

JUDGE BREEDEN ON THE STOCKADE

"Of All Revolting and Disgusting Sights This One Certainly Takes the Cake."

ADVICE TO CITIZENS TO ACT.

If the Authorities Fail to Close Den of Infamy He Urges Public To Do So.

Judge M. A. Breedren visited the stockade last night. On his return home he sat down and wrote a communication to the Deseret News on the subject of the west side scandal, what he saw there and what he thinks of the proposition generally. His views on the walled city of vice are herewith set forth:

In the interest of the juvenile court work, in company with the chief probation officer, I visited the notorious stockade on the west side. Of all the revolting and disgusting sights which have fallen under my observation, this one certainly takes the "cake." If the authorities fail to close this den of infamy promptly, the citizens of the west side would be justified in taking the matter in their own hands and putting a stop in a summary manner to this "hell hole" of vice.

I understood a large sum of money was raised by the women of the west side and lawyers were employed and paid to prevent the establishing of this den of sin. Why don't they do it? If these lawyers feel unable to cope with the conditions let other ones be found who will do something. It is not difficult.

I also understand that an injunction has been issued to prevent the opening and occupancy of this stockade. Can hardly understand why this injunction should be allowed to become a dead letter. Can it be that the "respectable" citizens interested in the traffic of this stockade are immune from the operation of the processes of our courts? Surely not. Everybody knows that this vice place is running daily and nightly. The court knows it, and if the attorneys who are in charge of the interests of the west side fail to properly bring the matter to the immediate attention of the court, the court of its own motion should order the company, every last one of them, under whose management this stockade exists, into court, and if the injunction has been violated and it has every man or woman involved should be given a good substantial sentence in the county jail, without the benefit of clergy. They would laugh at a fine.

Let the good people of this city rise up and demand the suppression of this terrible den of iniquity. If it is not done it will be tolerated a moment longer. Do you want your sons and daughters to be exposed to this blighting influence? Of course you do not; then speak out!

M. A. BREEDREN.

FUNERAL OF JUDGE HALL

Resolutions of Respect Adopted by The State Bar Association Today.

The funeral of Judge William C. Hall, whose death occurred in California a short time ago, will be held tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the Masonic temple, corner of First South and Second East streets.

The following resolutions of respect were adopted by the State Bar association at this morning's special meeting:

Whereas, Death has taken from among us Hon. William C. Hall, our brother, friend and associate, and has thereby deprived us of the companionship of an able lawyer, a learned, upright and fearless judge, a good citizen and honest man, and

Whereas, The Hon. William C. Hall, through the useful life and path of honor pursued by him, as a citizen, friend, neighbor, public official and professional man, has won the respect, confidence and esteem of the people of the State of Utah at large, and particularly of the bench and bar, where his qualities and worth are best known; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the bench and bar of the State of Utah, through its committee appointed from among their number, take this means of expressing their love, respect and high regard for the qualifications and virtues possessed by this their brother, friend and associate, whose death they so much deplore. Be it further

Resolved, That the bench and bar of this state, express their sympathy and condolence to the wife and children of our departed brother, to whom he was a devoted husband and kind and indulgent father. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the court, and that a copy be sent to his bereaved wife and family.

NEW O. S. L. TIME CARD

May Go Into Effect Between Salt Lake and Ogden, June 5.

A new time card will go into effect on the Oregon Short Line in the service between Salt Lake and Ogden, in the near future and will probably show an additional train installed between these two points. The new card will go into effect, it is stated, about June 5, when the Yellowstone special service will be inaugurated, the season at the park opening on that date.

The first Yellowstone train will leave this city at 6:40 p. m. on June 5, and will comprise a compartment buffet car with barber shop, smoking and library attachments, baggage cars and two standard sleeping cars. The train service will leave Yellowstone station on June 6, and the train will arrive at Salt Lake on the return trip at 7:45 a. m.

No dining car is carried for the reason that the train leaves Salt Lake after the dinner hour, and arrives at Yellowstone station in time for breakfast.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Openshaw announce the engagement of their daughter Edna to Mr. Daniel K. Rawlins. The marriage is to take place some time in June.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holdaway of Provo, announce the engagement of their daughter Fern to Jack Teasdale, the wedding to take place in June.

Mrs. Nicholas A. Robertson gives a box party at the John D. Rawlins residence this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Jack Gilmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pugsley announce the engagement of their daughter Dora and Mr. Horace Goodfellow. The wedding to take place the latter part of June.

One of the pleasant affairs of this week was the entertainment given in honor of Miss Lilo Fulsom at the home of Mrs. J. Crawford Wednesday evening. Miss Fulsom after a stay of eight months in Salt Lake City will leave for her home in McGill, Nevada, next Sunday. Several piano and vocal selections were rendered by the ladies, after which games were enjoyed. The evening was concluded with a dainty luncheon.

