THE GUKER'S GOLD MINE

Story of the Great Rainbow, Its Development and Production to Date.

HOW A MAN BECAME RICH IN A NIGHT.

[illegible]

[illegible] Congress, and remember the Lodge bill, or the Dolph bill for that matter, or the Great Northern bill, Chinese bill, the Hawaii annexation treaty, or the Nicaragua canal bill, or any other bill, for that matter, Congress will pass a number of bills for the benefit of gold mining in the United States, and the bill which will be most in accordance with the principles of the Great Northern will be that which will provide for the payment of a bounty on gold quartz in the rough from and the bill which will not hold. The government should, and in the manner in which we come to the production of such a valuable metal, the production of which is worth the care of all who are engaged in mining, the operations carried from an acreage.

[illegible] Mr. Guker, of Cripple Creek, Colorado, on the morning of September 9, 1896, in Salt Lake City, the good [illegible] Mr. Guker was a Denver man, or at least he was a Denver man in the fall of 1896, and he was in Salt Lake City, and he was a man of [illegible] and he was a man of [illegible] and he was a man of [illegible]