ITALIAN BEDLAM.

A Mass Meeting in San Francisco Ends in Confusion.

NO SYMPATHIES FOR FRANCE,

Because That Country Made No Apology When Crispi was Assaulted by a Frenchman.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—An Italian mass meeting which nearly ended in a bloody riot was held in Dashbi's hall last night for the purpose of expressing regrets for the assassination of President Carnot.

Dashbi's hall is in the heart of the Italian quarter. It was packed long before the time set for the meeting. The crowd was unruly and there was considerable shouting, whistling and yelling. With the advent of the speakers of the evening the trouble began. Joseph Caligaris, the chairman, is one of the leading men of the Italian colony, and is looked upon as a liberal, fair and liberal minded man. He took his place on the narrow platform at the rear of the hall, but for some time could not make himself heard on account of the hisses and the shouts that came up from the mob in the streets below.

Two policemen in uniform who were in the body of the hall, moved up in front of the platform. Their action and the cries of "shame" and "disgrace" from the few determined men in the hall had the effect of bringing about comparative quiet. The chairman said the meeting had been called for the purpose of giving the Italian residents of San Francisco an opportunity of expressing their sympathy for the French people in their grief because of the loss of their president.

Then bedlam broke loose.

The crowd that for a few moments had been quiet was transformed in a moment into a mob of howling, screaming, hooting demons. Those behind forced others and the crush near the platform was something frightful.

Shouts and screams of "Down with the French" and "Italy for ever" came from half a thousand throats at once and the speaker was at great loss for answering yells that came up from the streets below could not be heard. It was as if pandemonium had broken loose and the men had been for the time transformed into yelling, gesticulating demons.

So great was the noise and so tremendous was the press that the speaker was forced off the platform. This was the signal for those in the rear and had not the two policemen interfered at this critical moment a tragedy might have been the result. As it was the two policemen, partly by their semblance of authority, and partly by their weight of body prevented the mob from crushing the speaker. Never for a moment did the shouts and curses cease.

The critical moment arrived when chairman Caligaris attempted to leave the hall. With a policeman in front and one behind him, a way was forced through the excited mass of men as far as the door. The two policemen drew their clubs and defended the exit until Caligaris had reached the lower landing when they were themselves forced down by the press from within the hall.

When Caligaris reached the street he was still far away from safety. The hall, located on Dashbi's alley, when filled the streets, swelled the chorus to a wild yell and without knowing whom they were pursuing, joined in a chase after Caligaris.

It was a wild scene. Caligaris was pale from fright as the yelling pursued him in fury. The police made a continuous fight. They placed their clubs, cracking many a head, and kept an open circle about Caligaris along Broadway to New Montgomery street and until he had reached the shelter of the Commercial hotel. Even here the man was not safe from the mob, for 150 of the rabble pressed their way in and had to be expelled by the police, who had no easy task.

Mr. Caligaris and his friends profess to be unable to account for the extraordinary action of the mob. The idea seemed to be, however, that the trouble was due to a division of the Italian community. The mass meeting was called by an association which, in the other factions are merchants and capitalists. The first faction is opposed to the second on general principles, being indeed persuaded to some extent by the beatings of the Mafia or at least so it was openly charged. Chas. Bertini, an Italian resident spoke for the furious element as follows:

"The people who assembled last night at the meeting felt that the protest and condemnation of President Carnot's assassination were out of place. The French made no protests of apologies when Crispi was assaulted by a Frenchman and they have made no apologies for their treatment of the Italians at Lyons."

THE FRUIT OF THE COUNTRY.

Condition and Prospects of the Crop in Various States.

CHICAGO, June 27.—A report has been prepared by the Farmer's Review of the condition and prospects of fruit in most of the states locally covered by its reports, from which the following excerpts are taken:

Illinois.—Few apples will be sent to market, not more than one county in nine reporting a good crop. Peaches and pears are regarded as a complete failure; plums are a near crop; cherries, light crop. Prospects for grapes and blackberries, heavy crop.

