

JUST BEFORE THE DETROIT BATTLE

Crowds of Baseball Fans from Chicago Flocking in to See Game.

LINE UP BEFORE DAYLIGHT

Accommodations Made for from 18,000
To 20,000 Fans to Witness the Championship Struggle.

Detroit, Oct. 10.—In coming Chicago trains today brought crowds of baseball enthusiasts bent on witnessing the first of the Olympic struggles between the Detroit and Chicago teams for the championship of the world. They were a brave and confident minority which flaunted "Cub" banners amidst the multitude of "Tiger" emblems displayed by a no less confident majority.

Before daylight the enthusiasts began forming in line before the ticket windows at Bennett Park waiting for the sale of general admission tickets to open up at 9 o'clock. Many who had had no breakfast at home munched sandwiches and still had enough left in their pockets or in packages which they carried for luncheon at noon. They were taking no chances. All of the reserved seats for today's game were sold within two hours yesterday, leaving hundreds of would-be purchasers unsatisfied. Many of these were to be found in the less ambitious line today.

Medicine hat and the areas of high barometer and low humidity worked together in a manner worthy of the cause, to the great satisfaction of the weather man, who had predicted fair and warmer weather with just a tinge of autumn crispness.

IN EXCELLENT SHAPE.
Expressions of gratification were heard on every hand that both teams were in excellent condition, and that the best baseball of their entire brilliant careers. The list of injured is fortunately short. Captain Schmidt, of Detroit, dislocated his right arm, but he is expected to play. The condition of which would have kept a less sturdy player from playing. No less Spartan was the conduct of Shortstop O'Leary, who ignored a badly bruised thumb, Captain Chung showed no effects of the blow which he received in the line of home runs of his voice. Shortstop Bush, whose sensational work was yesterday, was not in the line of home runs for the pennant, was unhappy. He was ineligible to play having joined too late in the season.

ROOM FOR 20,000 FANS.
President A. J. Navin of the Detroit club, had erected in the outfield a tier of circus seats which would accommodate 10,000 fans. They would accommodate the normal seating capacity of the park. Altogether there were accommodations for between 18,000 and 20,000 persons with space left for those who were enthusiastic enough to sit upon the ground or stand to watch the contest.

The batting order:
Detroit—Manning, 1. f.; O'Leary, s. s.; Crawford, c. f.; Cobb, r. f.; Rossman, 1. b.; Schaefer, 2. b.; Schmidt, c.; Downs, 2. b.; Killian, 3. b.; Evers, 2. b.; Schulte, r. f.; Chance, 1. b.; Steinfeld, c. b.; Hoffman, c. f.; Plink, s. s.; Kling, c. f.; Reulbach, p.
Umpires—American—Sheridan and Connolly; National—O'Day and Klein.

REVIEW OF TODAY'S FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

New York, Oct. 10.—The football schedule for today contains games that have several of the big eastern teams won. Last Saturday Yale's turn to be worried, Syracuse being the opponent, while today Princeton is to be worried, Yale being the opponent. Syracuse, a team not to be held lightly. The state team scored a touchdown against the visiting team, and were beaten solely because of the drop kicking skill of the referee. Probably the most exciting game in the east today will be at Buffalo, where the Carlisle Indians and the Syracuse team was all Yale could do to beat Syracuse a week ago and the Syracuseans are heavier than the Indians.

Princeton will meet Lafayette, 100 yards better than Yale, and an unknown quantity. Harvard's opponent today is Williams, who in past years has given the crimson more than one lively afternoon, and is expected to prove the toughest foe faced so far this season. The freshmen teams of Yale and Princeton will get under way this afternoon, Yale at Andover, and Princeton at Exeter. The eastern schedule follows:

Harvard vs. Williams, at Cambridge.
Yale vs. Holy Cross, at New Haven.
Princeton vs. Lafayette, at Princeton.
Pennsylvania vs. Pennsylvania State, at Philadelphia.
Cornell vs. Oberlin, at Ithaca.
Syracuse vs. Carlisle, at Syracuse.
West Point vs. Trinity, at West Point.
Annapolis vs. Dickinson, at Annapolis.
Dartmouth vs. Dartmouth, at Hanover.
Brown vs. Bowdoin, at Providence.
Bucknell vs. Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
Williams vs. Rutgers, at South Bethlehem.
Washington and Jefferson vs. Westminster, at Washington.
Georgetown vs. Baltimore Medical, at Washington.
Rochester vs. Hamilton, at Clinton.
Veseyan vs. Union, at Schenectady.
Yale Freshmen vs. Exeter, at Exeter.
Princeton Freshmen vs. Exeter, at Exeter.

Review of Baseball Championships

Anyone who was not positive in his own mind that baseball is not the national game of America has had his eyes opened during the past season. As the big league seasons closed and the race narrowed down to a few teams in each, the whole world watched; as the race neared its termination, feverish excitement was shown, not in the cities where the battles were being fought out, but in every city and town throughout the country. Detroit repeated by winning the pennant of the American this year, as Hugh Jennings piloted a winning team to victory in the season of 1907. Chicago made its three straight in the National by winning the National banner. The American league, this year, saw one of the closest struggles ever seen in the history of the game, as Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago fought all season for first place, and so closely were they running that it was no sure bet on any as a winner. And Chicago did not believe the pennant would fly over any other than the Windy city itself, until the last man representing it in the final game, was put out. The championship game between Detroit and Chicago was played in the latter city. With the New York-Chicago game played Thursday, this week has been brimming over with excitement for the fans. The New York-Chicago game was a remarkable battle, and the Giants, try as they did, went down to defeat on their home grounds. The score, 4 to 2, was decisive, but the game was filled with excitement until over it was no walk-away, for there were times when it looked like the Giants were going to pummel their way to victory, or at least a tie towards the end.

The dope books on baseball show winners in past years to have been as follows:
