

THE QUESTION OF FOURTH WEST.

The Problem With Which Railroad and City Officials Are Now Struggling.

VIADUCT AND OTHER THINGS.

City Attorney Nye Gives Favorable Opinion on Granting of Franchise—Rio Grande's Tonight.

Unless some agreement can be reached this afternoon between the Rio Grande and the Short Line officials and the council committees, having those two franchises under consideration, whereby the Short Line will move its tracks on Fourth West street to the extreme east side of the street so as to make room on that street, the probability is that the Rio Grande will have a hard time securing its much desired privilege from the city council. Should both franchises be granted as requested, there would be four sets of railroad tracks on Fourth West street, from North Temple to Fourth North street, and two of those tracks would necessar-or otherwise improve streets, alleys, sidewalks, parks and public grounds, and to vacate the same. Subdivision 32 of the same section gives to the city council power to permit, regulate or prohibit the locating, constructing or laying the tracks of any railroad or tramway in any street, alley or public place, and to grant franchises to railroad companies and to union railroad depot companies, to lay, maintain and operate in any street, or part or parts of streets of said cities or other public places therein, railroad tracks, etc.

These two subdivisions, I believe to be ample authority to the council to grant such street privileges as are asked for and contemplated, including the vacating or closing of such streets as may be necessary or advisable.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE.

Discourses by Elder Ben E. Rich And President Angus M. Cannon.

CHURCH BUILT ON REVELATION.

"Mormonism" Contrasted With Present Day Christianity—The Hand Of God Plainly Visible.

As usual, the Tabernacle services yesterday afternoon were largely attended and those present listened to two excellent discourses delivered by Elder Ben E. Rich, president of the Southern States mission, and President Angus M. Cannon, of the Salt Lake stake. President Cannon presided.

The choir sang the hymn:

"How beautiful are their feet, Who stand on Zion's hill."

Prayer was offered by Elder John T. Cairne.

The choir further sang:

"God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform."

ple of Zion as a substitute for the religion of their fathers. According to the belief of the world such a broad-minded, liberty loving man as Robert Rogers, who passed away with no faith in the religions of the present day, will also go to hell simply because he did not confess Christ in the orthodox manner. It is not according to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, said the speaker. It is such religion that drives right thinking men from religion.

CONSTANTINOPLE MENACED BY UPRISING.

From the latest dispatches it appears that insurgents are daily pressing nearer to the Turkish capital. They have already made their way into the viway of Constantinople and the sultan has notified the powers of the danger which threatens the foreign ministers unless they remain in their legations, where he says he is able to and will protect them. Americans, owing to their sympathy with the Christian movement, and consequently with the insurgents, are in particular danger from fanatical outbreaks.

By have to be on the west side of the street, for the reason that the Short Line's franchise provides that the east half of that street shall be closed.

The citizens on the west side of Fourth West street declare they will not stand for any such proposition for the reason, they allege further, that the additional tracks would practically close that street entirely. It was considered advisable by the committee on municipal laws and streets, at their meeting on Saturday night at which the Rio Grande franchise was considered, to meet again this afternoon at 2 o'clock and give the two railroad companies an opportunity to get together on the proposition of moving the Short Line tracks and putting the Rio Grande tracks near the middle of the street, so as to leave the west side open. It will be known at that meeting whether or not an agreement has been reached and the committee can then formulate a report on both franchises to be submitted to the council tonight.

VIADUCT OR NOT.

The proposition as to whether or not the Rio Grande shall be compelled to provide a foot viaduct across its tracks on Third South street for the benefit of the residents on that street west of the proposed depot, will have to be decided by the council tonight as the committee could not agree on that matter. The citizens are apparently determined to have such a viaduct and have employed counsel to at once enjoin the city council and the railroad from closing the street entirely to the general public and will, they say, fight the franchise to the end unless their wishes in that matter are respected. It was suggested that the city reserve the right to order the foot viaduct constructed whenever it is deemed necessary, but that will not satisfy the citizens at the present time.