Michigan is among the fortunate states. Her apple crop will be large and the partial failure in other states ensures good prices. Peaches promise very heavy crop, average crop; pears, fair; cherries, good crop; blackberries, light crop, other small fruits fair.

Indiana.—The apple poor prospect, three fourths crop; pears, plums and cherries, scanty; grapes and blackberries, large crops; other small fruits, poor prospect.

Missouri—Apple crop will be far below average, very few counties reporting 10 or 50 per cent. One-fourth to average in Clemens report, while in some localities the crop will be nothing. The quality will generally be good. The new section is in the northern part of the state. Peaches a failure; light crop of pears; plums half crop; less than half crop of cherries; grapes, good average crop; blackberries average.

Wisconsin—Apples, plums and cherries, fair; blackberries, good; others about below average.

Minnesota — Apple prospects are poor and the yield for the state will be limited; plums, good; grapes, small crop; blackberries, average; raspberries and others, fair.

Reports from Ohio are too meagre to permit of giving a full report, but from the information on hand the conditions as to fruits appear to be similar to those in Indiana and Illinois.

THE KEEPER

Having First Chloroformed Her Father and Shot the Entire Family.

PAINTSVILLE, KY., June 27.—Hobson Witten, the pretty daughter of Wm. Witten, a prominent farmer living four miles north of here, resorted to unusual means in order to elope with the one she loved. For some months Henry Whick has been an admirer of Miss Witten, but the family discouraged his attentions and took every precaution to prevent an elopement, even locking up the girl's clothing. In order to get away out of sight, the girl chloroformed her father, mother and entire family of six. When they recovered from their stupor they found the girl and all her clothes gone. It is reported Whick and Miss Witten eloped to Ohio.

A Popular Candidate.

KIRKVILLE, Mo., June 27.—The Populist congressional convention of the first district today nominated John H. Lemon, of Macon, as a candidate for Congress.

HERMANN'S LATEST.

The Magician Has a Quarrel With His Pretty Wife.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Professor Hermann, the magician, is said to have to contemplate a new sensation, which he terms "the vanishing husband." It came about in this way:

Between Hermann and Manager George Leidner there exists a hatred of a peculiarly intense character. Hermann, the pretty wife of the magician, has seemed achieved quite a pronounced success as a serpentine dancer in that delightful "The Road" comedy. Last week Leidner offered Mme. Hermann not engagement in "The Passing Show," which she flatly being particularly desirous of showing New York her idea of serpentine gracefulness, promptly consented. Then the husband interposed his authority and forbade his wife to "degrade herself by appearing in Leidner's show," threatening to leave her if she persisted in her determination. This opposition only had the effect of making Mme. Hermann more anxious to dance at the Casino, and yesterday she wrote a final acceptance to Leidner. Last night Hermann's lawyer visited the Casino manager and asked him to withdraw his offer and set separate a happy married couple. Leidner said he could not withdraw now and expects his new dancer to be a feature of "The Passing Show" next week.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Sugar has advanced 1-16, Central Pacific 1, Union Pacific and coal, preferred, 1.

A selling movement set in, the prices down 1-16 to 1. Sugar lost 1. A better tone prevailed later.

FROM GREENLAND.

Great Hardships Encountered in the Arctic Regions.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27. — After wandering the icy fields, fathoms in snowstorms and mountainous seas, the British bark Falcon, Captain Sailer, has arrived here from the southeast coast of Greenland. His crew met with great hardships from the chilly blasts of the Arctic regions. Such weather was never experienced before by any of the crew.

The Falcon left New York March 20th for Greenland and rescued there after some little difficulty May 1st. She was loaded and sailed from this port May 15th. For the first few days she experienced ordinary weather and got well to the southward where she ran into a terrible gale. Although the wind howled from the south it was intensely cold, and rain, hail and sleet added to the dangers. Every sinew of canvas was taken in and under bare poles the Falcon was driven with terrible force through the icy sea. All on board were engaged in making things secure about the decks. It was almost impossible to see a quarter of a mile ahead and in constant dread of striking an iceberg, Captain Sailer spent a week of intense anxiety. Sometimes the bark would scrape alongside some monstrous berg so thickly was the region studded with the dangerous obstructions. Captain Sailer found his vessel was about twenty miles north of the place from where he started. Nothing was heard or seen of the Peary expedition. Captain Sailer says that the prevailing southerly winds have hindered the approach to Greenland almost impossible, as the sea is covered with huge icebergs. The mains sustained no damage whatever.

