ALFRED ADAMS was arrested on Saturday evening by Deputy Marshal Goodwill on a complaint sworn to by James Hunter, charging him with selling him a stolen horse, knowingly and willfully. The accused was taken before Commissioner Greenman, who ordered him into the bridewing a bond in the sum of $500.

Returned Missionary.

Elder L. D. Smith, of San Luis, Colorado, gave us a pleasant call Saturday evening, having returned from his mission to Indian Territory last Thursday, October 1st. Brother Smith left his home on the 29th of October, 1889, and has done then been laboring with marked success in various phases of that territory. He reports that he has been treated well by almost everybody. He says a literary feeling towards our missionaries is manifested by many of the Indians and even among the white population the prejudices are commencing to disappear. Brother Smith thinks the prospects for the work on that field are very encouraging. His health has been good all the time and he feels thankful for the experience he has had.

THE TERRITORIAL FAIR

Opens at the Exposition Building at Noon Today.

THE FIVE DAYS' PROGRAMME.

A Partial List of the Many and Valuable Exhibits—The Band Contests.

The bustle at the Fair grounds this morning began at an early hour. At 8 o'clock the building and yards were alive with activities and the entrance was thronged with arrivals from the country and outlying districts. Among the principal exhibits at that hour were those of the Coop, Wagon & Machine Company, occupying nearly all of the corner north of the Exhibition building. East of it the Studebaker Company have stretched a large canvas under which they were then selling a splendid assortment of their lines of goods. The Consolidated Implement Company occupies a large space east of the building, and George A. Lowe has a large collection of his farm implements immediately south of the Implement Company.

Inside the exhibition hall exhibitors of every department were engaged in arranging their goods. One of the conspicuous cards on the leaves first to that of C. H. Bloomsberg, the Pioneer Seed. His central position has given him an excellent opportunity to show his splendid collection of vegetable plants, which are the principal feature of his exhibit. On one side of him is the beautiful flower stand of Mr. Cromer of Salt Lake city, and on the other side Mr. Christopherson was arranging a magnificent display from the 8th Lake nursery.

North of this group is already to place several rounds of garden "truck," showing what Utah soil will produce in the line of cabbage, squash, onions, etc.

One of the main exhibitors in this line is Father Charles Twelves of Provo, who has been long familiar at Utah's territorial and county fairs for the past thirty years at least. Father Twelves has brought with him the squash, that will bring to a lucky guesser a prize of $10 cash. Other exhibitors on the lower floor were those of James McDonald, catcher, the Utah Carpet Factory, crochet; Henry Tanner, honey; William Goodie of Pleasant City, fruits and vegetables; also a magnificent exhibit of minerals by A. J. Cushing of Sandy.

Upstairs the men from Stromberg's were still at work on one of the most beautiful exhibits in the Fair, which will be described hereafter. The exhibit of Simon Bros., agent of the Deseret Woolen Mills was in place, also an attractive silk display by John Lyle, the silk weaver of this city.

Most of the art exhibits were still in preparation, but enough was sufficiently to foreshadow a splendid display of new works.

In the regions of the stock yards the arrivals were mostly from Cache and Utah counties.

ENTRIES.

Following is a list of the number of entries thus far in the various departments:

Class A—Horses, 152.
Class B—Cattle, 85.
Class C—Sheep and swine, 38.
Class D—Poultry, fish and bees, 35.
Class E—Agricultural products, 115.
Class F—Horticultural and floriculture, 108.
Class G—Agricultural machinery, implements, etc., 5.
Class H—Manufactures, 42.
Class I—Mechanics, 8.
Class J—Fine arts, 101.
Class K—Women's work, 112.
Class L—Educational, 17.
Class M—Miscellaneous, 25.

