DISSENTING OPINION.

Judge Bartch Does Not Agree With the Other Judges

IN THE CASE OF BRIM VS JONES.

Opinion in the Hume-Beardsley Case—The Lower Court's Judgment is Affirmed—Two More.

Judge Bartch today delivered a dissenting opinion in the Supreme court in the case of Albert H. Brim, road supervisor, respondent, against Thomas W. Jones, appellant. On June 2nd the majority of the Supreme court dismissed the appeal, but Judge Bartch does not agree with them, neither does he agree with their application of rules of law to such circumstances as are shown by the record.

The action was originally brought in the Third district court before the chief justice of the then Territory of Utah, under section 2387, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1887, which provides that: "Any person who drives a herd of horses, mules, asses, cattle, sheep, goats or swine over a public highway, where such highway is constructed on a hillside, shall be liable for all damage done by such animals in destroying the banks or rolling rocks into or upon such highway." The complaint charges that upon a certain day the defendant drove a band of sheep over such a highway and that the sheep thereon damaged the highway to the extent of $10 by destroying the banks thereof and by rolling rocks into the road. There was no allegation of negligence as to the driving of the sheep or use of the highway. The defendant demurred to the complaint on the ground that it did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. The court sustained the demurrer, entered judgment in favor of the defendant and dismissed the case, whereupon the plaintiff appealed to the Territorial Supreme court. Afterwards the cause was again brought up in the district court where, a trial by jury having been expressly waived by the respective parties, the cause was tried before the court sitting without a jury. Judgment was then entered against the defendant for a certain sum and costs and the present appeal was from that judgment.

The majority of the Supreme court holds that the decision of the Territorial Supreme court has become the law of the case, and is conclusive whether right or wrong, recognizing no exception to the rule of former adjudication. Judge Bartch says: * * * "Here the judgment appealed from was entered as the result of a new trial which was ordered by the appellate court and not as the result of specific directions from such court." He therefore dissents from the opinion of the majority in dismissing the appeal.

HUME VS BEARDSLEY.

The Judgment of the Lower Court is Affirmed.

In the case of Richard Hume against Willis T. Beardsley and others, an opinion was handed down by Chief Justice Zane, Justices Bartch and Miner concurring.

This was a quo warranto proceeding in the name of the State of Utah, by the attorney of Weber, to test the title of defendant Beardsley to the office of auditor of public accounts of Ogden city.

Mr. Beardsley was appointed to the office and duly qualified on the 11th day of February, 1894, and entered upon the discharge of its duties on the same day, and he is still in office. The plaintiff Hume insists that the title of defendant Beardsley terminated on the 11th day of February, 1896, while Beardsley claims title until the appointment and qualification of his successor.

In the district court the judgment was in favor of Hume.

Section 1762 of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1888, declares that elective officers shall hold for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified, while section 1761 of the same volume provides that appointive officers shall hold for two years unless sooner removed.

The opinion says: "We are of the opinion that the term of defendant Beardsley as an officer de jure terminated at the end of two years from his appointment, and since that time he has been simply an officer de facto. * * * The judgment of the court below is affirmed."

AN APPEAL DISMISSED.

First National Bank of Hailey vs H. D. Lewis et al.

An opinion was handed down in the case of the First National Bank of Hailey, Idaho, respondent, against Hyrum D. Lewis et al, appellants. Judge Bartch rendered the opinion, which was concurred in by Chief Justice Zane, Judge Miner not having sat in the case.

The action was originally brought to recover on a judgment rendered in Idaho. The case was tried and judgment in the sum of [illegible] entered against the defendant as executor of the will of J. D. Lewis, deceased. This judgment was afterwards set aside and a new trial granted. Thereupon the plaintiff appealed to the Supreme court, where it was held that the lower court erred in granting a new trial, and the case was remanded with directions to the trial court to make certain amendment to the judgment so as to conform to [illegible] as executor [illegible]. A petition for a rehearing was filed, considered and overruled, and then the trial court proceeded and entered judgment in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme court. From the judgment so modified and entered the defendants [illegible] the appeal, which was considered upon a motion to dismiss, on the ground that it was an appeal from a judgment entered in accordance with the mandate of the appellate court, being a court of last resort.