Last night a dispatch was received at this port by Wemscoth & Company, agents for the Norwegian bark Uniomer, which sailed from this port June 1 for Dieppe, stating that she has just arrived there almost a complete wreck. To save the vessel from total destruction, Captain Berg had to jettison a large portion of her cargo. The Uniomer is a new steam barge and left here laden with 870,000 gallons of crude oil. Her watertight bulkheads were closed and saved the crew from destruction.

South Light Fruit.

BLACK HOOK, N. B., June 27.—The official test with the search light before the ordnance board, of which Major Frank H. Hyde is president, and captain Hawkins and Capt. Wm. Crozier are members, was made last night. The Western Union Telegraph company established connection by wire with the roof of the Equitable building where the observer, Sergeant Dunn, received the message which Lieutenant C. B. Wheeler sent to him by flashes from the search light. The Morse telegraphic code was used for the purpose. He reported back that he and the assembled newspaper representatives saw the signals quite plainly and after a little practice, would be able to read anything sent by the flashes.

THE UINTAH RESERVATION.

Recommendation to Drive Away Undesirable Claimants.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The report on the conditions of the Uintah and Ouray Indian reservation in Utah by Inspector McCormick says: "Squatters who work on a large portion of the land, and squatters who are demoralizing, should be driven from the reservation by the general government." The police, he says, are unreliable and the laborers at Ouray can be dropped without detriment to the service.

Death of a Millionaire.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—A dispatch from Florence, Italy, announces the death of E. P. Fabbri, formerly a member of the Drexel banking firm. He is reported to have amassed $30,000,000.

FRANCE'S NEW PRESIDENT.

VERSAILLES, June 27. — Casimir-Perier was this afternoon elected president of the French republic by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies sitting as a national assembly. Tax on Beets.

ROME, June 27.—The Chamber of Deputies by a majority of 10 has approved the proposition to raise the tax on beets 25 per cent.

IN CONGRESS.

The Tariff Debate—Senator Hill Again Takes the Floor.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Senate today passed a bill to amend the act providing for the time and place of holding terms of the United States court in the state of Washington.

The debate on the income tax provisions of the tariff bill was resumed. The pending amendment was that of Allison to exempt corporations, companies or associations, having a capital stock of less than $100,000.

Hill took the floor. The theory of the income tax, he said, was that income from individual investments unless they exceed $4,000 had been subject to the tax. But no such limitations existed as to corporations. He could see no reason for the distinction. He thought some amendments had been adopted that would give small corporations the same exemption as that granted to individuals.

Vest, in reply, said under the tariff system citizens paid upon consumption. It was unfair and unequal. The poor paid practically as much as the rich. Property and incomes, in his opinion, should pay for the protection of the government.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The New Mexico statehood bill has been taken up in the House. A vote will be taken after three hours' discussion.

Expensive Deception.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The attorney general today sent the Senate through the secretary of the treasury a request for a deficiency appropriation of $126,000 in lieu of the $60,000 asked for some time ago. This amount will be used to meet expenses incurred by United States marshals in the arrest and punishment of Cassettes in the West for stealing trains.

Struck by a Steamer.

BOSTON, June 27.—The tug boat International, from Philadelphia, reports that the barge Shamokin, which she had in tow, was struck by a steamer in the fog, and sunk. The barge carried a crew of four. It is believed they were picked up by the steamer.

Democratic Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 27.—The Democratic state convention was called to order by Chairman Shannahan at 12:15. Robert K. Wright, of Allen town, temporary chairman, in his speech said revenue reform must come before Congress adjourns.

At caucus the Allegheny delegation, ten of twenty-nine members bolted. The trouble arose over the adoption of a resolution that the contest in the fourth Allegheny district be settled by giving the delegates half a vote each. The followers of George S. Fleming left the caucus.

