A MONEY COUNTING AND ADDING CONTEST.

New York, Nov. 3 .- A money count ing and adding contest has been held at the First National bank, under the auspices of the American Institute of Bank 'lecks. Twelve packages of mixed bank bills of $5, $10 and $20 denominations and aggregating $6,000 each, were car-ried into a cage under the guard of 12 policemen. Tweive representatives from as many Chicago banks sorted the money, "proved" it, counted it into $500 packages, strapped it up, and initialed it under the critical gaze of 500 of their fellow cierks. The first prize of $25 was won by Lemoyne A. Hatch of the First National in 21 minutes 6 4-5 seconds. Neatness, accuracy, and speed were the essential polias. Two confestants were placed in each cage under the guard of two judges, and two timekcepers. The contestants vère principally tellers. Hutck finish-so one minute ahead of Frank E. Baptisms in running streams are not so frequent now as they were in the past. In Pike county, among the mountains of Pennsylvania, they used to be very frequent, and by some unlucky chance it nearly always happened that the most numerous baptisms occurred in the winter time. Irwin Shepard, the secretary of the National Educational Association, said anent these cold weather baptisms; "A Baptist minister from the upper part of Pennsylvaula told me about two brothers, Bob and Ed, who quar-reled and wrangled a great deal. Bob stuttered, and when Ed got religion he would not believe it. "'It ain't s-s-so, is it, Ed?" he asked, "'To be sure it's s-so,' Ed answered
