HUMAN LIVES LOST.

Cyclones Devastate New Towns in Oklahoma Territory.

MUCH DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

Hail and Rain Follow the Cyclone.—Cleveland and Party Arrive in New York.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 26.—Two distinct cyclones, a terrific hailstorm and a waterspout worked awful destruction in the newly built towns in Oklahoma last night. It is reported that sixty-two human lives were sacrificed. Positively forty were killed, while several were fatally and scores seriously injured. The damage to property is inestimable.

Orders for thirty-one coffins have been received here and at Norman, and supplies were telegraphed for from other points. The brunt of the storm laid upon the prosperous little town of Norman on the Santa Fe railway twenty miles south. At that point thirty-one people were killed, dozens injured and the town almost completely destroyed. The people are frenzied and cannot give an estimate of the loss, and know nothing except to care for the dead and injured.

The first signs of the impending danger was seen late yesterday afternoon in a black cloud overshadowing the northwest for miles around. At 7:30 o'clock the monster swooped down on the town of Moore. Houses and precious lives were caught up and carried before the angry torrent. Great trees were twisted, and barns, fences and everything in its path laid low.

Passing for eight miles it struck the town of Norman. Then it went to Downs and Keokuk Falls through Pottowattomie county, where thousands of dollars' worth of property was demolished.

Around Norman, after the cyclone, a fearful hailstorm started in, and after it a violent rainstorm began. The would-be rescuers could hear the pitying cries of the unfortunate, and here are there locate imprisoned victims, but help in most cases, was out of the question, and several unfortunates were compelled to lay buried beneath the debris of their homes. Men, women and children by the score spent the dismal night in the rain, in the endeavor to find loved ones.

Help from neighboring towns soon arrived, and before nightfall something like comfort was provided. Everything, however, is in confusion, and it will be impossible to gain a correct list of the casualties before tomorrow.

In Payne county, fifty miles north and near the territory line, a waterspout struck about the same time as did the cyclone, and although it is known that several houses were swept away, it is not known whether or not any lives were lost.

At Langstone, a negro town about twelve miles from Guthrie, thirty houses were carried away and fourteen people killed. The negroes are panic-stricken. They have no money and no energy and if they remain in Langston can only do it by aid from the outside. Dr. Fennelon of Norman was out last night and all day attending and wounded, and says he attended the injuries of 150 people, about thirty of whom were fatally hurt.

International Chess Match.

KOKOMO, Ind., April 16.—The closing game of the international chess match was won today by Emanuel Tasker, the European champion, in forty-five moves with four hours' play, giving a German the championship of America and a purse of $1,000.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Carl Schurz Chosen President of the League.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The first general business session of the National Civil Service Reform League (was held at the City Club this morning. Carl Schurz was elected president of the league and a number of vice-presidents were elected. At the morning session a number of interesting papers were read and received marked attention. The league concluded a two-days' session with a dinner to visiting delegates tonight. Speech-making began rather late in the evening and in consequence perhaps was remarkably short.

More Failures.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 26.—Two more Hedges-Garretson enterprises went to the wall this afternoon, and the end is not yet. The two assignments were made today by the Sioux City Dry Goods company and the Sioux City Dressed Beef & Canning company. The Dry Goods company is capitalized at $500,000, and occupied six floors in one of the Boston Investment company's big buildings. The assignment was made to W. E. Thomas for the benefit of creditors in general. The liabilities are placed at $283,000 and the assets at $371,179. About 5 o'clock the Dressed Beef & Canning company made a general assignment to Henry J. Taylor, without preferences as to creditors, with liabilities of $215,671 and assets placed at $27,166 exclusive of real estate not valued.

Death of Captain Wiltse.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Captain Gilbert C. Wiltse died here today of congestion of the brain. Captain Wiltse commanded the Boston during the trouble in Hawaii and led the marines that hoisted our flag, establishing a protectorate over the islands. He returned from Honolulu a few weeks ago, apparently in the full enjoyment of his usual good health, but was soon prostrated by the attack which has proved fatal.

SUNDAY OPENING

Discussed by the World's Fair National Commission.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A lively discussion was precipitated in the session of the World's Fair national commission this afternoon by a resolution providing for a committee to wait on the director general and elicit the facts regarding the insubordination of Musical Director Theodore Thomas and his supposed championship of piano men in opposition to his superior officers. The resolution was finally adopted.

Another hot fight over Sunday opening followed. Commissioner Eibeson of Iowa introduced the subject by a resolution that the commission request the authorities of the state of Illinois and the Chicago city authorities to request the local board of directors to take the necessary steps to test the legality of the Sunday closing provision of the state and federal courts. Judge Massey opposed the motion and a number of commissioners spoke on the subject, but when put to a vote the resolution carried.

CLEVELAND AND PARTY.

Arrival in New York of the Distinguished Visitors.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland and party arrived here from Washington tonight. The Pennsylvania depot in Jersey City was hung with the flags of all nations, streamers and innumerable yards of bunting in honor of the arrival of so distinguished a party. President Cleveland excused himself from accepting an invitation tendered by Clarence W. Bowen on behalf of the Union League club to attend a banquet there this evening. The cabinet officers were also compelled to decline similar invitations owing to the lateness of the hour of their arrival.

The Whisky Market.