The platform attributes the business depression and labor disturbances to the operation of the Wilson-Gorman tariff; demands tariff revision in accordance with the party pledges; opposes "the reckless inflation" of the currency to $50 per capita as demanded by the Republican state convention, and declares that "while we favor the circulation of constitutional money, gold and silver at parity of value, we are unalterably opposed to any debasement of the currency or depreciation of any dollar issued by the government; endorses Cleveland's administration; denounces the Republican party for failure to enact the necessary laws; commends Governor Pattison; deprecates recent interference in the settlement of questions that should be determined by peaceful arbitration; denounces as hypocrites those who clamor for protection of American industries and yet import alien labor, and opposes secret political organizations which strike at the freedom of suffrage.

William Hingerly, of Philadelphia, was nominated by acclamation for governor; John B. Rilling, of Erie, was nominated for lieutenant-governor unanimously.

ROADS IN TROUBLE.

Strikes to Enforce the Boycott Against the Pullman Company.

FUEL FAMINE IN CHICAGO.

Several Labor Organizations Will Be Appealed to for Aid—The Leaders in Conference.

DENVER, June 27. — No through trains are running on the Santa Fe owing to the Pullman boycott. Five trains are held at Raton, N. M., one at La Junta, Col. The company is determined not to move the trains without Pullmans.

WITHOUT THE PULLMAN CARS.

CHICAGO, June 27.—On the Illinois Central, south Chicago branch, heavy traffic was blocked. The operators in the tower at Seventy-first street left their posts and their places could not be supplied readily. Through trains passed Grand Crossing sans Pullmans without interference. None carried Pullman cars. At Fordham yards switchmen, switch tenders and yard employes joined the strike, tying up the yards.

CAR WINDOWS BROKEN.

The strike has precipitated a fuel famine. There is not a pound of coal at any of the docks and business on the river is at a standstill.

The first violence is the breaking of a Pullman car window at Grand Crossing. No passengers were injured. This afternoon the tower on the Illinois Central at Seventy-first street was manned and the south Chicago suburban trains began running. When the through trains from Kansas City and on the Baltimore & Ohio road arrived at Grand Central station, the switching crews refused to take them out of the yards.

The road crews of the trains also refused to back their own trains out. When the engineer of the Kansas City train pulled into the depot, he was asked to take his train back to the yards by Superintendent Kelly. He refused and left the cab. Superintendent Kelly took the train down to the yards, himself. In every instance the road trainmen refused to do any switching as long as Pullman cars were attached to the trains. Wisconsin Central and Baltimore and Ohio had similar experiences.

AN EFFORT TO SECURE AID.

The plan to secure aid from other organizations assumed definite shape today, and a conference was held by Grand Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights, President Dennis, of the A. R. U., and Secretary Arnold, of the locomotive engineers.

The switchmen in the yards of the Wisconsin Central have struck. In the freight yards, long lines of cars, laden with perishable freight are standing and cannot be moved. This afternoon one thousand employes of the Illinois Central in the Burnside shops, walked out and took the train for the city. When the hour arrived for the departure of the Washington and New York train over the Baltimore and Ohio road, the forward coaches stood 100 feet down the track from the Pullman sleepers, and no effort was made to make a connection.

NEW MEN SECURED.

CINCINNATI, June 27. — Pullman cars were not moved in Cincinnati Hamilton and Dayton yards last night. Railway officials are securing new men and propose to replace all disobeying orders.

THE MAILS NOT INTERFERED WITH.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The boycott wages against the Pullman company has not yet resulted in any delays of the mails. In the absence of the postmaster general, Assistant Postmaster General Jones says he anticipates no inconvenience or interruptions from that cause.

NOT A TRAIN MOVING.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., June 27.—All the men employed in the Northern Pacific yards struck last night and today all the engines battled went out. Not a train is moving in either direction. The A. R. U. has decided that one of the conditions of the strike would be the restoration of the wage schedule in force prior to January 1.

Killed a Burglar.

ALBUQUERQUE, June 27.—Judge T. C. Gutierrez shot and killed Bolois Chavez, one of four burglars in his house last night. The other escaped.

