COLONEL PULLED A GUN

Sensational Affair Reported to Have Occurred at the Alta Club.

TREWEEK WAS AFTER W. S. McCORNICK.

Supposed Reason for the Assault Was the Removal of the Colonel from Management of the Lucky Boy Mine.

It was the talk of the town this morning that a very sensational occurrence was included in last night's program at the Alta club. According to all accounts it seems that W. S. McCornick was engaged in a private room talking over some business matters with Mr. Samuel Newhouse, when Col. Nicholas Treweek noted into the little room and planted his back against the closed door. The occupants of the room were naturally very much surprised at this action on the part of the colonel, but their astonishment was increased when that gentleman drew from his pocket a revolver and addressed himself to Mr. McCornick, saying: "Make a single move and I'll blow the top of your head off." After this he proceeded to insert the barrel of the cocked revolver into his mouth, in the shape of burning words, upon the head of the unfortunate man, who, it is said, was in the attitude of such behavior as one of his standing. Don't move a step, he said, lest the gun might go off." Mr. McCornick did not dare to move, and the tense moment. The last announcement, however, was made in a tone and manner that the friends of the club members were attracted to the room and quietly forced an entrance and disarmed Col. Treweek, who was dragged from the room, it is said, very much under the influence of liquor.

ALLEGED REASONS.

Cause for Treweek's Assault the Result of His Removal as Manager.

The alleged reason for Col. Treweek's conduct at the Alta club last night were given this afternoon by one claiming to know the circumstances leading up to the assault. It appears that until some months ago Col. Treweek was manager of the Lucky Boy mine, near Custer, Idaho, in which both the colonel and Mr. McCornick were interested. The latter being a very stockholder in the mine, and wishing to bring his son, Henry McCornick, placed in the managerial chair to superintend the mine, he was also the president of the company. The latter feel seems to have worked upon the colonel's mind to such a degree that when he succeeded in absorbing a good-ly supply of intoxicants his usual calm nature was overcome, and he sought for "revenge." This is the story as it goes, and whether all of it is worthy of credence, or whether it only part of it is true is difficult to say. That the affair of last night did occur, however, there seems to be no doubt.

A LITTLE BOY KILLED.

Peculiar and Shocking Fatality at Taylorsville.

On May 31st two little boys, sons of Robert E. and Mary Blanchett Dymond, of Taylorville, were playing in a barn. The elder of the two boys named Arthur aged seven years, was in the loft and dropped a pitchfork, one tine of which penetrated the skull of the younger boy, whose name was Leo Harold. Medical aid was commenced, and the little sufferer called to be progressing favorably until about noon on Saturday last, when he took a chaps for the worse, and died shortly before midnight.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the residence of the parents. The family have the sympathy of their friends and neighbors.

DEATH OF ELDER HYRUM MAUGHAN.

He Was Laboring as a Missionary in the State of Indiana.

Elder Hyrum Maughan of Weston, Idaho, son of John and Maria Maughan, was born at Weston, Idaho, Dec. 17, 1871, and died at Anderson, Indiana, Friday, June 3, 1898, at 5:40 a. m.

In obedience to a call of the Lord he was set apart Dec. 1, 1897, for a mission to the Northern States, arriving at Chicago Dec. 5th. He was appointed to labor at Anderson, Indiana, together with Elder Jonathan H. Hale Jr. They labored unanimously together and made many friends. March 15, 21, and 31, 1898, he met in conference with the Saints with the Elders of Indiana, after which he was assigned to labor in the same place with Elder Hale, and he did so.

Elder Maughan labored with a good cheerfulness and zeal for his fellow men that was highly commendable. His great faith in the Lord was fully manifested to the last moment.

April 30th he was seized and straddle grew worse with cramps until he was carried or his brethren to convert a doctor, who came and found other doctors failing to and all agreed that his trouble was a case of appendicitis and advised his immediate removal to his home. Brother Maughan willingly consented, feeling he was in the hands of the Lord in whose service he was laboring.

Accordingly he was taken to St. Johns hospital, Indianapolis, May 2nd, and operation performed by the skillful surgeon. Through the blessings of the Lord he rallied successfully from the operation and was doing nicely, improving rapidly. Most of the Elders of the mission made special mention of Brother Maughan in their prayers that if it be the will of the Lord, he speedily recover from his affliction. He so far recovered that, on May 28th, the doctors advised him to leave the hospital and go back to his room. Here he ate heartily and had great faith in his recovery. He was advised to stay to return home, but his answer was, "I did not come here to return home until the Lord calls me there."

