DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Monday, June 26, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

ALMOST the marked field has been taken possession of by official gleaners and preparations are being made for the reaping November elections. Among those who are most active are R. Jenkins and ex-Police Reporter, now employed as a clerk in the constable's office. His friends say this is an exceedingly appropriate account Chief of Police Parsons is to succeed.

The second quorum of Seventies will meet in the Thirteenth Ward hall this evening.

The third quorum of Seventies will meet this evening in the Fourteenth Ward assembly rooms, commencing at 7:30.

SEVERAL cases of scarlet fever are in Heber City. The patients are quarantined.

In the notice of the death of Steve Brunette in Saturday evening's NEWS the date of the death of President John Taylor was given as "1887." Of course it should have been 1887.

COUNTY COURT TODAY.

The Sandy Incorporation Question is Once More Postponed.

A Report Presented With Reference to the Inadequate Accommodations at the County Infirmary, Etc.

One of the principal items on the agenda of the county court for consideration at this city's meeting was the question of the incorporation of Sandy, which stood over from last Thursday afternoon. Attorney, however, as Clerk Maloy had got through with the reading of the minutes of the previous session.

Attorney C. E. Allen, on the part of the advocates of the scheme, said it had been ascertained since the matter last came before the board that Mr. Pilkington, one of the petitioners, resided outside the lines of the area proposed to be incorporated. On that account the petitioners, as a body, now asked leave to withdraw the papers on file, without prejudice, in order that they might have an opportunity of preparing a new petition on the subject, containing the signatures of the requisite number of Sandy's residents.

On motion of Selectman Bamberger, seconded by Selectman Cannon, the request was granted.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.

County Physician Worthington attended and read the following report on the present condition of things at the county infirmary:

To the Honorable County Court of Salt Lake County.

Gentlemen—We beg leave to call your attention to the inadequacy of the county infirmary to accommodate the county pauper charges. We now have eight women and thirty-seven men, making a total of forty-five on hand, this being within one of the full capacity of the building and within one of the greatest number ever in the infirmary at one time. Owing to the number of applicants weekly for admittance, with a prospective increase at happ roaching winter, we, therefore, recommend that the partition wall to wash the upstairs portion of the south end of the building be removed, making a general sitting and reading room for the inmates further, that an ordinary be set between the present dining and sitting rooms, making a large dining room, thus relieving the present overcrowded dining room. After this we cannot be done on the east side of the present building, consisting of two wards for male inmates, a kitchen, wash room and pantry for the hired help. This would leave the partitioned rooms on the second floor upstairs in the south end of the present building for the female inmates, and a quiet private room for those who are sick. With the present arrangement of the building we are compelled to have women and men on the same floor, and all who are sick and requiring medical attendance have to be provided in their respective beds, in the same room with other inmates. While our infirmary is in perfect condition, rooms clean and well ventilated, it ought to be so arranged as to allow all the sick to be by themselves. This applies to women as well as men. In four rooms 16x18 feet we have five inmates in each room. In one room 12x12 feet we have four inmates—too many in our opinion for good health and well being of the occupants. If the changes and additions we suggest can be made we feel assured they would meet with the hearty approval of the general public and be a great benefit to the county's poor.

JOHN F. ALLEN, Supt.
U. WORTHINGTON,
County Physician.

In reply to Judge Blair the county physician said he had made no calculation as to the probable cost of the improvements needed.

On motion of Selectman Cannon, seconded by Selectman Morris, the report was received and filed.

CHARLESTON AND HEBER.

Fires, Deaths, Social and Business Happenings in Wasatch.

CHARLESTON, Wasatch County, June 23, 1893.—Heber Weiss' stable and carriage were burned down this week. A span of horses (related in the Times), also about a dozen setting hens, one set of harness, a saddle and other things. The fire was caused by sparks from a steam engine attached to a saw mill near by. A subscription is being circulated, and the good people of the ward are bringing the unfortunate man with some substantial sympathy to procure another team, etc.

