RAILROAD FOR THE ORIENT.

Chief Engineer Parsons of the Brice Syndicate Returns from China.

FAVORS BUILDING THE ROAD

According to the Terms of the Concession the Chinese Government is to Pay for the Road.

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—W. B. Parsons, a civil engineer of New York, has arrived here from the Orient. He was sent to China by the Brice syndicate, which holds a concession for the construction and operation of a railroad to connect Hankow and Canton. He took with him a staff of engineers and surveyors and is now on his way to New York to report to the syndicate that he has completed the survey and that he favors the completion of the proposed work according to the terms of the concession the Chinese government is to pay for the railroad, when completed, by the issue of bonds. The syndicate will receive twenty per cent of the net profit for the period of forty-five years, the remaining eighty per cent going to the Chinese company, the real owners of the road.

"When this road is built," says Mr. Parsons, "and the Belgians construct the road for which they have a concession, the heart of the Chinese empire will be in close touch with Europe. The road which I have just surveyed will run from Canton in the southerly corner of China, north to Hankow, and the road which the Belgians will build will run southerly from Hankow to Peking. The Chinese government intends making our of Peking to being extended to connect with the extension of the Siberian railroad to Mackotta, and China railroads all linked together in one big transcontinental system."

GRAIN RATE INVESTIGATION.

Will be Continued by the Interstate Commission at Chicago.

Chicago, May 29.—Chicago railway officials today received notice from the interstate commerce commission that an investigation of the rates upon export and domestic traffic in grain and grain products would be held in Chicago June 12th. Three days later the commission will hear the evidence bearing on the case. The notice states that it is prepared to secure evidence showing all important changes which have taken place in rates to the Atlantic and Gulf ports on all shipments of grain and grain products and the reason why such changes were made.

The investigation will include, too, the reasons for such rates to various ports as well as the relations of rates. The hearings in the West will be a continuation of that started in New York two weeks ago.

The Chicago hearing promises to be a very interesting one, as in addition to securing the attendance of railway representatives, the commission is also making every effort to get the evidence of interested millers and grain dealers, who will be asked to furnish all evidence they can concerning any wrong or damage which they believe to result from the present basis of rates.

SIX ANNUAL PASSES.

Found on a Dead Man and Bear the Name of Charles A. Clark.

New York, May 30.—Chas. A. Clark, master transportation of the Freight Department of the New York Central railroad is the inscription on six annual passes found by a man three different weeks, which were found on the body of a man discovered lying on the bank of the Harlem near Claremont, Long Island, and head, but might be a policeman.

Other effects found were a pocketbook, a pawn ticket for a chamois, which is Forty-second street pawnbroker had advanced $10 to C. A. Clark.

The body appeared to have been washed up where it was found. The police, who regard it as a case of suicide, think that he may have been for a month. It was removed to the morgue.

The hair, moustache and eyes were gray. The man was about five feet five inches tall and 55 years old.

Dewey Bought a Ticket.

When Commodore Dewey left Washington in November, 1897, to take command of the fleet in the Pacific ocean, he did not take out a round or a separate ticket. Being a personal friend of S. B. Hage, General agent of the Baltimore & Ohio passenger department in Washington, the new famous sea fighter bought two first-class tickets from Washington to San Francisco via the B. and O. Chicago and Northwestern, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific lines. Mr. Hage accompanied the admiral and they departed on November 29th.

Some talk Manager of Passenger Traffic, D. B. Martin of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, set out to collect the mileage of the ticket and only recently secured all of them. He has had the ticket, containing Dewey's signature, framed, and is hoping for similar accuracy.

ALLEGED ILLEGAL SALE.

The case of Joseph S. Sands vs the National Bank of the Republic came on for trial before Judge Cherry and a jury yesterday, with Krabs and Rappaugh appearing for plaintiff and McGurrin and McGurrin for defendant. Plaintiff seeks to recover but one dollar contained by reason of the defendant selling out his restaurant at 15 East Second South street, under an alleged previous order of sale, September 6, 1897. The defense is that the order of sale grew out of legal proceedings taken before Justice of the Peace Morris Rasmussen in a suit for rent, that plaintiff had full knowledge of the sale of the property, and that the property only brought $5.

SITUATION AT WARDNER.

Gen. Merriam Says There is No Doubt that the Old Fight is On Again.

Much Feeling Among the Miners, Although it is Not Finding Expression Just Now in Overt Acts.

San Francisco, May 29.—Brig.-Gen. H. C. Merriam, who was stationed in this city in command of the department of the Columbia during the war with Spain, arrived here today from Wardner, Ida., where he was sent to bring the rioting Coeur d'Alene miners into subjection. His visit was for the purpose of making a report to Gen. Shafter of the status and prospects of the big miners' strike, the Coeur d'Alene district being situated within the Shafter's jurisdiction. He had a long conference with Gen. Shafter and left for Denver on the Central overland tonight.