CHICAGO, April 26.—By the action of the meeting of directors of the American Distillers' and Cattle Feeding Association today it is more than probable that one of the most gigantic fights ever witnessed in the whisky market was inaugurated. The action was the determination to issue bonds to meet the necessary expense of buying out the present distributors of the company's product, and if this cannot be accomplished, then to make the company its own distributor and establish plants throughout the country which step involves the amount of bonds to be issued. There are fifty-two distillery plants. Some of these, according to Greenhut, would be valued from $200,000 to $300,000, therefore bonds will be issued arranging for from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

STOPPED THE CZAR'S TRAIN

His Russian Majesty Gets Scared and is Taken Ill.

Various Rumors as to the Cause of the Peculiar Incident. —In Belfast.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—Many rumors are current regarding the cause of the stopping of the imperial train, while en route to Crimea, and the resulting fright by which the Czar was made ill. One rumor is to the effect that thousands of peasants living in the villages of Clarkeoff laid themselves upon the track in order to stop the Czar's train and thus have an opportunity to present to the Czar a petition against certain local abuses. A conflict ensued it is said between the train guard and the peasants, and the general result was that forty-two peasants and fifteen soldiers were killed in the fight or crushed by the train.

Work Found for Clerks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—Acting Commissioner of Pensions D. I. Murphy has transferred about fifty clerks who have heretofore been employed on "statistical work," but which, so far as he can see, are of no value to the office, to current work in order to facilitate the bringing up of business to date.

Naval Officers Banqueted.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The reception given to the officers of the visiting fleets and the duke of Veragua by the Union League Club this evening was a most brilliant affair. One thousand people were present. The duke of Veragua, escorted by Cornelius N. Bliss, arrived shortly before 10 o'clock. With him were his brother and son. He was escorted to the library where the visiting admirals from our own navy were presented to him, as were admirals and other naval officers from foreign ships.

After a Navajo Murderer.

DURANGO, April 26.—A letter from Farmington, where so much excitement was caused last week because of the murdering of Indian Trader Welch by Navajo Indians, which was received tonight, says the settlers are excited and that if Welch's murderer is not brought to justice his friends will take the matter in their own hands.

Dr. Buchanan Convicted.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The jury in the case of Dr. Buchanan, accused of poisoning his wife, after being out nearly two days, this evening brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

Giles Brothers' Liabilities.

CHICAGO, April 26.—William A. Giles said today that the assets and liabilities of Giles Brothers, the jewelry firm which failed yesterday, would approximate $200,000. The business is being conducted under a receivership.

Booth About the Same.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Edwin Booth's condition remains unchanged.

A Cardinal Dead.

ROME, April 27.—Cardinal Luigi Lepiacci is dead.

Belfast Quiet Again.

BELFAST, April 27.—Up to a late hour tonight there was no recurrence of yesterday's rioting of Orangemen and police. The city appears to have resumed the usual aspect, although no account of the presence of rowdies the worst districts are patrolled by troops.

The Manufacture of Tortoise Shell.

[The American Journal.]

The manufacture of tortoise shell is a restricted industry, necessarily, and requires a nice touch, quickness and good judgment. The principal modes of manipulation in the preparation of the shell for manufacture into various articles are moulding and welding. The moulding or pressing process consists in heating the shell until it is pliable, after which it is slowly and carefully pressed into moulds having the form of the object desired. When cold the mould is removed and the article polished. It is in this way that belts on combs and other round and shaped ornaments are made. This pressed shell can never be mended if broken, nor made into any other shape. If heated it resumes its original shape, and seems to have lost its welding property altogether.

In welding the shell the parts to be joined are beveled to a very thin edge, and are then laid together with a piece of fresh shell to make a thickness even with the remainder of the piece. The whole is subjected to the moist heat of scalding or boiling water, which gradually softens it, after which it is subjected to a strong pressure until the parts are securely joined; it is then worked in the usual way. Many people suppose that tortoise shell can be melted, but this is a mistake. If it could be done there would be an immense gain in the availability of the shell, a great deal of which is now wasted; as all of the waste, which is considerable, would be utilized and the danger of ruining the shell in welding or pressing would be eliminated. Efforts have been made to discover a method of melting the shell, but so far it has resisted all attempts.

Very few articles are made from a single thickness of the shell, for combs and hair-pins from two to four or five thicknesses are welded together. In heavier articles, such as paper knives, backs for hand mirrors and brushes, handles for eye-glasses, fan sticks and other things, a dozen thicknesses are often used. In all carved work several plates are welded together in order to give the workman a body to work upon. Sometimes very light and dainty open carved work on a single plate is seen. It is lacelike in its delicacy and fragile accordingly, so that it is oftener a mere treasure of skillful workmanship than for use. The older the tortoise the heavier and more valuable is his armor, of course. All species of tortoises and turtles live to a great age, sometimes over one hundred years.

Sidecomb making is work which requires great experience. The two combs are made from one piece a little wider than one finished comb, which is first made soft, then a deep fine, zigzag cut is made through the middle of the piece, the zig-zags being nearly the length of the teeth. This must be done very quickly and the two pieces immediately torn asunder, otherwise the edges of the cut will unite firmly again, and the work, if not the shell itself, will be rendered useless.

The under shell, or plastron, is highly valued also, forming what is called in trade amber shell. It is almost transparent and very thin, several thicknesses being required before it can be shaped or carved. The shell from the claws is also used; being of a light yellow color, it is welded to form light streaks where variety of coloring is sought after.

The Chinese and Japanese are very expert in the manipulation of tortoise shell, and make many articles not attempted by European and American manufacturers. Exquisite workmanship in this material comes from Naples, as also do the best workmen employed here.

Easily Taken Up

Cod Liver Oil as it appears in Scott's Emulsion is easily taken up by the system. In no other form can so much fat-food be assimilated without injury to the organs of digestion.

Greatly Surprised.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J.