Suffocated to Death.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 27.—Oscar Peterson, James Daggett and Daniel Connors, miners, were suffocated to death in the Jefferson mine at Victor today, by foul air. Peterson was first overcome and the other two men went to his rescue.

Cleveland Applauded.

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., June 27.—The chairman of Franklin McVeagh, at the Democratic state convention for nomination as a party candidate for United States senator, seems to have grown brighter during the night. The convention met at noon. Chairman Phelps, of the state central committee, made an address repudiating the claim that the Democratic party is in any way responsible for the financial depression. Otto Stroot, of Bloomington, was temporary chairman. His address was received with many manifestations of approval, the mention of Cleveland provoking great applause.

Booth said the republican party responsible for the panic and for the life it brought. Hornsbrook and McKinleyism he pronounced the "twin monstrosities." McKinleyism would have long since joined Hornsbrook and Davenportism, Booth said, but for the Judases in the house, prominently masquerading in Democratic garb.

A Break For Liberty.

BOSTON, June 27.—An alarm of fire was rung in from Charlestown prison this afternoon for a small blaze. As soon as the alarm was given the inmates in the work shop made a break and in spite of the efforts of the officers rushed into the yard. When they saw the case was desperate the officers drew their clubs and charged upon the prisoners. Finding that the desperadoes were armed and while some were fired into the air, Thomas Donovan fell as a prisoner, Joseph Davies, and painfully if not mortally wounding him. With the assistance of the police the prisoners were quelled and put into their cells.

THE ASSEMBLY AT DENVER.

The Report of the Committee on Rules Causes Some Discussion.

DENVER, Colo., June 27.—It was near noon when actual work was begun in the National Republican league convention. The report of the credentials committee showed 11,000 delegates present.

The report of the committee on rules provided that each state and each college league be allowed to vote the full number of delegates to which it is entitled, whether present or not.

Mr. Busey, of New York, upheld the report on the ground that it the sentiment of the locality where the convention is held were allowed to influence its deliberations it would begin to decline.

Ex-Governor Prince, of New Mexico, spoke against the report, saying that its adoption would have a tendency to reduce the attendance at conventions.

Roll call on the adoption of the report resulted in 352 to 259 in favor of adoption. Colorado voted aye and the announcement was greeted with cries of "shame." Intense feeling was due to the bearing of this question on the vote on the resolutions.

The convention adjourned until 2 p. m., when the committee on resolutions will report. The resolutions reported arraign the Democratic administration, denounce the Wilson bill, favor legislation to restore the full use of the highest position of silver, favor the prompt admission of Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma; demand safe guards against unwutthy immigrants; recommend the woman suffrage question to the favorable consideration of the state as a matter of education.

The Beer Tax in England.

LONDON, June 27.—The House of Commons has refused to reduce the beer tax from 6 to 3 pence.

BACK FROM A HOLIDAY.

Mr. G. R. Loomis Returned Home Last Night from the East.

Deputy Clerk George D. Loomis of the Third district court returned last night from his well-earned holiday out, upon which he started June 14th. Mr. Loomis, accompanied by his wife, spent greater portion of the time with relatives at Catlinville, Ill. In the course of his travels he visited Chicago, and speaks in fairly satisfactory terms of the present condition of affairs in that region. Taking into consideration the prevailing hard times, says Mr. Loomis, the locality in which he has been sojourning has held up well, and the crops are looking fine. As to the weather, it is decidedly not therein very different from the temperature of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Loomis have had a delightful time, and feel much benefited in health by the change.

Prof. Dennis's Funeral.

The funeral of Prof. Dennis took place this afternoon from the First Congregational church, the Rev. Charles T. Brown officiating. The funeral was largely attended by teachers and citizens, among whom were members of the board of education, Superintendent Molenkamp, and many others. The floral emblems were beautiful, and were brought in large variety and profusion.

