GEORGE Q. CANNON, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

BREVITIES.

A boy was recently admitted to a London hospital who had utterly lost his eyesight from a wound received while playin at "William Tell."

The editor of the Middletown, Ct., Constitution, calling attention to an advertisement, says: "See plain statement in southeast corner of this paper."

"Be solemn," said Mr. Corwin, "if you want to succeed. The world looks up to the ring-master and down on the clown. It despises the man who entertains it. Be as solemn, therefore, as an ass. All the monuments have been built to solemn asses."

"Whenever," said Madame de Stael, "I see Mr. S. I receive the same pleasure that I receive from looking at a fond couple, he and his self-love live so happily together."

A divorce case in Ireland has elicited the fact that the lady was in the habit of chastising her husband with the furniture, and on one occasion knocked him down and sat on his head, and further lacerated his feelings by saying that his head was as pleasant to sit on as a muff.

One of Herring's safes stood a healthy roasting in the fire at the Spottswood House, Richmond, without being in the least overdone. The proprietor was delighted when he learned that the rich stuffing of the safe was entirely uninjured. Twenty-three thousand five hundred in currency, and valuable papers and books were among the stuffing. They hadn't been even singed.

Now that the provisions in Paris are nearly all consumed, it is thought that Favre and Trochu ought to give their machine some name less suggestive of the unattainable than "Provisional Government." How would it do to call it the irrat-ion-al bureau—as suggestive alike of their condition and the chief article?

Mr. Lorenzo Day, of Chickasaw county, Miss., having married Miss Martha Week, a local paper comments:

"A Day is made, a Week is lost,
But time should not complain—
There'll soon be little Days enough
To make the week again."

Miss Lilly Peckham, of Milwaukee, who studied law just long enough to become shocked at the iniquity of the profession, is now preparing herself for the ministry. It is probable that if she reads of a few more uncharitable "men of the cloth" like the Rev. Sabine, she will return to the law as the more respectable profession of the two.

An Arkansas editor, who is either very fond of a joke, or has a sad experience of the responsibilities of his position, lately issued his paper without editorial matter, but with a paragraph at the head of the column in which he declared that the wives of his subscribers had so occupied his attention in calling to show their babies that he had no time to attend to anything else.

An exchange says: "Detroit seems to be running a race with Chicago on divorces, crimes, accidents, and unaccountable doings generally." We'll stake our pile on Chicago. It is the most enterprising city in the West, and in no particular does it exhibit greater enterprise than in the rapidity with which it unties the connubial knot. We once knew a Chicago woman, for about three months, and every time we met her she bore a new name, to which she was legally entitled.—Ex.

The Yolo Democrat of the 7th has the annexed incident:

During the late term of our County Court, a witness in a burglary case at Davisville was called to the stand and asked if he knew the accused. Pointing to one of the jurymen, and looking him straight in the eye, he exclaimed: "Yes, that's him; I should know him among a thousand!" The Court was convulsed with laughter, the juryman of course looked confused, and the witness took his seat with an air of triumph, elated with the idea of having "spotted his man."

A Louisville girl, whose lover calls every morning, and stays all day and long into night, became discouraged at so much attention, and concocted a plan to get rid of him by asking him to help move the piano up stairs, and after that was done changed her mind, and had him help move it down. She had it moved to and fro seven times, and he didn't see the point, and the other night, in despair she threw a pail of water on him out of the window. He says you can't place any confidence in women, and he has presented a bill for moving furniture.

In the absence of a piano a large cooking stove might be properly substituted.

The Paris Government suppress a Dispatch from Gambetta, which calls for a General Sortie!

A LITTLE CONGRESSIONAL SQUABBLE IN THE HOUSE!

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Sherman's Ohio bill.

The Senate resumed consideration of Sherman's bill, ceding to the State of Ohio jurisdiction over the ground occupied by the Dayton Soldiers' Home. The effect of Sherman's bill is determining the question of jurisdiction over the asylum, as between the State of Ohio and the government, and was discussed at length; and at 3 o'clock the bill passed by 25 ayes, 12 nays.

HOUSE.

Animadversion to President Grant's Philandering about the Country.

Mr. Dawes offered an amendment to the appropriation bill, for the payment to John W. Douglas, assistant commissioner, for November, 1870, while he was acting commissioner of internal revenue; agreed to.

Mr. Ely offered a similar amendment applying to Samuel A. Duncan, while performing duty as commissioner of patents.

Mr. Cox suggested an allowance to Gen. Dent in the absence of the President. He did not believe in paying any subordinates for running the White House while the President was on philandering expeditions through the country. It was not right. It was not the standing ancient ways of government. The old Presidents never deserted their post, but stayed in Washington during summer heat and winter cold.

Mr. Hoar remarked that the second President of the United States was absent from Washington for seven months.

Mr. Cox knew that, but it was during the sickness of his family. None of the Presidents had gone philandering around the country, to Long Branch and to horse races, smoking all the contraband cigars that they could get. The good old Democratic Presidents did, once in a while, go home to see their families, in a quiet way, but never made a public exhibition of themselves.

Mr. Dawes:—"Now we have heard all."