June 1st, after eating a party meal, he was taken with cramps and everything he ate immediately vomited. On Thursday, Elder J. H. Cardon was telegraphed for and went to Anderson immediately. He, together with other Elders, called the Elders to labor, Brother Maughan, if it be His will or take him to Himself. We all felt that his last hour had come. We knew it was the will of the Lord that he was called back home for a greater work beyond the veil. He was cheerful and maintained consciousness to the last.

A premonition or a dream was given him a short time before his sickness, of his end, but he took no particular notice of it.

Elder Maughan was an energetic laborer in the Lord's vineyard and did as much as lay in his power for the advancement of the cause. He laid down his life in genuine satisfaction to his fellowmen. He stood at the post in true love and faithful service of God. He toward is that of a martyr; his future hopes are great; his mission of love is now in the eternal worlds.

The remains of Elder Maughan were accompanied to Chicago from Anderson by Elders Joseph H. Cardon and W. E. Andrew, and after some arrangements with the railroads were forwarded to Weston, Idaho, by President Lewis A. Kelsch, leaving Chicago June 4, 1898, at 4:30 p. m.

JOSEPH E. CARDON,
Secretary N. S. Mission.

KILLED BY A HORSE.

A Very Sad Fatality at Wellington, Carbon County.

Lou, Utah, June 3rd, 1898.

On Friday, May 6th, 1898, William Sheridan Blackburn, aged sixteen years, was driving a team for his father, who was working some dirt on a bridge in Wellington, Carbon county. The team not moving just right William struck the near horse with the lines, and at the same instant turned his back towards his right, which considerably frightened him. The horse kicked with both feet and struck him on the left side of the head, crushing his skull.

Dr. Dickinson of Price and Dr. Allen of Price were summoned by wire and rushed to the place of the accident, but inches too and about an inch and a half in width, but in spite of all that could be done the little boy died on Sunday, the 11th inst., and was buried on the 13th. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of Castle Gate lodge, and the pallbearers and relatives feel to appreciate the many words of sympathy that were spoken and shown throughout the entire country in the interval between the time their son was hurt and he died.

William was the son of John and Catherine Blackburn, and was born in Lou Warren county, Iowa. He was a good and very powerful word to their home in Wellington.

BINGHAM BLACKBURN.

OUR INFANTRY BATTALION.

Utah Will Have Her Wishes Gratified in the Next Apportionment.

Red Cross Tea—Lieutenant Sorensen Engaged to Marry a Texas Girl—Officers for Second U. S. Engineers.

According to information received from Senator Frank J. Cannon, Adj. Gen. Curtis has agreed to allow Utah to furnish a full battalion of infantry as her quota in the apportionment under the second call for volunteers. This means that 400 men will go from this state, including the major, for which the State officers have been recommending. Four company vacancies and eight lieutenants. If, in addition to the battalion, Utah is allowed to recruit the two companies of cavalry she asks for, the maximum membership, another 125 men will have a chance to serve their country at the front.

If this good news shall remain uncontradicted then "Cupid Dick" Young will be the Governor's appointee for major, and everybody agrees that "Dick's all right."

Red Cross Tea.

An elaborate tea was given at the residence of Mrs. Alfred Emery this afternoon for the benefit of the Red Cross society. The program was as follows: Vocal duet, Mrs. Wolke and McCollum and Bessie Levy.

After the War.

It is announced that Lieutenant Lewis Rose Roby of the Eleventh infantry now stationed at Tampa, and Miss Ruth Ellen Ray, of this city, have engaged to be married "after the war." The many friends of the young couple are all congratulating them and hoping that "after the war" will soon come and that enough of the lieutenant remaining to fill the contract.

Named for Dewey.

Lockhart's Dewey lemonade has been approved by the National association of dancing masters now in session in Detroit. Mich. Schneider Jim's "Dewey" cocktail, however, will no longer have any fascination.

AMUSEMENTS.

The last of the Orpheus club's subscription concerts for the present season was given at the Congregational church last night before a decidedly appreciative audience of large proportions. The large organ was admirably adapted to the piano fade of the choir, which formed the prominent background for both the ladies' chorus and the orpheus club during the rendition of their respective selections. Professor Stephens was not given to the set time for opening but at 8:20 President McCoy, of the club, stepped to the front a few remarks concerning the club's success in the in the series of subscription concerts, stating these present that heavy season's efforts would to open an enlarged scale and a big feature would be the appearance of the Ladies' Musical Club. The orpheus club's numerical proportions over that heard at its second concert this season. A statement bearing upon the club's financial condition was briefly given and the assurance made that financial gain was not the object of the club's existence, but that musical development was its aim.

