ASK BONDS AND SQUANDER MONEY

Two Features Uppermost in the Council Session Last Night.

BUGGIES—HORSES—SEC'YS.

Pleading Municipal Poverty Expense Is Incurred in Almost Every Department to Add to Burdens.

After three hours of schoolboy wrangling over matters which should have been settled in committee, but which were reserved for small spectacular displays on the floor of the chamber, the city council last evening passed up most of its work for the next meeting. Talk, talk, talk. Proper anxiety on the part of the "American" majority to ring in "hierarch" splutter and delay action on matters of real interest, formed part of the proceedings last night. With but the slightest justification, other than the desire to make a little "spectacular stunt" Councilman Stewart made insinuations against the intentions of a member who was working to get through in its original shape the First South street paving project, which has been repeatedly held up by the indecision of the council in attempting to grapple with it; and besides this, considerable time was occupied with argument as to whether the city asphaltum mine, out of which it is proposed to supply the proposed paving material for First South street, contained sufficient material with which to pave two city block or not, councilman Ferry expressing his doubts in the matter, while Councilman Martin strenuously defended the mine, saying he himself had seen enough asphalt in the mine to pave every street in Salt Lake county, whereat further argument ceased.

DELAYED ONE MORE WEEK.

Mayor Bransford's suggestion to alter the contract for the paving of First South street to free the city from liability in case of the selection of California asphaltum for paving in front of their property was turned down, and after much discussion the matter was brought to a head by Councilman Hall, who moved the adoption of a resolution, directing the public works board to advertise for new bids for the work. Fernstrom urged the council not to parley over the matter but to have the work proceeded with according to the contract already signed and agreed to by the council. Stewart here interjected his attempt at sarcasm directed at Councilman Fernstrom. A great deal of time was occupied in this discussion, and a motion to rescind the action of the council taken a week ago, was made by Stewart which was carried. On motion of Fernstrom the matter was put off another week.

SECOND AVENUE PROTEST.

The residents of Second avenue, between Canyon road and A street again petitioned the council to instruct the engineer to lay the sidewalk on that street in the center of the walk, as it is done in other parts of the city. The petitioners represented 1,321 feet frontage on the sidewalk out of a total of 1,316 feet frontage. The petitioners said in their appeal to the council: "It seems to us that a communication representing the wishes of so large a majority of the property owners should receive consideration before final action is taken." The petition was referred to the improvement committee.

THE BOND ISSUE.

The committee on estimates and apportionment submitted its report and after some discussion the consideration of the same was deferred one week. The committee recommended that a new ordinance be drafted authorizing the city to bond itself for the continuation of present and projection of further improvements, which the committee claimed was absolutely necessary if any further improvements are carried out.

That the city was practically without means was not disputed, and the necessity for adopting some means with which to continue improvements and meet the huge overdaft now facing the municipality was thought imperative. Councilmen Hall and Fernstrom opposed the passing of an ordinance for the purpose, and it was finally decided that the city auditor furnish each head of department with a detailed list of his apportionment and that this be done by having the list published in pamphlet form to cost not to exceed $200.

The contract for paving the sidewalks on both sides of Pierpont street was approved.

DAVID HARUM APPEARS.

Watermaster Thomas Hobday reported he had a chance to trade two old horses for one new one by giving $10 "boot" and asked the council to authorize the $10. This was done.

Street Supervisor Raleigh said he needed a new buggy. This was attested by Councilman Cowburn, who said he had ridden with Raleigh in his old buggy and had feared for his life every step. The sum of $150 was authorized for the purchase of a new wagon.

Chief of Police Tom Pitt asked for a private secretary, at a salary of $75 per month. This was granted.

County Auditor Aiff said he needed more help in his office. He was authorized to employ an assistant for 90 days, his compensation to be $100 per month.

On motion, the clause in the franchise granted the Utah Light & Railway company which the company objects to, providing for the continuation of the lighting contract every three years by the giving of six months' notice by the city, was stricken out, it being held that the franchise tiself covered the contingency included in this clause.

