ments, Dr. Cook said he would consider his plan of again ascending Mount McKinley.

He stopped off here today on his way from Columbus to Ann Arbor to lecture tonight.

PROF. L. L. DYCHE'S SERVICES ARE TENDERED

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 20.—Dr. Frank Y. Strong, chancellor of the University of Kansas, today sent a telegram to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, tendering, in the name of the university, the services of Prof. L.L. Dyche on an expedition to scale Mount McKinley, to recover the records the explorer declares he left there in 1906.

Prof. Dyche has been with both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary on polar expeditions.

SOUTHERN UTAH ROAD IS NEARLY FINISHED

Consolidated Fuel Company Soon to Put Coal on Local Market—Ship One Car This Week.

Steel has been laid for the entire distance over the new Southern Utah railroad and about all that remains of the work is the ballasting up of some of the work and the resurfacing. Rails have already been laid to the mouth of Miller Creek canyon, west of Price, where the road connects with the tramway up to the Consolidated Fuel company mines, two miles further up the canyon. The road is now practically completed for a distance of 20 miles. The last half mile of the work was pushed through in a hurry and is now practically finished.

The ties have been put in place and the "Y" put in where the Castle Valley road branches off from the Southern Utah, about 12 miles out of Price. Contractor Crandall has a big force of graders at work and is pushing the work through. The Ely Construction company, which has the contract for the road, has been pushing work in the past two weeks, since it first started on the new road to Cedar Creek to care for the coal mines of the Castle Valley Coal company.

Several cars of machinery are in Price yards of the Southern Utah for the Consolidated Fuel company, some are on the two sidetracks between that place and Miller Creek, and still more en route. At the mines big forces of men are employed on buildings, developing and other work. With the completion of the trainway to the mines there should be an output of coal soon to the markets west of Price.

About 65 men are doing track work for the Southern Utah and when they are through with this some will be taken to the coal camp, while others will likely go to the Castle Valley line.

This week a car of coal will be shipped to Salt Lake City from Hiawatha. It is more in the nature of a sample of what the company has than anything else.

WELL KNOWN TENOR DIES.

Cecil James, Husband of Lottie Levy, Stricken in New York.

Mrs. Sam Levy of this city received a telegram from New York Tuesday evening that her son-in-law, Cecil C. James, had died in that city Tuesday morning. No particulars were given. Mr. James was a well known tenor in the eastern metropolis, and had a number of friends in Salt Lake City, where he at one time spent several years. It was during his stay in this city that he met and married Miss Lottie Levy, who was at that time a member of the Salt Lake Opera company. Mr. James is survived by his parents who live in Springville, Iowa, and a brother who lives in California. Interment will probably be in Springville, Iowa.

VIEW OF COUNTRY VOTER.

Regrets That Fusion Is Delayed in Salt Lake Political Circles.

Mr. Editor—Many Republicans who live out in the country have learned with regret that the leaders of the Republican party in Salt Lake City have refused to join hands with the other parties in favor of good government for the city at the coming municipal election. Now is that really patriotic? Does not the leading party believe in true patriotism and good government? And is it possible that they will divide the votes again so as to make it easy for the "rule and ruin" plunderbund to still continue to plunder? Some one may say, what is that to you country people? We answer, is there a town or hamlet in the State of Utah that is not affected by the slander that goes on in Salt Lake City. It may be said that the slanderous paper and the so-called "American" party are not one and the same thing—may be not exactly, neither were the Siamese twins. We are sometimes called "country jakes," yes, but we live in an altitude so high and bask in the clear sunshine that we look down upon the upper side of the fog which envelops the larger cities. Success to the efforts for good government.

TO DEPORT AUSTRIAN.

As the result of his examination of August Thomaser, the demented Austrian who is at present in the Provo hospital for the insane, Inspector V. Yatinen, of the immigration bureau, reports that Thomaser's affliction existed before he came to America, and he is therefore a proper subject for deportation. Thomaser came to this country about two years ago, and for some time he worked in the coal mines at Rock Springs. A few months ago he came to Salt Lake, when his insanity was noticeable and he was sent to the state mental hospital. He is about 30 years of age. As soon as the papers come from Washington he will be deported.

JAMES MARSH ON BAIL.

Man Charged With Murderous Assault Leaves Jail on Bond.

After lying in jail since Sept. 29 on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, James Marsh, the man who tried to choke to death Mrs. Maybinda Newell because she did not return his affection, was released from prison today on a bond of $2,000, furnished by three prominent citizens of Grantsville.

Marsh had boarded at the Newell home and became infatuated with Mrs. Newell. He made repeated advances to the woman but was repulsed. On the night of Sept. 29, it is alleged, he went to the Newell home, gained entrance and threatened to murder Mrs. Newell, it is said, if she did not go with him. It is claimed the man then tried to choke the woman to death but was prevented by her two children. He was arrested shortly after the assault, taken to the city jail and was charged with assault with intent to commit murder. The bail bond is signed by Chancy Parrus for $500, Cal R. Gustaveson for $500, and Len Beetill, Jr., for $1,000, and the bond was approved by Judge Bowman.

