KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Armstrong and Thompson on the Islands Question.

THE DAILY TRAIN DISASTER.

Latest Use of Electricity.—After the Gambling Fraternity.—Another Brute Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The fourth day of the Knights of Labor general assembly was the liveliest yet. Powderly made a scathing denunciation of the methods of certain men in the order and denounced the charges made by Secretary and Treasurer Hayes as absolutely and unpalatably false. He said there had been no misappropriation of the funds donated for relief of the strikers at Homestead and that every act of the executive board was open to the inspection of the delegates to the general assembly. He asked the general assembly if they were not satisfied with his explanation. He intimated that charges and false reports were given newspaper representatives by persons who had a grievance, real or fancied, against the members of the executive board. He stated he had the personal assurance of the officials of several large labor organizations that they would take immediate steps to set the matter of amalgamation with the Knights before their respective associations.

A meeting was held tonight for the purpose of considering ways and means for the amalgamation of all existing labor organizations. It is asserted that representatives from all the large bodies in Washington were present, and that plans were formed which, if carried out, will bring about a consolidation. Those present are said to represent a membership of from 750,000 to 1,000,000. Just what organizations outside the Knights of Labor and Federation of Labor were represented could not be ascertained. It being explained that the representatives at the meeting, while being men of influence in their orders, were not officially authorized to act. If the Knights of Labor representatives at the meeting have any say, however, Mr. Powderly, it is stated, will occupy a prominent executive position in the new order. The matter will be brought before the general assembly tomorrow, and the friends of Mr. Powderly think they can carry it through.

Armstrong Has His Say.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—N. A. Armstrong, at one time attorney general of the Hawaiian Islands, talks interestingly of the situation there. He says: "I resented exercised on me, as much as ten years ago, that it was not possible to maintain the existing form of government. Then the white people were loyal to the monarchy beyond what any of the natives were. As a matter of fact the natives were never in sympathy with the constitutional government that succeeded the rule of superstition and blood right of the old chiefs. If at any time the white people's support has been withdrawn it would have crumbled to pieces. Liliuokalani was appointed regent in Kalakua's absence on a trip around the world, on which I accompanied him. The late U. A. P. Carter, formerly Hawaiian minister at Washington, acted as attorney-general interim in my place, and upon the first things he was in the whole we got back was, if Liliuokalani ever succeeded to the throne there would be trouble for the peace of the islands. Even of Kalakua, who was more popular than Liliuokalani, the natives always said: 'A ka ale (he is no coin).'"

Ex-Secretary Thompson's Views.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 17.—Corresponding to the report that Minister Willis is placed to supreme command of the naval forces at Hawaii and the regular officers of the navy commanded to obey such orders as he may issue, Ex-Secretary of the Navy Thompson says tonight: "By what authority the President issues such an order it is hard to understand. The President is commander-in-chief of the army and navy and during a state of war may place at the head of either whomsoever he pleases, but if there is a war his nomination must be confirmed before it can take effect. In time of peace the regular officers of the navy are in command, and can not be superseded, even by the orders of the President. If the rumors referred to are true, the President has obviously regarded himself as above both the Constitution and the law in so doing, assuming authority which the queen of England would not dare to exercise."

Yesterday's Fatal Accident.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 17.—The Beaver Meadow branch of the Lehigh Valley Railroad was today the scene of a thrilling accident. About noon Foreman Eck, with six Hungarian laborers, boarded a hand-car. Half way down a steep grade the brake chain broke. Like a flash the frame ran down the mountain side. On the edge of a high embankment the track, with its human load was precipitated to the bottom of the bank, 50 feet, below. Andrew Roth was taken from the wreck dead, and Mike Marty fatally wounded. Foreman Eck received severe contusions on the body and head. Joe Tatelo had his legs broken and head cut. The other men escaped with severe, but not dangerous, wounds.

Letter From Mexico.

