It also operates the best routes and the shortest lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis

Among a few of the numerous points of superiority enjoyed by the patrons of this road, are its DAY COACHES which are the finest that human art and ingenuity can create; its PALACE SLEEPING CARS, which are models of comfort and elegance; its PALACE DRAWING ROOM CARS, which are unsurpassed by any; and its widely celebrated NORTH-WESTERN DINING CARS, the finest which are anywhere by any other road anywhere. In short, it is asserted that IT IS THE BEST EQUIPPED ROAD IN THE WORLD.

All points of interest North, Northwest and West of Chicago, business centres, summer resorts, and game, fishing and hunting grounds are accessible by the various branches of this road.

It owns and controls over 5,000 miles of road and has over four hundred passenger conductors constantly caring for its millions of patrons.

Ask your ticket agents for tickets via this route. AND TAKE NONE OTHER. All leading ticket agents sell them. It costs no more to travel on this route, but that gives first-class accommodations, and it does to go by the poorly equipped roads.

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR invigorates the Liver, Regulates the Bowels, Strengthens the System, Purifies the Blood, Assists Digestion, Prevents Fevers. Is a Household Need. An Invaluable Family Medicine for common complaints.

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS IN MEDICINES. For full information send your address for our pamphlet to the LIVER MEDICINE CO., 162 to 164 Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

THE LIVER AND ITS FUNCTIONS.

It has become a well established fact that the liver portion of disease to which the human family is subject, arises from the derangement of the liver. This organ is not only the largest, but at the same time one of the most important. The venous blood, before it can be used, passes through this organ, and in its passage the impurities, as also the secretions which are necessary for digestion, are so far obnoxious to assist in the removal of waste material, are eliminated. From this it is evident that the Liver is liable to get out of order to a greater or less extent, and when this occurs it is impossible for it to properly fulfill its office of removing all objectionable matter from the blood, and allow it to pass through, carrying with it the poisons of which it should have been relieved.

When impure blood thus becomes wholesome, the system becomes affected, and no organ can properly perform its function unless it is supplied with PURE BLOOD to maintain its strength. So the Liver becomes all important when one feels the first symptoms of being tired, weary, out of sorts, constipated, with headache or so-called Bilious Headache, Sick Stomach, Sallow Complexion, Eruptions of Skin, etc., they may be sure that their blood is impure and stands in need of a purifier. In order to assist nature in ridding itself of all accumulations, and renew its vigor in its original strength and vigor. For all the ills of which this class of diseases there is no medicine that equals

DR. R. F. SHERMAN'S PICKLY ASH BITTERS. The result of years of study, experiment and medical research of Dr. R. F. SHERMAN, the originator, and, as he has proved, its success in every case where it has been used. Pickly Ash Bitters acts directly on the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, & Bowels, in a mild yet effective manner, and is as pleasant as a beverage, and may be taken by children as readily as by adults.

PICKLY ASH BITTERS is a medicine of rare merit and not an intoxicating beverage, and being purely vegetable in its composition can be used at all times with perfect impunity. It is not a "BLOOD PURIFIER" in the ordinary sense, but it is a "BLOOD PURIFIER" in the sense that it removes all other preparations. Ask your druggist for Pickly Ash Bitters. If he does not keep them, do not let him persuade you that some other article he may have is just as good, but if you do, remember that the loss will be yours. Be sure you get the genuine article, as there are many worthless imitations offered for sale.

EVENING NEWS.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

SYNOPSIS OF REMARKS AT THE TABERNACLE.

President George Q. Cannon first addressed the congregation. He read from the Book of Mormon part of the 24th chapter of the first Book of Nephi, commencing at the fifth verse, and then proceeded with his discourse. Many predictions were contained in the Book of Mormon relating to the times in which we live, and the work with which we are identified. Were they not so revealed, and in such great plainness, we might be assailed by apprehension concerning our future. Every important event in the history of this people was thus foreshown, and had been published in our mother tongue, some months at least before this Church was organized.

Six hundred years before the coming of Christ, the past and present history of the American Continent was revealed to the Prophet Nephi; the discovery of the land by Columbus, its settling by the Puritan fathers, the war for Independence, the founding of this nation and the coming forth of this work, together with predictions of this nation's fate if it rejected the Gospel. This it had done to a great extent, as the Lord had anticipated, and the position now occupied by the Saints was in preaching the near approach of God's judgments, the downfall of wickedness and its sweeping away to prepare the earth for the coming of Christ and the ushering in of the reign of righteousness. The history of this work was fulfilling the words of the angel to Nephi. It was the Church of the Lamb of God, opposed by that great and abominable church which was the church of the devil. The message of salvation entrusted to the Saints was a message of warning, also of what would follow its rejection.

The speaker read again from the book where woe is pronounced against the Gentiles when they shall sin against the Gospel, which would then be taken from among them and carried to the House of Israel, though the Gentiles would be numbered among them if they repented. He expected the day to come when, if this nation wholly rejected the Gospel, persecuted this people and sought to destroy them, that the servants of God and the Gospel would be withdrawn from them entirely, and sent to the house of Israel, that the first might be last and the last first. The Gentiles would then be visited with sore destruction. He did not wish to read of the terrible character of the judgments. The Saints had faithfully striven and were now striving to spread the message which God had entrusted to them, without money and without price and without trespassing upon the rights of others suffering wrong rather than doing wrong, fleeing from place to place, as often as driven, leaving all behind, their pathway being marked with their blood and the graves of those who had fallen martyrs to the persecutions to which they had been subjected. Our Prophet was murdered in cold blood, and this too in a land of liberty founded for the protection of all men in their religious and political rights. Even but lately our brethren in Tennessee had been shot down while worshipping God, with the Bible in their hands, and those who believed in their words had been warned to leave the State under pain of a similar fate. Thus had the words spoken to Nephi, and by him, been fulfilled, with as great fidelity as if he had witnessed it with his own eyes.

