Within Our Gates.

Bishop Moseley, of Ruffhills, came in today and stayed long enough to take a good look at the rugged situation prevailing in the metropolis.

President H. S. Gowans, of Tooele stake, was contemplating our Jordanian circus today and doubtless wondering what the next move is the way of an explosive sensation.

W. L. H. Debor, the stalwart ex-Confederate, sterling citizen and respected resident of Minersville, came in yesterday and is positively buying purchases for his permanent establishment in that town. Mr. Dobson reads the News regularly, because, being a man of business and a politician, he must keep posted.

Michael Powers, the prominent mining man of Beaver county, is up from the scenes of his labors, having brought some tempting looking specimens in gold from Indian creek, in which he has a large interest. The rise of Beaver's copper has not yet been told, and Mr. Powers is doing his part toward having it "tell it all."

Hon. Aquila Nickey came down from his home in his northern perch in Rich county yesterday. His advent was not at all like that of the wolf on the fold, nor has he any designs upon the public falsehood in their interests. He has gained some few points in fleets since the politicians enlighten last week and look forward to early statehood with the greatest composure.

Ben E. Rich, the major domo of the Republican forces of Weber county, dropped down from his eyrie and made the News office a brief call yesterday. Ben is not only confident but certain that what the "unterrified" gained here as the result of the election will be nullified at an early date by the Republicans stealing a march on their opponents and letting Utah in this winter.

The Temple—1865 to 1892.

Mr. C. W. Carter, photographer, of West First South street, brought to the News office for inspection, today, an excellent photograph which he has just produced of the Salt Lake Temple in its various stages of construction, from the year 1865 up to the present time. These representations fill the entire margin of the picture, and the center is filled up with views of the opposite before and after the removal of the scaffolding, glimpses of Salt Lake, the quarry, and likenesses of Presidents Brigham Young, John Taylor and Wilford Woodruff. The photograph, which it is intended to issue in two different forms, is Mr. Carter's own designing, and is a skilful production.

An Excellent Example.

The spirit of marriage has rested upon the young folks of Taylorsville, half a dozen couples having gone to Manti or Logan within a few brief days. Their names are as follow:

Archibald Frame, Jr., Minnie Webster.
James Sanders, Janet Dick.
Samuel Gerrard, Rosie Frame.
Ephraim Gerrard, Blanche Cook.
John D. Frame, Alice Meakin.
Edwin Hendon, Mary E. Lindsay.

The marriage of the first couple was celebrated at the residence of Brother Abel Webster and evening, when a host enjoyed the good cheer of the day and spent the evening in song, music, recitation and speeches of congratulation by Bishop Hendon and H. W. Naisbitt.

Twice the young brides with their husbands were present, the last named couple having just left on a tour to Montana, or the old world have been complete. The Bishop feels justly proud of these conversions in his family, and thinks the example could be profitably followed elsewhere, for he says it denotes homes, farms, school houses, meeting houses, stores, and all the elements of business animation and progress. Taylorsville—without being invidious—could be spared. There are one or more to be. One thing is remarkable. The good people of that burg are in the main so inter-related that a celebration involves the entire settlement, and it is simply limited by the capacity of the house or by a fair day's repetition. The present one will culminate, it is expected, by a general dance on Monday evening next.

THE "KANDY KITCHEN" MAN.

Kolitz Has Been Arrested on Two Very Serious Charges.

Armed with the necessary warrants, Deputy Sheriff Cummins late yesterday afternoon arrested Louis Kolitz, the "Kandy Kitchen" man, on two charges of a most serious character. In the first case it is alleged that early in the morning of July 17th, in the present year, the defendant wilfully and feloniously burned a quantity of goods, covered by insurance, with intent to defraud, and in the same time swore and published a false and fraudulent proof of loss, with intent to defraud, and to obtain money upon the loss. The second warrant sets up the contracts entered into between Kolitz and a number of insurance companies, and then takes reference to the Brooklyn case that he knowingly and feloniously presented to the companies in question a fraudulent claim and proof of loss in which he collected insurance for property which he did not possess.

After his arrest Kolitz was taken before Justice Lee and gave bonds in the sum of $400 on each of the charges.

About the time of the arrest an attachment suit for $1192 was filed against Kolitz in the Third district court by the Phoenix Insurance Insurance company of New York. The suit is the earliest part Kolitz subsequent to the fire, and the plaintiffs will endeavor to get it based upon the same grounds as alleged in the criminal complaints. It is stated that the suit has been filed, the attachments were levied, and Kolitz's place of business was taken charge of by an officer.

