COURT NEWS

STOCKHOLDER CHARGES FRAUD.

T. M. Monzigo Says Defendants Have Acted Unlawfully.

The officers of the Uintah Mineral Wax company are charged with fraud and the court is asked to appoint a receiver for the company by Thomas M. Monzigo, who filed suit in the Third district court Tuesday. H. M. Black is president of the defendant company and Palma Black secretary, and the complaint is directed against the persons individually, as well as against the company. Monzigo says he is one of the largest stockholders in the company and that he represents in his action more than 20 other stockholders who own more than 300,000 of the 500,000 shares of the capitalization. He alleges that the company owns nine claims bearing mineral wax in Uintah county and a mill for handling the product. He charges that the officers named have been guilty of fraudulent conduct, in that they have failed to have the assessment work done on the property this year and that they intend to let the work go and then relocate the claims for their own private benefit. He also claims they have failed to hold stockholders' meetings for more than two years past, and that the president of the company has unlawfully removed from the state the stock books and other records of the corporation. The defendants are also charged with having organized another corporation known as the Consolidated Uintah Mineral Wax company and are interested in an action brought by that company against the Uintah Mineral Wax company. Judge Morse issued a temporary restraining order against the defendants and an order to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to take charge of the affairs of the company. The order will be heard Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

TWO SUITS TO COLLECT.

Burtner Trading Company Defendant In Two Creditors' Actions.

Two suits were filed in the Third district court Tuesday against the Burtner Trading company, a copartnership composed of A. J. Henry, J. M. Bigby, W. L. Lisonbee, T. C. Callister and T. L. Fisher, and against those persons individually. Joseph F. and Merrill Nibley, co-partners, are the plaintiffs in one of the actions, in which they seek to secure judgment for $1,172.17 for lumber sold to the defendants between April 21 and June 14, 1908, and also for $493.13, alleged to be due for lumber sold to defendants by the Falls City Lumber company of Oregon, March 17, 1909.

The plaintiff in the second action is S. W. Morrison, who asks judgment for $1,506.08 for lumber sold to defendants between April 13 and June 30 last, and also for $1,062 for lumber sold to the defendants by the Silverton Lumber company of Oregon, between May 24 and June 12 last.

SIEGEL FILES APPEAL.

I. Siegel, a pawnbroker has filed an appeal in the Third district court from the judgment of the court of Justice Stanley M. Hanks, in which A. C. Miller is given judgment for $299 for the value of two diamond screw earrings and a gold bracelet studded with diamonds, which were pawned with Siegel by Mrs. A. Miller. When Miller went to take up the articles, Siegel refused to give them up, and Miller brought suit with the result stated.

CHILD HAS DISAPPEARED.

The hearing on the petition of Mrs. Alice Shreve for a writ of habeas corpus to recover the custody of her three-year-old granddaughter, Helen Hall, came up in Judge Lewis's court last evening, but nothing was done, because of the insufficiency of the answer filed in the case, and the further fact that the child, Helen Hall, had disappeared from the Orphans' Home and Day nursery, to which she was committed April 29 last.

The alternative writ was issued to the board of directors of the Orphans' home, but in the answer to the writ, the officers of the institution claimed that some time before the writ was issued, they returned the child to the custody of the juvenile court, and now have no knowledge of the child's whereabouts.

The little girl was taken in charge by the juvenile court last April on the ground that her mother, Ione Hall, was an inmate of a house of ill-repute and not a fit person to have the custody of the child. Helen was then turned over to the Orphans' Home and Day nursery. The mother attempted to secure possession of the child by having a guardian appointed, but her petition was denied by the court upon the commencement of the action by the child's grandmother.

The attorney for the defendants, Parley P. Christensen, asked that the petition for writ be quashed, but this was denied by the court, who held that the answer of the day nursery only stated that the child had been taken away but did not state by whom and in what authority the child had been delivered to the juvenile court. The defense was given until today to amend its answer, and the further hearing of the case was postponed until Thursday at 10 a. m.

THREW RAZOR AT BED.

The Blade Cut Him, and He Did Not Throw it at His Spouse.

Answering the complaint of his wife, Eleanora Robinson, who is suing him for divorce on the grounds of cruelty, Albert Robinson Tuesday filed reply to the complaint which charges him with having called his wife names and with assaulting and knocking her down. Robinson denies that he ever threw a razor at his wife, as charged in her complaint. He admits that he threw a razor, but explains the incident by saying that as he was shaving one morning the razor he was wielding cut him, and, becoming so enraged at the blade for treating him so unfeelingly, he threw it against the bedpost in the hope of breaking it, and that the razor glanced off from the bedpost and struck his wife, cutting her dress below the knee, but not injuring her a particle. Robinson also denies that he ever accused his wife of unchastity, but states that she frequently went out buggy riding with other men against his will, and that when he remonstrated with her for such conduct, she replied that she would go out with men whenever she pleased. Robinson alleges that his wife was of a quarrelsome, cross and hateful disposition and that he was compelled to leave the house frequently in order to avoid quarrels with her, and on this ground she charged him with leaving her alone when she was ill. He acknowledged staying away from home several days at a time, but said it was because his wife left home and refused to return to him. Robinson denies that he is an ablebodied man, as alleged by his wife, and says on the contrary he has long trouble and is under the doctor's care most of the time. Robinson says he earns only $1.25 per day and denies he has $200 or any other sum in the bank. He asks that his wife's claim for divorce be dismissed.

The attorneys in the case of J. F. Malone, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, notified Judge Lewis this afternoon, that they had withdrawn from his defense. The assault was committed last April against Nels Paulson over the possession of a pool table. The case was continued until No. 4.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy

A full pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time—can be made by the recipe given below in five minutes, for only 54 cents. Simple as it is, there is nothing better at any price. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours, and is a splendid household remedy for whooping cough, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint warm water and stir about 2 minutes. Put 2½ oz. Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly and the taste is pleasing.

The chemical elements of pine which are very healing to membranes, are obtained in high proportion in Pinex, the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract. None of the weaker pine preparations will work with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or can easily get it for you.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

INSTALLING BIG TRANSFORMER

The new motor-generator for the Utah Light & Railway company has arrived from the Wisconsin manufacturers, and is being assembled and set up in the West Temple street power station. This enormous machine weighs 75 tons, the largest section weighing 25 tons, located immediately to the east of the big motor-generator installed last winter, and on a massive rest iron setting over a massive foundation of masonry and reinforced concrete. The machine is of two-fold structure, a motor taking 4,000 volts of alternating current from the high tension wires, and transmitting it to the generator which sends the electricity out as direct current for the operation of the street railway system. The capacity of the machine is 2,000 horse power, its cost being $38,500.
