THE PIT AN ATTRACTION

Stock Exchange Thronged with Visitors Interested in Mining Matters.

SPIRITED TRADING MARKED TODAY'S CALL

Fussy on the Overland and Other Mines—Golden Strike a Dandy—The Population of Mercur.

Despite the many counter attractions in this city at present, the pit continues to receive its full share of attention, the daily attendance being greater if anything this week, than it ever has been in the history of the institution. Those who is a gratifying condition of affairs and attests to a larger share the great interest taken in mines and the stocks which represent them. The brokers—they constitute the membership of the exchange—are pleased to see visitors and extend to them a hearty welcome to drop into the pit at any time, but especially during the progress of the call which begins at 11 a. m. daily. Sundays excepted.

While today's business did not equal in amount of shares sold, the trading of yesterday, the call was productive of considerable activity, some being made at different points above the line and all at figures in advance of those ruling at the close of Tuesday. Big trades were made in a pair of pet shares at 65 cents, closely followed in the trading by a third at 67½ cents, handled out 1,000 at 65½ a share, and 10,000, which sold at 65 cents, which brought out a good deal of talk. Over Marion stock about 20 cents. Geyser-Marion stock sold extensively and made a sale at 65 cents, while Mercur and Gold Central at 67½ was ineffective, bidders being for sale at 65 cents. Mercur Gold stock was well outbidding to let go at such a figure. Mammoth stock was active, but did no business, and was accompanied by Mercur, Ontario and Silver King, all with considerable strength, but not sufficient to induce bidders to relinquish.

Breaking class No. 1 the brokers fell freely for Chloride but failed to negotiate transfers. Crown was a trifle stronger, the stock being on hand at 9 to come, but Valeo was firm and sold at 15 and 16 cents, the shares changing hands at the latter figure. Dexter carried excitement by jumping skyward in the trading and selling at from 23 to 30 cents, which is the price to good demand at 27. The "Bears" which market for company in this Kansas way are a good deal like bad fellows that failed in the tradeoff and the coming stock to sell was Hecla Consolidated, which sold 10 cents and had a ready bid of 27c.

The closing figures were as follows:

Pioneer Died.

Joshua K. Whitney, one of the Pioneers, well known by young and old as "Josh Whitney," passed a peaceful ending death him on Tuesday evening last, from failing and breaking his knee cap, while walking from his home to the city. At present he is recovering as safely as can be expected and it is earnestly hoped he will be around again soon.

From the Mission Field.

Elder W. H. Rammerstorm of Provo, Utah, who departed for a mission to the Southern States in February, has arrived safely at his destination, and is in excellent health and spirits, and says he has been greatly benefited by the change of climate, and is enjoying himself in the Southern States. The first two years of his mission were spent in the South Atlantic States, after which he went to Georgia and South Carolina, preaching in the conference. For the last three months prior to his release and return, he labored in the Alabama conference, in one of the South Carolina conference. The Latter-Day Saints in Georgia are generally increasing, and that the conference is growing. There are much brighter than for some considerable time past. In returning home he came via Spring Hill and was joined by his wife at Springville.

Elder John T. Gabbot of Farmington, who has been laboring in the Indiana conference for the past 20 months, arrived home on Tuesday last from the mission field. His time was spent in the North Indiana conference, where everything is in good condition by the Mormon missionaries, and the Saints are doing a good work, and good being taking the place of it will.

Elder Joseph Richardson of Smithfield has likewise returned home from the mission to the South Atlantic States, after having been absent some thirty-one months. His labors were confined to Rabun County, Georgia, and the prospects, he believes, are quite flattering. Elder Richardson enjoyed the best of health while abroad, and is pleased to be home again.

Injuries Were Fatal.

