REPOSES IN SALINA CEMETERY | PROPOSED

Came to Rockies in 1835; Companion Of Kit Carson and Jim Bridger-Killed in Black Hawk War.

Special Correspondence,

Salina, Sevier, Co., May 30,-An incident of more than passing interest look place at the Salina cemetery today, when, by direction of the First Presidency, a memorial in granite and marble was erected to the memory of Elijah Barney Ward who was killed by Black Hawk Indians near the mouth of Soldiers fork in Salina canyon, Sevier county, April 10, 1865. Brother Ward was an intimate friend of President Brigram Young, having at one time served as a member of his bodyguard and accompanied him on trips through the territory.
While in Salina, shortly before his death, Prest, Young made inquity as to the burial place of Barney Ward, but J. R. Bruff acted as secretary. Mr. McDonald favored the co until about a year ago the grave could not be found. When it was finally located Bishop Jensen of Salina mentioned the matter to Prest. Seegmiller tion, and believed the Legislature would make a suitable appropriation. The State Fair association, he said, was in a measure independent, but it who informed the First Presidency, and they at once directed that a suit-able memorial be procured at the exwas willing to make every possible sac-rifice for the consolidation of the exhibits and for conducting the large exable memorial be procured at the ex-pense of the Church and erected to the memory of Brother Ward. This was accomplished today and to those as-sembled about the tomb Pres, Seegmil-ler read a sketch of the life of Brother. Ward furnished by Joseph Millett and hibit so that it would be a success. Mr. McDonald understood that 200,000 people register annually at the "Mormon" Church information bureau, and these would be favorably impressed with a large exhibit of natural resources. These tourists, he said, for the most part went through the Tabernacle, took Joshua Sylvester who were both per-sonally acquainted with the deceased. part went through the Tabernacie, took a trip to Saltair and then continued their journeys without obtaining the slightest conception of the products and resources of the state. A show such as it was proposed to establish, if conveniently located, would be of great immediate advantage to the state From it we copy the following interesting incidents in the life of this remark-Ing incidents in the life of this remarkable man. He was born in Virginia about the year 1820. At the early age of 15 years he left home and came west where he fell in with trappers and mountaineers. He crossed the plants and reached the Rocky mountains in the year 1835. Here he helped to build Fort Hall near Snake River, Idaho and worked some at Astoria near the mouth of the Columbia river. Was a companion of Kit Carson, Jim Bridger, Baker, Smith and other prominent mountainand would be a precursor of the con-templated intermountain fair. McDonald said that it was a mistake for the business interests of Utah to allow the Tabernacle and information bureau to be the greatest attractions within its borders. He then stood, of speing a white man. The hesitated but went at once into the village where he was kindly received.

He learned from them that a train of emigrants on their way to Oregon, were camped near by. The next morning a Flathead came in and reported that the Blackfeet had attacked the emigrants. Ward quickly mustered a company of Flatheads and hurried to their rescue. The emigrants were camped in a canyon and the Black-feet were attacking them from the higher ground. Ward and his company managed to get in the rear of the hossletely trapped. After a brief but herce battle the Blackfeet surrendered.

herce battle the Hisckfeet surrendered, having lost 20 killed and a number wounded. Ward's loss was three killed and several wounded. Ward here re-covered his horse and with his party accompanied the emigrants until they were out of danger. We next find him journeying to Santa Anna and San

Pedro with Kit Carson and others for the purpose of buying horses and sup-plice. The party returned to Fort Bridger by way of the old California route. Here he remained for some time among the Snake Indians. Dur-ing this period a very dear friend of his, a Mr. Exervid, died. Just before his death he called Mr. Ward to his bedside and confided to his care his young wife, a handsome Indian girl, and also his little daughter, Adelaide Ward accepted the trust and was truto his charge, in time marrying the woman by whom he had two daughters, Polly and Louisa. He lived with came to the valleys when he moved to Salt Lake City, bringing his family with him. Later he moved to Prove where he acted as Indian interpreter

At this time his wife paid a visit to her people and while absent died, leav-ing her husband with the three little girls. He was to them a dear and af-grew up and married white men. Ward was one of the company which brought the fi - news of the approach of Johnston's army. I's helped defeat the Indians in the Provo war for which act they ever after held a grudge against him. When the Black Hawk war broke out Ward was living at Salina and was still acting as inter-preter. He had no fear of the Indians and went unarmed up the canyon is company with a young man by the name of Petersen to search for sor morning. They found the bodies of both men terribly mutilated and scalped, they having met death at the hands of the hostile Black Hawk Indians. The remains were brought to Salina and orecared for burial, theirs being the first bodies to be deposited