Bishop D. G. Murdock and wife left on Wednesday to visit the World's Fair. On the night previous to their departure the people of the ward got up a grand reception in the town hall and gave the bishop and his good lady a "send off," precipitating a complete surprise on them. An enjoyable time was had.

The farmers report crops not up to the average this season. This is accounted for to late plowing and too very weather cooling the grain not to "plump," leaving the stalk spindling.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

"Dull times" is heard on every hand. Work about Park City has not opened up to amount of several closing down. The lack of silver makes times dull in this valley, as many depended on mining timber and lumber for their bread and butter. This has been quite a source of revenue for the farmers in country.

The road through Provo canyon is very much cleared by high waters overflowing in many places and the canyon resembles one piece over the road filling the track with boulders.

A large addition is being made to the hitching barn to make room for the increase of hay.

HYRUM, Utah, June 23.—A sad death occurred yesterday. Mrs. Blanche Alexander, wife of William Murdock, succumbed to typhoid pneumonia after an illness of three weeks. She had only been married a little over one year. She leaves a young father. The young husband and family have the sympathy of the whole people.

David M. Murdock will throw open to the public his pleasure resort at Midway tomorrow (Saturday). Mr. Murdock has gone to a considerable expense to make the place attractive and those wishing to bathe in one of the celebrated "Hot Pots" will find "the warm inside" to good shape.

Mr. Hughes' "Hot Pot" hotel and pleasure grounds will be sold next week to satisfy a mortgage in favor of the late Park City bank.

Messrs. A. Halen & Co. are building an addition to their store on Main street.

Several cases of scarlet fever are in Heber City. The patients are quarantined.

To Navigate the Black Canyon.

Captain J. A. Mellon, who for many years has been running steamers on the Colorado river from Yuma as far up as the Grand canyon and into it for a long distance, is at the Lion, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Travel is pretty brisk on the river this year, he says, and because of this he will soon push the steamers forward through the famous Black canyon, where they have rarely ventured, and even then only when all the conditions were most favorable. However, the captain has hit on a unique plan to surmount the giant cascades. He has ordered great steel staples to be driven in the sides of the towering rock cliffs. In these are stout iron rings. Ropes are run through these when the steamers arrive and by the aid of the steam capstan on board the steamer is enabled to plow her way forward. It is a dry navigating, but Captain Mellon is convinced that it can be made a success. There the gorge and the cascades are exceedingly wild.

"The Black canyon," said Captain Mellon, "is forty miles through in one place before the sun shines on the depths. The walls are 4500 feet high, as well as I can tell, in the Grand canyon, where the river is 300 feet wide, the walls are 6000 feet high, but they are thirteen miles across at the top—that is, from wall to wall. But in the Hurricane Black canyon, where the river is 30 feet wide, the walls rise up 4500 feet and are narrower at the top than at the bottom. At least that is so in many places. You see, therefore, what kind of a place it is to get through.

"The canyon sometimes at El Dorado canyon, in Lincoln county, Nev., and here for forty miles to the north in the same county to what is known as the Vegas Wash. From there we will go on up to the Virgin river, and on up to Rioville, the old Mormon settlement. From there on the Mormons took away every thing to Salt Lake. A number of mining camps are being opened up along the river. It is an extremely wild country, but promises to develop great interests in many places."

It Was Ludevigquist.

In the case of the Utah Clothing Manufacturing company vs Peter Ludevigquist, tried in Commissioner Pratt's court last week on a charge of petit larceny, the name of defendant was erroneously given as John Quist.

OBITUARIES.

NORDEN—Charles John Norden, son of Charles and Mary Ann Norden, died at Riverside May 25, 1893. He was born in Sweden, Dec. 2, 1866, and was, consequently, 26 years, 5 months and 23 days of age at the time of his death. He was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and was a faithful young man. The deceased had been ailing for some time, and was taken to Salt Lake City for medical treatment, but was unable to survive the journey. The remains were brought to Riverside for interment, and were followed to the cemetery by a large concourse. He died in the faith that he had embraced.
