WE understand John Maxwell has arranged for the appearance, at the Opera House, at an early date, of "A Wife's Honor" Co., Henderson's colored minstrels, Jannaschek, Alvin Joslyn, Kate Claxton and Hanson's "Across the Atlantic."

AS usual on Saturdays, a large number of "four corner" couples are in town to-day, many of whom are riding in sleighs which are not very grand in appearance, but the fine condition of their well-kept horses, partially offsets the shabbiness of the "vehicles."

AS was stated in last evening's News the Fitzgeralds' case was in progress before Judge Spiera when we went to press. The original prosecutor, Judge witness was not to be found, and the evidence of the other witnesses was insufficient to prove that the defendant was guilty of the charge of selling liquor on Sunday.

THE Penitentiary contains three less convicts now than it did a few days ago, that number having been pardoned out by the Governor, under the Copper act. They were all three convicted last March for the following crimes: John Leland, attempted rape; Joseph Matthews, grand larceny; and John Ross, grand larceny.

GABRIEL HUNTERMAN, of Fillmore, is in town, and though almost overcome with grief at the terrible accident which recently deprived his son of life, is trying to bear up as well as possible under it, and is about attending to business, and trying to get his mind off his trouble. We learn from him that Brother Wm. H. Klag, the involuntary author of the tragedy, is feeling very badly over it, though his friends have done all they could to console him.

THE social held in the 12th Ward Hall yesterday afternoon and evening was in every way a success. At the children's party the house was filled to overflowing and the young folks enjoyed themselves very much. In the evening Presidents George Q. Cannon, Angus M. Cannon and Joseph E. Taylor were present and participated in the dance with the happy throng. Everything passed off pleasantly, and it was indeed an enjoyable reunion.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.—Mr. John Capson, the gentleman mentioned in last evening's issue as being charged before Judge Spiera with conducting a small mercantile business south of the city without a license, called this morning and explained that he had previously paid his revenue license and did not know he was required to pay any other. But last Wednesday or Thursday Jos. E. Morris called and notified him of the other license; whereupon Mr. Capson said he was coming to town Friday (yesterday) and would pay it.

On entering the office of the County Clerk to pay his license yesterday, he was much surprised to learn that Mr. Morris had arrived in the city first and sworn out the complaint against him, and that he was obliged to pay $25 costs, besides his license.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—The Weber Stake of Zion is holding a Quarterly Conference in the Ogden Tabernacle to-day and to-morrow.

—A man died of smallpox at Huntington, Idaho, Friday last. The victim was among the emigrants blockaded there by the snow.

—Governor Hale, of Wyoming, whose death was noticed in a recent issue, was buried yesterday at Cheyenne, under Masonic rites.

—Richard Olds, the man who was so seriously injured while ascending the shaft of one of the mines near Butte the other day, died from the effects of his injuries, and was buried last Wednesday.

—Ell Murray, Governor of Utah, according to the News-Miner, will arrive at Boise this week. He is going to help put the finishing touch on disfranchising the Mormons in Idaho.—Idaho Democrat.

—The store of George Woodworth, of Butte, M. T., was entered Wednesday morning by burglars, and goods to the amount of $175 were taken. Circumstances evidently go to show that the deed was done by some Chinamen, but no arrests have been made.

—The employees of the Provo factory had a grand social last Thursday evening, just previous to separating for the winter, as the factory is generally closed during the coldest weather. It was held in the Court room, and upwards of 200 persons were present.

—Mayor Dusenberry, of Provo, met with quite a painful accident on Tuesday night. While crossing a Street he slipped on the ice and one of his ankles was sprained. Two persons coming up at the time assisted the Mayor back to his home, where he has since remained, being unable to attend to his business.

—The Denver & Rio Grande train coming west over and named a steer near Bingham, Thursday afternoon. The train was stopped, and a brakeman, armed with a large calibre revolver, was sent to put the animal out of misery; but the animal turned upon his would-be slayer, and brain only stopped after ten shots had been fired into his head and body. Although both hind legs were nearly severed just below the knee, the brute seemed to forget its sufferings in a mad effort to reach the brakeman.

—Mrs. Allen Wilson, wife of Mr. L. A. Wilson, died at Provo on Wednesday night, shortly after giving birth to a child. Her husband had gone to the drug store to obtain some medicine, and Dr. Hannberg, who had attended the lady, had gone home, feeling assured that she would get along all right, when she was seized with fatal illness and died, there being only her attendant in the house at the time. The child is living and doing well. The grief of the husband may be imagined when, on returning home, he found his wife had died during his brief absence. Bro. Wilson has the sympathy of the entire community.

—Nearly two months ago a man named Phil Shuman, who pretended to be a stockman, fraudulently obtained money to the amount of $22 from Eli Simmons of Ogden, and then left for parts unknown. Since that time the officers have been on the alert for him, but no clue to his whereabouts could be obtained until last Thursday afternoon, when Sheriff G. B. Boland, of Weber County, happened to come across him here in the city and immediately seized the culprit. He was taken yesterday before U. S. Commissioner D. W. Felshaw, and pleaded not guilty. Owing to the absence of witnesses for the prosecution, the hearing was deferred until January 21st; in the meantime Shuman reposes in jail.

—Last Wednesday D. E. Woodman and Jas. Barringer were out hunting near Sheep Creek, Wyoming, and became separated, seeing nothing of each other until evening, when Barringer, who was following a trail toward home, saw Woodman's dog jump from a drift just in front of him. Mistaking the dog in the fading light for some kind of game, he quickly raised his gun and fired. The charge, which was buckshot, not only killed the dog on the spot, but part of it penetrated the body of Woodman, who had stepped in range just as the shot was fired. Barringer was horrified on discovering the consequences of his shot, and, though a small man, picked up his dying comrade and carried him on his shoulders for a long distance to a cabin in the woods. In the morning an attempt was made to take him to his home, where he could receive proper care, but he was too weak to endure the shock of removal and died on the way.

