NEWS OF THE WEST.

A San Francisco Woman Goes Gunning for Her Husband.

NOT WHO WARNED DYNAMITE.

C. E. Kerr's Efforts for Liberty—Injured in a Runaway—Twins Come to Town.

The shipment of British Columbia salmon to England and Australia in chemical ice with refrigerators is about to be undertaken on a large scale by an English firm.

At Riverside, Cal., Tuesday, a colored boy named Reynolds attempted to warm a dynamite cartridge on the stove when an explosion occurred which took two fingers and a thumb from the boy's hand.

The jury in the suit of Mrs. Isabel Myers against the Bankers' Life Association of Minneapolis to recover the insurance on the life of her husband, on Tuesday, at Los Angeles, Cal., gave her a verdict for the full amount claimed, $5,000, with $997 for damages. The insurance company had tried to settle for $2,000.

Captain H. St. George Lindsay, who for twelve months past has been the master of the steamship Coptic, returning to American Pacific ports, left San Francisco Tuesday night for London in response to a summons from the White Star line, by which he is employed. It is given out that he is to be placed in charge of the queenly transatlantic liner Majestic.

Preston, Idaho, New Era: On Wednesday morning last, at St. Joseph, the wife of Orson Merrill presented him with twins—a boy and a girl—each weighing eight pounds. It has been about six years since any children were born in this family and the arrival of twins created quite an excitement in that place. Our informant states that Mr. Merrill's house resembled that of a polling place in a large precinct, as people were coming and going in a continual stream all day.

Mrs. Sarah Blanchi, wife of John Blanchi, a San Francisco barber, went to the warpath Tuesday morning, armed with a big revolver. She was in search of her husband, whom she suspected of infidelity. She found the man whether at a lodging house, and when she got within range there was a lively encounter. The angry wife fired point blank at Blanchi. Her aim was wild, for the bullet missed all the vital spots and lodged in his left shoulder. The parties were taken care of by the officers. Mrs. Blanchi intended to kill her husband and then commit suicide.

Miss Lena Travis, daughter of a prominent rancher who resides just south of San Jose, Cal., met with an accident Tuesday evening which may result fatally. She was out driving when the horse took fright and ran away. On South Market street the buggy struck a post, pitching the girl out of the vehicle with terrific force. She struck her head upon the concrete sidewalk and was badly cut about the head and face and rendered unconscious. She was carried into a neighboring house and an examination disclosed the fact that she had sustained a concussion of the brain. The girl is still unconscious.

Word from Los Angeles, Cal., says that if earnest reports may be believed, Clifton E. Mayne is still scheming to get out of the meshes of the law. Constable J. Harry Johnston is authority for the statement that an attempt to kidnap Elsie Shipman was made last Sunday. Johnston alleges that Della Shipman called on Elsie Sunday afternoon and tried to persuade her to take a walk, but Elsie would not go. While Della was trying to get her sister away from the house, a man named Van Heiseer, lately released from the county jail, was seen in the neighborhood. Van Heiseer since his release has been working zealously in the interests of Mayne. Attorney W. J. Murphy, one of Mayne's counsel, also passed the house, and a two-seated carriage containing two men was seen to drive by, all of which Constable Johnston thinks was a part of a plot to kidnap Elsie, but it did not work, because the girl refused to be caught in the trap.

THE BLOND BRAKEMAN'S STORY.

It May Be Read With Profit by Present Day Record Breakers.

The Railroad club met Tuesday evening in the usual place, and after a short business session the boys drifted into "story" conversation. The fast run of the general manager's special from Hope to Magnolia was commented on, and the talk on fast runs became general. Several stories of remarkable time made on different occasions were related, and when the blond brakeman got the floor he saw no way opened to break the record. And he did.

"Speaking of fast runs," said he, "why, that little Montana Union line surpassed anything I ever saw. No Dutch clocks or anything else to hold a man down there. I worked for that road when Bob Smith was dispatcher, and when he told the boys to 'wheel 'em' we all knew what it meant. One day we were going north, and were delayed in Garrison waiting until we reached Stewart, this side of the pass, at that point that he wanted our train to get to Garrison just as quick as we could let go. We had a good track when we shifted, and it wasn't long before the telegraph poles looked like a picket fence. The biggest bunch of speed was reserved for the home stretch—from Deer Lodge to Garrison—11 miles. We didn't stop at Deer Lodge, but as we approached that place I commenced sounding the whistle as a warning, and you may take my word for a football if the 'clear' sign in the Garrison yards wasn't passed by our train before that whistle had ceased to sound."

This made the boys look weary, but the "lushy" hadn't finished yet. He continued:

"Well, we put one train away and found waiting orders when we glanced up the track and saw a dark streak approaching at a lightning gait. We were scheduled for no instant, but as it sizzled by we hastily recognized it as the shadow of the train we had just brought in.

"And the boys all sense up, and after examining the orders with a regularly blasted scrutiny, the club adjourned.—Minneapolis Bulletin.