Miss Sasie Heath, president of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Association of Pioneer stake, entertained the members of the stake board and their escorts, most delightfully last night. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, after which a delicious repast was served, followed by musical numbers of social chat. About 25 were present.

John E. Wright, manager of "The Mistletoe" of the city, now appearing at the Colonial, gave a supper last night at the College Inn to members of the company and invited guests. Twenty-eight were present. The menu, in addition to a five-course menu, consisted of a roast of beef, turkey, and chicken. Each dish was indicated by a line from the play and a scenario also was a feature of the printed menu.

Mrs. H. C. Hoffman entertained this afternoon at a bridge party in honor of Mrs. E. A. Wall, the parlor being decorated in green and white with pink and white with a Cluny lace cloth over pink satin, pink shaded candles, and pink carnations. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. V. A. Egan, Mrs. O. E. Wall and Miss Naomi Hoffman. After the bridge contest, Miss Belden, who is recently here from Ohio, rendered several delightful vocal selections. Games and bridge were played and prizes awarded at each.

Mrs. A. H. Ensign and Mrs. J. J. Sears are hostesses this afternoon at a luncheon, the decorations being pink, white and yellow. Sweet williams for a centerpiece and all details carried out in pink. Covers are laid for about a dozen guests.

Mrs. E. M. West entertained at a fruit luncheon yesterday, followed by bridge, the table being decorated with a centerpiece of fruit surrounded by smilax and the place-cards hand painted in fruit, while the entire menu was carried out in the prevailing lily. Present were: Mrs. H. W. Sherman, Mrs. W. W. Rivers, Mrs. H. O. Sanford, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Bardwell.

Mrs. Ernest R. Eldredge of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Katherine Winter of Vancouver, Washington, are guests at the home of Mrs. Chloé A. Eldredge, 216 East First South street.

Miss Bella Gibson entertained a delightful farewell party last night at her home previous to her departure for an eastern states mission, her guests being chiefly her associates of the Salt Lake Hardware company. The rooms were prettily decorated, the parlor in carnations, snapdragons and white lilacs, and the dining room in roses and smilax, and dainty refreshments were served. A program of music was given during the evening, comprising the following: Piano solos by Misses Ford and Willard; Mrs. H. H. Sowles, violin solos by Miss Gibson and Mr. Herman Schettler and also a violin duet by the two ladies, with a vocal solo by Mr. John Gibson, as well as piano music and singing in concert by the guests.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alice Theriot, Mrs. Elizabeth Pocknell and Miss Lucille Theriot. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Schwellhart, Mr. and Mrs. Sowles, Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Pier, Mr. and Mrs. Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Gann, Mr. and Mrs. Lundquist, Mr. Carmichael, Mr. Savage, Mr. Goodwin, Mr. Schettler, Miss Adamson, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Seal, Miss Cottam, Miss Short, Miss Killen, Miss Ford, Miss Olsen.

TWO DESERTED WIVES NOW SUE FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Alice O. Sandberg and Mrs. Sarah A. Nicholson, the Latter a Bride of Two Days.

Mrs. Alice O. Sandberg seeks a divorce from her husband, Hyrum C. Sandberg, on the ground of desertion in a complaint filed this morning in the Third district court. They were married in Salt Lake on June 12, 1907, and have one child, Helen, 1 year old. Mrs. Sandberg asks for the custody of the child, and $50 a month alimony.

Deserted by her husband six days after their marriage, Mrs. Sarah A. Nicholson filed suit for divorce today in the Third district court against E. E. Nicholson. They were married in Raton, New Mexico, on Nov. 8, 1908. Mrs. Nicholson, who lives in Salt Lake, went to Raton to visit some relatives there last year. While there she met Nicholson and married him. After he deserted her she returned to this city. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Sarah A. Curtis.

SOME VAGARIES OF POLICE COURT

Novel and Entertaining Excuses Which Failed to Soften the Heart of "His Honor."

MABEL'S PITEOUS APPEAL

Disastrous Results Follow in the Train of Two Glasses of Beer Taken by An Invalid.

The vagaries of railroad rates were fully shown up in the police court this morning, and in what at least seemed to Gul Upchire a glaring manner. The published rate is $1.10 for the trip from Ogden to Salt Lake that is when you buy a ticket; but when one forgets the formality of handing a dollar and a dime to the ticket agent and still makes the trip the rate of fare is thirty days breaking big rocks into little ones, with board and bed furnished, however. Gul had overlooked the matter of buying a ticket and did what the railroad people designate as "stealing a ride," although he was down on the docket as trespassing.