In addition to these the regular entries, many of the merchants and others of the city have taken advantage of the occasion to advertise themselves and are making elegant displays. Among them are Henry Dinwoodey, Spencer Clawson, the Salt Lake Lithographic company, John C. Cutler & Brother, Simon Brothers & Dove, Hawes, Harris & Samuelsons, the Salt Lake Steam Laundry, King Mercantile company, of Ogden; Utah Canning Fruit company, Keenan & McCreary Pickle company, Salt Lake Steam company, Salt Lake Music company, Warren Mercantile company, James H. McDonald Candy company, Morgan Manufacturing company, Eagle Cracker company, Neider & Cleland, Pratt & Company, and others.

PROGRAMME.

The programme of the daily occurrences of the fair are as follows:

FIRST DAY, MONDAY, OCTOBER 5.

Grand tournament of bands to form at the head of Main street at 10:30 a. m., and march down Main playing "Lightly Come and Lightly Go" to the "Night," arriving at the Exposition building at 12 m., when the fair will be formally opened by the following ceremonies:

Music.
Prayer.
Address by the governor.
Declaration of the opening of the nineteenth exhibition of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society by President H. W. Lawrence.
Music.

GRAND BAND CONTEST.

Beginning at 1 p. m. the various contests by the bands of the Territory will take place, employing the time during the remainder of the afternoon and evening.

GRAND BAY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6.

Grand double wedding, at 1 p. m. on the grand stand in the main hall, ten marriage ceremonies will be solemnized, and two pairs of hearts united in the holy bonds of wedlock.

The band will play Lohengrin's wedding marches, and the double bridal party, with bridesmaids and officiates, will march to the dining-hall and partake of the wedding dinner.

At 7 p. m. educational contests, and special concert by the band.

THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7.

"Picnic Day,"—"Building Jubilee" session at 2 p. m. by the world famed aeronaut and artiste of the air, Professor Staley, with parachute drop, as follows:

After poising his balloon in mid-air some distance from the earth, the daring professor will ascend to a lone tree hard by, then making fast to his trapeze will give the word for the balloon, almost unmanageable monster of the air, to cut loose, and whirling through the air at a perilous height will cut away from the balloon, and descending with the parachute, make a thrilling leaping jump from the trapeze, performing the feats a trapeze act by swinging by his teeth.

At 7 p. m. educational contest, including a spelling match and other interesting features, and programme concert by the band.

FOURTH DAY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8.

"Children Day"—Depositions at 1 p. m. of thrilling nature, to be followed by a spelling tournament. Programme concert in the evening.

At 11 o'clock the procession formed at the head of Main street, the Ogden street depot to the fair, and consisted of the following: Marshal and aids, all on foot; from Ogden, two from Salt Lake, and one from Taylorville. The Exposition was formed a little before 12 o'clock. Hotel's band marched on the stand, and proceeded to discourse some choice music. On the stand were Gov. Caleb W. West, Prof. Talmage, Governor Thomas, Hyrum M. Wells, Fred Jennings, Moses Thatcher, Empey and several others.

At the appointed hour Henry W. Lawrence called the assemblage to order. Hotel's band then played a lively air. Prayer by Joseph Salvage was called on to offer prayer.

Governor Thomas rose and followed and said that according to custom, and in accordance with the act of Legislature of the Deseret Agricultural Society, he would make some remarks. He dwelt on the educational value of fairs, and said that people came to fairs to see something they have never seen before. By means of these exhibits both strangers and residents of Utah can see the resources of this Territory. By examining these exhibits semi-tropical fruits are seen. It will be seen also that Utah is a highly favored Territory and that her resources are both varied and abundant. There is everything to be seen here to make the people of Utah proud of their Territory.

He dwelt briefly on the benefits of the agriculture and mining industries and said that both were as old as creation, and both were today flourishing in Utah. H. W. Lawrence then declared the Fair open.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

The women's department embraces a fine variety of quilts in silk and cotton, starched and tatted work, embroidery, lace work, wax and paper flowers, numerous fancy crosses in paint and needle work, etc.

