WHEN Judge Bartch returns from Beaver he will turn his attention to the law and motion calendar.

THANK will be services at the Jewish Temple Wilse Israel this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rabbi Jacobson will deliver the sermon.

THE funeral of Elizabeth F. Thomas, wife of Thomas C. Thomas, 765 W. First North street, will start from the residence at 12 o'clock on Sunday, September 17th, and services will be held at the Latter-day Saints' new meeting house in the Sixteenth ward at 1:30.

A BURGLAR entered the basement of Otto Statzner's residence, at the corner of Second South and Fourth East streets last evening, but he frightened himself away by accidentally stepping on a box of glass bottles, an act that startled also the members of the household.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued by Deputy Clerk Jack to the following persons: Hans Larsen Livingstone and Caroline Sofie Jensen Halvorsen; Mary Hellman, Wm. A. Simpson and Emma Wicks, all of Salt Lake; Amos Wadsworth of Philadelphia and Rosalie H. Malad Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Malad Stake of Zion convened at West Portage, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 10th and 11th, 1893. There were present upon the stand besides the Stake Presidency, Elders S. R. Young and C. D. Gibson of the first council of Seventies, Elder Charles Kelly of Box Elder Stake, Bishop A. Hendricks of Snowville ward and Elder Crawford Dunn of Beaver Dam. A good representation of High Councilors, Bishops and members of the Stake was in attendance.

President O. C. Hoskins reported the stake to be in a fair condition generally. Financial matters were somewhat embarrassing, but the people act well spiritually.

The visiting brethren occupied the major part of the time during the conference. The instructions generally were of a very practical nature, dwelling practically upon the financial condition of the people, which had been brought about through the people living above their means and neglecting home industries, and that the only way out was to live nearer to the Lord, practice greater economy and build up home industries. The Saints returned to their homes feeling well repaid for attending the meetings.

LEWIS D. JONES,
Clerk pro tem.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD.

Business Transacted By the Supervisors of Election, Last Night.

NEW TEACHERS EMPLOYED.

Crowded Condition of Some Buildings.—Reports of Committees.—Appropriations.—Miscellaneous.

The city school board met last evening and was presided over by President Nelson. The members present were Dooly, Baldwin, Beatie, Pike, Pratt, Alff, Pendleton.

THE PROFESSIONAL.

Proposition of Joseph J. Imlay to furnish ten cords of kindling wood for use in the school houses was referred to committee on supplies with power to act.

The petition of Wm. L. Adair to teach was referred to the committee on teachers.

Harry Hornsby represented that he could not properly care for the Lowell school for $60.76 per month but that he would do so for $1000 a year. Referred.

Stanley Price, assistant clerk, was allowed two weeks leave of absence to visit the World's Fair.

William Leader asked that $35.20 be retained for him from money due the Western Heating and Ventilating company.

The committee on sites and buildings recommended that the superintendent of buildings be authorized to make certain repairs at the Washington, Jackson, Lincoln, Hamilton, Sumner, Lowell, Franklin and Bryant schools and to keep the buildings in good repair. Granted, on condition that no new expenditure shall accrue and that all repairs come to the board at the board meeting after the work has been done.

Frank Lutton was awarded the contract for sewerage work.

The committee on sites and buildings reported that the bids of the Overland Machinery company (accepted by the Henry and Hyde Engineering company) for heating and ventilating the Longfellow and Bryant schools and for kindling wood be have been withdrawn by the contractors, and the matter by the board for the heating apparatus for the Jackson school that have returned to the attorney of the board. The committee also reported that the bids filed by Bothwell & McGonagle, assignees of F. M. Wright, the contractor for the Washington school, amounting to $7001.85, and the Utah Stove and Hardware company in the sum of $765.09 on the same building had also been referred to the attorney for his opinion. The first portion of the report was filed and the action of the committee in regard to the bids approved.

The committee on furniture and supplies made the following recommendations:

First—That H. H. Rowe be paid $15 for the rent of a certain school building for July and August, in consequence of the building being given up at the close of August. Second—That Mr. Sylvester be appointed as janitor at the Jacobs building, in Norwood place, at a salary of $8 per month. Third—That Superintendent of Buildings Pinney be authorized to have general supervision over all machinery and heating apparatus, coal and grounds, and to direct the janitors in the proper care and care of the same. Fourth—That certain rules regarding the duties of janitors be printed and 250 copies placed up in the different rooms.

The first three recommendations were adopted and the fourth referred back to the committee with authority to have the rules printed in as many cards as they shall deem necessary.

The committee on teachers and school work reported that eighty teachers had passed the examination and received certificates, of whom forty-two were for the primary grade, thirty-eight for the grammar above the fourth grade. Of primary teachers thirteen received second grade certificates, twenty-two third grade certificates, and seven failed; of higher grade teachers nine received first grade certificates, twenty second grade certificates, seven third grade and three failed to pass. Filed.

The same committee recommended that the seats now in the old Horne ward building be removed to the old Third ward building which contains two rooms and that an additional teacher be employed for the extra room relieving the Summer school which is very much crowded.

Also that a teacher be employed for the basement room of the Lincoln school, that a double session for the beginners' class in the Bryant school be held as there are now 125 pupils enrolled and that an extra teacher for the recitation room, this to continue until the Wasatch school is completed. Also that the south basement room in the Fourteenth school be used for school purposes and that a teacher be employed for the same.