WILL FIGHT OPEN SHOP.

Structural Iron Workers Will Not Submit to Plans of Contractors.

Jack Munsey, business agent of the structural steel workers' association of this city, hopes to prevent any serious trouble at the Utah hotel and the Kearns building, in spite of the reports that have reached him stating that the Jones Construction company, to whom the work on these buildings has been sublet, intends running an "open shop" when it starts work in the near future. Mr. Munsey says that this firm is doing considerable work at San Francisco and at Vancouver on the coast, and in both places it is employing union men, but it is said positively that the company will not submit to the union here, but is going to try and do what the Minneapolis Steel company tried to do and failed at the Commercial club building. It will pay union wages of $4.50 a day for its best men, but grade them on a lower scale. According to the union view, this is an injustice, as steel workers work together as a band on a job and not as units, and every member of the gang should be paid the same wage.

Mr. Munsey says there are now about 200 members of the Salt Lake local, fully 80 per cent of whom are married men, and it is intimated that the open shop in Salt Lake will not be countenanced for a moment by the union. This means that the Utah hotel and Kearns building may be delayed considerably if the "open shop" is adopted by the construction company.

TAYLOR LECTURE TONIGHT.

Will Discuss National Questions Under an Unusual Title.

Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee, who will be heard tonight by a Salt Lake audience for the first time, reached this city this morning from Ogden. He was met by friends, and was given a trip around the city.

At the lecture this evening at the Salt Lake theater, the speaker will be presented by Senator George Sutherland, who has been associated with him in the senate. The subject of his lecture tonight is "Happy Valley," and is rather mystifying as to its real purpose and plan. This simply means, according to those familiar with his personality, that Senator Taylor will present some present day problems in national affairs under a surprising title.

This number opens the season's lyceum course, which this year will be managed by the Human Culture society, and which includes in the list of attractions, some of the best things that have ever been brought to Salt Lake.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The "American" party held a characteristic rally in the Wellington hotel Tuesday evening at which the "regulars" attended. The speakers were City Atty. H. J. Dinsmore, W. S. Dalton, and A. J. Weber. They delivered a tirade of abuse against the Church.

The Women's Democratic club will meet at headquarters on Friday at 2:30 p. m. All ladies interested in good government, and especially the members of the Democratic club, are invited to attend.

The resignation of Stephen Hayes, as nominee from the First municipal ward for the four-year term for councilman by the Democratic party has been filed with the city recorder, and in his stead the name of F. J. Hewlett has been filed. Mr. Hewlett was the nominee on the Republican ticket for the long term from the same ward.

TEACHERS TO VISIT EUROPE.

Supt. Christensen Says Tourist Agencies Are Urging Travel.

D. H. Christensen, superintendent of the city schools, today said that he looked for a considerable exodus of teachers to Europe next summer at the conclusion of the school year. "The touring agencies are sending all kinds of circulars to the teachers," said Supt. Christensen, "setting forth the very low rates offered for European travel next year on the occasion of the presentation of the Passion play at Oberammergau, Germany, which is given once in 10 years. Next year the play will be repeated and special rates are being offered which are sufficiently low to warrant the attendance of the teachers from this city. I personally know of a number who will go from Utah, and some of these are from Salt Lake."

WIND PLAYS HAVOC AT NEVADA UNIVERSITY

Reno, Nev., Oct. 20.—A terrific windstorm which visited this city late yesterday afternoon played havoc with the handsome bleachers erected on the university athletic field by Clarence Mackay, by tearing the colonnade from its fastenings and strewing it on the bleachers. It is thought that the damage will be repaired in time for Saturday's football game, when Clarence Mackay will be present. The damage will amount to about $2,000.

COURT NEWS.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

In the supreme court this morning the case of Charles Tyng against the National Bank of the Republic and the Constant Lorraine Investment company, appellants, was placed at the foot of the calendar. The case is on appeal from Judge Armstrong's division of the Third district court. Two cases of George J. Gibson against Frank McGurrin and others, appellants, from Judge Morse's division, and Thomas Todd against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company, appellants, from Judge J. E. Booth's court in the Fourth district, were argued and submitted.

LODGE IS SUED.