WITHIN SIXTY DAYS.

The Rio Grande franchise must be accepted by the railroad company within 60 days and active work on the proposed improvement must be commenced within six months of its acceptance. The franchise also provides that the company shall build a depot which will cost not less than $200,000 and also that the company will not protest against the paving of Third South street whenever the city decides to pave that thoroughfare. It was agreed by the company that it would provide protection for the public at its street crossings.

COUNCIL HAS THE RIGHT.

City Atty. Nye has submitted an opinion, upon request of Councilman Cardie, in regard to the right of the council to grant a franchise to a private corporation closing certain public streets without submitting the matter to the citizens to vote on the proposition. The opinion, which follows in full, holds that the council has such right.

To the Honorable President and Members of the City Council:

Gentlemen—Replying to your recent resolution, in which you ask for an opinion as to whether or not it is necessary to submit to the qualified voters of Salt Lake City the question of vacating certain streets and making certain street grants to certain railroad companies, as requested by their petitioners now pending before you, permit me to say:

Subdivision 32 of section 206 of the Revised Statutes of Utah, 1898, as amended by chapter 138 of the Session Laws of 1903, gives to the city council power "to lay out, establish, alter, widen, extend, grade, pave in any manner limit the power granted by section 306 in the subdivisions referred to, but is clearly an additional grant of power, namely, the power to the municipality, acting through its council, to grant to any railroad company real property owned by such city "not necessary for municipal or public purposes," and is, in brief, an express legislative permission to convey for a merely nominal consideration, such real property owned by a city, not necessary for municipal or other purposes, as might be useful in giving a proposed railroad a depot site or terminal facilities; as, for example, a grant of what is now known as Pioneer park as it existed some years ago, before it was parked, beautified and dedicated as a public park, and when it was still owned by Salt Lake City, not in trust for public use, but merely in a proprietary capacity.

In conclusion, chapter 49, in my opinion, is not a restriction in any manner on the powers of the council existing before the chapter was passed but is in reality an enlargement of those powers. Very respectfully,

GEORGE L. NYE, City Attorney.

Cripple Creek Strikers Released.

Victor, Colo., Sept. 20.—A. A. Frye, assistant manager of the Miners' union store, who was arrested and thrown in the military prison last night by order of Gen. Chase, was released this morning. Mr. Frye says that he was informed that his activity in the cause of the strikers was the reason for his arrest.

TWO TIPS

And Both Winners.

A man gets a friendly tip now and then that's worth while. A Nashville man says: "For many years I was a perfect slave to coffee, drinking it every day and all the time I suffered with stomach trouble and such terrible nervousness that at times I was unable to attend to business and life seemed hardly worth living. I attributed my troubles to other causes than coffee and continued to drench my system with this drug. Finally I got so bad I could not sleep, my limbs were weak and trembling and I had a constant dead of some impending danger and the many medicines I tried, failed to help me at all."

"One day a friend told me what Postum had done for her husband and advised me to quit coffee and try it, but I would not do so. Finally another friend met me on the street one day and after talking about my health he said 'You try Postum' (Cereal Coffee) and leave coffee alone, adding that his nervous troubles had all disappeared when he gave up coffee and began to drink Postum. This made such a great impression on me that I resolved to try it, although I confess I had little hope. However I started in and to my unbounded surprise, in less than two weeks I was like another person. All of my old troubles are now gone and I am a strong, healthy, living example of the wonderful rebuilding power of Postum. It is a fine drink as well as a delicious beverage and I know it will correct all coffee ills. I know what a splendid effect it had on me to give up coffee and drink Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Southern States mission, was introduced to the congregation as the first speaker. He opened by referring to a preacher who was once called upon to address a congregation and began by stating that he was not specially prepared upon any subject, but would speak about anything that was desired. Having asked for suggestions a certain little boy arose in that congregation and upon being questioned what he wanted the preacher to talk about, promptly replied "About a minute."