In the art department there is a magnificent display of paintings in the various lines of art. It is not at this writing fully completed. It will comprise about 100 oil paintings, 10 water colors and between 200 and 300 watercolors. There are also some splendid exhibits of photographs by Stone, Savage, Calloway and others. Mr. Savage contributes a series of views entitled Scenic Utah. They are a prominent feature of the art department.

There is a beautiful oil painting of Tintic, the Aztec rain god, by G. M. Ottinger. The prize mark is just, and yet the hideous very choice attribute in the way of fire crackers.

When the art department is fully arranged and catalogued it will be one of the most instructive departments of the Exposition.

The exhibits from the Deseret Woolen Mills are varied and of choice quality. They comprise blankets, flannels, hosiery, shirts, yarns, not jackets, etc. There is also on view a beautiful silk vest from which the buttons are made of Simon Bros. agents.

A noticeable feature of the exhibit is the silk vest mentioned. There are on view badges, handkerchiefs, muffler and silk dress material, all of home manufacture.

GARDEN STUFF.

One of the leading vegetable exhibits is made by Mr. Thomas Powell of the Fort ward, this city. Mr. Powell's display serves pretty nearly the entire purpose of a vegetable garden. He shows cabbages weighing nearly twenty pounds, pepper four pounds, carrots eight pounds, squashes one hundred and twenty pounds, beets six pounds, etc.

Charles Twelves of Provo, has made an excellent showing. Hubbards will turn the scale at 100 lbs. and a half pounds, and his potatoes are a particularly excellent product.

FRUIT.

The fruit exhibit from Brigham is one of the special sights on the lower floor. A fine lot of peaches were never before displayed in Utah, and it is doubtful if this country can produce a better article.

The fruit from Mill Creek is also a beautiful display. Mr. James King, who is the principal exhibitor from that district, has twenty-two varieties of peaches on the forms.

The Brigham cultivators have also an exhibit of grapes that do them particular credit. William Walker of Pleasant Grove has on the forms some samples of his grapes which will compare favorably with the California product.

THE FLOWERS.

The floral display of this year is the finest that has yet been made in the Territory. The leading exhibitors are those of John Reading, Salt Lake; C. H. Bloomsberg, Percy C. Cramer, Salt Lake; Mr. Christopherson, South Salt Lake, and James King, Jr., at East Mill Creek.

BAND CONTEST.

The great feature of today's programme was the band contest. The first prize was $75 and a gold medal which was awarded by the judges to the band of John Reading, Salt Lake; C. H. Bloomsberg, Percy C. Cramer, Salt Lake; Mr. Christopherson, South Salt Lake, and James King, Jr., at East Mill Creek.

BAND CONTEST.

The great feature of today's programme was the band contest. The first prize was $75 and a gold medal which was awarded by the judges to the band of John Reading, Salt Lake; C. H. Bloomsberg, Percy C. Cramer, Salt Lake; Mr. Christopherson, South Salt Lake, and James King, Jr., at East Mill Creek.

The Ogden band then took the balcony. It was evident from their first appearance that they had friends in the house. The moment Leader Emmett emerged from the crowd a round of applause came from all sides and below which had the genuine ring of Ogden enthusiasm. They played selections from "Il Trovatore." The play closed amid showers of applause which was repeated again and again as the band slowly moved out of the balcony.

The judges are Thomas Cutless, of Salt Lake; Dr. Fisher, of Ogden, and J. R. Twelves, of Provo.

The second prize, a $50 silver medal, went to Heber band, which played without a competitor.

The third prize was proper for by the Provo Brass band of Taylorville.

The judges were requested by the first contest from we want to crave.

The disappearance of Prof. Stone from the committee of judges is due to an order from the Ogden committee to Salt Lake's leaving two representatives among the judges.

SUPPER.

