NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Child Accidentally Shows the Use of Its Head Off.

NEGLECTFUL PARENTS IMPRISONED.

A Hunter Killed—Girl Killed by a Storm—A Blacksmith Burned—Fatal Falls.

Peter Grelz, justice of the peace at Hensley, Cal., was killed Friday by being thrown from a buggy. He was 40 years of age, and was married two years ago.

Pat Dunn, a miner, engaged to marry an Irlington school teacher, lost his life near Fresno, Cal., while trying to catch a horse Friday and he died last Sunday. Death is to settle the matter of his priority. He leaves a wife and infant.

A party from the Gleason Mining company in Nevada, on the point of leaving for San Luis Obispo county, Cal., to develop the Gaffey mines at Pecho, have decided to wait until October, with mining implements ready for early season.

Charles McKeever, a San Francisco laborer, aged 40 years, fell down a flight of the Oakland ferry stairs Monday morning about 2 o'clock. When he was picked up at the foot of the stairway it was found that the fall had broken his neck and that life was extinct.

Louis Zoccolla, a trapeze performer and acrobat, while giving an exhibition Friday evening, fell from the trapeze when the cables were nearly horizontal from the ceiling, striking his head on the floor, and fracturing his skull, from which he died Saturday morning. The accident was part of the performance given by a cheap circus at Sacramento, Cal.

Frank Gerdes of Hanville, Contra Costa, ex-marshal of that town, was before Judge Campbell Monday morning on bench warrant proceedings instituted by his wife, failure to provide for his children. He was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment for six months in the county jail.

Francisco Jurevo, a young man of San Bernardino, California, was boating in San Timoteo canyon Saturday, with a single-hatched shotgun, when crossing a creek in the valley the hammer of the gun was struck against something and the piece discharged, killing a wound that proved fatal. The lad was 16 years old.

Frank Sims, a Hayward's, Cal., blacksmith, suffered shocking injuries while at work in the surgery Friday last. He was heating a bar which had just been heated at the forge and in some manner lost his hold on it. It struck him on the right side just below the elbow and carried through to the floor. It severed an artery, but somehow the blood vessels in the arm of Sims may never recover the free use of the arm.

An aged German woman entered a grocery in San Francisco at 7 o'clock Saturday night and presented a whisky flask to be filled. To the clerk, L. Bonzel, who waited on her, she complained of a pain in her side and sealed herself upon a barrel. She had been scarce but a moment when with a sudden exclamation of pain she fell from the barrel to the floor and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Levy A. Morgan, 71 years of age, and a native of Maine, was burned to death at San Francisco at 2 o'clock Friday morning by the explosion of a lamp. He had got out of bed and was carrying a lighted lamp to the water tank in the kitchen, where he intended to get some water for his dog. Suddenly he became faint and fell to the floor. The lamp broke as it hit the floor. Morgan was one week to help himself, and was badly burned about the face and body, and died.

The heaviest rainfall of the season in southern Arizona occurred Friday night. In Nogales, Sonora, the house in which lived the family of Maria Aguirre, who caused so much excitement a short time ago by trying to excite a revolt against the Mexican government, was so much undermined by the downpour that the walls gave way, killing the roof fall, burying the seven inmates. A little girl was killed and others were more or less seriously injured. The rainfall was general throughout southern Arizona.

A quit claim deed from the old Nevada Southern company to the California Eastern railway was placed on record Saturday in San Bernardino county, California, by Judge Dillon, attorney for the California Eastern railway. The deed is under seal, and Judge Dillon says it is made by authority of the stockholders of the old company. It conveys the road formerly the property of the Nevada Southern, now in operation between Bissbee and Manvel, in San Bernardino county. This apparently winds up the affairs of that road.

Saturday night a ghostly discovery was made in the Old Mission, about four miles from El Monte, Cal. The body of a child was discovered in a heap of rubbish, with its head cleanly torn from the body by a rifle ball. The child was the 3-year-old son of a Spanish farmer who owns a ranch near the Old Mission. Twenty-four got possession of his father's rifle and gave him one of the attributes of the mission. In attempting to extract one of the shells from the rifle he accidentally discharged it. There were Indians in the Old Mission at the time, and hearing the report of the rifle they went to the spot, where they found the lifeless body of the child.

The Pinto residents of this county, says a Gold Hill, Nevada, dispatch, are intensely excited over the appearance in the outskirts of town Friday afternoon of two Walker Indians, who were armed and evidently looking for mischief, and that night the Indian village was deserted, the squaws and all Indians having bought the preference of the whites in town and the horses being in the hills on the bottom for trouble. Ever since the killing of a young Pinto buck by one of the Walker tribe in Reno, a few days ago, the old hatred between the two tribes has burned with renewed fierceness, and an outbreak has been expected by those who know all the circumstances.

Tuesday from Silver Lake, Cal., bill of a frightful accident on the road between Silver Lake and Kirkwood's and Finley. Two men named Hall and Matthews were working on a road in Alpine county at a place known as Carson Spur. The roadway is very narrow and on the side away a chasm 600 feet deep at the most perpendicular rises. They had a horse and cart to haul to their work. At first operations upon the horse became tedious. Matthews [illegible] Hall took the horse, Matthews [illegible] The horse [illegible] and slipped over the precipice. Hall was [illegible] Matthews was [illegible] Hall was [illegible] and [illegible] Hall [illegible] Matthews [illegible]

Amazing Photographs.

We are generally thought less of [illegible] "photographs." Instead, the [illegible] Bob, Jim and Mary are [illegible] photographs, as [illegible] a [illegible] photographer [illegible] the [illegible] Although there is not the life and [illegible] Bob's [illegible] Jim's [illegible] Mary's [illegible] Bob's [illegible] Jim's [illegible] Mary's [illegible] Bob's [illegible] Jim's [illegible] Mary's