National Opera Company Embarrassed.

BUFFALO, June 16.—The Musical

Association of Buffalo was compelled to pay the railroad for the National Opera Company here, so they could fill their advertised date-to-day.

Last Monday, it is stated, Theodore Homes called at the office of the association and told them the opera company was in a terribly embarrassed condition. He had not been able to get his salary for months, had been the victim of gross injustice, and only refused to play until payment was made, if he abandoned it on its California trip, the poor members of the chorus and the orchestra would be left in a state of destitution. When the performance to-day was ready to begin, the orchestra refused to play until payment was made, and the Musical Association was compelled to advance $2,500.

THE FLAG FURY.

A Small Matter Enkindles a Great

Flame—The President's Order

Revoked.

New York, June 16.—"May God send the President a sign, that he may God bless the brain that conceived it, and may He bless the tongue that dictated it." G. A. R. veterans heard these words and glanced at each other with awe as the

TERRIBLE SENTENCES

rang out from the Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. last night. The order, which was read in the Union Hall, in Harlem. The occasion was the reception tendered to the visitors from every G. A. R. post in the city. The President's order, which was read by the Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., was read by the representatives of the so-called Confederacy, as a fitting acknowledgment of the righteousness of the "Lost Cause."

Resolved, That this post expresses its disapproval of this act of the first President of the United States who has held the office dissociated from the memories of the war for the Union.

The resolution was carried with a shout. Arrangements will be made to have a mass meeting of veterans next week, to protest against the action of the President.

New York, June 16.—It is stated that General Fairchild had a long talk with

GENERAL SHERMAN

this morning and it is understood the latter approves of Fairchild's speech last evening. Neither of the gentlemen, however, would say anything to the reporters.

The Post says: A dispatch from Washington says that a gentleman of prominence in political circles, probably

SECRETARY BAYARD,

as saying: "The order is one of the bravest and most patriotic actions of the President. By a stroke of his pen, the President has done more for the Union and the nation than all precedent, proclamations and legislation. He has shown to the nation people so long as the conquerors in civil war glory over the conquered, and that the nation should be a united people, and that the conquerors in war should be wiped out. The act is a masterpiece of statesmanship. It has already raised the rage of professional office-seekers and soldiers and parties. It has also raised the pride of the nation, and has no other serve many causes, and have no other purpose than to keep alive and the spirit of the nation, and the never dying spirit of hatred."

A Washington special to the Evening

Post says:

ADJUTANT-GENERAL DRUM

is the only person in authority here who appeared disposed to talk about the order relative to the return of the President that some flags had been returned to the loyal states upon the request of individual cases, and the fact, which was well known, was turned together. The return of the Confederate flags was suggested, but there was no doubt that the return of the flags which had been captured interfering in any way with the captured flags now held by any state.

The act was apparently

RECEIVED WITH FAVOR

by the country for lately in one or more cases, the northern troops visiting antagonists at the south had returned to the north. The right of the north troops, who within a short time had been visiting the southern battlefields, and were in the warmest terms of the kind and hospitable treatment they had received from the Confederate soldiers; and the fact, too, that the soldiers from the north and south were gathering at Washington to meet in friendly competition at the national drill, seem to indicate that the Union which had been returned to the loyal states formerly in rebellion a return of the flags which had been taken from the rebels, would be a return of the Union, and that the return of the Union would be a return of the

Kalakaes have created a feeling of dissatisfaction among the foreign res-some vessel bringing news of such a state of affairs. The place has been barbarized and supplied with arms and ammunition and citizens of other countries have gone so far as to call on their home governments to send men-of-war for their protection."

AS INSTANCES

of the King's extravagance, Mr.

on the funeral of his sister, $80,000 in steamer which had been originally intended for the Hawaiian Islands, $50,000 being expended on her equipment. In response to inquiries, Spre-