The committee also recommended that the two basement rooms in the Lowell school be fitted up with seats, and teachers be appointed, and that another be appointed to occupy one of the ventilation rooms and thus bring relief in the higher grades in that building.

The following new teachers were employed: Fanny Allen, $60 per month; Henrietta Clark, $65 per month; Mrs. M. J. Holloway, $75 per month, Anna C. Pike, $55 per month.

It was resolved that no janitor shall be permitted to leave the school buildings that are heated with steam or hot air while the schools are in session.

Robert G. Booth, on motion of Pike, was employed as janitor for the Jackson school. Adopted.

The committee on sites and buildings reported as follows: Having found upon examination that the building in Norwood Place known as the Cutler building could not be altered to suit the needs of the school in that place and having found a building belonging to J. G. Jacobs, which is much better suited for the purpose, recommend its rental at $1 50 per month. The committee also recommended the repairing of the partitions in the Cutler building and that it be left in as good condition as when the board took it. Adopted.

Appropriations amounting to $1022.[illegible] were made after which the board adjourned for one week.

GOOD WORDS FOR APACHE.

An Old Friend Writes of the Resources and Prosperity of His Arizona Home.

SCHNEBLY'S, Apache Co., ARIZONA, Sept. 6, 1893.

Editor Deseret News.

As we seldom see anything in your valued paper from this far off land I will jot a few items. We are distant by wagon road from Salt Lake between 800 and 900 miles, by rail over 1300 miles, but most of us take Salt Lake papers and are more familiar with matters in Utah than in the capital of our own Territory.

We have just had the pleasure of having our old friend John Snow quarterly conference held in our ward, and it is plainly manifest to all that since the dedication of the Salt Lake Temple the Saints as a rule in this Stake have partaken of the good Spirit and our conferences were marked by the best and the best attended ever held in the Stake, and more of the good Spirit was poured out upon the Elders who spoke to us than your correspondent ever saw or felt in his experience of half-several years as a member of the Church. It seems encouraging to the reports of the Stake Presidency and Bishops it is general throughout Stake.

We have been blessed since about the 15th of July with good rains and our valleys and mesas are as green as a field of alfalfa. Feed is abundant, and, while we do appreciate after long years of adverse drought, in which grass never got green and consequently a large share of our stock have died, and some who formerly had several hundred head of cattle now not more than a dozen milk for family use. Our crops are light. We get only an average one crop of alfalfa, and all crops are probably not over one-half of a crop. We would have had more had the promised water irrigation. We have spent in labor, etc., about $15,000 in the last two or three years in making canals and storage reservoirs and feel that our prospects for another year are good.

Our ward consists of 54 families, or a total of 353 souls—115 of whom are under eight years of age.

We have two good Sunday schools in the ward and three district schools; our laws are very liberal on school matters; we have had and we have first class and good teachers, at home who are not well qualified can get certificates to teach. We have many good resources. Fine wood is abundant and close by—we can get a good load in from four to eight hours' time. Saw timber and house poles can be got in abundance within ten miles of our town. We have good, pure water and as a rule plenty to irrigate with, but the snow in the mountains made in the early spring and the flood leaves us bare we need it. To remedy this we have plenty of nearly natural storage places, and expect to add each year more of these places till we have water in abundance.

The Lehonday Saints in this (St. John's) stake are in number about 1500 souls, in seven Bishops' wards, two of which are in New Mexico. Many of our brethren have become discouraged and returned to their old homes in Utah, but those who have remained seem to feel contented and are long we shall have as pleasant homes as our brethren in our dear old Utah. I feel confident that Apache county can compete in its agricultural, stock raising, lumbering and other resources more people than your favored country of Utah, but our resources are not as yet developed. We have a good saleable stock nearly miles distant. We generally get a good load to Phoenix four days and it is a good article. We do not have to go into the rugged canyons as you Salt Lake people used to do. Our new timber is mostly on level ground and it may be profitably cut as we now know it in little regard than Utah. We have a number of steam and water saw mills in this county. We have to date sixty two good Poles Boy, mills—six of Mr. Jones, owned by the St. Johns U. S. M. Co., and one at this place, owned by our Bishop president, David K. Udall, and his brother, Joseph. We also have one horse mill at Alpine ward, owned by Joseph S. Morrill.

Most of the irrigation canals in this county and the wells and the agricultural developments are the work of the Lehonday Saints. Most of our non-Mormon friends are engaged in stock raising, merchandising, etc., in general good feeling exists between all classes, and we voted at our last election as we deemed wise or according to our belief with the two great parties. A part of our county officers are Democrats and a part Republicans.

General good health exists in the Stake, except a few cases of malarial fever at St. Johns and a case of some size to this place. A son of Wm. P. Argile was bitten by a rattlesnake about ten days ago. He was passing through some weeds and it took hold of his ankle, and it was an effort to get it loose. He has been quite bad, but is considered out of danger now.

We need no help to sell our wards, but if some come to assist us our sons, who are not a few in this land, will soon be men, and they, as a rule, are satisfied to stay.

I have been a reader of your paper for over thirty-five years, and wish the dear old News, the DESERET NEWS, success. GEORGE H. CROSBY.
