Miss Flora Wilson's Concert At the Shubert Monday Night

MISS FLORA WILSON.

Miss Flora Wilson, whose concert at Shubert's theater on Monday night will be one of the week's leading events, was seen this morning at the Knutsford where she was found revelling in the sunshine streaming through the windows of her corner room.

"It is simply glorious, this sunshine and mountain air," said Miss Wilson enthusiastically. "I am enjoying it all, and the view of the mountains I get from my windows here is more than I can tell. I have a two-mile walk every day, and besides have been automobiling a great deal so that I have had a good opportunity to enjoy them. I saw the football game at the University on Thursday, but the wonderful view of the mountains and the valley really interested me more than the game. Everyone has been so good to me while I have been in Salt Lake, Senator Smoot, Mr. and Mrs. David Eccles of Ogden and many others.

"I am looking forward with great interest to my concert next week and hope it may be a success. Yes, it is my first concert tour, though I sang in concert abroad. I also acted at De. Rezgke's theater in Paris, in opera before while there. De Rezgke was my teacher, you know, and brought me out. My voice is a high soprano, and I sing the same notes as Tetrazzini, who is noted for her high register. When I sang in London they said "we have another Tetrazzini."

Asked as to whether she expected to sing in opera Miss Wilsan said that she sings at the Metropolitan Opera house in New York in February, expecting to make her deput as Violet in La Traviata.

"I have 12 roles," said Miss Wilson, "and may perhaps change my mind as to my choice of roles for my debut, but it will probably be Violet."

Miss Wilson spoke enthusiastically of her reception in Washington and New York where she gave concerts to houses filled with the representative people of both cities. "The press has been especially kind to me, and in fact I have met with nothing but kindness everywhere."

Miss Wilson is the daughter of the national secretary of agriculture at Washington. She was born in Iowa but has resided in Washington for 18 years. Besides singing in Salt Lake, Miss Wilson will also sing in Logan and Ogden next week, where she has warm friends.

Miss Wilson in her concert at the Shubert theater next Monday night will have assisting her Karl Klein, violinist, and Harold Osborn Smith, pianist. Both of these musicians have international reputations and a delightful evening is assured. The program ranges from sweet familiar melodies to classical grand opera selections.

Wherever Miss Wilson has appeared she has created a most favorable impression in musical circles, not only by her magnificent voice of surpassing power and beauty, but on account of her charming, magnetic personality. She loves art for art's sake, and the evening's entertainment gives every promise of being a highly artistic success. Miss Wilson will probably be greeted Monday night by one of the most representative gatherings of social shining lights ever assembled in a Salt Lake theater.

Following is the program that will be rendered:

Piano solo .....Mr. Smith
Aria, "Shadow Song".....Meyerbeer
Miss Wilson.
(a) "Ave Maria"....Schubert-Wilhelmj
(b) Hungarian Rhapsody.... ....Hubay
Mr. Klein.
(a) "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" .....Haydn
(b) Niemand Hat's Geschen ("The Stolen Kiss").....Loewe
(c) "Still Wie Die Nacht ("Calm is the Night").....Bohm
(d) "Widmung" (Dedication).....
.....Schumann
Miss Wilson.
Caprice, A minor .....Moszkowski
Mr. Smith.
(a) Nocturne (M. S. First time)....
.....Brunoscar Klein
(b) Rondo (Symphonie Espagnole)
.....Lalo
Mr. Klein.
(a) Villanelle .....Chalminado
(b) "In Quelle Trine" (Marion)....
.....Puccini
(c) Waltz song ("Romeo and Juliet") .....Gounod
(d) "Chanson d'Amour".....Hollmann
(With violin obligato.)
Miss Wilson.
Aria, "Ah! Fors e Lui" ("Traviata") .....Verdi
Miss Wilson.

Smiles and Frowns Mingled When the Power Went Off

When the "power went off" yesterday afternoon, just at the rush time in the markets and near quitting time in the offices and other places of business, upper Main street suffered more than any other locality. A long suffering public has for years been very indulgent in matters of this kind, but with the granting of franchises to the power company, the result of which was unpleasant but bearable because of anticipations of better service in that the streets were continually in a state of upheaval while the wires were being put underground, strong hopes were born of happier days. How fleeting were those hopes yesterday proved beyond the traditional peradventure of a doubt. Evidently, it is to wait longer. Those business concerns whose places were lighted with streaming floods of light from gas lamps smiled broadly in the direction of their neighbors' shops, where candles, kerosene lamps and lanterns were hastily brought out to serve until the subtle fluid should again flow through the wires which had fed the bulbs before the "power went off."