Immediately after the public meeting which is announced for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon the last indoor exercises will give give an exhibition with the Pioneer Aerine Exposition Track at the Fair grounds.

SHOOKING ACCIDENT.

Shot in the Arm, and Amputation Necessary.

This morning as Arnold Pollinger, aged 18 years, son of John Pollinger of Big Cottonwood, was placing a shotgun under a bridge, the gun was discharged accidentally, the whole charge passing through his left elbow, shattering it badly. He was with another boy, who had a rifle, which had been hidden beneath the bridge, where they wished to hide the weapons until they returned from the place where they were going. The lad was in terrible pain. He was conveyed by his father as soon as possible to Sugar House Depot, where it was found that amputation was necessary. The operation was performed about two o'clock today and the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

Police News.

The list of offenders arraigned in the Police court this morning before Justice Orn were: Henry Kay, John O'Neill, A. Sorenson, Joseph Gow and Sam Newton, for drunkenness. All were adjudged guilty and were assessed $5 each.

Hosmer Wells, a female habitue, was sentenced to twenty-five days' imprisonment in the city jail.

John A. Johnson entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was fined $10.

Peter Wilson is in jail charged with petit larceny.

EAGLE GATE CEREMONIES.

A Quiet but Important Affair.—List of Articles Deposited in the Base of the Last Pillar.

The last pillar of the Eagle Gate is now in course of construction, and it is expected that within a few days the grand old land will be restored to its accustomed perch, where for so many years it was an object of attraction and admiration to tourists and residents of our city alike.

The restoration of this historic landmark gives general satisfaction among all fair-minded people irrespective of political or religious opinions.

The committee in charge of the reconstruction thought it proper that some kind of a ceremonial be gone through before the last stone should be placed in position. In accordance with this idea a small crowd of gentlemen and ladies assembled at the head of State street at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Among those present were noticed President George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith, Apostles F. M. Lyman, H. J. Grant, Juan T. Clark, Angus M. Cannon, Bishop H. D. Clawson, Sermon Clawson and D. Seymour B. Young.

A cavity had been made in the base of the pillar—which is entirely of granite—about eight by twelve inches. Into this President Cannon deposited a tin box in which had been placed a copy of the Deseret News of September 19th, 1891; a copy of the Deseret Semi-Weekly News of the same date; a copy of the Deseret Evening News of September 28, 1891; a copy of Daily Lake Daily Herald of September 11, 1891; the Christmas Herald of 1890; the Salt Lake Daily Herald of July 26th, 1891, containing an editorial on the life and labors of the late President Brigham Young; Deseret Journal of September 11th, 1891.

A package of photographs carefully sealed in an oil-silk covering, of the Lion, Eagle and Beehive Houses, the old Eagle Gate, Temple, Tabernacle Chute, Museum of Presidents Brigham Young, Wilford Woodruff, Geo. Q. Cannon, Joseph F. Smith, John Smith and the late Squire Henry Wells, was put in the box by G. Q. Cannon. A collection of photographs from Savage's Art Gallery follows, was also put in the box: Wasatch Mountains from Andrews's lawn, Brigham Young, Abraham Young, Assembly Hall, Garfo House, grave of Brigham Young, Salt Lake City from Assembly Hall, Eagle Gate, Tabernacle, Wilford Woodruff, Salt Lake from Prospect Hill, the Lion, Zion, Lion and Beehive houses, Eagle Gate.

In addition to the above a beautifully polished plate of pure copper, bearing the following inscription, artistically engraved by David McKenzie, was put in the box:

"The Eagle Gate was erected in 1859. Hiram B. Clawson designer, Ralph Rennay and William Bell, carvers. It stands 22 feet 6 inches from wall eight feet high and five hundred miles from that surrounded the grounds of President Brigham Young, and was built by him as a protection against Indians, and to furnish labor to the unemployed. Tom Ricks and Lewis Ricks made the street and permit the passage of electric cars. Rebuilt in 1891."