It was not for evil that the Saints had been thus treated. Their principles were pure and holy, and calculated to do men good. But let the Saints be comforted for God is with them. Our lives are in His hand, and this great work is in His hands, and He will overrule all things for its best good, in the future as He has invariably done in the past.

President Taylor was the next speaker. He had been much interested in the previous speakers remark's, and could realize, as all could who were familiar with the things of God, the importance of the principles of which he had spoken. We were living in an important age, in which many things were being transacted in which all men, and especially the Saints, were or should be interested. But our mission was not understood. This was the dispensation of the fullness of times, when God had decreed to gather all things, both in heaven and on earth, in one. To this end we had been baptized with one baptism and had received of one and the same spirit, and been gathered together from all nations, to be further instructed as to the duties required of us; in the ways of salvation and righteousness in which we should walk, that we might know how to save ourselves and others also through the mediation of our Lord Jesus Christ; teaching to others what God had taught unto us, progressing in principles of truth and standing as Saviors on Mount Zion. This in brief was the position we occupy and these the objects we cherish.

We were not here to do our own will and administer to selfish gratification, but to build up a Zion to the Lord, that should become the praise and glory of the whole earth; to possess and maintain correct principles and approach nearer to God our heavenly Father, enjoy the spirit which He enjoys and seek as he is seeking to promote the happiness of the human family.

We had suffered persecutions, oppression and injustice, but all these were necessary for our good. There was no such thing in the Gospel as "sitting and singing ourselves away to everlasting bliss." The Saints of God in other ages were similarly treated. We had been told of Babylon, the Mother of abominations, and had been commanded to come out of her. We were here in a school; we needed a little stirring up, and occasionally we get it. It was not always pleasant to endure; we would prefer peace. We would have liked to live in peace in Missouri, in Illinois, but we could not do it; not because we believed in polygamy, but because we belonged to that Church of the Lamb of God which the world wars against, as we had heard. It was not our licentiousness. Our enemies knew our lives were far purer than their own; that was well understood. But we must prove our integrity in the midst of all these things. Would to God this nation and all nations could see and comprehend the purposes of God, but if they would not it was for Him to deal with them, not us. He had said that the wrath of man should praise Him, and the remainder of their wrath He would restrain.

John the Revelator saw in vision certain persons arrayed in white, nearest the throne of God, singing a new song which no others could learn, and on asking who they were, he was told by the angel that they were those who had come up through much tribulation and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Perhaps Elijah and Job were among them; men who suffered all things for righteousness sake, acknowledging God's hand in all things, and maintaining their integrity through all that Satan was permitted to bring upon them; men who felt to trust in God through He should slay them, and knew that their Redeemer lived and would stand at the latter day upon the earth; men like the three Hebrew children, who were asked to bow down and worship a certain God but refused. It was a great insult to the nation, and a furnace seven times heated was prepared for them, and they were thrown into it; but they still lived, though their fetters were burned off, and the Son of God came down and administered to them. Then there was a Daniel who was commanded not to pray to any other God than the one the King had set up. But he bowed down with his windows open and prayed to the God of Israel, as usual, and was seen and cast into a den of lions. But he too was saved, for God shut the lions' mouths. These men were doubtless among that 144,000 who stood on Mount Zion, nearest to the throne of God. And how about Christ himself, the Captain of our salvation who was made perfect through suffering, being tempted in all points and was yet without sin? He suffered by Satan himself with the kingdoms of the earth if he would consent to worship him; but He refused to do it, and rebuked His tempter and quoted the scriptures that say, Thou shalt worship God alone.

The Saints of ancient times were also tried and tempted in many things. But there was no Saint on the earth that had the Spirit of God in him, who would change his position for all there was in the world. All who felt this way were asked to say "aye." (A general shout of "aye" from the congregation). That's the way we feel about it. Like Bunyan's Pilgrims we want "life, life," and we will leave our enemies in the hands of God. He will take care of them. It is our mission to preach the Gospel and the responsibility rests with those who hear it, whether they receive or reject it. The Saints are doing very well though there is too much that is not right among us. The little crime we have is too much, for we ought not to have any. The speaker exhorted to uprightness, honesty, purity, good will, peace, righteousness, humility and trust in God—the Giver of all we have and hope for, and in conclusion predicted the overthrow of wickedness and the triumph of right.

DANGEROUS SUBSTITUTES FOR HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE.

Several inferior and dangerous "substitutes" for the genuine "Horsford's Acid Phosphate" are being offered for sale; and we hereby caution the dealers and public against buying or using them, as they will not produce the same effect upon the system as the genuine "Horsford's," and the ingredients in some of them are dangerous to health.

Some of these "substitutes" or imitations are simply Dilute Phosphoric Acid, which interferes with the digestion; while the genuine "Horsford's" not only causes no trouble with the digestive organs, but materially assists in their action.

One preparation that is being offered for sale, by the gallon, contains Meta- or Pyro-Phosphoric Acid, which are declared by the highest authority to be poisonous. The same preparation also contains Chloric Acid, which is a compound of Chlorine. "Horsford's" contains neither of these ingredients.

These "substitutes" are liable to be found at soda fountains, because of their cheapness.

CALL for "HORSFORD'S," and TAKE NO OTHER. NEVER SOLD IN BULK.