The opinion says: "It is clear that this is an appeal from a judgment entered [illegible] in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme court, and comes within the doctrine announced in the case of Kraus vs the Rio Grande Western Railway company, 44 Pacific Reporter 913, which we reaffirm, and on authority of that case the motion to dismiss is sustained."

Kilpatrick Bank vs E. A. Box.

In the case of the Kilpatrick Bank Dry Goods company, respondent, against E. A. Box, appellant, the judgment of the lower court is reversed and the case is remanded with directions to that court to require defendants' demurrer to the complaint and to give the parties leave to make proper amendments to their pleadings. The opinion is delivered by Chief Justice Zane, Justices Bartch and Miner concurring.

The case was originally tried in Box Elder county and in the first trial the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $[illegible] for a bill of goods alleged to have been sold to E. A. Box.

Mining Decree.

By consent of the parties a decree was entered in Judge Ritchie's court in the suit of Edward McLaughlin, executor of the estate of Cornelius McLaughlin, deceased, vs Henry Hirschborn et al. The decree adjudges that the plaintiffs are the owners and entitled to the possession of the Hattie Green No. 2 mining claim, in the Uintah mining district, and that the defendants are the owners of the Black Diamond mining claim, adjoining the Hattie Green claim. The court found that there is a vein or lode of rock in place bearing silver, lead and other minerals, the top of the apex of which is within the surface lines extended downward through the Hattie Green claim No. 2, and that a plane drawn downward vertically through the easterly side line of the Hattie Green claim upon the line connecting posts Nos. 1 and 2 of said claim and extended in its direction, is the true line of division of the vein between the Black Diamond and Hattie Green claims and that the plaintiffs own as much of the vein as lies westerly of the plane so drawn, and the said defendants own that portion of the vein lying easterly of such plane. It was also found that neither party was entitled to damages and that each pay their own costs.

THE GREEN BAG.

Heber J. Grant & Co. paid $[illegible] to the secretary of state for taxes on the insurance business of the firm.

The Oakley Co-op has entered suit against J. E. Day and others for $[illegible] on a promissory note.

A hearing on a sale of mining property in the estate of Frank H. Dyer, deceased, will be had next Monday before Judge Ritchie.

The case of the Salt Lake Lithographing company vs. the Ivan Mine and Smelting company was continued, the witnesses being all in.

A day was granted till Saturday to serve notice of appeal to the Third district court in the case of Kellogg vs Taylor.

A judgment for foreclosure by default was rendered in the case of Chas. Bruin vs Chas. M. Donelson et al, before Judge Ritchie today.

Two marriage licenses were issued today, one to Wm. D. Neal, 22, and Myra M. White, 22, both of Salt Lake City, and the other to Clark L. Whitney, 22, and Nellie Fentese, 21, of the same place.

Judge Street today overruled a motion for nonsuit in the damage suit of Guy C. Royce against the city. The taking of evidence was concluded today and arguments of counsel were being heard this afternoon.

The case of M. T. Gisborn against the Marion Gold Mining company was on trial before Judge Ritchie today. Bennett, Harkness & Bradley, Brown, King & Henderson and Smith, Lee & Gray are attorneys for the plaintiff and Dickson, Ellis & Ellis and M. M. Kaighn represent the defendant.

NEW INCORPORATION

The Utah Mining Guaranty Company is Launched Out.

SALT LAKE AND OGDEN PEOPLE

Are at the Back of It—Instructions Issued by the State Board of Land Commissioners.

The Utah Mining Guaranty company filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk today. The incorporators are: James P. Freeze, Marcellus Woolley, P. W. Madsen, Orson A. Woolley, A. H. Woolley and George E. Woolley, of Salt Lake City; C. A. Smurthwaite, E. F. Woolley, H. H. Goddard and John Fife, of Ogden; and H. S. Woolley of Paris, Idaho.

