The Exposition at Rawlins, Wyo., will cost the county of Rawlins, Wyo., will cost it a sum of $[illegible] this month.

About 40,000 head of sheep will be moved to and from Cheyenne, Wyo., before the middle of June.

The foundry at Boise (Idaho) has been kept continuously busy since it was first opened, and has enjoyed large patronage from the very start.

The city wheat from Tacoma, Wash., not considering the best seed of the region, is to be used in the experiment of Tacoma, the metropolis, which claims to have been selected.

A. L. Lamphiger, of Big Horn, Wyo., received this week an offer of $[illegible] for his wheat at the World's Columbian Exposition.

The Cheyenne Leader says: The case of E. J. McGovern against the officers of the Union Pacific has been decided from the district court of Laramie county in the federal court of Wyoming. The action is to recover damages for injuries sustained a year ago in the Pacific shops.

Dagon Gallery, a miner, disappeared from view at Butte, Mont., two weeks ago. On Tuesday his corpse was found at the bottom of an abandoned tunnel. It did not have the appearance of having fallen down the shaft, as it lay not a few miles distant, and it is believed he was murdered.

The Sheridan (Wyo.) Union says a Chinese association has been organized in Alpine valley for the purpose of securing an effective alliance. A Chinaman who lived there was sent a notice recently and the citizens intend to be sure of having it in the fire. The association, it is said, sent the order to leave the country by day or night, or rather the consequences, and it is believed he was murdered.

A miner named Bell, who was with his wife at his camp near Pine Tree, a few days ago, says the Lead Dispatch. He was living in a tent in which were all his personal effects. During the night the tent caught fire. Words he spoke to Mrs. Bell suggested, and before full control of his senses was obtained the sleeping he was getting tipsled. His clothes were all burned and his relatives were so badly scorched that he was nearly blind.

Sheriff Daniel Stringham is at Provo engaged in preparing the necessary documents for the public domain in Utah for 1895, says the Idaho Daily Statesman. He expects to be able to do this to accelerate the contracts in stock. This year $22,000 will be used in surveying government land in the state. This is an increase of $[illegible] over the amount appropriated for Utah and surveyed in 1894, and the increase was only secured through the persistent work of our congressmen in Congress.

Trade Dispatch: Dr. Davis, of Topeka, and Dr. Dillon, of Kansas City, have formed a partnership in the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Dillon comes well recommended by some of the leading physicians of the country. Dr. Davis will devote a large part of his time to the practice of dentistry.....At last work decided action has been taken in regard to the new floor mill at the mouth of Montreal canyon. Last Sunday John T. Kelly accompanied by M. H. Walker and J. Wilson, rode out from Salt Lake and were driven at once to the ledge. We were informed that the contract for the building of the mill had been let, and that work is to commence at once, the mill to be of forty ton capacity. The contract for the machinery was given to the Great Western Manufacturing company, at Leavenworth, Kansas.

A desperate attempt was made to rob the office of the Union Gas Engine Company at San Francisco at an early hour on Friday morning. Shortly after 1 o'clock two men were seen entering the building in which the office is located by a watchman. The latter thought that they were employees of the company and paid no attention to them. After gaining an entrance the burglars proceeded up stairs to the office and thoroughly ransacked the place. Finding nothing of value, they attacked the safe in the outer office, but failed to open it. They then divided their efforts in forcing open the safe in the main office and after repeatedly attempted to knocking off the combination. The door was then broken and the safe thoroughly examined. Fortunately, the cashier of the company had emptied the safe of its valuables before leaving the office, and the burglars secured nothing of value. In one of the drawers of the safe was a stock of $[illegible] checks in a Pacific bank. The burglars opened one of the drawers with a "jimmy," but failed to use the checks. No arrests.

Salon of Blue Bottles.

A Philadelphia correspondent writes: Philadelphia has been visited by a Parisian who has brought with him a collection of bottles, which he has placed in the Fairmount Park Horticultural Hall, and which is comparatively speaking, a very high price to the passengers of the Pennsylvania railroad through the bridge. The bottles are of all sizes and shapes, and are of all colors, and are so arranged that the light passes through them. The effect is very pretty, and the collection is a very valuable one. It is said to be unequaled in any other country, and it is expected that it will be a great attraction to the visitors to the city during the World's Fair. The collection is composed of specimens of the finest glass ever made in the world, and it is said that it is worth $[illegible] to make a set like it. The collection is to be exhibited in the Horticultural Hall for a month, and then it will be taken to Chicago.
