THE DISTRICT COURT.

Final Proceedings in the Colorado Habeas Corpus Case.

ACTION AGAINST A LAUNDRY.

Another Sequel to the Alexander & Co. Assignment.—General Orders Today.

Another branch in the litigation arising out of the failure, some time ago, of Daniel Alexander and John Alexander, formerly trading as Alexander & Co., drapers, etc., of Ruby Temple street, was opened up in the Third district court this morning, before Chief Justice Merritt and a jury. The plaintiffs in the instance were H. Kahnweiler & Co., of New York, with whom the Alexanders had been accustomed to deal, and the defendants were the creditors. The action was brought to recover $1,250 on a promissory note, with interest from November 15, 1892, and costs. The note was received August 16, 1892, and all the goods mentioned after June. About the time it is stated the Alexanders became insolvent and the Alexander brothers went to Montana for health, the property went to the wall.

Attorneys Rich and Lewis appeared for the plaintiffs and Attorney Varian and Judge Bergstrom for the defendants.

A stipulation was presented to the effect that evidence in a prior action of the defendants against Alexander Brothers, which had been tried, should have placed as evidence in the proceedings in the action.

THE PRIORITY SUIT.

In the case of Joseph Keeley vs. the Rio Grande Western Railway Co., to recover an Injury Jury, awarded the plaintiff $5,000 damages on account of injuries received by the loss of his left leg, a stay of thirty days from April 27th, was granted by Judge Merritt, on motion of the plaintiff's attorney, to prepare bill of exceptions on motion for a new trial.

A MINING CASE DISCONTINUED.

The action of Alvin Haigh vs. Arthur Haigh was dismissed by U. S. Commissioner Hoyt Pratt to save jurisdiction and costs to the court.

THE SUITS.

In the case of Wm. Anderson vs. the Salt Lake Gas and Electric Light Company, jury was waived and the case was tried before Judge Merritt. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney J. E. Parsons and the defendant by Attorney Dickson and Hawley. The case went to the jury just before noon.

At 2:30 p. m. the jurors went in footing, and at that time it was stated there was little hope of their agreeing on a verdict.
