TRADING ON 'CHANGE

The Bulls and Bears Have Another Weak Day in the Pit.

ONE SALE OF RICHMOND ANACONDA

Review of the Local Stock Market by Pollock—Condition of the Street.

Today's call on 'change was in line with its neighbors during the week in that business did not amount to a great deal. Richmond Anaconda was the only stock to bring out a trade and 1,000 shares found a taker at 2½ cents. No material change was noticeable in the quotations of the listed stocks either for the better or worse, except that it can be said that East Golden Gate received a trifle from yesterday's sudden downfall.

With the unlisted stocks movements were as usual, special attention being paid to Swansea and South Swansea. The former was freely offered at $2.10, being bid for at $1, while holders of the latter made known their positions by asking 70½ cents for the stock, and bidding only 70 cents. The Northern Light stock could have been bought at 65 cents, but 70 cents was the best bid. Johannesburg made its debut on the pit and was in offering at 5 cents, with no bids.

The closing figures were as follows:

POLLOCK'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

Condition of the Mining Stock Market for the Past Week.

James A. Pollock says in his weekly mining share market letter, under date of today:

Taken as a whole, the week in the local mining stock market was a fair one, thus being a gratifying increase in outside buying. This is undoubtedly a good time to buy, as practically the whole list of investments is in such a condition that buyers can hardly make a mistake. The unimpaired advance may be six or seven weeks in coming, but surely come it will, unless all signs are in the wrong. When the change for the better does come it will be very noticeable.

While Ajax did comparatively little, the stock was fairly well sustained. The properties are reported to be in adjustable condition and shipments of ore are being resumed. The mill tests being made at the Mount are creating considerable interest. Anchor was somewhat more in demand and the stock recorded an advance. Alliance did nothing. While Bullion Beck was slightly shaded there was more business for it. The double dividend of 30 cents per share came on the announced date and the usual record of production is being maintained, except that the mill is closed down for awhile on account of shortness of water. Dragon was inactive.

Some activity was displayed by Centennial Eureka in the sale of odd lots. There is but little of this stock on the market, however, and quotations can only apply to small holdings only. Dalton recorded little or no change. The parties holding a lease on the old Workington pay considerable attention. The movement becomes frequent on the 2nd of the coming month. Dalton & Lark was without feature. The suspension of dividends has had the expected weakening tendency, but all little business, there being few buyers in the field. The stock seems to be a toy at present quotations. Its dividends will doubtless be regular, even though they come quarterly. It operates on a healthy, strong, although there was little activity.

Notwithstanding reported sales at a large block of stock in the field, East Golden Gate was offered far down at the close, the asking quotation on Thursday being 3 cents. This is the lowest point the stock has yet reached and the cause for the great slump is unknown. Work is said to be progressing as usual. Eagle and Blue Acre did little. There was a slightly increased inquiry for the latter at the close, however, Gelena received some high grade ore during the week. The stock remained short mentioned, as did Alice Geyser. Horn Silver was again inactive.

Mammoth will pay its usual dividend of 5 cents per share on the first of the month. The stock did considerable business at about the previous week's quotations. Shipments are to some what increased, now that the railroad is completed to the properties. Although at last week's Sights Mammoth did quite business than for some time past, the trying being large from the outside, where the market—the stock seem to be growing on the venture. The company is mining a higher grade ore than usual and the plucky of the rock to last for an indefinite time. Some heavy shipments of crystal product are being made and the earnings are as a result being materially increased. The September dividend was paid on time. Ontario did little and quotations were unchanged. The September dividend has been declared. Overland is pushing development well.

Silver King remained strong, with only 11,41 business. As soon as there is an improvement in mining stocks dividends will be resumed and probably increased. Sergy Consolidated is largely in the hands of insiders, which condition is likely to continue while the metals are so low. Meanwhile is doing splendid work at the mill, but the stock does not show any great amount of strength. There are not many sellers, however, and the great majority of the holders are far from feeling alarmed. The mines are showing up to great shape. Swansea was considerably stronger, there being more buyers in. Towards the close it weakened somewhat again. A dividend is expected for October. South Swansea was very strong and advanced materially. Less reports from the properties caused the strength. Utah is shipping high grade ore as usual. The stock was unchanged. Gold Dust now has its executive committee figuring on a milling proposition. The mine is looking extremely well, each day's development work affording an even better showing.

SOMETHING OF VALUE.

A Splendid Work Upon Mines and Mining Stocks Issued by Kastner and Sloan.

Mines, Minerals and Minerals of Utah, is the title of a work just from the press, that ought to be in the hands of every prospector, mine-owner, investor and business man in the new Utah. Its author is Mr. H. W. H. Kastner, the well-known newspaper man, and it is published and copyrighted by Mr. R. W. Sloan, the journalist and lecturer man.