Business and visiting cards bearing the names of nearly all present were also placed in the box. Newspapers were made. The affair was altogether quiet and unpretentious.

Z. C. M. I. Stockholders' Meeting.

The general annual meeting of the stockholders of Z. C. M. I. was held at the office of that institution at 12 o'clock today and the old board was re-elected by unanimous vote, as follows: Wilford Woodruff, president, Moses Thatcher vice president, T. G. Webber secretary, A. W. Carlton treasurer, George Q. Cannon, Joseph F. Smith, John Sharp, Heber J. Grant, George Reiney, John R. Winder, Henry Dinwoodey, John H. Bastian, F. S. Pancowitch, W. H. Rowe, John Henry Smith directors.

The President's report was read and unanimously adopted. It showed the institution to be in a satisfactory condition.

A DAY IN THE COURTS.

Criminal and Other Cases Before Judge Zane.

ALBERT KERN UP FOR TRIAL.

Verdict in the McCordick-Sadler suit.—The Uvalde-Ritzenger Dispute.

For the first twenty minutes after the assembling of the Third District court this morning, Judge Zane devoted his time to receiving the personal applications of candidates for admission to citizenship. His honor exhibited the several applicants according to the prescribed form, as to their qualifications to become American citizens, and in each instance the answers given were satisfactory. The names of the newly-fledged are as follows:

August Johnson, a Swede, now a resident of this city; John Conrad Keller, a Swiss, now of San Pete; Ole Andersen, a native of Denmark, now of Utah; John Frederksen, a Swede, now of Sanpete; Conrad Keller, Jr., same nationality, Sanpete.

TAKES THE CAKE.

In the case of John Cavanough, indicted for grand larceny, U. S. Assistant District Attorney Stephens informed the judge that the accused was released on his own recognizance a long time ago, and that he had left the country. Being satisfied that it would now be impossible to reach him, he moved that the case be dismissed.

The Court so ordered it.

THE ONE EYE LIGHT.

In the case of the People against John Gibson and William Rosen, charged with grand larceny, Mr. Hamilton said he, some time ago, filed a motion in regard to Gibson, asking to have certain witnesses subpœnaed in his behalf at the expense of this Territory. The defendant was now in New Mexico, Deputy Marshal Rush, who was actively engaged in this case, gave him a telegram from Gibson, in which he stated that the prosecution would not go on with the charge, and for that reason he did not prove his motion to have the witnesses subpœnaed at the expense of this Territory. Mr. Rush having stated that the prosecution was actively without a witness, counsel had been asked for a dismissal. Gibson could not be reached here for trial but he (Mr. Hamilton) was advised that he was regulated.

U. S. Assistant District Attorney Stephens said the defendant absconded and he desired to have the bail forfeited.

On the judge ordered it so.

In response to Rosen, Judge Powers moved for a dismissal of the charge against him also. The indictment, he said, was found by the grand jury at the Second District Court in May, 1888, and the defendant was confined in the penitentiary for eight months and twenty-nine days awaiting trial. His friends raised and made a deposit of $[illegible] to secure his appearance, and he (counsel) had hoped that the next term of court at Beaver, but the witnesses on the part of the prosecution were not then present. Counsel had been treated in this court, by stipulation of the district attorney. The defendant surrendered here last May the case was brought up, and Mr. Critchlow, the then assistant district attorney, stated that if it went over—as the witnesses were not again present—he (Mr. Critchlow) thought they would then answer the case or be dismissed. The defendant, in accordance with that arrangement, came now ready for trial, but the witnesses were still missing and there was no reason to believe that they would materialize. Under these circumstances he asked for the defendant's discharge.

The court acceded to the request after hearing a statement from the assistant district attorney.

THE WHITE-SAX "TAVERN."