TEN DOLLAR EXCUSE. The disastrous results that two glasses of beer can produce was demonstrated again this morning by Mabel Grayson—and the results in her case meant ten days in jail. The hard-hearted officer swore that Mabel had been drunk, so awfully drunk that he had to pick her up off the street and carry her to the station. She had had another story, though. She had just recently left the hospital in a weakened condition. In order to regain her strength she had taken two glasses of beer, and then when she started down stairs from her room, she tripped—and that was her downfall. Prosecutor Rogers suggested that an excuse like that was a good one, but Judge Bowman raised it to $10.

VOLUBLE PINN. The Finnish volubility of John Toholo, who in an entanglement of words told how freely he had partaken of drink, but could not tell whether he was drunk or not, earned a 30-day sentence for him at hard labor. His past record as a "moocher," and nuisance about even the lower resorts went against him.

SPRINT COSTS HIM TEN.

It cost J. P. Hansen $10 to be a peace-maker. Yesterday morning Hansen and another man were arrested by Officer Dan Grundvig for violating the ordinance prohibiting riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. When the officer started off with his cap and in the meantime Hansen set a pace that the other man could not keep up with, and in order to keep Hansen in sight the bicycle patrolman had to let his other man go. Then Hansen failed to appear in court yesterday to answer the charges against him and a bench warrant had to be issued. The aggravation in the case was considered by Judge Bowman sufficient to warrant a double fine, in spite of the defendant's expressed belief that it was "pretty steep."

William Johnson admitted that he had been drunk yesterday, but indignantly denied that he is a vagrant as charged. He will take a hearing on the latter charge Monday.

U. S. COURT MAY ADJOURN.

As the result of a wire received today from Judge Marshall, who is in Oklahoma, it is probable the United States district court will adjourn on Monday, as it will be impossible for the judge to get through with his work in time to return to this city for the opening of court. Jurors will not be at court this morning and remain from court, as in order to receive their pay as jurors they will be required to appear whether court adjourns or not.

COURT NOTES.

The Utah Foundry & Machine company secured a verdict against the Utah Gas & Coke company for $208.31 for goods delivered to them between December, 1907 and June, 1908.

WOMEN MISSIONARIES.

Organization Perfected at Entertainment Given by Miss Green.

A number of Utah Latter-day Saint women missionaries were entertained by Miss Mary Green at the home of Mr. Freeborn Thursday evening, and a permanent organization of women missionaries was effected with Mrs. Evelyn Tuddenham as president, Miss Mary Green vice president and Mrs. Rachel Leatham, secretary and treasurer.

Others were present as members of the society, Misses May Green, Lillian V. Jones, Mattie Langenbacher, Hope Russell, Evelyn Tuddenham, Emma Hamlin, Louie, Minnie Anderson, Rachel Leatham and Myrtle Correll, all of whom have filled missions to various parts of the United States and the Hawaiian Islands. Luncheon was served by Miss Viola Freeborn. The society sang several stirring and familiar missionary selections and an appropriate vocal selection was given by Miss Lillian V. Jones. Miss Evelyn Tuddenham rendered several piano solos, and Miss Rachel Leatham and Mattie Langenbacher sang a duet characteristic of their missionary life, they having been together in Denver. It was agreed that meetings of the society be held every two weeks, the purpose being for social entertainment as well as religious discussions and general instruction. The entertainment was given by Miss Hope Russell will entertain them on June 3, and all women missionaries are invited to join this organization.

UNCLE SAM WANTS A TAILOR.

The latest want ad of the United States calls for tailors who are badly wanted at the Haskell Institute, Kansas, at a salary of $600 per annum, and at the Flamingo school, South Dakota, at a salary of $720 per annum. The examination will be held on June 16, 1909. It is open only to men, who are required to be over 20 years of age and unmarried.

LECTURE IN THIRD WARD.

Tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock Miss Binzell of Provo will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the parson's department, lecture course of Liberty stake. Miss Binzell, who is an educator from the east whose special line of work is the development and education of the child, will take for her subject, "Child Culture and Education." A general invitation is extended to all who desire to attend.

STRANGERS TURN A TRICK

They Leave Jewelry With Shoemaker And Depart Richer.

Morris Boretsky fell victim in a well laid plan today by which he became possessed of two studs, a handsome ring, both set with real glass—but nothing more. The trinkets cost him $500 in cash, and two men, both strangers to Boretsky, have the money and are on their way.

They entered Boretsky's shoe shop this forenoon, saying they were trying to leave town for Chicago, but were short of funds. They offered to sell the "precious" stones carried in their pockets for some time. When he had the bank and when he discovered his mistake, reported to the police, who are now in hot pursuit.

SHEETS PICKS UP HIS MAN.

George George, alias Smith, alias Georgia Kid, Must Serve Sentence.