Lillian Light, formerly Lillian Pawlas, widow of John Pawlas, who was killed in a railroad accident on the Great Northern railroad at Young's Point, Mont., Sept. 25, 1908, this morning filed suit in the Third district court against the supreme lodge of the Fraternal Union of America, to recover $1,950, alleged to be due to plaintiff as the beneficiary of an insurance policy carried by deceased in the defendant company's organization. The complaint sets forth that deceased became a member of a subordinate lodge of the Fraternal Union at Ogden, Nov. 1, 1898, and that all dues and assessments were faithfully paid by deceased until his death. That upon the death of Pawlas proofs were submitted and accepted by the subordinate lodge at Ogden, but that the supreme lodge has failed and neglected to pay the claim, and plaintiff now demands judgment in the sum of $1,950 and costs of suit.

DE LOZIER CASE GOES OVER.

By agreement of counsel in Judge Lewis' court this morning, the further hearing of the case of the state against S. M. De Lozier, charged with forging the name of I. A. Clayton, treasurer of the Inland Crystal Salt company to a check for $50 and passing it upon John Lollin, was continued until Nov. 4.

Two children aged respectively 3 years and 14 months were the result of the union. She asks for the custody of them.

BEFORE JUDGE BOWMAN.

In Judge Bowman's court this morning William Towson, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon James T. Howard on Oct. 17, pleaded not guilty. The case was set for Nov. 22 and the bonds placed at $200. Towson claims that Howard attacked him with a tea cup and he was forced to use a razor to protect himself.

Frank Hand, charged with grand larceny by stealing $176 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $325 from Robert H. Alworth on Oct. 18, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court.

John Oliver, accused of beating the Fifth East hotel out of a $15 board bill will have a hearing on Nov. 22, and will remain in the county jail in the meantime unless he furnishes bail in the sum of $100.

W. H. Christensen, the man who is charged with obtaining some blankets from Z. C. M. I. on credit supposed to come from the Clayton-Daynes Music company, and who sold the blankets to the company, pleaded not guilty to the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses and will have a hearing on Nov. 24.

WORRY USELESS AND EXHAUSTING

Worry is a classic example of the full opposite of concentration—namely, distraction. Distraction, taken in its original Latin sense, means that we are pulled apart, torn in two directions at the same time. Our distracted medical student generally is to be found with his eyes upon his book, but his mind far away, in a frightful nightmare about the coming examination, or about his own mental state, which he supposes to be approaching insanity.

This mental condition, in which the task pulls us in one direction and a subconscious emotional current in another, is one of the most afflicting forms of labor in the world. Almost all of us have had the experience of being in an assembly of people and forced to talk to some one person while all the time we were trying to overhear another conversation, or burning to talk to some one else. This is typical of the mental state of the distracted. The folks who try to work with day dreams drifting through their minds, or whose efforts are constantly interrupted by the surging currents of a love affair, by the visions of approaching ruin or by the tortures of a bad conscience—almost all of these people are totally unaware that the bodily tissues suffer simultaneously. Digestion, assimilation, exertion, sleep—are upset and, reacting upon the mental and nervous condition, aggravate our worries and distractions still further.—Richard C. Cabot, M. D., in Good Housekeeping.

BETRAYED BY A BUTTON.

An ordinary coat button has lost Isi to the capture of a murderer after a search of many months.

On March 29 last a postcard publisher named Donald Farquharson Fleurot, a native of Mauritius, was found murdered in his office in Paris. Near the body lay an overcoat bearing the mark of a Brussels firm of outfitters. The coat was much worn, and had been fitted with new buttons bearing a Buenos Ayres trade mark.

Inquiries at Brussels were fruitless. The coat was then sent to Buenos Ayres, where, after a painstaking search, it was recognized by a tailor who did repairs for the customers of a small hotel there. He had sewn new buttons on the coat 18 months ago for a Belgian named Koopkaert.

This man's movements were traced through a local shipping office to Paris, and it was ascertained that he was here at the time of the murder. Investigation into Koopkaert's career showed that he was a deserter from the Belgian army. Eventually he was traced to Brussels and was arrested recently.

Charged with the murder of Fleurot, he at once made a full confession that he had killed him in the course of a quarrel.—London Daily Mail.

RAILROAD NEWS

BUILDING POWER PLANT.

Salt Lake and Ogden Road to Expend $150,000 in Equipment.

Actual construction has begun on the power station of the Salt Lake & Ogden road at Farmington, the location being just southeast of the resort, and the cost of which, with plant complete, is likely to be $150,000. The intention is at first to set up motor machinery of 1,200 horse power, the capacity to be increased as traffic may demand. It was at first intended to operate with power from the Telluride company, but the railroad management and the Telluride people could not agree on what is known as the "peak" unit—that is, the relation of the highest point of tension as registered in starting or sudden demands on the current, to the average draft on the wires. So, as this was likely to prove quite an item in toll charges, the railroad management concluded to furnish its own current.

The supporting feed and most of the high tension wires are in position, with part of the trolley wire. The arrival of the cars has been delayed by the failure of the American Locomotive works to supply the trucks on contract time.

GOULD LINES ELECTION.

