LOCAL LAND OWNERS

One of Them Thinks It Would Be a Good Idea to Get Together

AND TALK MATTERS OVER.

Property From Which Not Enough Revenue Is Derived to Pay Taxes.

Commenting on the condition and duty of landowners, a well known city official and owner said to a News representative today:

"In Salt Lake City land is owned in large tracts in many instances and the owners now find it impossible to get sufficient revenue from the property to enable them to meet their taxes. Many owners this year have to mortgage their possessions in order to pay taxes. This is not a healthy state of affairs. Many landowners look with apprehension upon the operations of 1894. If nothing is done for silver, many people who have had their income from silver mining will be disappointed again and it seems unreasonable to expect much revenue in taxation so that unless these impose materially are relief comes from some unexpected quarter the payment of taxes one year from this will be a more serious matter than now.

"With such conditions existing it would seem to be good sense for landowners to get together as they have done in other cities and plan as much as possible to prevent their own ruin. Unfortunately there already are numerous their benefits to fight the metropolitan issues and if they succeed in having that abolished the curtain will be that much greater on more owners.

"The Legislature will meet and if any change is to be made in assessment methods the work should be started. In lieu of a thing the old law is made one (as has been done) and taking methods and rules adopted which have been called for in the late courts.

"The matter of Holy Orders is not so well upon the universal taxation plan, but the general effect is not present taxation methods make it apparent that probably owners are in this country that are in reality land all the surplus.

"The annual meeting of new Salt Lake make it necessary for landowners to adopt some methods. Business is a thing unknown to officers is not necessarily a reason that it would not be practicable or advisable.

"The methods in force in other states are more nearly uniform and have as been sufficient reason of property or will secure a fairer distribution of the burden of taxation than the methods of Utah have which were adopted when the law latter was passed. If Jim Smith had a thousand dollars to pay in the county treasurer and his neighbor Smith had but $500 to pay, it would be well for Jim to point to Smith and say, "Look at that man, he owes but half as much as I do." Smith would take the hint, go home and say to the Hon. so-and-so, "Look at Jim, he pays double what I do." Jim would point to Smith and say, "Look at Smith, he pays double what I do." Jim would point to Smith and say, "Look at Smith, he pays double what I do." Jim would point to Smith and say, "Look at Smith