A man with many aliases in the person of George George, who is also known as H. A. Smith and likewise Georgia Kid, was picked up this afternoon by Chief of Detectives George Sheets. On May 7, last year he was given a fender and sentenced to 100 days in the city jail for pocket picking. He left town and did not appear here again for some time. When he did come back he was picked up and taken to police headquarters. On a promise to leave the city for good, he was released. A few days ago, however, he came down from the Ogden race meet, and he was picked up today and lodged in a cell at the city jail. He will be required to serve out his 100 day sentence, and will not be permitted to go until the chain gang and thus give on an opportunity to again shake the dust of this city from his feet. He will be kept in confinement and given the full benefit of his sentence.

Chief Sheets says that George, or Smith, operated in the west with Fright Kelly and Timmie Means and the three are considered a very bad trio by the police.

LATE LOCALS.

Fisher Harris Resting—Fisher Harris is resting easy at the Groves L. D. S. hospital with strong hopes of regaining his strength.

Banquet for Visitors—The visiting Retail Merchants en route to the Portland convention, will be given a complimentary luncheon Monday at 1:30 p. m., at the Commercial club, as the guests of the Salt Lake Trade.

Judge Henderson Improving—Judge H. P. Henderson had a fairly comfortable night and is resting today. He has seemed to steadily improve since the night before last when he had a serious sinking spell, and the doctor is said to feel much encouraged today.

Rush Work by Night—Several gangs of laborers will work tonight, after the cars cease running, in completing the setting of curves at Ninth South and Fourth East streets, and in making the new connections at Eleventh East and Tenth South streets.

Showing Gem State Man Around—State Chemist Harms, State Food inspector Willard Hanson and assistant inspector H. C. Snow are showing J. H. Wallis, the Idaho state food inspector, the various local manufacturing today, with their special methods of working.

Short Session at Brighton—The forest service reports 18 inches of snow at the Wasatch station rapidly melting, and four feet at Brighton's. So the owner of cottages at the latter place has no hopes of being able to occupy them much before July 1. The summer season at Brighton will be brief this year. Twenty four forest service men go out to Wasatch station next week for their summer's work.

PLANS FOR HOME OF NATIONAL GUARD

Governor Spry and Members of Board Inspect the Specifications.

QUESTION OF LOCATION.

Site on Capitol Hill Seems to be Favored for New Armory Building—No Cost to the State.

Plans for the new armory of the National Guard of Utah were presented to Gov. William Spry this morning for the approval of the executive and the other members of the state armory board. Other officers of the guard, among them members of the governor's staff, were also given an opportunity to inspect the plans. The action on them is expected to be taken at an early date, as also will the question of the definite location of the building. There are two factions at work to secure the armory building for their localities. One favors Capitol hill and the other a location in a part of the city near the business section.

The action of the legislature in providing for a loan to the state armory board from the state land board of $85,000 contemplated the location on Capitol hill, but did not limit the state to such an extent that the building could not be placed in some other place. Officers of the guard, however, recognize the splendid situation afforded on Capitol hill. They are much in favor of this location and until something unexpected occurs, if it does they will probably push this site for selection. The Capitol hill site is a portion of the grant made by the city to the state for the erection of a state capitol building and it will be necessary to secure the consent of the council before the armory may be placed there. Little difficulty is expected in obtaining this permission if it is asked, however, as the fact that it is a state building and that it is so closely related to the capitol makes the condition little different from that of the grant.

The Capitol hill site affords a wide diversity of ground nearby for the drilling of troops in exercises which are not possible in the drill hall and for this reason, if for no other, its location on the hill is much favored by the guard officers. It is close to a car line and in the event of the construction of a state capitol building it is probable and quite likely that an extension of the car line will be made almost to the Capitol gates. At any event, it would be no more than two blocks from a car line to the building.

PLAN FOR BUILDING.

The plan as submitted by Architect George Eldredge this morning is for a three-story building of reinforced concrete, including drill hall, quarters for officers, club rooms for each company, equipment rooms for each company and locker rooms. "All these are provided with toilets and washrooms, and showers baths for each pair of quarters. In addition to the above adequate storage facilities are provided for quartermaster and ordnance stores not issued, but held in reserve. A large room for the armory and wagon storage rooms for each of the companies is also provided. A kitchen which will provide for a thousand men, boiler rooms, magazines and other necessary features are also included in the plan. The cost of the construction of the building will amount to between $80,000 and $100,000. The action of the legislature in providing for the construction of this building did so in a manner that means no added expense to the state.

The loan for the purpose coming from the state land board and the interest being paid for the support of state educational institutions in reality means only the transfer of money from one state department to another. The interest on the loan will be less than the rent at present paid on the armory.

In this city, which is owned by London parties.

It is expected that the state armory board will meet at an early date to take official action on the plans and to decide upon the location, after which work is expected to go forward with all speed possible in order to have the guard housed in its own building by the beginning of next year at the very latest date, and if possible soon after the return of the troops from the annual encampment.