Joseph Austin Walton, the 11-year-old lad who was seriously injured in a runaway last Tuesday evening, in Salt Lake City, unfortunately succumbed to his injuries at the Holy Cross hospital last night, at which hospital he was conveyed soon after the accident. The lad had been suffered, for some time past, as stoker for Cooke-Pitts Drug company, and was engaged in the discharge of his duties when a number of boys ran out into the street, throwing up their hats, and frightening the animal which he drove. The boys immediately spread and left the lad to take a run, dashing against a telephone pole and injuring both the legs and arms of the boy. He was picked up and conveyed to the hospital, where treatment necessary to refreshing in other cases was given, but without avail. The boy died from the effects of the shock. His parents are naturally overcome with grief at the untimely ending of the affair.

The funeral will occur from the family residence, 126 Ivan Court, on Friday, at 2 p. m.; friends invited.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ever since the Salvation Home Tabernacle Choir was authoritatively dissolved, as an organization, there have been flitting references by amateur audiences to occasions whether such club and one for the various combinations have passed the relative stand (public opinion) but now have received an authoritative ruling to be entered to headquarters for publication and legal for discussion. Then it was thought that by calling the best of the choir together and forming a club and adding a few extra people, not already such, the current press would notice the fact and call it a club. The Salvation Home Choir Company that has gone south the public appearance at the Tabernacle on Tuesday evening, Oct. 11. It would be an act of injustice to criticize the performances from an artistic standpoint, for by comparison, it is not a good one. The management is responsible for an expression of public opinion, and it is entirely in accordance to attract large audiences, and there also would be a profit to the Salvation Army, which is phenomenal, that some good fellow should be doing the Christ entertainment. The week's engagement and have found many pieces that would not have called for the ear of a audience in the Cotton King. A best American audience, well presented, would have good reason to be pleased with the entertainment with the public and would have passed the way for something better in the future. The Salvation Army organization will give no credit to those who have the company in charge, over some Tabernacle choir, and in the long run, it proves unwise for such things. It is properly brought out and financial, to make a good stock company, but it is not the time nor place for it to be called the same as a Tabernacle Choir. Those who have natural disposition, and those who are where who think they may have it, when the fact is, singing patience would be made in little time, and that is what those figures are found in the Home Company. Of the ladies, Miss Nellie Roper is the shining light; she sings like bird and will not make a special stage appearance, but her voice is rather cooing and sweet, and she is a good, an earnest and accomplished. These difficulties have been, will be easily overcome. Miss Roper is a good, and the Home Company has the good solid element made up of but before. The other ladies of the company are Mrs. Ellen Ashton, Mrs. Thomas, George Bible to produce a better Tabernacle Choir than is now through the out of the hair would come the ear-rings. He would do better now to be good, and the company, at this stage would bring the music of a grace for him. Lucon Cummings and a character for the Tabernacle Choir to be scored to be a little but out of his element in that kind of a role. Mr. Hoover was given prominent and future. Mr. Hoover is continuing to improve, and Brent Rogers likewise, both doing well last evening. Walter Stone, Richard Ashton as Uncle Ned, has been playing too much attention to his English of late, and will have to pay a little more attention to that of the natives of the "cotton belt." Professor Young, L. C. Bliss and Frank McCann (Hugh Smith) filled the other parts.

As a play, The Cotton King is like many other mercantile, all of the necessary ingredients for the kind of a play being present, but it would need to be made thrilling, and in the hands of a professional company it would be necessary to have a popular priced circuit. The elevator scene last night must have made the stage manager and the boys in the flies blush, and discomfited, necessary and removed out the life of the business manager at the opening of the play. It is not in such an manner of creating sound intro it is, and the best has been the experience of this play, for he was to save by then a terrible touch, and instead of well organized and rehearsed sound from the galleries. The Cotton King will be given two more performances, one tonight and the closing one of the engagement tomorrow evening.

This morning the call of seats for The Queen's Lace Handkerchief began at the Theater Scientific. From the advance sale of tickets, it is evident that the popularity of the Salt Lake Opera company is to be the business, and big audiences will be the rule. Some handsome photographs of the principals are on exhibition in the lobby of the theater, and they attract considerable attention.

Two Married Men comes to please the audiences that gather at the New Grand next week, and Miss Nellie Wood, the specialist comedy, Wheeler Mabida, will be presented by Clara Thorpe and company.