The life of the company is placed at fifty years and the principal place of business is Salt Lake City. The objects of the company is to conduct the business of general mining and milling and all necessary adjuncts. The capital stock is placed at $100,000 divided into as many shares at $1 each.

INSTRUCTIONS TO TREASURERS.

Land Board Issues a Circular with Abstracts.

The State board of land commissioners today issued the following letter of instructions to county treasurers, which is transmitted with plats and abstracts:

State Board Land Commissioners, Salt Lake City, Utah, June, 1896.

Dear Sir:—We send you herewith abstract of University lands already sold and instructions pertaining to the same. You are required to receive the annual payments and interest on these lands, and receipt for the same in manner provided by law, and at the end of each month remit to the State treasurer all such moneys.

If the annual payment is not made when due, add interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum on such delinquent annual payment.

If there arises any doubt as to the amount due, forward the purchaser's certificate to this office with statement and correct figures will be forwarded to you at once. Keep your account of money received on the abstract sent you, entering in proper column annual payment under "principal" paid, interest under "interest paid," "date of payment," and sign your name on same line under proper columns. Please acknowledge receipt.

On University lands sold, one-tenth of the purchase price and interest for one year at eight per cent on principal was paid at the date of sale. The balance of principal is payable in equal annual payments, (the purchaser holds a certificate which will show the number of years the same had to run) at the expiration of each year from date of purchase, the annual payment of principal, also interest in advance for one year at 8 per cent per annum on all deferred payments, must be made to the county treasurer of the county where the land is situated. Non-payment of any principal or interest when due and for six months thereafter, forfeits all payments previously made and the lands will be resold. Full payments cannot be made to apply on payments past due. At each annual payment the purchaser or his assigns is required to present his certificate of purchase and have the payment endorsed thereon by the county treasurer who will issue a duplicate and forward same to the county clerk. Upon full payment the county treasurer will send the original certificate to the State board and a patent will be issued to the person entitled thereto.

AN EXAMPLE.

Interest is computed as follows on University lands already sold:

[illegible]

The board has completed all the work of copying the plats from the United States land office so far as they refer to State school lands. The completed plats will be transmitted to all county treasurers within the next three days. Weber, Davis, Salt Lake, Utah and Box Elder have already been supplied.

Henry Sweat, Esq., of Portland, Maine, brother-in-law of Land Commissioner Watson, is in the city. He arrived this morning from Denver, where he had been on business. He came from Denver on purpose to see Mr. Watson and visited the land board's office today. Mr. Sweat is an attorney and a [illegible] [illegible] gold bug, who is a big man, but he leaves for the east tomorrow morning and will probably not learn silver before he returns home. He says that the silver men of Denver almost ate him up with argument and he thought he would never get away from that country.

AMUSEMENTS.

[illegible]—All arrangements for the [illegible] benefit to be tendered Geo. D. Pyper at the Assembly Hall, Friday evening, June 26th, have now been perfected. A number of young ladies are disposing of tickets to the concert in relays, and everything points to a large attendance and a [illegible] reception to this very popular [illegible] his departure to the East.

[illegible]

THE CARNIVAL BENEFIT—The arrangements recently made for the Carnival benefit to be given at the Theatre Tuesday evening, June 30th, had to be changed somewhat yesterday, as Mr. Conner Bliss, who was to play the part of Rurie in the third act of Friends, was called East. Mr. Milton Layman, who played in the Cotton King and the New South with Jos. R. Grismer last season, and who was played with Richard Mansfield, Louis James and Clara Morris, will assume this part. Mr. Charles Kirusche, formerly with the Amusing at San Francisco, will play Fisher, in place of Mr. Post. Present indications are that a big turnout will be had.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Mrs. Lundgren Slashes Her Brutal Husband With a Butcher Knife.

The exercise of woman's rights was greatly in evidence in the police court today when Fred Lundgren marked into the courtroom with the blood oozing [illegible] from a wound in his head, accompanied by his wife, Betsy, whose [illegible] expression denoted a great degree of firm determination. Inquiry as to the facts in the case brought out the information that Fred and wife had been fighting and that in the melee Mrs. Lundgren had defended herself with a butcher knife.

