Correspondence.

SMITHFIELD, Cache Co., U. T.
June 5th, 1871.

Editor Deseret News:—Dear Sir. Knowing the interest you take in public matters, I beg to communicate the following:

On Friday the 2nd instant the school trustees and school teachers of Cache County met in convention at the Logan Hall, at 10 a.m., to take into consideration the best method of advancing the cause of education. Supt. Samuel Roskelly in the chair.

The Superintendent reported that the present condition of our schools was good, being well supplied with etc., and well attended, the latter being brought about by the system of taxation which is adopted by the majority of the school districts in this county.

The teachers spoke in praise of the National Series of books by Parker and Watson, and said that the more they use them the more they realize the superiority of the National over any other series they have used.

The leading Bishops and educators of the counties, present at the convention, spoke of the necessity of a higher grade of school than we have at the present time, and the feelings of Bp. Preston and Supt. Sam. Roskelly were that we should establish a high school in Logan City, and support the same by sending the advanced scholars of our settlements there to receive an education which will fit them to fill honorable positions; this met the minds of all present, and it was resolved that we would use our influence in the matter by presenting the same to the public.

At the afternoon session the question 'Which is the best method of teaching the alphabet, spelling and writing' was broached, and the subject was handled in a masterly manner by some of our teachers, with illustrations on the black-board, which proved that they were really interested in the profession of "teaching the young idea how to shoot". The question, how to teach notation and numeration was laid over until our next convention.

Many other ideas were canvassed by the brethren and sisters present, and the feeling was that this convention surpassed in numbers and interest our conventions previous, and it was a noticable fact that the leading Elders of this county are men who take a lively interest in the education of the rising generation. All well.

Yours Respectfully,
CHAS. WRIGHT,
Secretary of Convention.

This Machine is the famous gathering of twenty years experience in the manufacture of Agricultural Machinery, and takes rank with the Printing Press, Engine, Lath and Locomotive in the qualities of precision, simplicity and durability.

Its foundation is a single piece of solid iron, of shape to resist all possible strains.

Its gearing is almost in standard gauge, and one but cast of solid iron, with positive expansion.

The working parts are permanently fixed and fully protected from weather, dust, grass and all other natural causes of disturbance.

By a lever we can raise from 3 to the lowest point, plus the self-adjustment common to all Yoke Side Machines, avoid breakage in harvest, secure easy draft and the same durability which performs so well for many years in other kinds of machinery. The WORLD has fully demonstrated that, simply, relatively,

"There is no other Harvester."
