in the water by canvas. Two more of the Maoris swam and took the rafts to the shore and assisted to the shore by the aid of rope and stripped upon the rafts, which were then cut loose. They arrived safely to shore, and the people on shore were taken to Whale Bay where they came to meet by Cook Wan went on in the water as far as possible to meet them.

A line was finally thrown across the steamer and the survivors hung rigging. A number of lives were saved by this means. A telegram of the passengers and thirty-two of the crew drowned. The survivors have arrived at Auckland.

HEARTRENDING SCENES.

AUCKLAND, Oct. 31.—The Waitaka struck at midnight, when most of the passengers were asleep. They were roused by the shock of the steamer striking and flung up from their excitement. Life belts were rapidly served out. There were many pathetic and heartrending scenes. Despite the excitement there was no panic. A heavy sea was breaking over the vessel and the boats were launched with the greatest difficulty. The steamer, after one attack, settled quickly and was partly submerged. A large number sought refuge on the bridge. Many were swept from it by the sea; others took refuge in the rigging, where they remained until daylight. When two of the crew swam ashore with lines, by means of which a boat of rescuers they was rigged and a number of persons landed safely. All who reached the shore were sitting in the wretched clothing. They remained on the coast of thirty hours, suffering on account thus and been washed ashore.

ANARCHISTS RETURN.

Circular on Account of the Czar's Illness.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—A circular showing a large list bomb, revolver and dagger, emanating from the refugee committee in Switzerland, addressing their to the Lost Brothers:

"To Our Brothers, the Oppressed in Russia—for great Anarchists, anarchists, and, dangerous, and accused of Michaelof, Rosenkoff, Kosebkin Anna E. Sopon Petowski, Jan Hanlman and so forth, portrayed of the Siberian gulags, persecutor of the Jews, to on the point of expiating his crimes.

"He is dying of a mysterious illness, a well merited punishment. Vendetta, the Zamorina, Hinsky and Fojnit, seem to be unable to finish a job which has been devoted to violence and oppression.

"Although the monster is going to disappear. Hurrah! The day approaches when a man might be worthy right of birth—a person of his kind and live at 100 or 200 or other men.

"Let us see, the Czarewitch, as he embodies Russia, the tsarina, Duke Vladimir and Michael, who are ready to assassinate in accordance with the traditions of the Romanoff family. We are prevention of the dismal heritage—we are thoroughly understand that every man and every day they will find to do either face to face with the delicacies with of the infamous line.

"Let us have in the opposition Liberals the task of covering with flowers the bloody corpse of the assassinated Wonderful, the Will Assassinating the king that loved it.

"Working in the Russian slavs a long process cold, so long and so tired to cheap, cerebral support of the assassins Ivanoff, Mulin a Russian Siberian or the citizen Wing we shall always sighing and by the wanting to pleasure.

"Long live liberty and the revolution."

"NOT HALF TOLD!"

The Words of Mr. Hendley, Whose Statements Were Published Two Weeks Ago.

A Forcible Illustration that the Statements Published in these Columns Each Week, far from Being Sensational or Misleading, are the Words of the Patients in their Simplest Form.

A very forcible illustration is furnished this week, in the words of Mr. Hendley, manager at the City Farm, exactly of the fact that the statements given each week from patients treated and cured by Drs Shores & Shores are not sensational, for from being sensational or misleading, are in every instance the mildest and simplest words in the patients themselves, used in describing their symptoms.

Mr. Hendley called at the office of Drs Shores a few days ago and said:

"Doctor, among the many testimonials I have heard from people in your city, I have not seen one published in the papers here in one in particular, there a gentleman at Clifton, Idaho, who was very similar, if it was not a case that you had cured, and said it was really in such a terrible condition when I went to you."

"Now I want to say just as I said in my letter to him that he commenced to improve right towards me, I cannot describe the awful condition I was in and the wonderful good you have done me."

Mr. Hendley's statement as published two weeks ago is given below:

MR. CHAS. HENDLEY, MANAGER CITY FARM.

"I had contracted poison in my system for 15 years, and I can say from experience that when it is allowed to go on the blood will in all its veins, it certainly was beginning to show on my tongue and gums or in the tongue was beginning to show and swelling. My throat also commenced to swell and I had no appetite, of course. I did take any food for fear of pain and agony I so often had in spite of it. I had lost my strength and was fast sinking away. Being food and sleep, my stomach was so sore and painful.

"For three weeks at one time I did not swallow a particle of food. My tongue was so swollen I could not close my mouth. For three all I would drink was in the morning was a glass of water. The rising sore in my mouth were so sore, and all I could do was to keep turning them with needle to stop the pain from so big into an hole.

"Of course I sought relief—have doctored most all the time for seven years. I was under the treatment of five of the best physicians in the state, but they gave me any permanent relief. They would try their best for disease, but I kept getting worse and worse until about two weeks ago I saw an ad. of Drs. Shores & Shores. If my condition and suffering was so immediately my experience under Drs. Shores & Shores' treatment is simply wonderful. I can hardly express my delight and gratitude to their remarkable skill and success. Their soothing treatment and strengthening, purifying medicines have made a new being of me. My suffering is all gone. I am three hearty meals day now and enjoy every one of them.

"I am glad to make this statement, and I sincerely hope that everyone suffering with catarrh or any trouble can take advantage from my experience and not neglect the risk longer by feeling with some incompetent doctor, but go at once to these up-to-date physicians—Drs. Shores & Shores—and be cured."

Mr. Hendley's address is Sugar House P. O. this county.
