Bond Amendments Presented in the Senate by Quay.

CERTAIN ASKS FOR INSTRUCTIONS.

Bill to Repeal the Tax on State Bank Circulation Debated in the Committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—In the Senate Quay presented an amendment consisting several new clauses of the bond bill. They provide for the coinage of silver and the purchase of 145,000 ounces weekly and the issue of treasury notes in payment therefor, and repeal the existing laws for the issue of bonds.

Allen's resolution, calling on the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate how many bids were received for bonds and from whom, came up for consideration.

THE PROPER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In the Senate, during the debate on Hawaii, Dolliver, Iowa, stated that the rules of the committee provided against Hawaii's "barbarous and Bulgarian" allusions to the Hawaiian question.

Hoar said much confusion depended on Cullom's words to be taken down, but on a vote Cullom was sustained.

Lodge Cummings said: "The gentleman (Dolliver) is still out with a number bounds for making an entirely novel sheet on all occasions."

Dolliver again demanded that the words be taken down. They were read from the book. The speaker ruled that the language was not parliamentary. A hot discussion followed upon the decision.

The speaker had recognized Catchings from the committee on rules to report the rule setting aside today, Saturday and Monday for the consideration of the McCreary Hawaiian resolution, the vote to be taken at 4 p. m. on Monday, the minority report to be taken up.

Bailey at once began clamoring for recognition to call up his Hawaiian resolution, but the speaker declined to recognize him till the committee report was read, which, being complicated, Bailey asked the point that the report of the committee could not contain the privileged resolution affecting the very existence of the House, and also that this privileged question is submitted to the House.

The speaker said, if there was any impropriety in the course complained of it was to be laid at the door of the House and not to the Speaker, as the rules had superseded the ordinary rules allow at each report as compared. It was for the House to say whether it would consider the committee's resolution or that of Bailey.

The previous question was then ordered and fifteen minutes allowed each side.

Bailey spoke briefly and sarcastically, insisting the alleged arbitrary power of the Speaker and House had caused Barrows and Reed, the latter insisting that the successive rulings of the Speaker were other absurdities, and that the House was getting into a position in which it could not exercise its functions. By this time the House was all a tendon.

Tom Catchings rose to explain the office of the committee which, he said, was considered the quickest and most effective way for the House to dispose of what it would do.

Sam interrupted the remark that it was like the tinkings in the South, evil and inexpressive.

BIG TAX ON STATE BANKS CIRCULATION.

The effort to repeal the tax on state banks circulation was taken in the committee on banking today, 8 to 9. A vote was taken on Cox's bill, which relieves state banks from the tax, but does not extend their privileges to enjoining notes issued by private individuals or corporations. The vote was as follows:

For the bill: Cox, Cobb, (Ala.), Hall, Cobb, Johnson, (Ind.), Cobb, (Mich.), Cook, Coffeen, all Democrats.

Against the bill: Springer, Sperry, Warner, Democrats; Johnson, (Ind.), Hooker, Walker, Russell, Henderson, Hitt, Republicans. Johnson, (Ind.), and Cobb, (Ala.), voted favorably with the reservation that they would vote against the bill in the House. Several other bills to the same end with various limitations are pending before the committee. Springer thinks none of them will reach the House.

THE TARIFF BILL.

An engrossed copy of the tariff bill is being prepared by the House clerk. It is expected it will be transmitted to the House this afternoon, where Voorhees probably will ask that it be referred to the finance committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The President today transmitted to Congress a dispatch received from Minister Willis on last Saturday. The letter from President Dole is not inclosed for lack of time to transcribe it after Willis had received it. Willis's dispatch is dated at Honolulu Jan. 12th, and says: "Yesterday at 6:30 p. m. I received Hon. S. B. Dole's answer to my letter of January 1st, requesting him at his earliest convenience to give me the specifications contained in a previous letter. His answer is about fifty pages of closely written official paper and has been delivered for his either for copy or reply to us time for the steamer leaving at 2 p. m. today.

"There is one extract, however, to which I think your attention should be called wherein it is stated that 'this government has been and now is subjected to the necessity of increased warehouses and large additional expenses which, but for its attitude, would have been unnecessary.' (The emphasis above is mine.) In a previous letter of December 25th, Minister Dole had stated: 'The government officers have been placed and still continue in a condition of idleness and prostration of mind and the community has been put into a state of mind bordering on terrorism.' Some portion of the letters from which these extracts are made confirm the above statements, while others seem to negative them. With this explanation I submit them to your consideration. The next steamer will leave here February 3rd, when would place you in possession of Dole's letter and my proposed reply thereto about February 10th."