The resolutions that have been passed relative to the death of Prof. Dennis by those of the principals and teachers at present in the city, signify in a high degree the esteem by which he was held by those closely associated with him. His modesty of manner, strength of character, and scholarly qualifications are set forth in a fitting manner, and to those nearest and dearest to him this action on the part of his fellow teachers will be a source of great comfort and satisfaction.

In the condolence tendered the bereaved wife, fatherless children and faithful aged, are expressions of sincere and heartfelt sorrow. Words at this time can avail but little, and only the healing balm of time can soothe the deep sorrow of the present.

Petty Police Cases.

Frank Purcell, the trainer, tried his pugilistic powers on a Franklin avenue woman last night and was sent to jail this morning for a period of twenty days. During the afternoon Brindle put up $20 for him and he was released.

Four old Paddy Boyle, the king pin of all local drunkards, was sent to jail for ninety-nine days for drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

D. Shell and James Connors were found on the streets last night begging and using abusive and profane language. The penalty imposed this afternoon was twenty days at hard labor.

Celia Thomas forfeited $5 for assaulting a member of her own sex and Tom Gilbertz was fined $5 for using abusive languages.

Eighty Per Cent Pass.

About eighty of the one hundred candidates who were recently examined for positions in the city schools passed the required examinations.

AFTER TWO THIEVES.

Constable Algers Arrests His Man, But is Disarmed by Cowboys.

The Fugitives Make Their Way to Idaho, Where the Officer Will Overhaul Them.

Constable Samuel W. Alger, of Cleveland, Emery county, is in town today, getting requisition papers from Acting Governor Richards on Gov. McConnell, of Idaho. The constable is on his way to Paris, Idaho, after two men, Saul Reed and Joseph Hill, who are implicated in grand larceny at Huntington canyon. After examining them on a search warrant, he had to let them go, and they fled from the locality. Mr. Alger procured a warrant for their arrest, and followed them about forty miles to the Wattmore ranch, where he overtook them, and before they got out of bed had them arrested and disarmed. Two cowboys at the ranch came to the assistance of the prisoners and the constable was made the prisoner of the quartette. The only way he could secure an early release was by promising not to follow the prisoner for that day, and he made the promise and was liberated.

At Price Mr. Alger wired to various parts of the country inquiring for his men, and on Monday was crow from Paris, Idaho, that one of them, Hill, was in custody, and that the officers expected to get Reed the same day. Reed is said to be the chief party wanted for the theft.

WHAT BECAME OF THE BOX?

An Expressman Sent to Jail for Contempt of Court.

Wm. Rivers, a young man in the employ of the Salt Lake Transfer company, was this morning committed to the county jail, by Commissioner McNally, for contempt of court. Recently a suit in attachment was brought before the commissioner named, the plaintiff being D. A. Sibley and the defendant a Miss Maggie Donahl. A box and a trunk belonging to the lady being under attachment, Deputy Sheriff Montgomery went to the transfer company's office to fetch it, but was informed that it had been already taken away. Rivers was the expressman to whom the box was entrusted, but when questioned he positively declined to tell where or to whom he has delivered it. Being cited this morning to answer, Rivers still persisted in refusing to divulge, so the court turned him over to Sheriff Magnusen.

Plat E Work.

In one week more the field work of the city engineer's surveying corps in Plat E will have been completed. In the meantime the map and plat drawing is being industriously carried on in the office and is progressing as rapidly and satisfactorily as possible under the circumstances. It will require at least a year to finish that part of the work.

Marriage Licenses.

The county clerk today issued marriage licenses to Sidney Hill, 18, and Ada Jessie Marsden, 21, both of this city; George Schofmann, 21, and Mary Lacke, also of Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE FOR '95.

An Effort to Have the Association of Fire Engineers Meet Here.

For some time past Chief Devine of the Salt Lake fire department has been carrying on a correspondence calculated to bring to this city, in August, 1895, the convention of the National Association of Fire Engineers, which will hold its annual meeting for the present year at Montreal, Canada, from August 14th to 17th inclusive.