The pair live at [illegible] south Second East street, and as near as could be learned it appears that Mr. Lundgren has of late been drinking quite heavily, and after sobering up he would repair to his house and abuse his wife unmercifully. Today he tried his old tactics with the result as above stated. Both pleaded not guilty to the charge and were having a hearing at press time.

Ed. Lawrence and Lee Wood, two youthful toughs who were arrested yesterday were tried on the charge of burglarizing the store of S. W. Tarbet on Eleventh South and Fourth East streets. When arrested they had in their possession several articles stolen from Mr. Tarbet's store and as evidence was quite strong against them, they were held to await the grand jury's action in bonds of $300 each. Both men claim to be from California and bear every indication of knowing a thing or two in the way of housebreaking especially.

HAS THE BANK KEYS

Turned Over to Mayor Hall of Mercur at Noon Today.

MANY ATTACHMENTS FILED.

Miners and Wage Earners Who Lost Their All in a Desperate Mood—Officers Warned to Keep Away.

Special to the News.

MERCUR, June 24.—Public feeling is still running very high here over the collapse of the Mercur bank, which went down yesterday with the Salt Lake institution. Indignation is stronger than it was yesterday and it is growing worse as the facts are made known. The failure is regarded as an altogether unusual one—one that there was no excuse for whatever. The opinion obtains here that it was long been premeditated and the citizens made the victims of the worst kind of injustice. They are, accordingly, smarting in the utmost under the wrong inflicted. Last night and this morning the feeling was intense and the excitement at the highest possible tension and at the urgent demands of injured depositors the keys of the bank were turned over to Mayor Hall in whom every citizen has the utmost confidence. He will remain in charge of the institution for the present. What the end will be no one here has any definite idea but it is felt that little will be saved from the ruins.

Many citizens, miners and other wage-earners have lost their savings of more than a year. These losses run from $100 to $1,200. The result is simply awful. Scores of men and women who had a comfortable competence put aside for an emergency are now paupers without a dollar with which to buy food or a railroad ticket to get out of town. When they realize that their hard earned dollars have been regularly taken from the bank here to help the ever affairs connected with the Salt Lake bank they find it difficult to restrain themselves. It is not known how much money is in the vaults here. It is certain though that the amount is comparatively small. The people of Mercur are generally inclined that at this time the altitude is altogether too high for the officers of the bank. The safest thing for them to do is to stay away from here, otherwise the result might be serious. E. J. Carter, who denies having had anything to do with the defunct bank, but whose name has been published as vice president, also comes in for strong censure.

Yesterday Cashier Fell occupied a rather unenviable position in the minds of many persons, but it is known today, as it has always been believed, that he is a thoroughly honest man and entirely innocent of any connection with the bank's failure beyond simply being an employe of the institution. He is therefore completely exonerated.

A large number of attachments were made here today by depositors having less than $300 in the bank. Many of those who have more than that amount instituted attachment proceedings in the Third district court at Tooele, the county seat.

NEWS OF THE MINES.

The attendance of the brokers on 'change today was very slim, not over a dozen being present. The business transactions were also slim for all the stocks but one, that one receiving the entire recognition as far as trading was concerned. The stock referred to is Dalton and Lark of which 3,400 shares changed hands at 90 cents per share.

Mercur took a decided tumble during the call and while almost any amount of it could have been bought at $9.50, the best bid posted was one of $6.25. The non-appearance of the much-looked-for dividend is undoubtedly the cause of the sudden slump. Mammoth was as strong as ever, its asking and bidding quotations being $3.92½ and $3.75 respectively. Ninety dollars was asked for Centennial-Eureka stock but not a bid was heard.

The usual attention to fixing quotations was given to the unlisted properties but neither of them had the good fortune of recording a transfer.

The closing figures were as follows:

ITEMS FROM MAMMOTH.

No Mercur Strike at the Emerald—Good Ore in the Swansea.

Special Correspondence of the News.

