service Monday, two hundred Sunday schools, W. F. Peat of Hawaiian and Charles Wood Jr. of Utah, were called to the stand and gave interesting reports of their experience and labors in their fields.

Elder David Thomas spoke a short time on the patriot heroes in the Church organization, etc.

Elder David S. Stevens spoke on the necessity of last day disciples and striving for the prize.

Elder Grant occupied the balance of the hour, and showed the folly in the declaration by the fool, "there is no God." It seems to be easier for men of wealth to give up their religion and live their religion than it is for those with limited means. Prayer is a check against sin. The sinner does not believe praying.

In the afternoon the address to the Saints on Church discipline was read by Elder Christian Anderson and unanimously sustained. The general and local authorities were then presented and unanimously sustained.

Elder Grant was pleased with the unanimous voting. He returns to New York of the people who attended, and denied that those were up members present who did not sustain the Church. Many would make it known. There was no response. He also read from the Doctrine and Covenants, and the 121st in regard to the proper use of authority, and from the 4th chapter of page 70 and on page 80, and weighty quotations relative to humility, and uncovered a very impressive discourse on forgiveness and the folly of vengeance, etc.

President Hinckley made a few closing remarks, thanking the choir for their excellent singing, etc.

Conference was then adjourned to meet at Ogden, August 23d and 24th next.

CHRISTIAN ANDERSON, Clerk.

S. S. Conference in Idaho.

OAKLEY, Idaho, May 30.—A very pleasant and profitable Sunday school conference was held at Oakley Day, May 30 and 31. Good Sunday School Days, George Hulbert and T. C. Griggs of the Sunday School Union were present and gave very interesting addresses. Sunday school work was discussed in a very satisfactory manner. Prayer in Sunday school work, etc. It is gratifying to see how well Brother Hulbert's songs, with children for a congregation, take among the people, especially among the children. The people commended to discretion in order from the last department of the Sunday school, recitations in concert of the Articles of Faith, Two Commandments and the Lord's Prayer, and reports for the various schools throughout the Stake by the superintendents or representatives, with short speeches from Bannock, Albion, etc.

The afternoon session was devoted to Sunday school work, and the evening. After having held four regular and one constant meeting, the people voted for another meeting in the evening, which was well attended by parents and the larger children.

We enjoy these treats usually and hope the aged writers of the S. S. union will be substituted with Brother Hulbert and his children in their active work.

Sound and spiritual songs and music.