Today he received a letter from the secretary of the association saying that no city has yet made a cession for it and as to Salt Lake's prospects, he claims that the proper and only thing to do is to make a trial for it. He also gave a list of names of prominent western fire engineers whom he is of the opinion will work for the city, Chicago, Milwaukee, Denver, and other western cities have had the convention and will make no special effort to secure it again. That being the case, Chief Devine believes he will not find it very difficult to draw it here in case he should be granted a leave of absence to attend the deliberations of the association at Montreal. There is no doubt but that he will be given permission to that end.

THE HOME WORKERS.

Women's Association Reaching Out in Industrial Affairs.

FIELD FOR A VERY GREAT WORK.

New Machine in the Knitting Factory—Work of Home Enterprise in the South.

The directors of the Women's Co-operative Mercantile and Manufacturing institution held a meeting this afternoon to consider topics of interest connected with further extending the business of the association on the lines of its original organization. The institution was brought into existence near the close of the year 1869, in this city, and is the pioneer in the line of home industrial institutions for women in this part of the country. The first meeting of those who inaugurated the scheme was held November 29, 1869, at which the necessary preliminary steps were taken for commencing business, and on December 18 following the store was opened at 153 west First South street. The first saleswoman was Mrs. Caroline C. Raleigh, and the first superintendent of the dressmaking department was Mrs. Matilda F. Spencer. Less than a year after the organization the store was removed to 33 east, First South street, and later to its present location on West Temple street.

The purpose of the organization was to carry on a mercantile business for the ladies, and to develop an industrial department to which girls would be trained in millinery, dressmaking, hair dressing and various other branches, under circumstances that the products of their labor could be offered to the public. Thus it was intended to open an avenue whereby the members of the fair sex could secure employment in the manufacture of articles for which a large quantity of money was sent outside of the Territory.

From the outset the institution has had difficulties to encounter from the lack of capital, but its managers have struggled bravely along, and in the face of circumstances which ordinarily would bring failure to such enterprises have kept the institution on its feet and progressive. A fair amount of business has been done, and during the recent depression the disbursements have been kept within the receipts.

First class work and fair prices has been the watchword.

One feature connected with the business is the manufacture of ladies' cloaks, capes, and other articles of home made cloth of the finest quality. These articles, in which almost the entire trade is in the Eastern goods, are equal to the best style and superior to the same price articles of importation. The salesmen now contemplated is that of making children's suits on a more extensive scale, and it is in a line that should call for the patronage of mothers in preference to that for outside goods.

The knitting factory of John C. Cutler & Bros. has been augmented by the addition of another new machine, which is put in place today. By it the heeling and toeing of hosiery, which has heretofore been comparatively tedious to machine made hosiery, is performed quickly and well by some instead of hand power.

The knitting factory now has in operation twenty machines, giving employment to more than 20 people.

Andrew Kimball, who has been on a trip through the counties of central Utah, returned home last evening, after a very successful tour in behalf of a number of home industries. He reports the feeling of the people where he has traveled as being almost unanimous in favor of home goods.

The crops generally are looking well. There is plenty of water for irrigation, and the soil weakest of Juno has been beneficial. The crusts which has affected the ranges for cattle has not extended to the farming districts, so there is every prospect for a bountiful harvest.

At Elsinore, Sevier county, the roller mills company is also engaged in keeping a long reach. There are 350 fine animals pastoring on 40 acres of tussets. The foreman reports that the feed which they require in addition to the pasturage is three sacks of refuse grain a day from the mills. The last season the mills consumed put to 2,300 pounds of lard and 2,000 pounds of tallow, and hams were cured. The company furnishes the surrounding country with its supplies of that kind.

A FAMILY GATHERING.

The Life and Labors of President George A. Smith Remembered.

The life and labors of the late President George A. Smith were brought back to present remembrance yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon at the residence of his son, the Hon. John Henry Smith, in which occasion three generations of the deceased's descendants assembled to do honor to his name.

The county register was read and each member present responded to the roll call by quoting a selection from the inimon pioneer's discourses. A fine program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered, and well selected and an interesting sketch of President Smith's life, written by Mrs. Clarissa Smith Williams, was read by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Cartwright. Both ladies are daughters of the deceased. The affair was in every way pleasant and successful and will be long remembered by those who attended.