The saloon license of Targhetta & Cahoon, Eighth East and First South street was revoked. This firm had been fined in the juvenile court for selling liquor to minors.

JUGGLE THE FUNDS.

The transfer of $24,518 from the street fund to a sidewalk building fund was authorized.

The latest bill of Westerman, Trader & Company, special auditors, for $3,911.65 was laid over for another week.

Two claims for damages were presented to the council, for damage to property through the establishment of new grades by the engineering department of the city. Jennie B. Venees, residing on the east side of Thirteenth East street, claims her property was damaged to the extent of $5,000, while Blanche S. Lewis, living in the same neighborhood, claims $2,000. The claims were referred to the claims committeee, and it is expected they will rest peacefully in a pigeon hole until they are forced out by lawsuits.

The report of the board of public works, submitting a contract with the Campbell Building company for the construction of the wooden stave pipe line to connect with the gravity sewer, was approved. The work will now be proceeded with, at an expense of $16,004.50.

PITT INTERROGATIVE.

A communication was received from Chief of Police Pitt, asking why his recommendation for the appointment of George Meredith as a special policeman without pay had not been acted upon. His query asking if the appointment had been "pouched" caused a hearty laugh among the members.

Simon Bamberger Returns from Western Trip and Promises Traffic For May 30.

Simon Bamberger, president and general manager of the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad, has returned from a trip to southern California and was accompanied home by his son, Sidney, who has been out on the coast since about the first of the year. Senator Bamberger was asked about the progress being made with the construction of his road into Ogden.

"I have learned," said he, "since I arrived home that there is only one more cut to make with the steam shovels to let us down to the Ogden river. That ought not to take us very long to finish and I see no reason why we cannot be ready to operate trains right into Ogden by Decoration day when the Lagoon season opens. The Union Pacific Railroad company doesn't want the Lagoon road to cross its tracks, but that matter will be settled by the courts and a hearing on this matter will come up in Ogden next Saturday.

"By the way," continued the senator, "Lagoon will be better than ever this year. Besides the fresh water bathing feature, Manager Bergerman will have added a great many other attractions. The railroad will also be in better shape than ever to take care of its patrons."

On his way home Senator Bamberger observed the improvements made by the Salt Lake Route in the Meadow Valley wash south of Caliente. He says the track has been made very secure in the canyon where the washouts occurred two and three years ago. The retirement of wooden and the substitution of iron and concrete bridges, together with the rip rapping of the road bed and the changes made in the channel of the river has made it possible for the track, he says, to withstand the worst kinds of floods or cloud bursts.

TALK DETENTION HOME.

County Commissioners Want the City To Pay Half the Expense.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday, the matter of the roadway dedicated to the county by the Boston Consolidated, Utah Copper and Garfield smelting companies came up for consideration. Commissioner Cosgriff thought he saw in the deed a flaw, which would permit changing of the road to suit the fancy of the grantors. The roadway was partially accepted and the best form of deed possible will be obtained before the final action is taken.

The board still has under advisement the establishing of a detention home, and if the municipal authorities can be induced to join in such a project, such a place will be forthcoming in the near future. A detention home is admitted to be more needful for the city than for the county, and the commissioners desire that at least half of the expense for such an institution be borne by the municipality.

Henry Brown, a stockholder in the East Jordan Canal company, asked permission of the board to use the county's proxies in the controversy which the farmers are having with the city. The board informed Mr. Brown that they would be represented by W. W. Wilson, who it was thought would deal fairly with all parties concerned in the contest.

It has been decided by City Atty. Dininny and City Engineer Kelsey to bring condemnation proceedings against the canal company at once. The city claims to have done all in its power to adjust the differences amicably, and now the matter will be carried into the courts.

A franchise has been granted by the county to the Utah Light & Railway company, whereby the latter is permitted to double track its lines running outside the city. The company has agreed to haul free of charge gravel for sidewalks in the districts covered by the franchise.

Republican County Committee Speaks Its Mind On Party Affairs.

RESOLUTION OF CENSURE.