EL PASO, TEX., Nov. 17.—The latest developments in the Mexican revolution is a report that a battle occurred today somewhere near Palomas, but this is only because it was so planned, and not as an account of any news. The Mexican consul today presented to the district judge the names of people living in this country that the Diaz government wants arrested on a charge of violation of the neutrality laws. Judge Brewster agreed to furnish information to the United States marshal and the immigrants. Three hundred federal troops are now on the way from here to strengthen the force in Juarez.

Sent to a Cellar for a Month.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 17.—Nellie Denney, aged 18, was confined to a dark cellar for a month by William H. McCosh, aged 45, who has a wife and several children. The girl was found by the proprietor of the store above the cellar today in a terrible condition. Her clothing was filthy and her hair matted when she was discovered. McCosh has carried her meals to her. He assured her in the store where he was working in the evening and locked her up. He has been arrested.

To Head Off the Gamblers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The World tomorrow will say: Just before the late election a number of prominent men of this and other cities planned an urgent appeal to the people of the country to assist them in uniting all the moral forces against the evil practice of gambling. Noah Davis, one of the staunch workers in the movement says: "We intend to form a powerful national organization to fight the gamblers. It is not a political movement. We want the parties to assist us. We don't care if the legislature is Republican or Democratic or anything else. If the law against the gambling vice we will strive to have it repealed. A number of prominent men in all parts of the East are identified with the movement."

Drake and the $20,000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The police tell a quiet story regarding the $20,000 robbery of Treasurer Drake of the Illinois & Iowa railroad. City Detective Plunkett said: "While I was questioning Drake he certainly gave a very sorry tale and he did not see why the city police took so much interest in the robbery. It did not concern the people at large, and the matter might just as well be dropped, as the loss affected only his father and himself. The case, I understand, has been turned over to detectives by General Drake."

The police are devoting attention to tracing up several stories regarding young Drake's card, and American superintendent Kipling said this afternoon: "We shall not cease work on this alleged robbery until it has been established that actual robbery did the job or not. The fact that the man does not care to prosecute the search makes no difference with our duty."

Three Years Note Fiend Is Wanted.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—In the district court, before Judge Sager and Jury, the trial of Walter J. Raymond of Dayton, O., on the charge of forging the United States seals for fraudulent purposes was completed. Raymond was advertising, through letters and circulars, California land, which he offered for sale at $100 per acre, contingent on an annual profit of $50 per acre. The government showed that the land Raymond offered was in a portion of San Diego county, California, eighteen miles from water, where nothing could possibly grow. Raymond's defense was that he was deceived by his son as to the character of the land.

Witnesses were brought here from California, and a desperate fight made by Raymond, who, it is to-say, discovered many men. The jury found him guilty today, and Judge Sager this evening sentenced him to three years' imprisonment and a fine of $500.

Electricity on the Water.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 17.—The electrical propulsion of commercial boats on canals is no longer a theory, but a demonstrated success. Mule and steam power alone are doomed by the new power, which was successfully tested at 8 o'clock tonight alongside the village of Brighton, four miles from Rochester, on the waterway of the Erie canal. The inventor of Gerlos, now the Frank Hawley, named after the promoter of the scheme, was fitted out with an electrical motor by the Westinghouse company, footed boiler and engine, taking the power from the trolly wire overhead. Started off without hitch or hindrance. The electrical current was taken from the E-coster street Railway, of 500 volts power. The trial was successful in every way. Governor Flower and retinue arrived this afternoon, and the official test is set for tomorrow at 4 o'clock.

Steel by a New Process.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 17.—It is said the Standard Oil company is preparing to engage in manufacturing steel on a more magnificent scale than Carnegie or any other manufacturer by a new process which has been discovered to take steel directly from the ore that will reduce the cost to a minimum. Prominent capitalists are now in Cleveland conferring with the Standard officials.

Total Fight with Moonshiners.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—A special to the Republic from Birmingham, Ala., says: A posse of deputy marshals made a raid on moonshiners in Randolph county last night, destroying a number large stills and capturing John Fuller and Herman Hix, notorious moonshiners. A party of the prisoners' friends attempted a rescue and a desperate battle followed. Andrew Fowler was killed and two other rescuers fatally wounded.