In the case of George L. Wilkinson, who stands indicted for larceny, his alleged victim being one Wm. Lowrank, while the latter was under detention, at the request of Judge Powers presented an affidavit to the half of the defendant, asking for a continuance for the term, the object of which being to enable him to secure the attendance of an important witness not before subpœnaed.

United States Assistant District Attorney Stephens said he would be willing for stand over until tomorrow, to give him an opportunity to file a counter affidavit, if he should be so desire.

The request of Mr. Stephens was acceded to.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In the case of John J. Turner vs. the Hyde Park Company, for motion to set aside order directing attachment, was set for hearing on Thursday, October 8.

Judge Powers ordered vs. Thomas Goff et al., dismissed on motion of plaintiff's counsel.

In the case of John Irvine vs. George Hyde, a verdict was submitted. The case of the People vs. George Lee, on alleged attempt to pick pockets, was dismissed.

ALLEGED ROBBERY OF MONEY.

Albert Kern (who was defended by Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Whitelaw) was tried today upon his trial on a charge of robbing Wm. Wood Jr., butcher of this city, of the sum of nearly $[illegible].

The prosecution was represented by Assistant District Attorney Stephens, and the facts, as stated by counsel and also as set forth by witnesses on the Saturday night in question the prosecutor, upon returning to his home in Gallivant, proceeded to count upon the table in one of the rooms (the other inmates having retired), the takings of the day's business. While so employed a voice at the wire door called to him, "Hallo, Wood! is you still you dead?" Mr. Wood rushed into an adjoining room to arouse his friends, who returned just in time to see [illegible] grabbing at the money. Mr. [illegible] swore positively that Kern was the thief, although he said his face was [illegible] by baffle identification. The accused, when departing, threatened that if Mr. Wood followed he would kill him, and he got away in the darkness. The case was reported to the police and Kern was subsequently arrested, a suit of money being then in his possession, and also a watch now identified as the property of one Henry Hodgetts.

The defense will be mistaken identity.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug 19, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

COURT NOTES.

Judge Anderson finished up his work in the Third District court here on Saturday afternoon, and now leaves for Beaver. He is expected to return about the middle of next week.

Commissioner Norrell was engaged this morning investigating a small civil suit of no public interest.

There was a full attendance of attorneys and witnesses in Judge Zane's court this morning when the criminal calendar was again taken up.

In the long drawn out action of McCordick vs Sadler, which took up the time of Judge Anderson and a jury three whole days last week, the twelve good men this morning brought in a sealed verdict, according to instructions, finding for the defendant. On the application of Mr. Varian, the time to file a statement for new trial was extended thirty days.

The trial of Albert Kern, a dudish young man about twenty-three years of age, on a charge of robbery, was commenced this morning before Judge Zane. This is the same individual who made his escape from the mentioned "cooler" while in temporary lodgings there, on a charge of assaulting a police officer, some time ago. A reward was offered for his capture, and after enjoying his freedom for a brief season he was recaptured. Kern has no fewer than three prominent attorneys to defend him, and they are making a desperate effort to secure his acquittal, his defense being an alibi.

Commissioner Greenman, in the case of Uvalde against Finding McGregor, after hearing all the evidence, found there was no cause of action and dismissed the complaint.

Amusements.

"The Wages of Sin" was given by the Home Dramatic Club at the Salt Lake Theatre on Saturday night to a full house. The performance was received with rapturous delight. It will be given again tonight for the last time during the Conference season.

Tomorrow night "Called Back" will be given.

Tonight the grand concert in aid of the Deseret Sunday School Union will be given at the Tabernacle. There will be 700 voices, forty instruments and seven soloists, the whole under the direction of Professor Stephens. It promises to be one of the greatest musical treats given for some time.

On Wednesday Thursday and Saturday matinee, Fanny Davenport will appear as "Cleopatra," in Sardou's famous play of that name. On Friday she will appear in "Fedora," and on Saturday in "La Tosca." Sales of seats begin on Tuesday morning.