It Is Passed as a Comment on Matters Now Being Investigated by State Committee.

The Republican county committee met last night, and Mr. Harry Joseph declared that Senators Love, Lawrence, Park and Benner X. Smith were enemies of the Republican party. He cited bills which went to their death in the senate as proof that these senators were not Republicans.

A resolution was passed to cover the feelings expressed by Mr. Joseph. It was introduced by A. H. Nash of the Fifth precinct, who declared that constant wrangling would hurt the party, and that these men were responsible for the wrangling he said was going on at the present time. J. J. Greenewald spoke against making enemies and stirring up bitterness, declaring that he was against the resolution on the ground that good feeling should be extended to all, and that bad feeling should not be stirred up at this time when there was plenty of it in existance anyhow.

THE RESOLUTION.

The resolution was finally voted for by all present except Mr. Greenewald. It follows:

"Whereas, certain parties in Salt Lake county, claiming to be Republicans, and asserting that they had grievances which should receive redress, created an organization separate and apart from the regular party organization in this county and ignored the regular county organization and made complaint to the state committee regarding party matters within this county; therefore be it

"Resolved, by the Republican central committee of Salt Lake county, that we disapprove of and condemn all such factional organizations and such ignoring of the county committee of the regular party organization, as being opposed to the welfare of the Republican party, and as being unnecessary and uncalled for; this committee always having been ready to hear and investigate any grievances or complaints in regard to party matters within Salt Lake county, over which we have jurisdiction."

The matter which the county committee feels should have been handled by it, was a complaint from four state senators, filed with State Chairman O. J. Salisbury, immediately after the adjournment of the last legislature, and referred again later to State Chairman Wesley K. Walton, who brought it up before the session held here on April 6. At the time the fire and police bill was under consideration in the senate, it was forcibly attacked as unconstitutional by Benner X. Smith, and Geo. N. Lawrence, and the senate finally took their view of it, turning in a majority vote against it. The party organ took four senators severely to task for their attitude, designating them a "Quad" and challenging their party loyalty. For this the senators petitioned that the words "official organ" be stricken from the paper, or that it retract, they holding that they were fulfilling their duty to the people in speaking their minds freely on legislation coming before them as elected representatives of the people, and that to let the party organ lash them editorially for doing this duty would be to serve notice that legislators were not expected to act with freedom in their public capacity.

The charges are now before a subcommittee of the state committee which will report to the committee one day before the delegates convention, called for May 7.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The district judicial convention will be held May 9, two days after the state delegates' convention. Apportionment will be one delegate for each 95 votes for Joseph Howell in 1906, which will give 21 delegates to the First precinct; 20 to the Second; 17 to the Third; 13 to the Fourth; 9 to the Fifth. Outside of the city there will be 45 delegates, making a total of 125 for the county.

The First precinct Republicans will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 in Judge Armstrong's court room to decide matters of apportionment and general campaign organization.

John Q. Critchlow has called a meeting of the committee of 15 for Saturday afternoon at the Wilson hotel. The matter of forming a state club, to be known as the Roosevelt-Lincoln club, will be considered.

Joseph Howell, in response to a message asking if he would allow himself to be a candidate for United States senator has replied in the negative, declaring that he is firmly settled in his conviction that Senator Smoot should succeed himself and giving as a reason that each senator is a complement for the other; and together they make a senatorial delegation that could not be improved.

As a result, the effort of Critchlow's committeemen to find a senatorial candidate has turned towards Former Gov. Heber M. Wells who will soon—so rumor says—be visited by a delegation asking him to become a candidate for the place. Former Secy. of State James T. Hammond is the same committee's suggestion for the governorship, with Stephen H. Love also as a strong favorite. For secretary of state E. N. Robinson of Logan has been decided upon as a likely candidate.

TROUBLE CEASED

When Proper Food was Found.

Good news benefits both parties—the teller and the one to whom the glad story is told.

A man out in Dakota told another man how he had been set on his feet, as it were, by a good doctor who knew how to treat stomach cases, in a really scientific way—by the use of proper food.