It is a work of 300 pages and, as its name implies, deals with everything pertaining to mining and mineralogy in the State of Utah. In mine, as stated in its introduction, is to give to the people of this state and elsewhere, an insight into the condition of mining throughout this commonwealth, and how well the author has succeeded can only be fully learned by a careful perusal of its pages.

The work opens with a list of the mining corporations of Utah, giving the date of their incorporation, their capital stock, number of shares and par value of each, and then lists the locations of the properties owned by the respective companies. Then it goes on with valuable hints to prospectors and miners, after which it takes up the history of mining in the State and leads the reader throughout every camp from the time it first came into prominence until the present year of operations. Connected with the writeup of the districts are biographical sketches of the men who have been instrumental in their development, together with numerous illustrations lending to better months to the reader some of the conditions that actually exist.

The volume is one which to be in possession of is to value and its authors are to be commended for their painstaking efforts in placing before the public anything which indeed "fills a long-felt want."

THE MERCUR'S CONDITION.

The Report Current that the October Dividend Will Be a Double One.

It is reported and with a good deal of credibility, that at the next meeting of the Mercur mining company's directors, a double dividend, aggregating a payment of $90,000 will be declared.

The reports are made strong from the fact that things are known to be working nicely at the mine and mill and from the further fact that notwithstanding the present condition of the ore market, the company's treasury is rapidly bulging out.

It was in August that the Mercur company failed to come to the front with its usual monthly dividend, a disappointment which was occasioned by force of circumstances at that time, but since things have been properly adjusted, the company has been on the high road to success and wealth. It expectations are realized in the payment of the October dividend, the Mercur will then have distributed in dividends the snug sum of $650,000.

"Crime of the Century."

The current number of the Unitarian has an article on the Crime of the Century, by Hon. D. S. Hounsfel of Cincinnati, O., the legal associate of Henry Stanbury, Abraham Lincoln's attorney general. It is regarded as an able presentation of the silver cause. The illustrations of the Unitarian are excellent as usual.

Zion's Maori Association.

Invitations have been mailed to Elders who have labored in New Zealand, Australia or Tasmania to attend a semi-annual reunion to be held in the Fourteenth ward assembly rooms, Salt Lake City, on Tuesday evening, October 6th, 1896, at 7:30 p. m. The Maori Saints will be present and it is anticipated that a company of Elders and members will arrive from the colonies in time to report the present condition. A suitable program will be prepared and refreshments will be furnished by the local Elders. A cordial invitation is extended to all who have labored in the Australian mission and to members who have emigrated from those islands.

All who have not received invitations are requested to send their names to the secretary, Ezra T. Stevenson, State Bank of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.

High Priests.

The High Priests of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene in their regular monthly meeting tomorrow in the Assembly Hall at 11 a. m. A special invitation is extended to all brethren, young or aged, to be present.

ELIAS MORRIS,
President of Quorum.

Y. L. N. M. I. A.

The Stake and general officers of the Y. L. N. M. I. A. will meet at the residence of Counselor Maria Y. Dougall, 6 north West Temple street, on Monday, October 4, at 4 p.m. It is earnestly desired that every Stake shall be represented.

FROM NORTH ALABAMA.

Some Reason Why the Southern States Mission is Growing.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala.,
August 17, 1896.

To the Editor:

August 15th and 16th found our Elders in their annual conference meetings. To put it mildly, we had a time of rejoicing together. Elders Elias S. Kimball, president of the Southern States mission, and Washington Chapman came from Chattanooga loaded with spiritual food for us. To the uninitiated these annual conferences may seem ordinary occurrences, but to the Elder who has been traveling far away from home in a strange land for a year, they are among the happiest events of his life. On these occasions our brethren find themselves under the necessity of expressing their thoughts and feelings, and their sympathy and joy at submerge their disjointed to a small of only a flow of tears instead of a flow of words.

We reached the bowery, which had been built for our meeting, a few minutes before 10 a. m. and found hundreds of people scarcely awaiting our arrival. This of itself was inspiring, so immediately on the stand We Thank The O God for a Prophet being announced by Elder Mathews, the notes of the song rang through the air with thrilling, and at the same time, mellowing effect. After prayer by Elder Chapman, a double quartette was rendered under the competent management of Elder Wm. Pardoe.

Elder Kimball addressed the people, explained the object of the conference and, with a feelingness, aroused the curiosity of the congregation for what was to follow. The subjects of faith and repentance were discussed by Elders Erastus Christensen, Joseph F. McGregor and George T. Wrisle, showing the necessities of all, as strict attention was paid throughout the meeting and words of commendation given at the close.

