THE DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Merritt Held a Very Short Session Again Today.

A WRIT OF ASSISTANCE GRANTED.

The Beck-Ryde Suit Case—Changes at the Penitentiary—A Couple Held to Answer.

In less than three-quarters of an hour this morning Colonel Justice Merritt did all that was required of him by attorneys in the Third district court, and then adjourned until tomorrow, when the usual Saturday motions will be listened to by his honor.

DECLINED TO SURRENDER.

In the case of Jacob A. Dayer vs Charles Ferguson et al., an affidavit by Frank H. Stephens was read setting forth that he was the purchaser of the property involved herein, that there had been presented to the defendant the sheriff's deed to the same and demand for possession had been made, but that Ferguson has refused to surrender it.

On motion of Attorney H. S. Smith, Judge Merritt therefore directed that a writ of assistance issue to the county sheriff to put Frank H. Stephens in possession of the premises and maintain and defend his possession from time to time.

The facts in the case are, briefly, these: On December 5, 1893, a decree of foreclosure and sale was entered by this court, the sheriff being directed to sell the property, the same being lots 6, 7, 8 and 9, block 81, Sandy station plat; also lots 3, 4, 5 section 6, township 3 s, range 1 east, Salt Lake meridian. Mr. Stephens was the purchaser and the time for redemption having expired he received a deed from the sheriff; but as Ferguson refused to give up the property on demand being made the present proceedings were had.

LEAVE TO INSPECT.

John Beck vs A. E. Ryde; motion for leave to inspect books and accounts. Time given and order drawn as is intuitive.

HELD TO THE GRAND JURY.

Police Commissioner Greenman a very short time this morning to hear the testimony in the case of Joseph Baker and "Lou" Alexander, arrested yesterday—the former on a charge of assault and the latter for intoxication. The complaining witness is Baker's wife. The male defendant is a stripling young fellow about thirty years of age; "Lou" is apparently some years his senior, very scraggy and with not the faintest claim to beauty. Both were held in default of the grand jury's action—Baker in a bond of $500 and Alexander in one of $200, but there seems to be little chance of his defendant obtaining enrollment.

PENITENTIARY CHANGES.

Charlie Silverwood and James Faust have been appointed to positions at the penitentiary by Marshal Brigham, vice Guards Perry Brigham and W. T. O'Brien, who tendered their resignations a day or two ago. Silverwood, who was formerly a book keeper in the employ of Sears and Jennings, has been made clerk at the institution. Faust will do guard duty. The last named formerly occupied the same post at the "pen," but in consequence of ill-health gave way. Having now recovered, he has been restored to his old berth.

Court Jottings.

Thomas F. Molloy, assignee of Kidder Bros., has entered suit in the Third district court against James Farrah to recover $70.05 alleged to be due for building material. It is also prayed the sum be adjudged a lien on the building to which the material was used.

Finley G. Brooks, in the employ of White & Stone company, was fined $50 by Commissioner Pratt recently for a violation of the fish and game laws. He paid his fine and withdrew the notice of appeal.

Joseph Baumgarten has begun a suit against E. A. Keeler et al to recover $1,784.50 on a promissory note secured by a mortgage.

Judgment has been entered in the Third district court for the plaintiff in the suit of Edward P. Ferrville vs Salt Lake City for $479.35.

"CIRCULATION."

The Heart of an Ox Exhibited by Dr. Babcock at a Lecture Today.

As heretofore stated in the NEWS, there are daily lectures in the physical culture department of the Summer school, the topics having a vital connection with the care and development of the physical organism.

Dr. Babcock spoke this morning upon the subject of "Circulation," the hour proving a very profitable one. In addressing himself to his subject the doctor exhibited the heart of an ox, showing its construction by probing out the auricles, ventricles, valves, aorta, pulmonary arteries, etc. He showed in a very clear manner the circulation through the heart—the engine of the body. The names of the articles, veins and capillaries of the body, and the circulation by means of these organs as medicine, was also presented, and all medicine considered.

A very interesting feature in connection with the lecture was the circulation as seen through a frog's foot by means of a microscope. The motion of the heart in instances of strong emotion, excitement or exercise, caution in case of accident, or violent exertion were also discussed in all their bearings. The vital connection between the circulatory system and the digestive apparatus was shown in the case of taking a full meal during the time of close mental application, without giving the proper time for the brain to rest, the blood being in the brain, instead of performing its function in the process of digestion.

These lectures are of great importance, and were the "house we live in" considered of sufficient importance for us to pause in the absorbing cares of life long enough, said the speaker, to admit of giving attention to such topics, the average mortality would be considerably lessened.

IN SAN JUAN COUNTY.

Crops and Cattle are Suffering from the Drouth.

Fruit That Never Wants for Want of a Market—Canning Factory Needed—Acid Spectacles.

Special to the NEWS.

BLUFF, San Juan County, July 12.—Our cattle are from poor to the range. We have had no rain, to speak of, for three years. Drouth and locusts will get driven out of the country if some change for the better does not soon come.

