MINES AND MINING.

The Work of the Bulls and Bears Today Summed Little.

SAMSONITE THE ONLY LISTED SALE

A New English Process for the Treatment of Refractory Ores—Lead's Good Fortune.

Business was decidedly dull and flat on the Exchange today and had to set down for a one minutes' share sale on the listed list, that class of stock would have been literally "twice weeks." The brokers unfortunately had the spring fever and some of them came out more for the purpose of donning and exhibiting their new spring suits, than to get right down to active work in the pit. Mammoth was the stock recognized by a transfer and it brought the substantial figure of $2.30, with demand for more at the same price. No comment is necessary on the call of listed stocks other than to say that the quotations remained about stationary, as will be seen from the table below.

Two of the unlisted stocks shared in the day's trading, they being Hagan and Dalton, the former unloading 200 shares and the latter 1,000. The call of Dalton was particularly spirited and the stock closed at figures indicative of a downward tendency. The Lincoln stock is apparently here to hold its own by the bears, as day after day from 50 to 90 shares is sold for it, but the bids fail to bring out any offer. The closing figures were as follows:
