HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Ten Year Old Boy Crushed to Death Beneath the Wheels of a Rapid Transit Car.

There was a most lamentable and fatal accident at the intersection of South East and First to South streets, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. At the time — Joe named the ten-year-old son of Julius Riley was riding on the foot of a bobber wagon. For some unexplainable reason he jumped on to the rear end of the Rapid Transit Street Car company's car at No. 10 south East street, and was dragged under the wheels.

The motorman immediately applied the brakes and reversed the current but not in time to prevent the unfortunate and thoughtless lad from being crushed down and crushed to death. His left leg was horribly mangled and the lower part of the abdomen torn away. Death was instantaneous. The remains were picked up and placed on board the car and conveyed to Grow Brothers' drug store at the corner of Second South and State street.

Dr. Fisher made an examination at the company's request. The body was subsequently removed to Stevens' undertaking parlors in the Tribune block, on Third South street, where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

The parents of the deceased are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Riley of Provo. Mr. Riley is a saloon keeper at the Garden City, and was up to attend the races. He was not at the Driving Park when the accident occurred.

The sad intelligence of his son's death was conveyed to him by a messenger, while a lady friend informed the mother, whose frantic cries could be heard for more than a block as she was being driven to the morgue.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY.

Two Brute Kill Each Other—The Woman Arrested.

ARKANSAS CITY, June 14.—For several days Mrs. J. A. McCormick, wife of a wealthy businessman, living at Willow Springs, has been here in company with D. C. Jones, of King Fisher, Oklahoma. Work was said Mrs. Cormick of their intimacy. He was here last night and, going to the hotel, surprised the guilty couple in a room together. He shot Jones as Jones was returning the fire with the result that both were shot and killed almost instantly. Mrs. McCormick fled in her night dress, but was subsequently arrested.

THE FATE OF A STEAMER.

A Terrible Explosion Caused by Coal Oil—Lives Lost.

BORDEAUX, June 14.—An appalling accident occurred a few miles up the river Gironde near Blaye, when the British steamer "Pelaria," loaded with petroleum from Philadelphia, became filled with inflammable gas, which, coming accidentally in contact, caused a tremendous explosion, shattering the deck and upper works in every direction, setting fire to the vessel and petroleum floating on the water. The last fire to a number of other vessels in the river and exciting trade and they turned to the water's edge. The "Pelaria" was destroyed and twenty of the forty men composing her crew perished in the flames. Twenty were rescued with difficulty, some of them badly burned.

Thousands in the Path of Storm.

A disease is incurable when its causes work on without interruption. Malaria poisons an intimate chemical condition of the infected person does not leave the impoverished constitution of his residence. A timetable extract continues stimulating, and at last drives the victim delirious, or with it if the person attacked by it remains constantly exposed to a damp atmosphere. With this and dampness and energy of the causes of the disease, with the continuance of the local poisons the individual's power of resistance, the vigor of his constitution are important factors in determining the outcome. A vigor one thirty year old man will over cause an infection of the large stock would be fatal to an old man, to a drinker or to a man weakened by luxury or a life of dissipation or suffering. Professor R. Nethanael in Popular Science Monthly.

Each Are In Our Criticism.

The cure—cured one age is not tolerated by the next. Alcott's concerted Napoleonic temper discovered this. There is progress in refinement, although it is accompanied by cant and hide-bound. But the inspiration of the artist is wise independent of the question of art and made up of the immense quantity of art. Every generation has its rights, and among them a right to protect itself against anything it dislikes or that offends it. It does not concern itself much about abstractions, but it knows what influences best serve its ideals of a better life. On the whole it is as good a judge of what is good for it as any more enlightened moralists.—Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's.

How He Pronounced It.

There is a story of two gentlemen who, in a hot argument as to how the word "neither" should be accentuated, appealed to a passer by with the question, "Do you, sir, pronounce it 'ne'ther' or 'nether?' to which the stranger, being a native of the Emerald Isle, artlessly responded, "neither."—London Tit Bits.

A Good Thing to Pack Around.

From the Troy, N. Y., Press, June 10, 1892.

A number of jovial smokers around the "Lookin," bound for New York, after having "shoot" Egypt and the Holy Land, were relating experiences, detailing incidents and cute sayings occurring in foreign parts, remarkable when a wag naughtily inquired the pronunciation of "Cinchona bark." One will he claims, while another insisted it should be "cinchona." After a little argument, he politely announced that in Anecdote, where he was best acquainted, it was "cinchona," and that St. Jacobs Oil was the great remedy for it. The effect upon that pleasant little circle was as magical as that of the relief so mentioned upon all aches and pains.
