DESERET EVENING NEWS.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW.

Police and Fire Commissioners Held an Important Meeting Last Night —Business Transacted.

An executive session of the fire and police board was held last evening. President Jennings being desirous of making a motion, called Mr. Stephens to the chair, after which he moved that the chief of police be instructed to enforce the city ordinances with relation to gambling, Sunday liquor selling and prostitution. The motion was duly seconded by Mr. Empey and carried, Mr. Stephens voting to suppress the two former evils, but he was opposed to an attempt to suppress prostitution.

In accordance with this action by the board Chief Pratt has declared his intention of commencing a vigorous crusade against the sporting fraternity of this city and it now appears that it would be well for them to "look a leedle out."

The reduction of the police force, as ordered by the City Council, was discussed somewhat, and it was decided to get the opinion of the city attorney as to how the men could be discharged without rendering the city liable for their salaries while so discharged.

Upon Chief Pratt's recommendation, Special Officer Grant was relieved from duty, and at the request of David Patterson, Edward Ayers was appointed as a special policeman at the Union Pacific yards.

After allowing five department bills aggregating $51.40, the board adjourned.

IN A BAD WAY AGAIN.

A City Prisoner Who Is An Object of Pity and Disgust.

There is in the city jail at the present time, a man who is indeed an object for pity and charity. His name is Martin Peterson, aged about 50 years, and he is now serving time in the municipal "black hole" for being a vagrant.

In the year 1880 when Jailor Kimball first went to preside over the city's prison hostelry, Peterson was confined there. At that time he was acting as a trusty around the jail yard. Shortly thereafter he became possessed of a strange hallucination. Finally he became so daft that he was taken before the probate judge and committed to the insane asylum at Provo.

After serving some time at the asylum, his reasoning faculties returned and he was discharged from that institution, and drifted back to this city. Since then he has been arrested several times for vagrancy, being found by the officers obtaining sustenance such as it was from the refuse found in barrels, boxes and heaps at the rear of hotels, restaurants, etc.

The man's latter arrest was made about a week ago and he was sentenced to eighty days in jail, the penalty being meted out to him as an act of charity rather than of punishment, he being much better cared for in jail than in the streets. According to a statement made by Jailor Kimball, the man was in an extremely filthy condition when last brought in. His clothing, such as he had, was a literal bed of vermin, being so bad that the jailor burned it, and provided him with a new suit. Notwithstanding his new clothes he is about in as bad a condition now as when brought in.

Both Were Dismissed.

The jury which in Judge Hiles's branch of the Third district court listened for several days to the testimony against Israel F. Dennis and Mrs. Robinson, charged with adultery, returned a verdict last evening about 5 o'clock. The verdict was for acquittal and the defendants left the courtroom in great glee.

Burglarized Rigby's Store.

Rigby Brosgstore at 422 south West Temple street, seems to be an ever shining mark for burglars. Last night it was again broken into and looted of a small amount of merchandise. The police were notified but made no capture and obtained no definite clue.

Alfred "Lost" His "Ticker."

Alfred Galeazzi, a twelve-year-old boy, was yesterday relieved of his "ticker" in the vicinity of the Warm Springs. It appears that Alfred was met on the road by a large boy who was driving a hay wagon, and in the course of conversation, young Galeazzi pulled out his watch to ascertain the time, when his new-fledged comrade asked to see it. Alfred handed it to him, and the stranger commenced fumbling with the stem, at the same time asking, "Does it go back?" Alfred said "no" and the "Reuben" put the watch in his pocket and drove off in the direction of Bountiful.

From "Natural Causes."

Coroner Offenbach held an inquest today over the body of James Farrell, the old man who was found dead at his lonely home in the western part of the city on Sunday afternoon last. The jury was composed of T. E. Harper, E. M. Qualtrough and John Offenbach. Their verdict was that the deceased came to his death from "natural causes, probably caused by cramps in the stomach." A cousin of the dead man, his only relative here, so far as known, has been found by the coroner in the person of a Mrs. Ann Cummings, who is residing at the old Continental hotel on West Temple street. The interment takes place at the Catholic cemetery tomorrow.

Death of Mrs. H. A. Silver.

Mrs. Ellen E. Silver, wife of Hyrum A. Silver, of the Nineteenth ward, died at nine o'clock last night from dropsical troubles superinduced by inflammatory rheumatism. She was 38 years of age, the mother of five children and highly respected by an extensive circle of acquaintances. She had been afflicted for a period of several months and at times suffered severely. Many friends will unite in sympathy with the bereaved husband and motherless children in the loss they have sustained.