The evening's program was opened by the Orpheus in "What So Ye Gear Hoard Mortaiers," by Noak. It brought out the strength of the club and called a good number, Master Arthur Tolerson, the boy violinist, followed with a selection, by the club, entitled "Good-Bye," served applause for its rendition. The Ladies' chorus of forty voices, with Madam Stephens as accompanist, rendered first The Distant Bells, in a pleasing manner, and later on in the evening gave the Bridge of the Hour with the cantata. This chorus of ladies has made considerably progress since its first appearance, and, taken with the addition of a few high sopranos to offset the extremely heavy voices of the alto, would still more improve it. Esther Gabbett's voice is clear, pleasing and his pedagogue in Alexandria, Mr. Alexander Pope, a masterly effort. Mrs. Anna Osborne Plummer rendered a beautiful selection, "Bird Of the Wilderness," and in response to an encore gave a polished air. The Orpheus was billed for three numbers, this one was added, Windsor's Soaking Song, and a Good-Night by Dudley Buck. An encore of Bird-Song, Courtship, was given.

Tomorrow evening Miss Ruth Elizabeth will render selections from Shakespeare at the Congregational church, assisted by a number of local celebrities in a musical program.

TAXES PAID UNDER PROTEST.

Must be Dealt With as are Others—Opinion Adverse to County Attorney Pike.

Some time ago County Attorney Edward Pike, Jr., Utah county, submitted to the attorney general the following questions relative to the disposition of money paid under protest for taxes:

Where taxes, embracing state, county, district and special school tax have been "paid under protest" and so decided by the courts to be illegally exacted or taxed, and the money so paid over to the county treasurer, and the time for appeal from the decision of the district court within six months from the payment thereof, is the county treasurer authorized to pay back to the parties having paid so as to him in proper case such protest money to the county treasurer, or should a suit be filed in the name of the county against the board of county commissioners?

The attorney general answered in the affirmative when institution is applicable to suit against the county which takes any paid the money back to the county treasurer and the board of county commissioners have refused to order the same refunded as per section 2691 revised statutes.

Considering that taxes paid under protest are, as to part of them, held to be illegally exacted, and that the money so paid over to the county treasurer is not the property of the county, but belongs to the parties who have paid it, and that the money so paid under protest is supposed to be in the county treasury, and that the county treasurer is the custodian, as provided by law and without any action on the part of the county commissioners.

The question of institution in respect to the bringing of actions against the county for the recovery of taxes erroneously or illegally collected has been the subject of agreed stipulation in another 200 U. S. It is there recited, that an action must be brought within six months "for money paid under protest for taxes, claimed to be unlawfully exacted by such officer in his official capacity as a collector of taxes, and which, it is claimed, ought to be refunded."

The disposal of your second question so far as the statute of limitations is concerned, is that the county commissioners expecting the refunding of taxes erroneously or illegally collected, would advise you that any action in that behalf on their part, to be legal must be taken within the statutory period, twenty-six months from the time of payment, after that the claim is barred in law and any action looking to such refund would be illegal and void.

Questions one and two having been so disposed of your third will not be further considered. It is to be observed that the matter of limitations having run, the question of whether the refund would be a gift or payment on a "claim against the county" would not arise, the county commissioners having no authority whatever to act therein.

As to your fourth question, I am of opinion that the county attorney is authorized to dispose of special school taxes in pursuance of section 1871 R. S., which requires the payment of special taxes on the end of each calendar month. The treasurer should proceed in exactly the same manner as he would in other section and if the contingency you suggest should arise, to wit, that the same should be found to be illegally exacted or illegally collected, the only remedy provided is found in section 2691 R. S., which provides for a refund to the county of such amount as may have been paid over to the treasurer by the collector of the State as provided therein.

From the Mission Field.

Elder Nathan Burkett of West Weber reached home on his return from a mission to England May 18. He left on the 6th of November, 1896, and was the last missionary to leave the mission. Elder Burkett left Utah on his mission April 2, 1896. He labored somewhat largely in preaching in towns and villages where no Elders had been for many years. He assisted in holding many open air meetings, and in distributing large numbers of tracts. He regards the future prospects in his field as being quite promising.

MINOR MENTION.

A benefit to Miss Lily Pie will be given at Unity Hall on Friday evening. The performance will be participated by several local favorites and will doubtless bring out a good attendance.

The remains of John Forsner, who died in Denver, arrived in this city Monday, carried in the city at 2:05 this morning and the interment took place immediately thereafter at Mount Olivet cemetery. Rev. Mendelsohn officiating.

The residence of John Holding, 1112 east South South street, was destroyed by fire last night. The building was valued at $1,000 and is entirely gone, and the fire broke out at 9:30 o'clock. The house and nearly all the family's effects were in the building, which entailed a loss of $1,500, with $600 insurance.