MAMMOTH, Utah, June 23, 1896.—The rich reported strike at the Emerald property which was whispered round the city several days ago, upon investigation proves to be false, and there is no truth whatever in the matter. A member of the company's staff was interviewed today and he says there has not yet been any ore uncovered at the property.

It is reported here that the Swansea Mining company are again in high spirits. From information just received from one of the Swansea staff, he reports that a rich body of silver ore was uncovered last Friday evening, the vein being no less than four feet in thickness. This new discovery alone ought to cause the Swansea stock to make another jump before the month is out.

The government surveyors are busy surveying the Mammoth and Tintic districts.

The Ajax company commenced to run their hoist this morning, and again began the work of hoisting good pay ore. No hoisting work at the mine has been done since the 4th inst., owing to a [illegible] pipe being laid from the engine room down to the mine. Now this work has been accomplished everything will run along smoothly at the Ajax property.

There was considerable excitement here this afternoon when the news arrived that the Bank of Salt Lake had closed its doors, there being quite a number of depositors here at Mammoth, but when the evening paper arrived at 5 o'clock and put a more brighter light upon the state of affairs, the depositors felt a little more at ease, and one was heard to remark that he thinks everything will turn out all right. We hope it will.

Mr. Costello of Salt Lake is registered at the Mammoth hotel and is out rustling for a city cigar firm. He is well pleased with the business-like appearance of Mammoth, and feels confident of booking some good orders.

PROVO, UTAH, - JUNE 24, 1896.

Board of Education.

The board of education held its regular meeting last evening. Superintendent Rawlings presented his annual report showing the work of the teachers and the progress made by the schools during the year, which is of a very satisfactory nature. Twenty departments have been conducted during four terms of ten weeks each, requiring the services of twenty teachers. The departments were: twelve primary, six grammar, one high school and one mixed. Fourteen hundred pupils have been enrolled. The following enumerators were appointed at a compensation of three cents per capita of the school population: Miss Ada Jones, Third ward; Mr. Oscar Williams Jr., Second and Fourth wards; Mr. James Hardy, First and Fifth wards.

The Early Harvest.

Articles of incorporation of the Early Harvest Consolidated Mining and Milling company have been filed with County Clerk Jones. The object of the corporation is to conduct a mining and milling business, and Lehi city is named as the principal place of business. The capitalization of the corporation is placed at $500,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. The officers and directors are Thos. R. Cutler, president; Wm. E. Racker, vice-president; John Beattie Jr., treasurer; John J. Thomas, Joseph A. Thomas, Charles Chileen and Howard Bradshaw, directors; and Prime Evans, secretary. The stockholders are all Lehi people, except H. T. Spencer who is from Salt Lake City.

Two Burglaries.

Two burglaries were committed early yesterday morning. The Knutsen saloon was entered through a rear door and the cash register and two bottles of liquor taken. The cash register was carried across the block and broken open and the contents ($1) taken out. Mr. Seary's grocery store was entered through a front window and the cash drawer taken outside and emptied of one or two dollars in silver and between five and eight dollars in scrip. Tramps are blamed for the work.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - JUNE 24, 1896.

Saved by the Police.

Hugh Dunbar, a discharged soldier, who had in his possession $2,000, fell into the hands of two men, C. C. Church and C. W. Davis, who had conspired to rob him. They were promptly arrested.

Senator Cannon's Reception.

The arrangements are completed for Senator Cannon's reception this evening. The Choral Union will sing selections at the depot and after the reception there the procession will form and march to Lester Park. A salute of sixteen guns will be fired at the city hall. At the pavilion an address of welcome will be made and Senator Cannon will reply. Patriotic singing will be rendered by the Tabernacle choir.

Hurt by a Drill.

A young man named A. McKinney was hurt in the canyon yesterday. A drill rolled off the bank above him and struck his head, cracking his skull. It is believed by Dr. Joyce that he will recover.

Notes.

Manager McKeown got the contract for the electrical machinery for the Pioneer Power company. He represents the New York General Electric company.

Lottie Martin, the little girl who was struck by the Cache valley train locomotive, is getting along comfortably and probably will recover.