Funeral services will be held in the Nineteenth ward meeting house tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Friends are invited.

A NAUGHTY GIRL, IS FANNY.

Her Foster Parents Ask that She Be Placed Under Reform School Restraint.

The application of the foster parents of Fanny W. Perkins, which prays for her to be sent to the Reform school, came up before Judge Hiles this morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Perkins was represented by Attorney Walter Murphy, with County Attorney Whittemore in the interests of the people. Miss Perkins is not yet sixteen years old, and is said to be incorrigible.

Her foster parents testified that during the three years they have cared for her under legal adoption, she has been expelled from three high class educational institutes and was suspended from St. Mary's academy in this city December 18, 1895. Since that time life, they state, has been made more than burdensome to them by the girl's actions.

The mother [Superior] and associate appeared in court to testify as to Fanny's character and deportment; also Mrs. Winters, Attorney Whittemore's mother, and others. The girl was shown to possess such traits of character that restraint is considered necessary for her future guidance as she is now beyond the control of her parents, but whether it will result in the reform school or not is not yet decided, as the decision is withheld for the present.

Marriage Licenses.

Clerk Stanton issued marriage licenses today to Collin Coolis, aged 35, and Gertrude Leroy, aged 30, both of this city; Gustave Oman, aged 28, and Hannah Johnson, aged 23, both of Bingham, and Llyn Solomon, aged 23, of Salt Lake, and Lucine Sorensen, aged 23, of Gunnison, Sanpete county.

Judge Young's Court.

The cases disposed of in Judge Young's court are as follows:

Joseph T. Kingsbury vs J. M. Kennedy et al; on motion of plaintiff dismissed.

Z. C. M. I. vs Earl Bros.; taken under advisement and motion overruled.

Kiggins & Tesker company vs Utah Book and Stationery company; passed by consent.

E. W. Taylor vs R. G. Wilson et al; motion to file amended complaint; argued and granted.

John J. Smith vs Agnes L. Thompson et al; on motion defendant was given ten days to file amended answer and cross complaint.

Savings & Loan society vs John J. Snyder et al; taken under advisement since January 25; court overruled demurrer of defendant and motion for judgment on pleadings.

Albert J. White vs William E. Ryan; taken under advisement and declaring tax sale void and giving decree for quieting title to plaintiff.

AMUSEMENTS.

Effie Ellsler's Engagement at the Theater—Fine Productions at the Grand and Lyceum.

The attendance at the Theater last night, where Effie Ellsler appeared as the heroine in Camille, was not so large as might have been expected, but the performance was a really artistic one, and that it was appreciated was apparent from the applause with which it was received. In Camille the author has drawn a character which, although endowed with some qualities from purely imaginary sources, is essentially human and therefore enlisting the sympathies of an intelligent audience. Miss Ellsler presents her role in a touching, impressive manner. Her interpretation is replete with artistic merit.

The support is also much above the average. Mr. Bilon as Armand Duval presents a strong impersonation of that character and Mr. James as Count de Varville is equally good. Mr. John A. Ellsler, the veteran actor, had the role of the elder Duval and was repeatedly applauded for his acting. Miss Leslie gave Mme. Prudence's role very well, and the remaining parts were all satisfactorily rendered.

The engagement closes this evening by the performance of Shakespeare's delightful comedy As You Like It. Some critics have not hesitated in pronouncing Miss Ellsler the best Rosalind they have ever seen. Mr. Bilon plays Orlando, Mr. James, Jacques and Mr. Weston, Touchstone.

Miss Anna Eva Fay who arrived this afternoon and is registered at the Knutsford, will occupy a box at the Theater this evening to witness the performance of As You Like It.

Tomorrow evening Miss Fay commences a seven nights' engagement at the Theater. An entertainment is promised that in novelty and amusement will surpass those given by Herrmann and Keller. It will be remembered that Mr. Oscar Eliason, of this city, now on a successful tour through the country, took a great deal of interest in Miss Fay's performances here on a former visit. Return engagements are often arranged for in places where Miss Fay appears.

AT THE GRAND.