This, the speaker said, was how he felt at the present time. Elder Rich then stated that he had read in a Cincinnati paper a few days ago a sermon delivered by an eminent divine instructing young men about to enter the ministry as to how they should proceed in preparing sermons. He said they should first write them, then read them over carefully, then rewrite them. The speaker contrasted this with the mode of preparation advocated by the Master. He was who instructed His disciples prior to leaving them that they should teach them all things and bring all things to their remembrance whatsoever He had said unto them. He likewise told them to tarry in Jerusalem until they were endowed with power from on high, making it clear unto His disciples that He intended that they should be inspired of the Lord in all their utterances—that they should be led and guided by the Holy Spirit.

Elder Rich then took up the subject of revelation and declared that upon this rock the Church of God had been built. This was the rock which made manifest to Peter when, answering the question put to him by the Savior, he said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." The Master's reply was, "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father who is in heaven; and I say also unto thee that thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." This, urged the speaker, was proof positive that the rock of revelation and the gates of heaven were the same thing. He should hold communion with His servants whenever His Church was righteously established upon the earth.

Elder Rich discoursed at some length upon the liberality of the Gospel, contrasting the views of the Latter-day Saints with those held by the creeds of the present day. One was broad and liberal, the other was narrow and contracted, and sought to consign to everlasting torment those who did not profess Christ in the orthodox way. The speaker appealed to the young men of Zion on this particular point and asked them what there was in present day Christianity that would in the least tend to draw them away from the religion of their fathers. Said he, "To those who are thus being influenced I want to say: Remember the teachings of your fathers, search out the faith which they espoused and then place it side by side with that espoused by those who oppose them and you will find that the former is so far ahead of the latter that there is positively no comparison." In this connection Elder Rich referred to the salvation extended by the world to the convicted murderer upon the gallows, who, by simply confessing Christ at the eleventh hour, would be warded into eternal glories, while the man who had been murdered in cold blood, perhaps, would go to an endless hell, simply because he had not complied with this orthodox requirement. This, said the speaker, is a part of the religion offered to the young people of Zion as a substitute for the religion of their fathers. According to the belief of the world such a broad-minded, liberty loving man as Robert Rogers, who passed away with no faith in the religions of the present day, will also go to hell simply because he did not confess Christ in the orthodox manner. It is not according to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, said the speaker. It is such religion that drives right thinking men from religion.

PRESIDENT CANNON.

President Angus M. Cannon next spoke. He said the Lord had taught the Latter-day Saints that they should be pure in their thoughts and honest in their dealings with their fellow man. This was necessary if they would be Saints of God in very deed. They were to be a light unto the world, an example for all men to follow after. The speaker referred to the early day hardships encountered by the Saints in and about what is now known as Florence, Neb. He drew a picture of their sufferings as a result of being driven from their homes by wicked men, and said that through it all the Lord had blessed them and had seen to it that none of them was permitted to go hungry for want of food, despite the cruelties heaped upon them. The Saints were loyal to their country and at the very time they were being driven from their homes in Missouri, President Brigham Young was busily engaged mustering in a company of 500 men to help the government in their trouble with the Mexicans.

President Cannon traced the travels of the Pioneers to the far west and showed how through it all the Lord had protected His people and inspired their leaders in all that they undertook to do. He spoke of the early settlement of the valley, of the subsequent gold excitement in California and of the coming of travelers from the east who brought with them food and railroads, a great portion of which they exchanged with the Saints for fresh horses and other things needed to complete the journey to the coast. He told of the crickets' plague and the coming of the gulls to devour them, and said that through it all the hand of God could be plainly seen. The speaker said he had received a testimony through prayer and felt to glorify the name of God for His blessing. The choir sang the anthem: "Unfold ye portals everlasting" and the benediction was pronounced by President Anthony H. Lund.
