CZAR INVITED ACTION. CZAR INVITED ACTION. Berlin, June 10.-The text of Presi-dent Roosevel's message on the subject of peace to the governments of Russia and Japan is regarded at the foreign office here as admirable in spirit and phrasing and positive hope now exists of comprehensively early peace. The Russian emperor in fact invited the ac-tion of the resident and had much to do with the form that the president and had much to do with the form that the president's representations took. Emperor Nicholas through the council of powerful person-al influences in Russia became disposed toward peace some days in advance of the president's action. It was recog-nized at the Russian court and at this the president's action. A was recover nized at the Russian court and at this court also that no man in the world could so well make an appeal for peace as President Roosevelt. His known views, the detachment of the United States from the European system and the good will Japan feels toward the United States made the president the solitary stateman who could take such a step without either side distrusting him or feeling annoyed by his solici-tude. The conviction here is that Rus-sia is now ready for peace, and seeks peace and that the only differences in-surmountable by negotiations which might arise lie in the Japanese terms. Emperor Nicholas now won for peace, would again decide for war should the Japanese attitude be unconciliatory or even one of long hesitation and reserve, though it is understood that Japan also gave the president some ussurances be-fore he acted. MENT. St. Petersburg, June 10, 12:35 p. m.-The Radical press which hounds the government, no matter which way it turns, is promptly seeking to take ad-vantage of the new situation created by the possibility of peace. Although for months it has been preaching peace and the abandonment of the whole of the Manchuria adventure at any cost it has already vected around and pre-tends to be horrified at the fact that Russia can contemplate the possibility of surrendering her possition on the Pacific and purchasing peace at the Russia can contemplate the possibility of surrendering her position on the Pacific and purchasing peace at the price of an indemnity after the sacrifice of millions of the people's money and the thousands of people's lives and declares that only the people shall declares the function of the people as the indem-nity goes the Radical papers undoubt-edly reflect the views of the masses of the Russian people as well as those prevalent in official circles. ger. Solemn words of warning such as these uttered by the Moscow zemstvo-ists and the mayors of the principal cities who joined with them in the allcities who joined with them in the all-Russian zemstvo congress cannot be lightly thrust aside, although the gov-ernment is getting accustomed to hard words. The organization known as the League of Profesisonal Leagues yester-day at Moscow threatened to translate their words into acts unless the gov-ernment yielded and resolved not only to inaugurate a strike of all profession-al classes, but to arm in self-defense. They also bound themselves not to tes-tify at noiltical trails and to provide They also bound themselves not to tes-tify at political trials and to provide for each other's families in case any of the members suffered arrest or exile. "The matter of proving the genuine-ness of the Book of Mormon is import-ant" he declared, "more important than-almost any other item of Church his-tory,--this because while the brinking forth of the book was only an incident in the founding of the Church, still it was an incident upon which Mormon-ism must stand or fall. If it can be proved," the speaker continued, "beyond a reasonable doubt, that Josiah Smith and his friends in brinking out the book had been deceived, then the most vulnerable point in the Church would be struck. Members of the Church are more easily drawn away from their faith through attacks on this point than on any other doctrinal mat-ter and Elders of the Church are less prepared to meet attack here than they are on other points. If we can get the belief in the truth of this book, drilled into er young," he declared, "I will youch for their continuation in the faith. For this reason the manual for next year has taken up all questions relating to the book. It deals with all internal evidences as to its truth, its scriptural evidences and all evidences of other sorts. The theories as to its origin advanced by enemies of the Church are taken up and exploded." The speech was delivered with much Angeles. $27,687,50. Church are taken up and exploded." ### MANUAL DIFFICULTIES.

The other numbers of the morning's program, were a discussion of "Manual Difficulties" by the house in general, and a brief discussion of the question of excuses for non-preparation, so fre-quently offered. Both of these topics quently offered. Both of these topics brought out a general showing of opin-ion. On the first it was reported that some associations found the Manual lessons long, and hard. These were ad-vised to study with more application. Others who reported that they could not always finish the discussion of a topic at a single meeting, were advised that the lessons were mead to be ex-

BEAN WILL REFEREE

Jack O'Keefe and Jimmy Gardner Both Insist That He Do So.

An announcement was made this norning that will please local fight fans greatly. It is to the effect that Willard Bean will act as referee in the fight on Monday night next between Jack O'Keefe and Jimmy Gardner at the saucer track.

Other men for that position had been spoken of, but when the matter came to a head with the fighters, both called attention to the fact that Bean had been mentioned, and that it was stipu-lated in the articles of agreement that he should preside over the contest. The boxers say they insist on Bean acting as referee, because they know be will as referee, because they know be will not be influenced one way or the other, and that he will be absolutely honest in his decision. When spoken to about the matter, Bean said he would rather not referee the contest as he is the manager thereof, but that the demands upon him had been of such a charac-ter that he could not resist. Therefore, he has rejuctantly agreed to referee.

The house was built 35 years ago, at a cost of $15,000, and is one of the most solidly constructed build-ings in the west, with such thick walls that it is difficult for the cold to get in, during the winter, or the heat to find entrance during the summer. There are 15 rooms in the residence, and it has all the modern conveniences.

THE PHIPPS PROJECT.

Another notable, but earlier sale in the week, was the reported intention of Henry Phipps to erect a new Galena block to cost $750,000 at the corner of Second South and State the corner of second South and State streets, in the not distant future. This has been accepted with general rejoic-ing in the city, and at the same time, it sent all the tenants holding leas-es down to the city hall to have them recorded, fearful that they might be disturbed before the expiration of their leases. It was also proported that leases. It was also reported that Messrs, G. S. Holmes and R. A. Rowan were back of the scheme to open a great branch house here of a Los Angeles department store.

OTHER TRANSACTIONS.

The Everton Hardware exhibit persease the second fact exhibit representing a large old-fash-ioned overshot water wheel upon which was displayed hardware of all kinds and descriptions, was very creditable. The "Butterfly" float of the Cache Valley Mercantile Co. attracted a great deal of attention, as did also the Greenback Frog exhibit of the Campbell-Morrell Co. There were also others too numerous to mention which were high-ly creditable. The parade was with-out doubt the largest and finest ever witnessed in this city.

STREETS WERE THRONGED.

The line of march was along Main street from the court house to the bridge and down Center and First North streets with a countermarch. The line extended more than a mile, and in all of the distance there was such a mass of humanity that it was difficult for the marade to set through difficult for the parade to get through. Windows, balconies and roofs of build-ings were crowded with people, eager to see the spectacular pageant.