A BIG BLAZE.

THE MORGAN SMELTER CONSUMED BY FIRE.

About ten o'clock last night our citizens were startled by a fire alarm. Information had been received, by telephone, to the effect that the Morgan smelter, situated about a mile and a half south of this city, was on fire. A number of interested men started at once for the scene.

An employee in moving a slag-pot to the northeast corner of the building had accidentally upset a portion of the contents, which set fire to the building. A breeze was blowing from the north and in a short time the flames had so far taken hold of the building that all efforts to extinguish the fire were useless. And the building was burned to the ground.

This smelter was built by Ben. W. Morgan about nine years ago, and cost $6,000. About four years ago, A. Haneser Esq., took the works in charge, and has since enlarged to double the capacity. Eighty men were employed, and nearly all of them will be out of employment for a month or more. Mr. Haneser expects to have one furnace in blast inside of thirty days, provided the English Insurance Companies, with whom the works were insured to the amount of $10,000, make an immediate settlement. Mr. Haneser says it is his intention to rebuild and improve as soon as practicable. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

A Pleasant Trip.—We had a pleasant call this morning from Brother Reuben Kirkham, who is now on his way to his home in Logan. He has made a complete tour of the Territory, in company with Brother Martin Harris, exhibiting the panorama of the Book of Mormon. They have visited more than one hundred of the principal towns and settlements, exhibiting the pictures in each. The trip was a success in every way, and the panorama, with the accompanying lecture, was everywhere appreciated and received with pleasure.

While in Washington County, the brethren received a cordial invitation from the citizens of Silver Reef, nearly 100 miles from here, to come and exhibit there. They accepted the invitation and gave a very orderly and attentive audience an exhaustive lecture on the Book of Mormon, illustrated by the beautiful paintings of the panorama. During the trip, Brother Kirkham has made numerous sketches from nature, some of which possess considerable merit, and now the artist intends to spend a few months in developing them on canvases. The panorama will be exhibited at Bonanza this evening.

Law Lectures Postponed.—It has been advertised that J. L. Rawlins, Esq., would give a series of lectures on law in connection with the present course of instruction at the Deseret University, but owing to the unfavorable and consequently, unsatisfactory condition of the University building, the lectures have been postponed for the present.

Knight's of St. Dennis.—The Knights gave the first and last of their delightful parties at their hall last night. There were about one hundred persons present, and all had a glorious time. The music was furnished by Olsen's band. The Knights have just completed one of the most enjoyable series of parties ever given in our city. The programmes have all been carefully arranged and invitations were cautiously distributed, while the floor managers and Professor have filled their positions creditably.

Visit of Students.—Professor J. E. Talmage, of the B. Y. Academy, and the classes in physics and chemistry from that worthy institution, are up from Provo visiting some of our public institutions as evidenced by their lecture yesterday's Ogden Herald gives the particulars of the fatal accident.

"Yesterday, the citizens of this place engaged in a rabbit hunt which terminated very disastrously. After the rabbits were caught and her hunt declared, and while all were merrily chaffing each other in the matter, Brother Geo. S. Grant, while getting into the wagon to drive home, was suddenly killed by the discharge of his gun, the load entering a little below and in front of his right ear, and lodging in the brain. The features of the party were past description and the whole community are cast in gloom over the sad accident. He was, perhaps, the most generally known and esteemed citizen of the place."

JAS. STODDARD.

OAKLEY, Idaho, Jan. 14th, 1886.

A Disgraceful Affair.—Some time ago a woman named Sarah Ann Smith married a man known as Harry Jack. She afterwards went to Bingham, where she met and took up with a negro named Barney Davidson, whom she lived with for some time. All three met at Benies' saloon, in this city, last night. The negro wanted the woman to leave the place, and after refusing to do so, he took hold of her and tried to force her from the saloon. She resisted and in the tussle he bruised and bit her on the left arm. He afterwards went to a colored woman's home, where he was soon afterwards arrested by the police, who had been notified of the affair, by a young man, who had been sent to the City Hall, by Harry Jack. All parties concerned bear a hard name, the woman having spent several days behind the bars for drunkenness and profanity. The trio were before Justice Spiera to-day and a hearing was postponed until Monday.

The Teachers.—Notwithstanding the stormy and disagreeable state of the weather, the District School teachers of this county met in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms to-day, and had a very interesting and instructive meeting.

Mr. C. F. Wilcox had articles of school apparatus before the Association, making his lecture on "The Practical Illustration of How to Use School Apparatus," plain and interesting.

Mr. D. R. Allen spoke a few minutes on "The Object, Uses and How to Obtain a School Cabinet."

An essay on "The Difference between the Mind of Man and that of the Lower Animals," was read by Mr. S. Sanders. This was full of useful matter, with which every teacher should make himself familiar.

The general discussion "Self-Culture and Growth of the Teacher" was opened by Mr. Wm. Stewart, followed by Messrs. Higham, D. R. Allen and C. F. Wilcox.

The proceedings were criticized by the Spiera. Mr. Bowden, after which the association adjourned for two weeks, to meet again in the same place.

Wedding Bells.—Your reporter recently received the following card:—"Brother and Sister William Taylor desire your company on the occasion of the marriage of their daughter, at their residence, Mill Creek, on Friday afternoon, January 16th, 1886, at 1 o'clock."
