COUP D'ETAT IMMINENT IN CHINA.

Friendly Relations and Secret Agreements Between the Russian and Chinese Governments.

LONDON, April 28.—A dispatch from Shanghai says it is reported that the Japanese have succeeded in entering the Chinese province Manchuria and are advancing upon the capital, Moukden. It is also said that fighting has taken place between the invaders and the Chinese at a town between that city and the frontier. The engagement is said to have ended in a decisive victory for the Japanese, who established themselves in the position previously occupied by the Chinese troops. No details of this reported battle are given and the Chinese at Shanghai discredit the report.

RUSSIA AND CHINA.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A dispatch from Paris to the Exchange Telegraph company says its correspondent there learns on the best authority that in July last a provisional agreement was effected between Russia and China in regard to the future action of Russia in Pamirs. It is agreed by the two countries that the forces of neither power should pass the Sarikul range. The agreement re-establishes the friendly relations between Russia and China and has important bearing upon the fortunes of China in the present struggle. Russia, however, the dispatch adds, is not likely to maintain a friendly attitude towards China without substantial returns.

JAPANESE DIPLOMATS' COMMENT ON THE REPORTS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—At the Japanese legation today no official confirmation of the reported Japanese invasion of Manchuria and the reported decisive victory of the Japanese near Moukden, the capital of the Chinese province, could be obtained. It was pointed out, however, that the invasion of Manchuria would be the direct result of the Japanese victory at Ping Yang and the diplomats were willing to credit the news of the victory.

The report from Paris of a provisional agreement between Russia and China, said to have been effected in July, by which Russia agrees not to cross the Sarikul range, was regarded as possible if not probable, although the fact of its having been kept so long a secret was believed to militate against its authenticity. It was said, however, [illegible]

UTAH'S BIG FAIR

Office of the Secretary Moved to the Exposition Building.

MEETING OF DIRECTORS TODAY.

A Special Admission Fee of Ten Cents Per Pupil Ordered for School Day. —Entries Coming Fast.

The directors of the D. A. & M. society held a meeting in Secretary [illegible] office, which has been moved to the Territorial Exposition building, this forenoon and transacted considerable business, the most important action of which was in relation to the admission of the pupils from the public and private schools on Thursday next.

The board unanimously decided to admit all school children regardless of age for the small sum of ten cents each, providing they are in the company of and vouched for by their teachers. The boards of education have decided to suspend sessions on that date to allow all of the children to visit the Fair and as there are now [illegible] of them enrolled with [illegible] more who are not registered it is certain that the attendance will be enormous because there will be many [illegible] from all parts of the Territory as well as large numbers of school children from outside points.

The board of directors of the society have also decided to allow the [illegible] (Idaho) State Fair association a limited space in the agricultural department in which to exhibit farm products.

It was learned today that the exhibit will be shipped from Market Lake tonight and that it will arrive here tomorrow morning and be transferred to the Fair grounds and put in shape immediately.

In response to queries from a News representative Secretary [illegible] said today that entries were coming in very fast and that there was not the sign of a cloud anywhere to mar the prospects of the Fair of 1894 being the biggest and best in the history of Utah.