The crops at Monticello are suffering from drouth. The fruit crop here at Bluff is the best we have ever had. Peaches and apricots are ripe, but there is not much sale for them fresh, and we have no means wind with clouds of sand that we are unable to make any headway drying one of them. We want and must have some mode of evaporating to save our fruit. Had we a little more faith and money we could build a canning factory.

Some mining is being done in the gold placers. Two companies are here, one from Ogden and one from Colorado.

F. A. HAMMOND.

PROF. MARSHALL'S TURN.

He Speaks on "Schools, Colleges, Universities and Degrees."

At the Summer school today, Prof. Marshall chose as the topic for his seminary talk, the subject of "Schools, colleges, universities and degrees."

In the city schools the system is generally divided into the primary department, or the first four years of school life; the grammar department or the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and the high school, or the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The course of the primary and grammar departments, without the high school, is what is generally termed the district school. The completing of the third year in arithmetic cannot complete a country district education. The high school is sometimes known as college or academy. However, a student really enters upon collegiate work when he completes the work belonging to the high school curriculum. When a student completes the four years' work, ending with the seventeenth year, he has graduates from the college, the average age at graduation being twenty-one years. The American colleges of the West, in fact those west of the Allegheny mountains, have brought themselves into disrepute by conferring degrees upon those who are not entitled to this distinction, and many of the colleges have sought to beauty their name by placing the standard higher.

The degree usually conferred by colleges are A.B., or a course in the arts, having particular reference to the ancient language. When a student concentrates his efforts upon scientific lines he is awarded the degree of B.S.; where upon philosophical lines, the degree of Ph.B.; where upon the modern languages, the degree of B.L. Diplomas containing such degrees should be conferred only by institutions which offer courses of an extended nature. The speaker discriminated against the promiscuous use of professor as applied to the principal of a high school, of an academy, or even of some secondary colleges. A professor is one who is regularly ordained by an institution entitled to confer degrees, and who is at the head of a department of study. Those who assist in departments are known as instructors. The term professor, as usually applied, is wrong, and carries with it a misconception that the person does not always possess.

Summer School Notes.

Prof. W. M. Stewart has been engaged to conduct the district institute at Brigham City as soon as the Summer school shall have closed. Prof. Wolfling will assist Prof. Stewart at Brigham City and Miss Hyde at Tooele.

Carbon county has also engaged the services of Prof. Stewart as conductor of the Summer school in that county.

Dr. J. T. Kingsbury will deliver a lecture on Monday evening next, in the art room of the University. He will illustrate by experiments.

Mrs. Maud M. Babcock will give the next talk before the summer school on Monday next, on the subject, The Relation of Physical Culture to the Public Schools.

EAST SYRACUSE.

SYRACUSE, Davis county, July 12, 1894.—Haymaking in this place will be soon over. The crop of the header is heavy on every side. The potato and beet crops promise to excel any that have been raised here before. The A. S. R. company have put out an orchard of 1,000 trees, all doing well. Wm. Miller, 400, and others from that down, have started orchards which look well. Flowing wells and reservoirs are becoming very common and many are raising fish in their reservoirs.

The 24th will be celebrated in grand style at Syracuse by the combined schools, Pleasant View, etc., of Kaysville, Clearfield, Syracuse and South Hooper. We have had some very heavy winds of late but no rain.

Yours truly, J. C.

THE UNION SHOOTING CASE.

The Court Adjourns in Order to the Hospital to Take Anderson's Deposition.

The case of Andrew Peterson, accused of discharging the contents of a loaded shotgun into one of the legs of his uncle, Carl Anderson, at Union, a few days ago, was called for the second time in the police court this afternoon.

To the charge of attempted murder the defendant previously plead not guilty and the investigation was proceeded with. After the examination of a number of witnesses the court adjourned to go with the attorneys of both sides to the Sisters' hospital to take the deposition of Anderson, the victim of the shooting.

Appeal Taken.

An appeal was entered today in the Third district court in the case of Mary H. Bahring vs Simmons & Nelson. It comes from Justice Whitbeck's court, where judgment was rendered for the plaintiff for $5 and $16.20 costs. The claim was for $25 on a bedroom suite claimed to have been delivered by plaintiff to defendants. The latter now appeal.

An abstract on appeal from the same Justice's court has been filed today by the defendant in the case of J. J. Reynolds vs Ellis Morris. The claim was for $203.8, balance of account for clay, and judgment was rendered in plaintiff's favor.

Juvenile Opera.

Ernest E. Hewett's Juvenile Opera company, of the Second Ward, gave a very creditable performance last evening, at the ward meeting house. The company presented the operetta "Snow White." It will be repeated tonight.

YOUNG ALLRED'S DEATH.

Other Particulars Regarding the Lamentable Accident in Sanpete County.

The NEWS acknowledges the receipt of several communications giving particulars of the lamentable accident to J. H. Alfred, a telegraphic account of which appeared in our issue of Monday, the 9th. These give details of the sad event, some of which have not been published. Following is one of the communications, which is substantially the same as the others:

SPRING CITY, July 10th, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

Please give place in your valuable paper for the following items regarding the lamentable accident which resulted in the death of John Byron, son of Reuben W. Alfred, Jr., and Clara A. Hillman Alfred.