Some idea of Fanny Davenport's indefatigable industry in producing a play like "Cleopatra" may be gathered from an interview lately held with her upon the subject.

"My work," she says, "really begins with the selection of the play itself and my first effort is to thoroughly understand and absorb every idea of the author regarded in it; to find the motive for every action described, in a word, to master the situation perfectly. I then select my cast to fit the characters, and the company thus chosen must possess individually the requisites in height, form, face, for the character assigned. The next step is to identify each member with the part assigned. If the play be a historical one I insist upon every principal in my company reading fully the history upon which it is founded. Before the production of "Cleopatra" I spent months in visiting the museums of Europe wherever Egyptian types and effects were stored, and had drawings of them made upon the stage. There is not an article of dress or stage property used in that play that is not an exact counterpart of Egyptian and Roman articles.

DEATHS.

FRYER.—In the Tenth ward of this city, Oct. 5, 1891, of croup, Sarah Maria Fryer, eldest of John Fryer, formerly of Leeds, Yorkshire, Eng., aged 8 years.

Funeral this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HARDY.—At Morgan, October 1st, the death of a son from a home, Samuel, son of Amos Hardy, Sen., and Emma Warner Hardy, aged four years and seven months.

TERRY.—On the 4th inst., at 275 Eighth street, Sarah Ann Terry, wife of Thomas Terry, aged 71 years, 1 month and 4 days; formerly of Glasgow, Scotland.

The funeral services will be held this morning in the Eighteenth ward Meeting-house, Millennial Star please copy.

There will be another balloon ascension and parachute jump at Calder's Park tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Mining Exchange.

Business was very quiet and dull about the Mining Exchange this morning. Conklin sold 1000 shares of Congo stock to Bamberger at 15 cents. This was the only sale made. Following are the quotations for the day:

SENSATIONAL NEWS.

The Banks of Pruth Swarming with Russian Soldiers.

BUDA PEST, Oct. 5.—Pester Lloyd publishes a sensational article declaring that the Russian government is making enormous concentration of troops on the banks of Pruth. According to the story, a large tract of land near Pruth is now swarming with Russian soldiers for whose accommodation capacious huts have been erected.

A Receiver Appointed.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Nicholas R. Bradshaw of Kingston, today was appointed temporary receiver of the Ulster County Savings Institution at Kingston. The receiver's bonds are $200,000. An injunction restraining three officers and depositors from bringing attachments against the bank's assets has also been granted by the court.

The Wrecked Bank Institutions.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 5.—As expected, the city is rapidly filling up with people from all over the country who are desirous to see the three city savings banks. Business is at a standstill, and the crowds stand all over, discussing the wrecking of the Ulster County Savings Institution. Hasbrouck Savings Bank and Rondout Savings Bank have each posted notices notifying the depositors that daily day's notice is required by the law and must be given. Large crowds of depositors, with bank books in hand, stand in front of these institutions.

Wanted to Blow Up the Palace.

TRENTON, Oct. 5.—A sensation occurred here today when it became known that an attempt had been made to blow up the Episcopal palace.

The porter in the Episcopal palace found a large petard, or bomb, in one of the hallways. Attached to the petard was a burning fuse. The porter immediately pulled the fuse from the petard and extinguished it. The matter is being thoroughly investigated.

Dropped Dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—General Patrick Gilroy, aged 64, dropped dead today at his residence here.

SALT LAKE CITY BREWING CO.

We have accumulated large matrices with the fine quality of Beer which we are now producing. Our Beer is so far superior to any in the market that some of our competitors accept believe their own eyes and taste, and they have misrepresented us by starting a rumor that the beer was not manufactured at our Brewery, but was Eastern Beer that we are selling. Now to any one doubting the truth of what we say, we will waive the usual $100 forfeit and every drop of beer we are selling is manufactured by us in our Brewery.

Respectfully, JAMES MOURY,
General Manager.