It will be sought, therefore, to show that K his bankruptcy was made for purposes.

World's Fair Meeting.

A special meeting of the women's department of the Salt Lake County World's Fair association is called to convene in the old Federal court room in the Western building, on Tuesday, November 22nd, at 2 p. m. All members of the board of directors and all members of the several committees recently appointed are earnestly requested to be present. A special invitation is extended to all women interested in the Columbian Exposition to attend the meeting.

Mrs. M. H. Salisbury, unknown view accident, and Mrs. Emily S. Richards, Territorial president, are expected to be present, and will no doubt give valuable information relative to the work in hand.

E. R. CARNS, President.
H. A. CARNS, Secretary.

Another One Caught.

The police today arrested J. N. S. Hallmann, a blacksmith, and booked him at the station on a charge of petit larceny. Inquiry as to the particulars of the case brought forth the response from Chief Pike, "Oh, he is another of the gang. He was wearing a pair of pants belonging to Felix Spry and we gathered him in."

Justice Jottings.

Justice Lee disposed of the following cases this morning:

Sadie Gray and Hattie Johnson, a couple of disreputable females, forfeited $25 each for humorous conduct.

Louis Whittemore plead not guilty to the charge of petit larceny. The case was set for this afternoon.

Farmer Dykes, a youthful thief, confessed to being guilty of petit larceny. His case was continued until Thomas Matthews, the arresting officer, could be communicated with.

W. K. Wallace, a flashily dressed young fellow of perhaps 25 years of age, plead not guilty to vagrancy. His case was also continued.

Louis Whitman, a badly battered and disfigured individual, admitted that he had been drunk. He was sent to jail for five days.

HE DIDN'T WANT THEM.

A Union Pacific Coal Teamster Who Throws Rare Light on the Tailor Shop Burglaries.

A teamster in the employ of the Union Pacific coal department named Carlo Jensen, called at the police station today with two or three suits of clothes, which he says were given to him about ten days ago by some of Hawkins' men. He was working for Mr. Hawkins himself at that time. When he got the clothes were given to him, he claims, by Moberg, who was arrested last night and who is now in the city jail charged with burglary. Jensen says that just as soon as he learned of the arrest of Moberg and two of his companions he of course became convinced that the clothes which had been presented to him were stolen, and so they proved to be.

"It was an honest act on my part to bring them to the city hall," said Chief Pike to Jensen, "and you have probably saved yourself a good deal of trouble by doing so."

The Lambert Verdict.

The coroner's jury last night returned a verdict in the Lambert drowning case to the effect that the deceased came to his death from suffocation while in an epileptic fit. The remains have been embalmed and will be shipped to Bucklingville, Illinois, tomorrow evening, where they will be interred.

OGDEN NEWS.

The Allred Damage Suit—Board of Education—Notes.

(Regular Correspondence.)

The closing call of the grand jury evening was a complete success both socially and financially.

On Wednesday, December 7th, Ogden will have another election, this time for members of the board of education, one from each precinct.

The Southern Pacific are erecting new ice houses near the shops and tearing down the old ones which have for years been located near those of the Union Pacific.

Mayor Turner yesterday received a communication from a representative of a Chicago company which desires to run a district messenger service here.

John Sparks, the well known cattleman, yesterday purchased from W. H. Pattison, of Missouri, thirty-eight head of shorthorn bulls and heifers which will be used to improve the stock on his Nevada and Idaho ranches.

A landslide yesterday morning on the Oregon Short Line, west of Pocatello, which carried off a long piece of track delayed the eastbound passenger train so that no connection was made with the down passenger on the Utah & Northern.

James C. Williams was placed under arrest yesterday morning by Officer Davenport on complaint of Commissioner Thomas of the Union Pacific, and a charge of larceny was booked against him at the police station. Williams boarded the Utah & Northern train at Pocatello and at once took possession of a double seat. When the conductor passed through the train to collect tickets, Williams was seemingly asleep and despite the efforts made by the railroad men to arouse him, remained in that condition until Ogden was reached at 7:30 o'clock. When aroused with a start the "very tired" passenger claimed that he had given up his ticket some time before and refused to pay fare.

