A PEACE COMMITTEE.

Republicans Appoint One and Try to Get Together.

A SOMEWHAT STORMY EFFORT.

Members Now think, However, That the Skies are Clearing—the Joint Meeting Monday Night.

Prominent Republicans, both Mc-Kinley and Bryan, met at the Knutsford last evening with a view of getting together and smoking the pipe of peace. Probably fifty of them were present. Among them were the following:

Samuel McDowall, S. H. Hill, C. S. Varian, S. J. Kenyon, C. O. Whitlemore, George L. Nye, A. H. Pavette, A. S. Geddes, J. T. Hammond, R. H. McKeig, F. D. Kenisch, M. J. O'Meara, Fred Simon, Isadore Morris, E. G. Pagnon, E. H. Smith, George Westervelt, E. D. R. Thompson, W. J. Harvey, Fred Dennis, George Buckle, E. H. Callister, E. M. LeProhon, George W. Moyer, Scott Critchlow, D. A. Wenger, D. S. Emery, C. F. Emery, Louis Hyams, George R. Squires, H. P. G. Coster, C. E. Offenbach, H. F. Evans, E. E. Rhodes, John Bechtel, L. C. Johnson and J. C. Sandberg, also D. C. McLaughlin of Park City.

The meeting was called to order by F. G. Wells and Hon. George M. Cannon was made chairman after the former had been declared by Sam J. Kenyon and S. H. Hill, George W. Moyer acted as secretary. Mr. Wells started the ball rolling by introducing the following resolutions as a "text for discussion":

Whereas, The present confusion and uncertainty existing in the minds of Republican voters of the State of Utah as to the proper course to adopt is leading to ward disrupture and dissatisfaction in the party; and

Whereas, It is imperatively necessary that some certain and fixed plan of action be decided upon that will best insure the nomination to only one Republican Congressman and one Republican legislative ticket; and only one set of Republican county officers throughout the State of Utah and thus avoid fusion or confusion; and

Whereas, A difference of opinion exists in the minds of Republican voters as to the national electoral ticket; now, therefore be it

Resolved, By this conference of silver Republicans:

First—That the several counties of the State of Utah be recommended and urged to send delegates to the silver state delegate convention to be held in Salt Lake City on September 24, 1896, which delegates shall be instructed to use their influence to secure the nomination of a candidate for Congress who shall be in the standard-bearer of the Republican party of the State of Utah in the coming campaign, shall be a man whose record both as a staunch silver man and a devoted Republican cannot be questioned.

Second—That the Republicans in the several counties in the State of Utah be further recommended and urged, irrespective of their views as to the electoral ticket at the coming election, to join in one Republican county ticket wherever the same shall be properly called, and there nominate candidates for county offices.

Third—That for the carrying into effect of the resolutions of this conference, and the consolidation and reconciliation of the views on these questions expressed, an executive committee of five be appointed by the meeting with full power and authority to act in the premises.

Mr. Varian said he did not intend to be bound by the meeting that the resolutions did not point the way out of the woods for independent thinking Republicans; he didn't believe in such double dealing; he was an honest, straightforward sort of carrying wood on both shoulders. A better plan would be for the Republican State committee to call off the Ogden convention. If it should be called off and the Republicans of the State felt free to attend the silver convention in this city, a new plank would be inserted that would be worthy of consideration. It was true that the desire for harmony was so general among the Silver Men as we have noticed, then if united with them to begin negotiations. The Republican party, he said, had something else to consider than the carrying on of elections in the several counties. A great principle was at stake, a principle that appealed to a large number of Republicans that they felt it to be their duty to sever the associations of their political life. Neither could some sound principles be found in the Independent State convention and the Ogden convention. Such a course might do for ward-workers, but not for the great republican party. The solution proposed by the resolutions was not practicable.

A running debate followed in which considerable feeling was shown. Those who participated most actively were Messrs. Cannon, Squires, Kenyon, Moyer, Wade, Isadore Morris, Secretary of State Hammond and George L. Nye. Finally the resolutions were sidetracked for a motion made by Nye to the effect that a committee of five be appointed to confer with the Republican State executive committee and the Independent Republican executive committee, in the interest of peace and report at a meeting to be held on Monday evening next.

George L. Nye, F. G. Wells, A. H. Peterson, A. S. Geddes and George Buckle were named as members of such committee, after which the meeting adjourned.