An Unfortunate Admission.

She—John, were you very greatly surprised when you proposed to me?

He—Yes. To tell you the truth, I was so startled that night I didn't know what I was doing.

As yet he has not succeeded in getting me to listen to an explanation.—Chicago Tribune.

All Talk—No Argument.

Little words do not convince. We might talk by the yard but would not convince you as much as to drop the right kind of a dose with Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is not what we say about it's taking powder that makes it a popular brand but it's what that taking powder does. We can tell you what we know and we know that one can of our baking powder is worth more than the average can of any other brand. We can tell you what we know about our baking powder, but we can't tell you what it will do for you. We can tell you what it has done for others and that is the best we can do. We can tell you what it has done for many thousands of women and families in the last years. We can tell you what it has done for your country at the front.

If this good news shall remain uncontradicted then "Cupid Dick" Young will be the Governor's appointee for major, and everybody agrees that "Dick's all right."

MATCH AND COAL OIL CAN

Combination Causes a Terrible Fatality in Allegheny.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.

Match Was Accidentally Dropped Into the Can—Death of a Heroine While Trying to Save the Baby.

Pittsburg, June 8.—Three children met death in a frightful manner last evening in Allegheny. In the explosion of a can of oil their clothes were ignited and the children burned so terribly that they died in a short time. The victims were Ella, Edith and Harriet Watts, children of Charles Watts of Perrish, near Woods Run avenue, aged 11 and 7 years and four months respectively.

The eldest child proved herself a heroine, for with the flames roasting her body, she tried to carry her baby brother to a place of safety.

Mrs. Watts was also burned in trying to save her children.

The children were playing in an outhouse in the yard and one of them struck a match. In the same room was a large metal can full of coal oil. When the match was thrown down it dropped into the can and the exploding followed instantly.

AFTER A COAL SUPPLY.

Cape Haytien Dealer Wants a Big Speculation.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 26.—(Copyright, 1898, by the Associated Press.)—There are some 400 tons of coal at this port, held by a foreign manufacturing company, which will not accept the quotation price. This concern has related to the United States for a fortnight, and it is said that it will not be uncertain yet whether it will get an order.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has information showing the completeness of the control exercised by the owner at Santiago de Cuba. The owner has a special apparatus on his desk in front of him which controls the supply of coal to the Spanish war ships, the private goods exchanged between consignees. A consular case has just been decided by the Haytian government in the question as to whether the Haytian government has the right to prohibit the transport of coal to a Spanish warship by a diplomatic or consular officer to another officer of his government. The decision of the Haytian minister over the state telegraph wires shall be coached. Great Britain has recently decided that the Haytian government has the right to prohibit the transport of coal to a Spanish warship. On May 17 the British consul general at Port au Prince requested the Americans minister, Mr. Powell, to request the protection over an English subject at Gonaives. The nature of the difficulty which this person had had taken no notice of the state telegraph wires and in any event is not generally known. Mr. Powell addressed a telegram in English to the American consul at Gonaives. At the office of the government telegraph operator in Port au Prince the message was refused because it was not written in French according to the regulations of Mr. Salomon, of "desired" to be controlled by these regulations in communicating with a U. S. officer in matters of purely official import. The minister of the interior offered to frank the message and send it free if he were permitted to translate it into French beforehand. To this Minister Powell refused to accede and has the Haytian telegraph service violent. It is said that this is the first time the government has waived its regulations in this particular.

The National convention of the association of the Social Democracy of America pays tribute to the memory of Edward Bellamy, who in fiction the ideas of socialism among his countrymen, and lost to be forgotten by them.

This was prepared by Eugene V. Debs, Chief Willard and Mrs. A. Vaille, and was adopted.

Senator Kenney's counsel entered a formal plea of not guilty, and the defendant was released on his own bond in the sum of $5,000 for appearance at the June term of court, which convenes on Tuesday.

COMMERCIAL.

New York, June 8.—The market at the opening felt the pulse of higher quotations for Americans in London, gains in the railroad list, ranging up to ¼ in Denver & Rio Grande pfd.

U. S. pfd. turned downward soon after the opening.

A raid on sugar drove that stock down to 114⅝, and led to sympathetic declines in other parts of the list.

Special causes brought about a marked improvement in individual stocks, and served to stiffen the whole list. The bears made a renewed demonstration against the market and were helped by free selling on arbitrage account. Sugar was the principal target and sulled away 2 points. There were losses of nearly a point in pretty much every active stock. Towards middle of the market rallies began and filled up again.

Bonds were quiet, but well sustained. Louisiana Purchase 4s advanced to 105⅛, ½ lower than yesterday's closing price.