"About five years ago," writes the man, "I was suffering from dyspepsia, gas in the stomach, and I was on the verge of nervous prostration when I met a man who told me how he had been relieved of a similar trouble.

"He had suffered with stomach trouble for years as a result of eating improper food. He was at the time I write, doing the work of an ordinary laborer and said he never felt so well.

"His doctor had emptied the stomach and then prescribed nothing but Grape-Nuts, soft boiled eggs, and dry toast. He got well under this treatment. I followed his advice and lived on Grape-Nuts with cream, fruit and toast for a month. My trouble ceased almost immediately.

"The strengthening effect on my nerves was so gradual I can't just tell when I began to improve, but in a few weeks I could sit contentedly for hours whereas before, I was restless and nervous. In a month or two I could sleep the moment I lay down.

"When my little boy was a year and a half old he had a bad attack of indigestion while I was away from home. He vomited four days and nights. I had never seen Grape-Nuts recommended for babies but I decided I would try it. I warmed and softened the food in water that had been boiled, 2 teaspoonfuls water, 3 teaspoonful rich milk.

"As his stomach got better, I left out the water and used only warm milk. He is now a strong, active child of two years and eats Grape-Nuts three times a day." "There's a Reason."

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, April 5—At the Roosevelt hospital, this city, Mrs. Capt. N. P. Platt is now a patient. Mrs. Platt was formerly Miss Belle Monahan of Salt Lake, and since her marriage to Capt. Platt, they have lived in the east, being now stationed at Fort Hancock, New Jersey. Mrs. Platt was stricken with appendicitis a few weeks ago and came to the city to be operated on; she has steadily improved. Artist Clyde Squires, who is Mrs. Platt's cousin, is a most attentive visitor to the hospital and reports her condition as favorable.

At 59 West Thirty-sixth street a great millinery display for Easter is now in progress. "The Gaston," the place is called, but it is owned by Mrs. Helene Davis, whose reputation as a "smart" millinery display for Easter is now in avenue territory.

The Gaston company was bought out by Mrs. Davis two years ago, and although it had a wide patronage under its original owner, since coming into the capable hands of Mrs. Davis, it has grown to be one of the first millinery establishments for "smart" styles in the city. The spring "opening" last week was a tribute to the good taste of the owner and her assistant, Mr. N. Clark. It is among the possibilities that Mrs. Davis, in the near future may make a visit to the far west, as she has a sister, Mrs. Catherine Laine, who is matron of the blind asylum at Ogden, and a host of friends throughout the state, who have enjoyed the hospitality of her hame for the last few years, from all she would receive a warm welcome.

THIEF FORFEITS BAIL.

In Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon, John Layton, the man arrested on Saturday night shortly after he had tried to steal a hat from Crabbe's clothing store on Main street, forfeited a bond of $50. Layton entered the store and tried to hide a hat under his coat. He was observed by Mr. Crabbe, who held the man until Officer Burton arrived and placed him under arrest. At headquarters the man furnished a bond of $50 which he allowed to be forfeited yesterday afternoon. The police believe the man to be a professional crook.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

A. R. B. Slocum Detained as He Was Boarding Train for Portland.

At an early hour this morning Detective Wilson, at Ogden, arrested A. R. B. Slocum, who has been employed as timekeeper for the Roeber Roofing company at the Judge building. Slocum is charged with forging the name of Supt. G. A. Smith to a check for $460 and passing the same on the National Bank of the Republic, where Mr. Smith had an account. The check was passed yesterday afternoon just before the bank closed. The forgery was discovered about an hour later and the police were notified. Detectives Shannon and Wilson were detailed on the case. They learned that the man and his wife had gone to Ogden and the officers followed. Wilson saw Slocum just as he and Mrs. Slocum were about to take a train for Portland. The man was brought back to Salt Lake this morning. Slocum, it is understood, admitted his guilt to Detective Wilson.

But little is known of the man here. He came to Salt Lake about three months ago from California. With his wife he lived at 227 east First South street. He was in debt for board and for room rent to the amount of $117, which he paid yesterday.
