SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2—In the Senate the House joint resolution reducing by 50 per cent the duties on goods imported for exhibition at the World's Fair was passed. It releases from duty altogether articles acquired by the Columbian museum for its own use.

The Senate bill to authorize the Missouri River Power company of Montana to construct a dam across the Missouri river, was placed on the calendar. The House bill for a first-class stand revenue cutter for the great lakes was passed.

Stewart introduced a bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and it was referred to the finance committee.

Gorman offered a resolution authorizing the employment, during recess, of certain messengers, and it was referred to the committee on contingent expenses.

The House concurrent resolution providing for adjournment November 3, at 3 o'clock p. m., was received. The resolution, on motion of Gorman, was referred to the committee on appropriation.

The House bill to increase by twenty-five the number of military officers that may be assigned to college, was amended and passed.

The House bill to extend the time for the execution of the Chinese exclusion act was taken up, and Davis offered an amendment, re-enacting the act of July 5, 1884, and continuing such act in force six years longer. The act of 1892 required a Chinese person when accused of being unlawfully in this country, to prove his innocence. To prove his innocence, said Davis, compelled him of the common law in presumption of innocence until proven guilty. There was no other law of the kind in Christendom, and it would be a disgrace to Morocco.

Call argued in favor of the proposed amendment of the act of 1892.

White (Dem.) of California then addressed the Senate on the Chinese bill.

Squire withdrew his amendment in order that the bill might become a law during this session. All other amendments offered yesterday and today were rejected and the House bill was passed without amendment.

The Senate bill granting to the state of California 5 per cent of the net proceeds of cash sales of public lands in the state to aid and support its public of common schools and making an appropriation for the purpose, was, on motion of White of California taken up and passed.

The Senate then went into executive session and afterwards adjourned until tomorrow.

IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—In the House, immediately after the reading of the journal, General Catchings reported a resolution for final adjournment at 3 o'clock tomorrow. The resolution was carried by a vote of 154 to 83.

Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution to permit the committee to sit during adjournment and to report on any bills, and providing, if filed, that such bills and reports shall be mailed to each member.

Reed objected, explaining that the minority should have a fair and decent opportunity to examine and prepare a minority report on a bill of such importance as the tariff bill before its presentation.

Catchings, from the committee on rules, presented a special rule for consideration of Wilson's resolution.

Reed said the resolution was unsatisfactory in character and unreasonable in demand. It would be unjust to the minority to expect them to get together and, in a few days, prepare a report on the bill.

Wilson said the resolution was designed to give the country the benefit of the earliest possible information concerning the proposed legislation, and get the bill through all the preliminary committee stages, so its consideration could begin immediately after the regular session convened. There was, he continued, no mystery about the preparation of the tariff bill. He himself had invited every Republican member of the committee, with the possible exception of Hitt, who was absent, to come to the committee-room and see what was going on.

Reed responded briefly, and then a vote was taken. The republicans refused to answer to their names and there was not a quorum, the yeas being 157 and the nays 1.

Catchings at once entered a motion to reconsider the vote by which the House agreed to adjourn Friday.

Wilson moved a call of the House, with the intention to get a quorum to pass the resolution. The call developed the presence of 214 members.

At 3:15 the executive clerk of the President announced that the President had approved the repeal bill.

A resolution was adopted revoking leaves of absence, and instructing the sergeant-at-arms to arrest absentees.

For three hours the members waited patiently for the appearance of the absentees. At 7:30 Wilson moved to dispense with further proceedings under call.

The vote resulted 9 to 150, and upon the announcement Reed rose and offered a compromise. He offered a manner proceeding to amend the resolution so as to permit the chairman to file a tariff bill, with the understanding that the reports thereon shall be filed not later than ten days. This proposition Wilson accepted, provided the word "tariff" before the bill be changed to "revenue."

The controversy being amicably settled, Bayers, from the committee on appropriations, presented the conference report on the agency deficiency bill, and asked the House to insist on its disagreement to the Senate amendments to pay $51,000 to Senate employes for work done during the recess of the Fifty-first Congress. He explained that this should have come out of the contingent fund of the Senate and the last Congress refused to pay it. The House, by a vote of 120 to 4, decided not to recede from the proposition.

The House then adjourned.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

First Day of Their Conference—Appropriations of Funds.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 2.—Fifteen of the episcopal bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church arrived in the city this morning and, as ex-officio members of the Church Extension society of the church, were present at the opening of that society's annual meeting. The report of the college of church extension at Chicago applied to the general committee was read by Dr. Spencer. The growth of Methodism in the past year, he said, had been most remarkable. The treasurer's report showed that the receipts the past year were $[illegible] disbursements, $[illegible], leaving a balance of $[illegible].

Today was the last day of the annual meeting of the Woman's Methodist Episcopal Foreign Missionary society and the most important report of the meeting, that of the finance committee, was presented. The appointment of money to be raised among the eleven branches is as follows: New England, $[illegible]; New York, $[illegible]; Philadelphia, $[illegible]; Baltimore, $[illegible]; Cincinnati, $[illegible]; Northwestern (Chicago), $[illegible]; Minneapolis, $[illegible]; Des Moines, $[illegible]; Topeka, $[illegible]; Portland, $[illegible]; Colorado River, $[illegible]; making a total of $[illegible], distributed among foreign fields as follows: India and Malaysia, $[illegible]; China, $[illegible]; Japan, $[illegible]; Bulgaria, $[illegible]; Italy, $[illegible]; Mexico, $[illegible]; South America, $[illegible]; contingent, $[illegible].