Judging from last night's performance and preceding plays, the Grand management have discarded the policy of sandwiching an inferior play between two good ones. Harvest, from the pen of Henry Hamilton, is a decided contrast to Niobe in everything but excellence. The play deals with that well worn subject of the Scotch marriage law. The audience, in the prologue, is introduced to the principals and given a striking object lesson of man's supposed fickleness and a scorned woman's despair. The play opens after a supposed interval of twenty years, and the argument, as the title of the play indicates, demonstrates the fact that whatever a man sows so shall he reap. Harvest will undoubtedly prove popular in the Grand patrons. The cast is so evenly distributed as to give every member of the company a chance to show his or her individual capabilities. To Walter Edwards and Miss Cook are assigned the leading roles. It is hardly necessary to state that they did justice to their parts. Mr. Edwards's well known skill as to details of make-up were again in evidence, and although his role is not one calculated to arouse the sympathies of the audience, he earned frequent applause for his able rendition.

It is refreshing to see Madge Carr-Cook in a part in contrast to the vixenish scold that generally falls to her lot. Her Brenda Musgrave of last night demonstrated that she is a valuable acquisition to the stock company.

Wm. Ingersoll and Miss Warren upheld the comedy element and kept the audience in good humor. Miss Warren especially as Nora with a sweet brogue, was captivating; their Irish jig in the second act captivated the house. Mr. Edeson as Hamish, the faithful Hibernian henchman, made the most of his meagre part. W. H. Tooker did one of his best pieces of work as yet as Capt. Tresidder, the not altogether invulnerable cynic. One would expect Hugh Ward to be out of his element in a serious part; nevertheless he proved equal to the occasion, his Roy Marston being up to the standard, and proved a successful adjunct to the rendition of the drama. Catherine Jerome who is steadily advancing in favor, made an intelligent Miss McLeod. Miss Henry as Lettice Vane had more scope than last week and undoubtedly soon will rank among the Grand's established favorites. Altogether, the play, barring a couple of barely perceptible lapses of memory and long waits between acts, passed off very creditably before a larger first night's house than usual.

AT THE LYCEUM.

One Touch of Nature and The Bells were presented to a large audience at the Lyceum last evening. The former being a charming little sketch giving Mr. Clark an excellent opportunity to shine in the role of the old man. He was well supported by Miss Titiell and DeWitt Jennings.

The Bells is a one-role play belonging in this case to Mr. Hayes as the conscience-stricken murderer. He rendered this role admirably. The piece is intensely interesting and was made famous by Henry Irving many years ago.

It is probably not expected that Mr. Hayes should excel or even equal the famous English actor, but if recollections dating back nearly twenty years can be relied on, Mr. Hayes's impersonation of the murderer is not so far below the Irving standard as might be supposed. It is an artistic production that promises to be a success in every respect.

A dramatic entertainment will be given in the Eleventh ward assembly rooms on Feb. 12th and 13th, entitled Down in Dixie, to be followed by the farce My Neighbor's Wife. The entertainment is for the benefit of the ward.

A Recommendation from Los Angeles

632 Castelar St., LOS ANGELES, Cal. —After having suffered for a long time from acute rheumatism without obtaining relief, I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was almost immediately relieved. I highly recommend this as the best medicine known. D. M. HAMILTON. For sale by druggists.

In a recent editorial the Salem, Oregon Independent says: "Time and again have we seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy tried and never without the most satisfactory results. Whenever we see a person afflicted with hoarseness, with a cough or cold, we invariably advise them to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; and when they do, they never regret it. It always does the work, and does it well." For sale by druggists.

The exposure to all sorts and conditions of weather that a lumberman is called upon to endure in the camps often produces severe colds which, if not promptly checked, result in congestion or pneumonia. Mr. J. O. Davenport, ex-manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Co., an immense institution at Fort Bragg, Cal., says they sell large quantities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the company's store and that he has himself used this remedy for a severe cold and obtained immediate relief. This medicine prevents any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia and insures a prompt recovery. For sale by druggists.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys made a great showing in the Ogden races. The first event of the day was the two mile road race, in which McConahey finished third, taking third prize and third time prize. Then came the track race, Joe Bock taking second in the novice, Fowler first, Weiler second, and Thatcher third in the mile scratch, class B, all "Rambler" you will note. In the half mile class A, Nay took second, Carlos third. Half mile, class B, Thatcher second, Fowler third. Five mile, class B, Fowler second. In this race a man in a yellow suit lost his head and fell, Crumbaar and Weiler being immediately behind him, the result was a spill for these parties and the race left to Evans. The five mile, class A, was another Rambler event, Nay taking first, Joe Bock second and McConahey third. Fourteen prizes in one day is glory enough for any one.

People may laugh and people may cry,
And dogs may howl if they please,