The afternoon found us with increased numbers. During this meeting, interspersed with duets and trios, the subjects of faith and baptism were spoken on by Elders Rudney B. Astley, W. W. Beckstead and James Brown.

Sunday at 10 a. m. we began our meeting with about 500 people present. Elder Kimball had been listen to him for one hour and forty-five minutes on Gospel principles.

At the afternoon meeting he resumed his subject and continued until he was compelled by the rain to stop. The people remained in the meeting, our brethren scattered in various directions, holding meetings in surrounding cheapels and school houses. All felt, they had feast Bliss.

The day following there were three ordinations for baptism. Before hundreds of people on the banks of a crystal stream, Elder Mathews explained to the hearers the object of baptism, dwelling at length on the commandments and beauty of this principle and ordinance. Then stepped forward Brother Henry Harvester, his wife and daughter Lizzie and were baptized by Elder Chapman, who had with them months ago, turned the midnight oil in search of truth.

In our Priesthood meeting we enjoyed the richest flow of the spirit of God. There we received words of regard and counsel, words of encouragement and help. We would that all the youth of Zion had been with us, for the Spirit of God like a fire did burn. President Kimball spoke to us fire and sours, words of rich inspiration flowing from his lips.

And so President Kimball continued for six hours. Let no insinuation or idea Paul expressed to Timothy and say: If any son of Zion desire a mission to the Southern States, he desireth a good work. He will find work which will try him to his heart's content work which will lead him to know whether I serve a God in heaven who hears the prayers and accepts the efforts and offerings of his children; and work which will bring greater happiness to him than he can have thought in any other way.

At the close of conference we received new companions and new fields of labor.

ALBERT MATHEWS,
President of Conference.

Clerk.

A DANGEROUS ASSAULT.

George A. Smith Stabbed by an Enraged Chinaman.

Ed Uhle is the name borne by a Chinaman who is now in the county jail awaiting trial for stabbing George A. Smith, the eighteen-year-old son of John Y. Smith. The assault occurred on Thursday evening when Smith, together with other boys, was wending his way to his home at 455 South, Second East street.

The boys, it appears, were calling their way diagonally through the joint building grounds about half-past nine when suddenly they came in contact the with Chinaman, whom one of the boys thought he knew. The young man made a remark to the Chinaman which was not apparently relished by the latter, as he drew out a large knife and rushed towards the boys, striking Smith on the arm with the weapon and severing an artery which caused the blood to flow so freely for some time that Smith had to be conveyed to his home.

A Mongolian answering the description of the assailant was shortly afterwards arrested and he is now in the county jail pending a trial which will take place before Justice Wenger on Monday next at 2 o'clock.

The wife of COMBY SMITH for Harry Joseph is ill.

Favorable to Rev. Evans.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Sept. 25.—The committee appointed by the First Congregational church presented a series of resolutions condemning the action of the Dubuque association in criticising the day conference at San Francisco for suspending Rev. C. O. Brown, after he had been tried by council on certain charges brought against him. The resolutions recite in detail the action of the Bay conference and the Dubuque body, and contrast the former that the resolutions be rescinded, instructs the delegates to the district conference, which meets at Strawberry Point next week, to have the resolutions so rescinded. This undoubtedly foreshadows the result of the conference, from which the delegates and the outcome will be favorable to him.

A British Gale.

London, Sept. 25.—A severe gale from the northeast prevails along the coast causing much damage, a graphic communication is serious and cut off the details. Lifeboats are working slowly.

TOWN AND MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Stock market opened weak and lower on resumption of near previous and close changes of importance for the common account. Sugar, reading and Rock Island were most prominent in the decline. Silver certificates were slightly higher on the news.

The market assumed a decided upward tendency in consequence of liberal purchasing by leaders. Foreign advices reported some anxiety at Berlin on Eastern matters on the bourse, and a rumor of an attempt to place the Chinese loan in Berlin. Local traders made sudden and extensive purchases of the government at 11 p.m. were active, shares recorded a decided rise and a gain of a fraction, sugar and the speculation in iron and steel.

Stock subsequently rallied to make a strong close throughout the general tone.

Strong Nerves

Nerves are as surely made from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla as does from of meadows, milk cheese, or other so-called blood diseases. This is simply because the blood alters the condition of all the tissues, muscles and tissues. If it is impure it cannot properly sustain these parts. If made pure, rich, red and vitalized by Hood's Sarsaparilla, it carries health instead of disease, and repairs the waste. Nervous robbers so dark from use of opiates, tobacco, stimulants, heavy, nervous, heart palpitations, are cured by