When seen at the Palace hotel Gen. Merriam said that peace prevailed in the turbulent mining camp when he left there a few days ago. "We have no troops on the ground under command of Maj. Smith of the First cavalry and they are in complete control of the situation," he said. "The troops are there simply to preserve peace so that the state authorities may act without being molested or molested. As for the outcome of the difficulty, I shall have to be excused from expressing an opinion. Conditions are very nearly peaceful, and to judge from outward indications there is no trouble. But of course there is trouble. There is a great deal of feeling among the miners although it is not finding expression just now. There is no doubt in my mind but that the old fight is on again.

"The state authorities are making rapid progress in their work of doing the responsibility for the recent outrages. As many as five strikers were prisoners at one time. The number has been gradually reduced as the prosecution of many has been dismissed or investigation. When I left Wardner there were 100 prisoners in the stockade.

Gen. Merriam informed Gen. Shafter that the whole difficulty would be adjusted without further serious interference from the strikers.

Rough Rider Reunion.

Las Vegas, N. M., May 29.—The program for the three days' reunion of the rough riders, which will occur June 24-26th, has been prepared. It will begin with addresses by Gov. Roosevelt and Col. Brodie, to be followed by a regimental review. On the 25th, which is Sunday, religious services will be conducted by Chaplain Brown. During the entire three days a concert program, consisting of steer-roping and bronche-breaking and races of various kinds will be given. Prizes to horses representing the rough riders charging on San Juan, will be given.

Christian Scientists on Trial.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 29.—The preliminary trial of Mr. and Mrs. Rieser and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Saunders of Fort Tonawanda, Wash. Christian Scientists charged with being responsible for the death of young Emile Saunders, was resumed today. As in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Rieser, the accused had been brought out they were discharged.

The answering of hypothetical questions by a number of regular practitioners took up most of the time today. The Attorney for the defense tried hard to show that had medical assistance been summoned for Saunders would have died just the same, the boy's death being caused by a complete relapse of recovery from the attack of pneumonia which resulted in his death. The prosecution closed its case, and the defense will begin tomorrow.

KILLED AT AN INITIATION.

A Man Inducted Into a Modern Woodman Lodge is Maltreated so He Dies.

Clarinda, Ia., May 29.—Frank Field of Hepburn, Ia., is dead from the alleged effects of initiation in a Modern Woodmen lodge of Hepburn on May 19th. The members, it is said, were using a spanking board with which certain attendants. The board was turned the wrong way and a cartridge exploded, the shell entering Field's thigh, inflicting a mortal wound. Lockjaw resulted.

TROOPS FOR ALASKA.

Gen. Thomas M. Anderson Tells of His Experience with the Dominion Police.

Chicago, May 29.—Under direction from the war department Brig. Gen. T. M. Anderson, commanding the department of the Lakes, has ordered company E, seventh United States infantry to Alaska. The company is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Capt. C. R. Farnsworth is in command. The soldiers are to be garrison duty in place of a company of the Fourteenth infantry which has been withdrawn and sent to Manila. Company E will leave for San Francisco probably tonight, from which place it will be transported by way of Seattle.

Gen. Thomas M. Anderson is interested from a military standpoint in the Canadian occupation of Alaska boundary question. He is the American army officer who about a year ago, went to Alaska with Lieut. Col. Ray and undertook out of the territory the Dominion police that had rendezvoused there. It was supposed for the purpose of taking possession of valuable lands belonging to the United States.

The issues of the Alaska controversy were the subject of discussion by the general at his office in the Pullman building. He then outlined the situation of the status of the United States in the matter. Gen. Anderson in describing his work last year said:

"When I reached the disputed territory with United States troops I found that the Dominion police had established a system of tolls and established a military office there. Maps illustrating the boundary between Alaska and the Yukon district as fixed by the Dominion government had been circulated broadcast. Ten days later a full company of uniformed Dominion police came on to strengthen the advantage already gained at Skagway by taking possession of Tagish, but in the meantime I had established two garrisons in Skagway, one in Tulya and one at the Yukon district as fixed by the Dominion government had been circulated broadcast. Ten days later a full company of uniformed Dominion police came on to strengthen the advantage already gained at Skagway by taking possession of Tagish, but in the meantime I had established two garrisons in Skagway, one in Tulya and one at the Yukon district as fixed by the Dominion government had been circulated broadcast.

"This gave me the advantage of possession, and when the Dominion police finally appeared I notified the officer in command that he would have to take his pack across the border immediately, that our directions were to rid American territory of Canadian police. Well, the police retired, and we have held the ground ever since."