This is an increase of more than $[illegible] over last year. Special efforts are being planned to celebrate the silver anniversary of the society.

Ten of Them on a "Stake" Trip.

GREEN RIVER, WYO., Nov. 2.—Walter Scott, one of the party of ten young men who are making their way from New York to San Francisco on a wager of $1000, arrived in Green River last night. The conditions of the contest are that the entire distance is to be made in ten days without a cent of money or railroad fare or living expenses. In fact, it is a regular "stake" trip. Scott is ahead of the nine other competitors and had been on the road seven days when he reached this place.

The Burlington S. S. Movement.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

BURLINGTON, WYO., Nov. 2.—These parties in the interests of the Burlington Railroad company are confident that work on the extension from this place to Billings, Mont., will be pushed this winter. The channel of the Tongue river, north of this city, has to be changed and this work cannot be successfully carried on in the spring when the water is high.

A Split in Their Ranks.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 2.—Since the Farmers' Alliance of South Carolina voted that as a prerequisite to receiving Alliance votes all candidates in Democratic primaries next year must pledge themselves to support the Ocala platform, endorsed by the Populists at Omaha, against the platform of any political party, their policy has been further outlined by the declaration in the silver debate by Senator Irby, who is state Democratic chairman, that if unconditional repeal should prevail, the Alliance men would refuse to follow Democratic leadership further, and he would vote against any tariff reform measure introduced in behalf of the national administration.

The probable result of this policy is indicated in a letter from Gen. Wade Hampton, federal commissioner of railroads, to the editor of the Columbia State: "My own judgment is clear that the time has come when the line should be drawn between those who stand on the Ocala platform and those who stand on that of the national Democracy. No man who upholds the former can properly be a Democrat, and unless our people choose to support the fallacies of the Ocala adherents, or to be led into the Populist party, the true Democrats of the state should organize and maintain the principles of the Democratic party, as set forth in the Chicago platform. If my Democratic fellow citizens agree with me that this is the true policy to be adopted, I shall at once proceed to organize national Democratic clubs throughout the state, and I shall exert my utmost efforts to keep the state where it properly belongs, in the great Democratic column."

Appointment Revoked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—It was reported in the papers that Colonel F. Hampton Hage, of Virginia, who was recently appointed counsel to Amoy, China, was here and expected to start for China today. Tonight a dispatch was received to the effect that President Cleveland had revoked his appointment.

Colonel Hage was interviewed by a reporter last week in reference to Virginia politics, and he, in an interview, said: "There is great dissatisfaction over the proposed repeal of the Sherman law, the friends of silver in Virginia outnumbering the monometalists five to one.

Colonel Hage does not take his removal kindly, and promises retaliation.

Made Short Work of Him.

WATERBURY, CONN., Nov. 2.—Tommy Ryan, champion welter-weight, knocked out Harry Jamison, of Bridgeport, here tonight in two rounds. Jamison fought at 145 pounds and Ryan at 140. In the first round Ryan appeared to be strong on his man, but in the second he sailed in with a rush, which dazed Jamison and ended the fight in a knockout of the most pronounced character.

Walter McNally only spared Dann Retset two rounds when the referee declared the contest a draw to save police interference.

THE SILVER CAMPAIGN.

Still Fighting for the White Metal—Silver Literature.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—Senator Stewart came promptly to the front today with a bill for the free coinage of silver. That is confirming the statement made in the Senate that the fight for silver would be continued. The bill prescribes the weight of the silver coins, which are to be issued upon the basis of the ratio of 16 to 1. Under the provisions of the bill holders of silver bullion can deposit it at the mint and receive in exchange silver dollars or treasury notes. Those treasury notes shall be redeemable in silver coin only, which is a change from the usual form, which requires their redemption in either silver or gold.

There was a meeting last evening attended by thirty or forty silver senators and members of the House and other prominent bimetallists for the purpose of agreeing on a policy for future action in the interest of silver legislation, in view of the repeal of the Sherman law.

General A. J. Warner was chairman. It was agreed that silver literature should be circulated, and also that in congressional and national elections no partisanship should enter into the fight. An address will be prepared.

Recovered Twenty Pounds.

Inundations also occurred in other districts with great loss of property. In Yamaiji Fukiato city persons have been buried alive.

Control Over Beet Prices.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—There will doubtless be a sudden outlook over the last awards at the World's Fair. About a week ago it was reported as either that the Amheuser-Busch was on top, but the report of the majority of the jury, filed today, gives the award to Pabst. A chemical analysis of the beer was made for the jury by Professor Wiley of Washington, and Messrs. Weigle and Lichtenstein of the jury filed a minority report charging that their associates on the jury had no right to assume Wiley's figures, maintaining that Wiley gave Pabst 41 points on a certain brand, while the majority report makes it 45, or sufficient alone of the Anheuser-Busch.
