

Our Country Contemporaries.

The new pest has appeared on the bench east of this city. Thousands upon thousands of the dull, black grubs are moving westward, feeding upon such vegetation as comes in their way. They are from one and a half to three inches long, about as thick as a large candle, their heads are yellow, and a small red spot is visible on the top of their end. Some of them are speckled, but most of them are of a dull black. We have not heard of their depredations upon fields and gardens yet, but we saw an immense quantity of them yesterday traveling towards town as fast as they could waddle.

A rumor has prevailed for some days that deputy sheriff Clark was afflicted with smallpox. We are happy to say that the report is unfounded. Dr. Murphy came up from Salt Lake on Saturday evening and examined Mr. Clark, and reported that there was no sign of the disease. A slight eruption through cold was all that ailed him. Everybody will be glad to hear this. Mr. Clark's sake and for the sake of the city. A rumor of this kind is damaging. It spreads very rapidly, and business is materially injured. Ogden is a healthy place, and will compare favorably with other cities of similar population.

Bishop L. J. Herrick arrived last evening by U. P. train. His friends have been looking for him for several days. He was met at the depot by Pres. Richards and many other gentlemen, by whom he was warmly welcomed. He looked exceedingly well and was in excellent spirits. Bishop Herrick left Ogden on a mission to England on the 22nd April, 1873. He traveled extensively in the British Isles, presided over the London Convention, and during a portion of the time was left in charge of the whole mission.

We welcome the Bishop back to home and friends, and hope that with the additional experience he has gained on his missionary travels, he will be more than ever successful in his duties among the people of Weber County.

The notorious Charley Williamson has been captured, and is expected to be brought in on this evening's train from Evanston. He was taken in the neighborhood of that place, after drawing his pistol on the officers who surrounded and closed on him. He is "wanted" here on suspicion of being engaged in the profession of horse stealing, and it is to be hoped that he will be hanged according to his numerous merits. His last attack on Mr. W. Clark has not been forgotten by the citizens of Ogden. But him through as the law directs.

It will be remembered that this pleasant person broke out of the City Jail some time ago. He has the rest of his time to work out on the road, and the jewelry necessary to adorn his person is waiting for him.

We have received reliable information that the pretended firm of whose advertisement has appeared in the Function, offering a treble sewing machine for ten dollars, is a huge and unmitigated swindle.

We are not responsible for the truth of the claims set forth in our advertising columns, but we do not intend to assist in any fraud on the public if we know it. We therefore, caution our readers against sending any orders to

New York, particularly money orders. The whole concern is pronounced by reliable persons a hulk, and we have good and sufficient reasons for believing their testimony. Publish the Ten Dollar machine swindle!

This morning a soldier, said to be from Camp Douglas, being full of liquor and liberty as defined by Holt, made a slight sensation at the railroad depot. He paraded the platform with a large bottle of liquor, which he held aloft in his hand, occasionally taking a taste and then intruding himself upon the passengers, offered to treat them, using foul and profane language when his importunities were declined. Officer Parry was present, but being a cautious as well as a diligent officer, did not attempt to arrest the ruffian, but paid what respect he could to the "law" as promulgated by the War Department.

After making a rustle among the passengers, respectable people who were disgusted with the rowdy and with Holt, the advocate, the soldier commenced insulting the colored men at the depot, and would have gone east with an awful looking head if the traffic had not started just as one was going for him, when the "gallant" whiskey boat made his way on to the cars.

And that is how "Holt law" works.

A CRUEL COMBAT. AT PROVO. Last night a fight was declared among the Mormon population of Provo, and for a time raged in dead earnest. Not less than ten or twelve shots were fired, though we could only find one wounded, and that was a wretched creature. The quality of the affray was on Lower Main Street, and the house of a Chinese doctor seemed to be the center of attack. Here shot flew thick and fast, but apparently only took effect in the woman before named. Officers McKee and Kneer, with Deputy Sheriff Hoag were quickly on the ground, but at this time the Chinese men had quit shooting and taken to talking; and of all the unearthly gabble that was ever heard, commend us to the story of the Chinese of the Flower Land. If they are not equal to any emergency in the way of noise, then we do not know what noise is. After a little quiet had been restored, the officers made some inquiry, but of the heathen Chinese, those that could understand McKee's man were not saying anything. So after warning the whole tribe to keep the peace, the officers left them, but kept a watch on the belligerents for some time. The woman who was shot appeared to take the matter very unconcernedly. She was shot through both legs. The wound appeared to have broken the bones or severed any important vein or artery. We understand that like most Caucasian boys, this Chinese girl, who was apparently in accordance with the notions of the natives of the Flower Land.—Record, June 9.