Mr. Cox, continuing.—"Who runs the Executive department when the President is away? Must we give extra pay to General Dent and the Grant family? Must we give it to General Babcock, or any other of the military people, who not only take care of the Executive, but come here to instruct us in our Congressional duties? If so, how much shall we give them for their executive and how much for their legislative labors?"

Mr. Benton:—"I rise to a point of order; the gentleman has talked longer than five minutes, and is out of order besides." (Laughter.)

The chairman sustained the point of order.

Mr. Holman offered a like amendment in favor of James A. Morgan, late chief clerk to the commissioner of patents, which was rejected.

The committee then took up and acted on the military academy appropriation bill; and having completed it rose, and reported both bills back to the House.

WASHINGTON.

Adverse to the constitutionality of the income tax.

WASHINGTON, 18.—Judge Kelly yesterday received copies of an opinion adverse to the constitutionality of the income tax, given by Wm. Evarts and Spencer Miller. Kelly will lay the opinion before the committee on ways and means, and will ask for its consideration at an early day, when parties favoring the repeal of the tax may be heard in that interest. The committee must report ere long, in response to the resolution of the House, directing inquiry into the expediency of appeal.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Oliver Ames has not resigned the presidency of the U. P. R. R.

BOSTON, 17.—There is no foundation for the reported resignation of Oliver Ames as President of the U. P. R. R.

MISSOURI.

Senatorial election.

ST. LOUIS, 17.—Both houses of the Legislature voted separately for U. S. Senator this afternoon, with the following results: Senate—Blair 13, Henderson 17, absent 26; House—Blair 87, Henderson 43. Total for Blair, 99; Henderson 60.

To-morrow a vote will be taken in joint session, when it is expected that Blair will receive three more votes, those of absentees.

NEW YORK.

Concerning the Mallory question—Camden election rioters on trial—French agents purchasing arms.

NEW YORK, 18.—A Canadian correspondent asserts, on the authority of government officials, that the Granada, lately seized, was taken in charge for violating the revenue and not the fishing laws. If this is true, it gives that case, now receiving official attention at Washington, a very different aspect.

The trial of the Camden election rioters began yesterday in the U. S. court. The cases excite considerable interest, from the fact that they are the first which have arisen under the law to enforce the 15th amendment, and because of the number of persons indicted.

The agents of France for the past few months have been the principal buyers of arms in the American market, as a rule purchasing the best quality. Shipments of artillery, small arms in considerable quantity, and harness for artillery purposes, appear on the manifests of the French vessels that are clearing for Havre during the winter. A manufacturing firm is now under contract, with the French government, for their entire production of weapons of an improved pattern, and are finishing a thousand guns daily. They have shipped about 75,000 Enfield rifles, originally imported from England, and last fall obtained from the U. S. Government.

ILLINOIS.

Elected Senator—Accounts of the recent great storm.

CHICAGO, 18.—Accounts from various parts of Illinois state, that the recent cold weather has undoubtedly entirely cut off the peach crop. It is snowing here this morning, but not heavily. Telegraphic communication with New York, via Pittsburg, was restored this morning.

A special from Lincoln, Nebraska, says, with reference to the election of U. S. Senator, for which purpose both houses meet jointly to-day, the excitement is high and matters look as though no choice can be had for a few days. Although the first ballot in joint convention will undoubtedly result in a material increase of Thayer's vote, it is doubtful that the requisite twenty-seven votes will be cast. His opponents are so evenly balanced, that neither will surrender and allow the opponents of Thayer to unite on one man.

The newspapers of Northern and Central Illinois, received here to-day, are filled with accounts of the great storm of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, from one hundred to two hundred miles south of this latitude. More rain appears to have fallen on the first day, and as it froze nearly as fast as it fell, the roofs of houses, awnings, and forest and fruit trees were covered with immense quantities of ice; and when, to this, was added the great weight of snow which fell during Saturday and Sunday, great damage ensued from the crushing of roofs and trees. In many localities the orchards are permanently injured by the breaking off of limbs, and in many cases the prostration of the trees themselves. At Springfield, Ill., considerable damage was done to stocks of goods in flat-roofed houses, the accumulation of ice and snow on which caused them to leak through.

Communications were greatly disarranged, but not entirely suspended, except in a few localities; but the telegraph lines were rendered utterly useless.

Directly west of this city the storm was far less severe, although considerable snow fell throughout the region east of the Missouri river.

Hon. Wm. Windom was to-day elected U. S. Senator from Minnesota; his term commences on the 4th of March next.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A dispatch of Gambetta's suppressed by the Paris government.

LONDON, 17.—Paris dispatches of the 13th says that Gambetta's last dispatch to the authorities here, which was suppressed by them, called upon General Trochu to take the initiative and make a vigorous sortie upon the Germans, so that they might be prevented from detaching men from Paris to reinforce the armies in the provinces. The inaction here injures the cause of France elsewhere. The violent Republicans in the city insist on the adoption of Greek fire for military purposes. Three men in Paris declare they possess the secret of its manufacture. Gen. Trochu opposes its use.

A Quaker Indian agent who has recently visited the Cherokees, Choctaws and other tribes, gives it as his opinion that the Indian females can be elevated, and intimates that hooped skirts are more useful in a family than war whoops.