Garfield Politics.

The Democratic convention of Garfield county, says a Tribune correspondent, met in Pangwitch on the 5th inst. and nominated the following ticket:

State Representative—Joseph Houston of Pangwitch.

County Clerk—George E. Hanks of Pangwitch.

Recorder—Mrs. S. O. Crosby of Pangwitch.

Prosecuting Attorney — Edward Wilson of Escalante.

Sheriff—Edmund Allen of Escalante.

Treasurer—W. T. Owens of Pangwitch.

Assessor—William Cottam of Escalante.

Surveyor—M. J. Burgess of Pangwitch.

Commissioners—A. D. Clark, James Vester and Byram Usher.

The following delegates were elected to the State convention to be held in Provo on the 23d: John Houston, W. P. Wilson, R. G. Clark Jr., J. J. Skinner and W. T. Owens.

The following delegates were elected to the senatorial convention to be held in Marysvale on the 19th: Edward Wilson, J. J. Skinner, James Vester, D. G. Wilcox and W. P. Sargent for the senate.

They were instructed to work for the nomination of W. P. Sargent for the senate.

The Republicans held their convention in Bluewelle on the 11th. The sentiments among the Republicans of this county in relation to the McKinley and Bryan matter is somewhat divided.

A Typical Tale.

New York Journal: The portion of the Eastern public which reads the news and is devoted Republican cannot be questioned.

Fourth—That the Republicans in the several counties of the State of Utah be further recommended and urged, irrespective of their views as to the electoral ticket at the coming election, to join in one Republican county ticket wherever the same shall be properly called, and there nominate candidates for county offices.

Fifth—That for the carrying into effect of the resolutions of this conference, and the consolidation and reconciliation of the views on these questions expressed, an executive committee of five be appointed by the meeting with full power and authority to act in the premises.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

World has been enriched with the valuable information:

W. A. Clarke of Butte, Mont., the millionaire owner of the Anaconda silver mine, was counted today with the Bryan managers, and it is said bought he has brought for Chairman Jones. According to a generally circulated story, he has agreed to raise $100,000 as the first campaign offering of the silver mine owners outside of the state of Colorado.

This important piece of news seems to need only three insignificant amendments:

1. "The Anaconda silver mine" is a copper mine.

2. It is not owned by W. A. Clarke, but by the Rothschilds, J. B. Haggin and Marcus Daly.

3. The owners are all gold men.

With these trifling emendations the Walsh's story would become accurate enough to pass a cursory inspection, and even without them it is as truthful as most of the published utterances about the political contributions of the silver mine owners.

Political Pointers.

The Democratic State executive committee will meet this evening.

Hustling Harry Joseph is desirous of continuing in the office of county surveyor.

D. C. Dunbar is now in Washington. From there he will go on to New York after which he will return home for a few days and then go East again.

Hon. John T. Caine and William Lett have returned from Colorado where they were on a land selecting mission for the national Democracy.

Ogden Post: Every day persons are noted in various parts of the town for McKinley and they are positive; while seven on the board are that way.

Manti Messenger: Silver, prohibition and monopoly is the campaign cry of Sanpete county Republicans. Let us stand on that platform no matter what the balance of the State does.

The Democratic county convention will be held in the Green Opera House on Saturday, September 19, while the Republicans will meet in the Salt Lake Theater to do similar work on the same day. Both parties hold previous primaries on Tuesday evening next.

Tintic Miner: The Provo Enquirer is attempting to make a fight against Senator Frank J. Cannon. The puny efforts of the Enquirer, however, only make the honesty, ability and worth of "Our Frank" stand out in more glowing colors. Senator Cannon represents Utah, the Enquirer represents nothing unless it be Hansen's barrel.

Provo Enquirer: The Salt Lake Tribune feels subtly depressed over Senator Dubois' defeat in Idaho, and yet the Tribune says "that except for Dubois this year the two parties would have been aligned as formerly. Mr. Dubois is responsible then for his course; Democrats and Populists should not be blamed.

St. Pleasant Pyramid: Eastern papers are anxious to know how the women voters of Colorado, Wyoming and Utah will express their sentiments in regard to Bryan's dollars, so call it. If they don't express more intelligence than thousands of male voters from the shores of great silver, we give our guess.

Speaking of the desire of wealthy candidates to "scratch" and "make things" in a political way, Sheriff Hartley says: "I think no one that can
