THE PALACE CAR COMBINE

New Haven's Property Turned Over to Pullman-Wagner Company.

MADE $215,000 LAST YEAR.

Other Companies Previously Agreed to Turn Their Parlor Car Business Over to Pullman-Wagner Co.

The New York Herald today says: Charles P. Clark, president, and John M. Hall, vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and Robert T. Lincoln, president, and Mr. Wilks, vice-president, of the Pullman Palace Car company, will meet today in this city for the purpose of formally for the ending over of the New Haven's sleeping and parlor car service to the Consolidated Pullman-Wagner company. The idea of the Pullman and New Haven company has not its own service, amounting about 10 cars, and making a profit last year, according to about $15,000 during the last year. Two cars it used to Boston, in addition to the regular service, and the profit from it has brought them from the Pullman company.

In consideration with the New Haven's plan to turn over the sleeping car business to the Consolidated Sleeping car company, a new road will be formed between Boston and New York, one of which was that of the Saturday before the Pullman-Wagner deal was signed, the New Haven railroad directors passed resolutions, copies of which were sent to both the Pullman and Wagner companies, in which it was agreed that the New Haven company would not use its dining, sleeping and parlor cars in the Consolidated company.

It has now developed that other companies also have signed contracts to turn their parlor car business over to the Pullman-Wagner company. Rumored then about the Pullman that it was a prior condition of the deal that the Pullman and Wagner companies should each put in their cars, with a view of putting up a monopoly and realizing it is the position for an opposite parlor car company to come in. It is also noticeable that J. Pierpont Morgan was largely instrumental in bringing the Pullman and Wagner companies together. It was Mr. Morgan who made use of the sleeping cars of the combination, 204 long after the deal had been made, and it was Mr. Morgan who made the Pullman company and absorbed the Wagner company. Mr. Morgan, Mr. Vanderbilt and other directors of the Pullman company, and had, at the last moment, prior to making it public, asked their influence in persuading so-called dissentient companies to use the equipment of the Pullman company. Among the other companies that are reported to come in are said to be the Boston & Maine, the Lake Shore, Illinois and Pere Marquette.

Another important incident in connection with the deal was the action of the directors of the New Haven road in so far as the Pullman-Wagner cars were concerned. Mr. Clark, president of the road, who is few months ago, had strenuously refused to give up running the company's sleeping cars on its road, and allow the Pullman company to take charge of its service.

When the matter came up, on the second Saturday in October, on the resolution to sell the cars, Mr. Clark was not able to muster votes enough to defeat the scheme and Mr. Morgan's proposition carried the day. Mr. Morgan was backed by the Rockefeller interest, and recently elected a director of the New York property.

Along the line of the New Haven road Mr. Clark's defeat is regarded as an indication that Mr. Morgan and Rockefeller are anxious to get control of the company, and Mr. Clark's resignation, Mr. Hall, the house president, when Mr. Clark resigned.

It was stated yesterday on trustworthy authority that Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr., president of the Long Island railroad, had been offered the presidency of the New Haven road, and that he was likely to accept. Mr. Baldwin went to the Long Island road at the request of Mr. Rockefeller. He used to be vice-president of the Southern railway, which Mr. Rockefeller controls, and is therefore regarded as representing both of these interests.

There has been much curiosity as to which corps of officers of the palace car companies would be disposed with. It was learned yesterday that none of the leading officers of the companies would be retained, but that the general office force of each of the Wagner company would be let out. All of the operating staff of the Wagner company on the road will remain.

FIGHT AGAINST UNION DEPOT.

West Side Business Protest, and Will Ask Council to Defer Action.

The Fourth Ward street railroads have applied to the City Council for a franchise to operate a belt line, and their action is being watched with interest by people at the West Side. The Fourth Ward lines are for the purpose of preventing unless the granting of a tracking franchise over Fourth West.

The only fly in the ointment seems to be the fact that the Union Depot company is also asking for a franchise on Fourth West, which it has been understood, would be used for the purpose of tracking the cars of the Fourth Ward lines to the depot.

The West Side business men are opposed to the Union Depot company using Fourth West, and will protest against the granting of the franchise. They will ask that the franchise be deferred until the Fourth Ward lines have had time to show what they will do in the matter of building a belt line. The Fourth Ward lines have been asking for a franchise for some time, and it is said that they will be able to show that they are prepared to build a belt line if they can secure the franchise they have asked for.

The investigation leads are usually flat, and the lands are easily tilled. The reclamation can be made, however, at a cost large enough to make it necessary to confine there is a probability of reclaiming the lands that now are adjacent to the canal.