The young man would have been 19 years old the 16th of next October. He was herding sheep for Heber Jepsen, in the canyon east. They went out together with the sheep on Friday last, and he was seen at 11 o'clock. When he was missed Jepsen began hunting, and on Saturday he got another man to help, but without success, and on Sunday he sent word to Spring City.

The father, with Bishop Allred, on Sunday morn, started about 7 o'clock p. m. They scattered out into small parties, one of which, with the bishop, went to where the young man's tracks had been seen on the side of a clay bank, but at a ledge of rocks, and they felt sure that he had lost his footing, and finding nothing to cling to, had gone over the precipice. They then went around to the bottom and climbed up about 100 feet, where they saw a little white spot one foot in diameter. He was lying on his back, head down, about twelve to fourteen feet from the top. No doubt he was dashed to pieces.

The boys packed him on a horse for twelve miles by placing him in the saddle and one on behind to hold him on, until they met a wagon that had been expressed for. They arrived home on Monday morning, where the remains lay in a decent resting form, for that was virtually a sleepless night in Spring City. The family were completely overcome with grief, for that was the first death out of his household.

The deceased was faithful, honest and an honest, manly and good young man, highly esteemed by all who knew him. The funeral at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon was largely attended, and soul-inspiring words were spoken by a number of Bishops. The feeling prevailed the deceased for his manifest attendance with his quorum and Elder Rudolph said he had been late Tuesday for many years and always found him right. About forty vehicles followed him to his last resting place, and Bishop James A. Allred offered the dedicatory prayer.

BENJAMIN N. ALLRED.

Wasatch S. S. Conference.

HEBER CITY, Wasatch county, Utah, July 9.—The second annual Sunday school conference of the Wasatch Stake convened in the Stake tabernacle Heber City, on July 7th and 8th. Saturday morning's session was called to order by Stake Supt. John H. Lambert, and after the opening exercises, delivered his address of welcome. As this session was supposed to be for the benefit of Sunday school officers of the time was devoted to the method of Sunday school, discussing the proper procedure in class work and the duties of the officers.

After reports from superintendents of various schools, the officers and teachers' meeting took place. Elder John M. Wallace spoke at some length upon the duties of Sunday school disciplinarians, and took issue with the use of every means of joining the spiritual working the supplication of God, and was pleased with the day interest taken in Sunday school matters.

At 2 p. m. reports from several ward superintendents were given. The primary department of the Charleston school resulted in a veritable scattering, the "Articles of Faith" a resolution was received from the superintendent of Hayesville school, followed by questions to answer on the same, by Heber Creek school.

Stake superintendent J. H. Lambert then reported that the Sunday schools of the Stake were in excellent condition, and was followed with remarks on Sunday school work by Elders H. J. Grant and Joseph W. Wilcox, both impressing upon the parents the importance of teaching correct doctrines and setting proper examples.

After the afternoon session the visitors were driven over Mt. Midway and viewed the "Sad park" and the beautiful scenery in the Western Stake, and at 8 p. m. held a crowded meeting in Midway tabernacle, where Elders Grant Whitaker and Hayes spoke upon the Word of Wisdom and the necessity of encouraging home industries. After the meeting the brethren were driven back to Heber City, after a most pleasant and profitable day.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the tabernacle at Heber City was crowded with interested hearers and workers. The conference was called to order by Assistant Stake Superintendent H. Bridge and after the opening exercises reports read from the ward and stake and provisionary appointed. The afternoon session of Heber Sunday school, conducted by H. Duke, featured a regular class exercise upon the bringing forth of the Book of Mormon.

The remainder of the time was occupied by Elder J. H. Wheeler, in treating divinely upon the proper method of instructing the young.

After the morning session, at 11:30, an officers and teachers' meeting was held, the important questions regarding Sunday school work were discussed. Remarks were made by Elders Grant and Whitaker, bearing directly upon Sunday school work.

Elder Whitaker visited Sunday school Sunday evening, while Elder Grant attended to the afternoon and evening session.

On Monday afternoon conference was called to order by Assistant Stake Superintendent William McMillan.

The Sacrament was administered.

The names of the Sunday school officers were presented and unanimously sustained. L. B. Duke was made Stake Secretary and Treasurer, and Wm. Lindsay clerk of the conference.

Elder Wm. McMillan then spoke kindly of the great interest that is felt towards the Sunday school work. He was followed by Elder H. Bridge, and Stake Superintendent Lambert, after whom the choir sang Utah, the Queen of the West.

Elder H. J. Grant then expressed himself as being once pleased with the spirit and proceedings of this session, commenced his address in encouraging the officers and workers in the schools, and gave many good instructions. Elder Abram Hayes followed with a few remarks, and after Elder Lambert had thanked the visitors for their presence, the third session and conference was offered by Wm. Lindsay.

In the evening Elder Grant addressed a crowded meeting in the tabernacle, dealing with questions of the hour, and the session adjourned for one year.