At Tuesday's annual stockholders' meeting of the Denver & Rio Grande road at Denver, the old board of directors was re-elected, George J. Gould, Edward T. Jeffery, Edwin Gould, Howard Gould, A. H. Calef, Winslow S. Pierce, Arthur Coppell, Charles H. Schlacks and J. F. Vaille. It has been known that the Gould management was short of money, and there was a suspicion that an alliance might be made with the Harriman or Hill interests in order to raise the necessary funds for the road's rehabilitation. But so far, no such alliance has been made.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

The Railroad Red Book for October, published by the passenger department of the Denver & Rio Grande, contains an illustrated account of the president's trip over that road from Denver to Salt Lake. The journey was noteworthy from the fact that at no part of the trip was there a delay or a hitch in the program compiled months before. The narrative has 14 illustrations, with the president, of course, as the central figure.

NO JURISDICTION WITHIN STATES

A peculiarly worded dispatch from Denver appeared in a local morning paper today, stating that the interstate commerce commission had issued an order to the Colorado roads which would stop the giving of state passes in that state. None of the Rio Grande officials in this city know of any such order, and Short Line officials say there is a mix-up somewhere, as the interstate commerce commission has no authority whatever in matters of purely state transportation. However, it is stated in the railroad offices that persons holding "Good only for state transportation" passes, do not hesitate to use them on interstate trips, which is, of course, unlawful. But as the roads issuing these passes take special care to stamp on their face that they must not be thus used, the blame rests, not on the railroad companies, but on the holders misusing them.

ACTION IS RATIFIED.

At Tuesday's Rio Grande meeting, the action of the old board in giving a $150,000,000 mortgage to provide a reserve fund, take up outstanding bonds, assist in financing the Western Pacific railroad, was ratified and the recent $150,000,000 issue was approved. The directors will meet here Nov. 4, to elect officers.

WADLEIGH A VISITOR.

Assistant General Passenger Agent F. A. Wadleigh of the Denver & Rio Grande road is in town this afternoon, en route to Denver from a coast trip.

Volume Five Church History

Published by the Church With Introduction by Elder B. H. Roberts.

This volume deals with the history of the Church from May 3, 1842, to 31st of August, 1843. It, therefore, covers a period of about sixteen months. The main external events may be set down as follows: First, exposure of the wickedness of John C. Bennett, and his departure from Nauvoo; (2) the charge against the Prophet Joseph of complicity in an attempted assassination of Ex-governor Lilburn W. Boggs, under whose celebrated exterminating order the body of the Church was driven from Missouri; (3) the attempt of the state of Missouri to extradite the Prophet from the state of Illinois, to be tried as an accessory before the fact to an assault on ex-Governor Boggs; (4) a second attempt on the part of Missouri to extradite the Prophet from the state of Illinois on the old charge of "murder, treason, burglary, arson, larceny, theft and stealing," first brought against him in the year 1838; (5) a preliminary prospecting of the west, doubtless with a view to the contemplated removal of the Saints to the Rocky Mountains.

Of events that relate more nearly to the Church as an organization there should be mentioned: (1) the introduction of the endowment ceremonies and enlarged instructions on the subject of baptism for the dead; (2) an extension of auxiliary organization by bringing into existence the Young Men's and Women's Society.

Another item of great interest in this volume is the manfest development of the character and spiritual strength of the Prophet during this period. The trying experiences through which he passed seemed to discover new qualities of soul power within him, and to emphasize those which he was known to have possessed.

The doctrinal development of the period covered by this volume deals with several items which may be regarded as preliminary to that richer unfolding of philosophical thought to which the last year of the Prophet's teaching was so largely devoted.

DE LARA CASE SEEMS RATHER MYSTERIOUS

Washington, Oct. 20.—The department of commerce and labor has no documents to forward to the counsel for L. Guiterres de Lara, who is under arrest at Los Angeles on the charge of being an anarchist and of being in the United States without having been inspected.

According to the immigration authorities there is but one paper on file in Washington regarding the case and that is the telegram from the immigration inspector at Los Angeles advising the department of the circumstances and requesting the authorities for De Lara's arrest. No request has yet reached the department for the document.

It is pointed out by the officials here that one of the reasons for the arrest was De Lara's secret entrance into the United States. Consequently there would be no official documents on file at Washington showing when he entered.

HENRY FARMAN MAKES A VERY FAST FLIGHT

Blackpool, Eng., Oct. 20.—Henry Farman, the French aeronaut, today accomplished by far the fastest flight that has been witnessed in this county. He covered 6 miles and 1,194 yards in 1 hour, 32 minutes, 16 4-5 seconds. In the first hour he made 36 miles and 1,577 yards and the spectators cried out in their enthusiasm that he had established a world's record. This is not true, however, as Paulhan flew 34.7 miles in 60 minutes at Rheims.