At the board of education meeting last evening bills aggregating $[illegible] were audited and allowed. Eight members of the training school of 1892 petitioned for a raise of salary, and commencing with the first of the year the young ladies will draw an additional $5 per month, making their salary $35. Woods & Smith, architects on the Madison avenue building, notified the board that the structure is completed and ready for inspection. The board will visit the building on Monday morning and make a full investigation. Judge Norman, territorial school commissioner, in response to a request for information, handed in an opinion on the funding school elections to the effect that the board should conduct the election instead of the Utah Commissioners.

Yesterday was the third day occupied in the Fourth district court by the Allred $55,000 damage suit against Salt Lake City, and the counsel seem very slow of reaching a conclusion today, although an effort will be made looking to that end. The Utah & Oregon Lumber Co. entered proceedings, asking that the foreclosure and sale of the property of the Junction City Driving Park and Fair association by the Eccles Lumber Co., the Hiner's bank and A. H. Carey are made parties to the suit. The allegations are that the mechanic's lien held and foreclosed by the Eccles Lumber company, was illegal because the land upon which the buildings were erected never was in possession of the defendant, and that the amount of the lien was exorbitant and made so as the result of collusion between the defendants, the Junction City Driving Park and Fair association and the Eccles Lumber company.

PROVO LETTER.

Accident at Alpine.—Newspaper Change.—World's Fair Enthusiasm.

(Special Correspondence of the News.)

Mrs. Berry, a lady residing at Alpine, and who recently came from Nebraska, two or three days since had her hip dislocated, and it is now feared that she will remain a cripple during her life. The accident occurred while she was washing a window. In stepping down from a chair, she attempted to avoid stepping on a cat which was in the way, and fell, causing the dislocation.

The World's Fair mass meeting of the ladies of Provo, held last night at the meeting house, proved to be a genuine success. A excellent literary and musical programme, nearly every detail of which had some relation to the coming event of the century, was carried out. The picturing of the Fair as it is to be by seventeen of the ladies, created no small amount of enthusiasm.

The executive committee of the asylum board met yesterday. They awarded the coal contract of the asylum to the P. L. M. & B. Co. The electric wiring of the old wing of the asylum was awarded to A. A. Moulton, representing the United Electric Co. of Salt Lake City, for $280. Other general repairs were ordered to be made.

The subscription list of the American Fork Republican has been sold to the Lehi Banner, and in the future the latter paper will contain an American Fork department. Mr. Mix, former editor of the Republican, will move his plant to Tooele, and soon he will issue a sheet at that place.

Cass Hite, the murderer, is greatly pleased over the granting of the certificate of probable cause for appeal by Chief Justice Zane. He says it is the first victory he has won in the case. Colonel Shellenberger, his attorney, was down to see him yesterday.

Provo, Nov. 17.—The new 50-house power boiler (66 inches in diameter) manufactured to order for the Territorial Insane Asylum, has been placed in position and is now in perfect working order. It gives entire satisfaction.

A case of diphtheria has appeared in the Mann family at Alpine.

Release and Arrivals.

(Special Star.)

Elder John Haines is temporarily released from his labors as traveling Elder in the Nottingham conference, to return home.

On Saturday, October 29th, the Canadian ensemble Farm, from New York, arrived in Liverpool. Among the passengers were Elders J. J. Thomas, Peter Hansen, of Southfield, John W. Whitmer, Erik Erikson, of Heber City; Neils Monsen, of Pleasant Grove; Carl M. Larsen, of Draper, Utah; and Fred C. Olsen, of Paradise, Idaho, for the Scandinavian mission, and Edward Faunley, of Dover, Utah, and Andrew Wallentz, of Afton, Wyoming, for the British mission. They were enjoying good health. These for the continent proceeded on their journey.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Governor Thomas Issues His Proclamation to the People of Utah.

The following proclamation was issued this afternoon by Governor Arthur L. Thomas in regard to Thanksgiving Day:

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
Executive Office.

To the people of the Territory of Utah:

In accordance with the proclamation of the President, and in recognition of a custom which, distinctively characteristic American life, I respectfully recommend that Thursday, November 24th, 1892, be observed as a day of thanksgiving and praise to the Divine Ruler for the peace, happiness and prosperity we have enjoyed during the present year.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Territory to be affixed.

Done at Salt Lake City, this 9th day of November, A. D. 1892.

ARTHUR L. THOMAS, Governor.

[Seal.]

By the Governor:
ELIJAH SCOTT, Secretary of the Territory.

In the Probate court this morning very little was done. Two notices were made. In the matter of the estate of Jeremiah Moriarty, deceased, W. Dowdell was appointed to hold petition for letters of administration. In regard to the estate of James Berry, on a similar petition, the same case was filed for hearing.
