Salt Lake and Boise were unable to play yesterday afternoon at Boise owing to the continued rainfall. It is believed the teams will be able to clash this afternoon.

At Spokane, Gimlin's Lobsters got even with the Indians and beat them by a score of 5 to 4. Kirby Hoon, pitcher for the Lobster crew, was mainly responsible for the Indians' downfall. Although Hoon was quite wild at times, the Spokane batters failed to connect with his delivery, and the result was that the Indians got no more than four measly hits. Errors were plentiful, but the play was fast all through the nine innings. The detailed score follows:

ANOTHER FOR SALT LAKE.

Reilly Manages to Land the Clever Hitting Carney.

Local fans will remember "Two Feathers McCarney," the hard hitting pitcher, who played with Reilly's Indians at Spokane last season. Well, Carney will be with Reilly this season, but with Salt Lake instead of Spokane, all of which is good news to local fans. With Murdock and Carney in the field, the home team will be greatly strengthened in fielding and batting.

That Carney is one of the best batters in this neck of the woods is plainly shown by his work last season when he batted .396 in 86 games.

PRESIDENTS MEET.

Pulliam and Johnson Hold Confab With Reference to New Rules.

Cincinnati, May 4.—Presidents Pulliam and Johnson, of the National and American leagues, met here today with Chairman Hermann of the national commission, the three constituting that body, and acted on a number of matters that had been appealed to the commission. A new rule was announced, to the effect that when a minor league club has purchased or drafted a player, and such player does not report to the minor league club, the player shall not be subjected to draft by a major league club until after the minor league club drafting or purchasing him has secured his services for at least half of a season.

An additional rule is announced regarding the playing of games with clubs not under the national agreement. National agreement players are to be permitted to play only with clubs having contracts for their services; they must not play with or against outside clubs during their contract periods, and club owners are forbidden to grant permission to players to play contrary to this provision.

ON THE RACE TRACK.

Metropolitan Handicap Proved to be a Great Event—A Dead Heat.

New York, May 4.—One of the greatest crowd that ever gathered to see a thoroughbred race in American was at Belmont park today to witness the sensational running of the Metropolitan handicap, in which James R. Keene's 3-year-old Sysonby and O. L. Richards' hardy 4-year-old Race King finished so close together that the judges were unable to separate them. Both owners announced their satisfaction with the results and the purse of over $14,000 was divided.

Sysonby was the favorite in the betting, his stable mate, Delhi, having been withdrawn. Long odds were offered to the public on Race King, but there were few who thought highly of the Tenny colt's chances. The time of the race was disappointing, showing that the Belmont tracks are still "new" and slow.

More than 50,000 persons saw the race. Racing men of prominence came from all parts of the United States to take part in the inauguration of the new quarters of the Jockey club, the governing body of eastern racing.

Added to the intense interest displayed in the new track came the unexpected result in the Metropolitan handicap, which never before in its history, extending back to 1891, has been marked by a dead heat. The enthusiasm of the great crowd was unbounded as the two highly trained thoroughbreds came pounding down the long stretch, nod for nod; the scene was thrilling. Beldame, the champion filly of last year, was forgotten and in the ruck at the finish. Half a score of other thoroughbreds never were thought of as the two leaders rushed past the judge's stand.

An even dozen thoroughbreds went to the post. Delhi, Leondias, Pasadena, Tanya and Sighight having been withdrawn. After the scratching of Delhi, Sysonby was made the favorite at odds of 2 to 1. Beldame was heavily played at 4 to 1. These two carried the bulk of the wagers.

After a tiresome delay at the post the horses were sent away. Santa Catalina had the rail and showed for an instant in front, but Sysonby was at her side, and before the first quarter pole had been reached the Keene colors flashed to the fore. Beldame's friends had a ray of hope for a moment as the mare drew out of the struggling mass and shot into third place.

Sysonby seemed to have a clean lead of two or three lengths on the far turn, but Shaw eased up his mount as a stiff wind struck him in the face, allowing the field to close on him.

Colonial Girl and Race King displaced Beldame and Santa Catalina, who dropped back hopelessly beaten. First Mason, stable companion of Colonial Girl, was not far away. Sysonby was seen to bear away toward the outside rail, and at his side was Race King.

To even the most hardened racegoer the struggle between these two was such as to send a lump into the throat. There was an instant's silence as the thoroughbreds dashed along the rail. First one brown muzzle showed in front and then the other as they each strained every fibre to gain an inch.

Shaw and Smith were driving like mad, but to no purpose, and their charges finished so close together that the judges were unable to separate them.

The shouting multitude which had been stilled for an instant by the royal struggle, broke out into cheers as the cupholds went up denoting a dead heat, for the crowd had witnessed something seldom seen in the handicaps and felt rewarded thereby, even if not successful in backing the winners.