In the midst of sadness, however, there always is something to smile at. Many odd situations arose during the time the upper portion of Main street was in darkness. Office men with hairy faces were seeking barber shops for their evening shave preparatory to participating as commuters at the various theaters. Wherever they sought, the shave stores, too, were in darkness. One barber noted for his skill in the art of making hairy faced men look like new, volunteered to shave all comers in the dark, declaring that light to him was more of a luxury than a necessity. There were none so brave as to take the chance, however, and there was a pretty fair sized procession of unshaven men southward into the realm of light where shaving was to be done with less chance of personal disfigurement. One enterprising barber in the north end of the street "put over" a clever stunt. He hung a card in his window reading, "Boys wanted." Those who have had experience will immediately say that applicants began to stream into his shop the moment the sign was hung up. Six boys were engaged and soon they were to be seen holding candles alongside customers and the shave store was working as f no interruption of the power supply had occurred.

Telephone inquiry at the offices of the Utah Light & Railway company was almost impossible, for the central girl's reply to calls over their line was always "line is busy." However, it was ascertained that the break in the transmission and distribution line was in Main street below First South. The interruption continued until nearly 11 o'clock. A cave-in occurred on the Main street side of the Kearns' block excavation at 4:30 p. m., which let down a duct filled with electric light wires. A crib had been built to protect this duct, but the crib was weak and the washing out of the soil around the duct by the storm precipitated the trouble. The block most affected was that bounded by South and West Temple, First South and Main streets, which includes the Oregon Short Line and Deseret News offices, where hundreds of clerks were forced to suspend work. The railroad clerks had to be finally dismissed, with their work nearly an hour in arrears, to be made up later, though in some of the offices candles were freely resorted to as a sort of makeshift. It was a rather trying time—on the eyes. The Light & Railway company installed a duplicate cable as soon as possible, and is arranging for duplicate cables in the business blocks to provide against further inconveniences due to accidents.

The Utah Coal & Coke company, who manufacture gas, are making the recent troubles in the electric light service the occasion of a strong canvass for the installation of gas in buildings which previously did not have it.

SPECIAL MUSIC FOR SHOW.

J. J. McClellan Is Writing the Score For Press Club Annual.

The Press club, through the courtesy of Manager Pyper of the Salt Lake theater, has secured Feb. 10 as the date for the presentation of the annual show which this year takes the form of a unique vaudeville entertainment winding up with an original comic opera which bears the title of "A Dash For the Pole." The libretto is now being written by A. G. Mackenzie, a reformed newspaperman who is now publicity man for a telephone corporation, while the scores are to be written by Prof. J. J. McClellan. The combination is bound to be a winner with some mirth-provoking Limericks set to tuneful and catchy music.

BOOKS AS HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Have Been Tried Out Sucessfully

For years at holiday time we have sought to encourage the taste for good literature by putting in a stock of Standard Miscellaneous books, popular up-to-date modern fiction, History, Biography, Philosophical and Scientific works. Our efforts have proven successful beyond our expectations. Each approaching holiday season finds us opening up a larger and more varied stock than the one preceding it.

No gift can convey more appropriately the finer feelings desired to be expressed by the giver than the presentation of a well chosen book. If rightly selected, the high standards and beautiful thoughts of the Author are made, as it were, to present our own. The recipients are also pleased with your estimate of their good taste and quality of mind.

We have the most popular of the old Masters' Works in all bindings, and at prices to suit the purchaser. We have the Poets in popular bindings up to the most exquisite styles of the binder's art.

Our Miscellaneous books are to be found in immense varieties of styles, subjects, authors, bindings and prices.

Our Modern Fiction department is added to weekly by the most popular books, as fast as they are issued from the press.

We have the largest stock of Boys' Books, Girls' Books, Children's Picture and Story Books to be found in the west.

We must not forget Bibles, Testaments, and our own Home Publications, to which are added many new works, in bindings suitable for holiday gifts.

We invite you to come early and examine our stock.