Alaska and Arizona to be Sold.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The World tomorrow will say: The Guion line, one of the most successful companies in the transatlantic service, is about to end for all time its passenger service between Liverpool and New York. The reason is that the traffic is unprofitable. Its passenger ships Alaska and Arizona will be sold.

Must Pay the Transportation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—An order that will have a tendency to reduce the redemption of national bank notes was issued by Treasurer Morgan today. It provides that "On and after November 27, 1893, charges for transportation of national notes to the treasurer of the United States for redemption under the act approved January 20, 1874 (18 Statutes, 123), must be paid by the party making the remittance. If the charges are not prepaid the amount thereof will be deducted from the proceeds."

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Prize Fighting, Baseball, Cycling and Shooting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The sporting fraternity are confident that there will be no interference on the part of the authorities in Florida with the contest between Corbett and Mitchell January 25th. They say it prevented at the usual club the "mill" will come off anyway in the vicinity of Jacksonville.

Richard K. Fox sents letter to Lord Lonsdale in London, stating that rather than see the Corbett-Mitchell match fall through he would give $500 towards a purse of $2,000, providing Lord Lonsdale and his friends would make up the remainder of the purse. Fox also promised to give a trophy valued at $2,500 representing the boxing championship of the world, and he will allow Lord Lonsdale to arrange to bring off the contest either in England or on the continent by one the United States. This trophy will be kept in Europe.

New York, Nov. 17.—At the national league baseball magnates' meeting today, it was agreed that the schedule for 1894 be the same that we 1893. The president was authorized to appoint seven umpires only.

The ten leagues adopted last year, allowing each club to have reserve players, good in any league city, was rescinded; also the rule which allowing each club five per cent free admissions.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The Great Coal Strike Ended and Miners Returning to Work.

Lynching in Switzerland—Shipwreck in Engineering.—Gladstone and English Naval Supremacy.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The board of conciliation of miners of fourteen coal mines and fourteen coal mine owners. All the collieries to begin work, as far as practicable, immediately, and the lists are not to be discriminated against in resuming to work. The heart of conciliation is to have a neutral chairman, with a casting vote, and the board will have power to determine wages after March.

Lord Rosebery congratulated Gladstone on the favorable result of the conference. The premier was pleased. The news has given great satisfaction in all parts of the country, particularly among the labor leaders and organizers. There are scores of rejoicing bonfires in many towns over the settlement of the long struggle.

Burns, M. P., and labor leader, in an interview, said the success of the government's intervention was most important, as it encourages appeal to similar influence when strikes occur in the future. He says the result kills the contention of the employers that wages must follow fluctuations in prices. The miners, he said, had won a magnificent victory.

WATCH THE CHILDREN

Are the Warning Words of Dr. Mansfield and Hunt.—The Statement of Miss Miller, Given Below, Should Convince Parents to Have Closely Watch Their Little Ones.

"I am 19 years old and I have never been sick one day in my life," said Mary Miller to the writer.

MARY MILLER, 19 YEARS.

Continuing, she said, "I suffered with hard colds and coughs for three years, during which time I was confined to the house half the time. I was weak and had no appetite, and was constantly growing worse. I was attended by the best physicians in Chicago, but they did me no good. I was given up to die by my friends and relatives, and I was so weak I could not walk across the room. I had given up all hope of ever being well, when I read in the Chicago Times-Herald about Dr. Mansfield and Dr. Hunt's Germ Destroyer. I had no faith in it, but I was so weak I could not live long, and I thought I would try it. I had not taken it two days before I could see that I was improving. I continued taking it for a few weeks, when I was as well as ever. I have not had a cold since, and I attribute my present good health to the use of Dr. Mansfield and Dr. Hunt's Germ Destroyer. I am now 19 years old and I never was sick a day in my life."