Behind Sysonby and Race King, but one the inside rail, was Colonial Girl, winner of the world's fair handicap at St. Louis. Both she and her stable mate, First Mason, ran a good race. The others were beaten off.

James R. Keene and O. L. Richards, owners of Sysonby and Race King, quickly settled the question of the dead heat by dividing the proceeds.

Mr. Clark always accompanies his horses and carries a large retinue of trainers, drivers and attendants, but gives the care of his horses his personal attention.

Three Favorites Won.

San Francisco, May 4.—Three favorites, three long-priced favorites and a third choice were the winners of a long card, Haupala, a 30 to 1 shot, captured the sixth race, from the badly ridden Golden Ivy. Sheriff Bell was favorite in that event but made a poor exhibition. The second race resulted in a three-head finish at the post, and Doublet was the lucky one. Weather, fine; track, fast. Results:

First race, seven furlongs—Spondoolix won, Auto Hood second, Elba third. Time—1:28½.

Colorado Derby.

The Colorado Derby, the great western race for 3-year-olds, is to be run at Overland Park, Denver, the opening day of the summer race meeting, which starts June 17 and continues through July 4th. Horses from Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Memphis, Hot Springs, Ark.; Butte, Mont.; Los Angeles, San Francisco, Kansas City and other cities throughout the west have been entered. Secretary G. A. Whalgreen of the Denver-Overland Racing club, states that there probably will be an entry list of 50 gallopers and that a field of a dozen at least will start. Last year the Derby was one of the best races of the Overland summer meeting.

Modification of Tennis Rules.

Boston, May 5.—James Dwight, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, has received a cablegram from G. R. Mewburn, secretary of the English Lawn Tennis association, conveying the information that the modifications to the regulations suggested by the United States National Lawn Tennis association have been practically agreed to.

Some time ago the English Lawn Tennis association submitted certain proposed changes to France, Belgium and the United States and the United States association in turn made certain suggestions. One of the principal changes suggested by the English association was to do away with the necessity of 21 days notice of the name of members of a team and also in the case of a team of four men, of the events in which they would take part.

This change was acceptable to the United States association, but there was doubt as to whether the changes would be agreed upon by the several associations in time to take effect this year. It would appear that this year's competition at Wimbledon, England, must be played under the new rules. This being the case, a team of four men undoubtedly will be sent by the United States National Lawn Tennis association.

BRITT-WHITE FIGHT.

Lightweights Will Meet at San Francisco Tonight for Championship.

Jimmy Britt of Sa Francisco and Jabez White of London, England, will meet at Frisco tonight in a twenty-round bout for the international championship. It is claimed that both men are in good shape for the contest, and some pretend to believe that White has a good chance against Britt and may surprise the slippery "Native Son." Be this as it may, in the opinion of the sporting writers of San Francisco, the match is a bad one.

The following dispatch came from San Francisco this morning:

After many ups and downs, Jimmy Britt, of this city, and Jabez White, of England, are to meet tonight in Woodward's pavilion in a 20-round bout before the Hayes Valley club.

It is not expected the grand jury will interfere with the fight. The police will be instructed not to permit the overcrowding of the gallery or of any part of the house. Britt has ruled a strong 4 to 10 chance in what little betting has been done locally. There is no open wagering owing to the attitude of the police against public pool selling. What money is placed is chiefly between friends.

The men are to weigh in at Hary Corbett's resort this afternoon at 2 o'clock at 133 pounds. Both are expected to come in handily at this weight as it is a natural mark for the mto make. They will both gain before they enter the ring, and it is possible they will scale nearly 145 pounds, as neither is of the worrying kind.

White's long siege of training is over, and the Briton is anxiously waiting for the tap of the gong.

The only work indulged in on the last day of training was a few minute's exercise with the dumb bells.

In speaking of his prospects today White said:

"I certainly expect to win, but cannot say whether by a knockout or on points. I came all the way from England to fight Britt and I hope to score a decisive victory over him. I have trained hard and faithfully for the battle, and I am in the best possible condition. In fact, I never felt better in my life. If I lose I will offer no excuses."

Britt, who is in fine condition, is equally confident, and from all indications the fight will be lively from start to finish. Both men are talented and trained to perfection and both are prepared for a hard and stubborn contest. Fast and fierce work is expected when the men enter the ring, with every prospect of an early ending to the fight.

The contest is of international importance and will go nearer toward deciding the championship of the world in the lightweight division than anything in the same line that has been witnessed in years.

The event is one which since its inception has encountered anything but smooth sailing. It has dragged along through all manner of adverse influences, and the result appears to be according to the opinion of the sport lovers that it is not commanding the respect its class entitles it to.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. B
