NO. 213 SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1894. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

THE VIGILANT WON.

Leading the Britannia by Six Minutes, Fifty Seconds.

THE CONDITIONS FAVORABLE.

The Yacht Attained a Speed of About Twelve Miles an Hour in a Good Breeze.

COWES, ISLE OF WIGHT, Aug. 4.—The Vigilant won the yacht race with the Britannia. George Gould's yacht, the Vigilant, has redeemed the promise of her sailing master, that given deep water and strong wind, she would defeat the Prince of Wales's crack boat, the Britannia. The race today was fifty miles, twice over the queen's course. The prize was £100. The race was the seventh between the two boats, of which the Britannia had won two. The start was in a stiffish, westerly breeze. A large crowd watched the first half of the race from the shore, but soon the time that it was completed a strong tide had set in. Some account advantage was with the Britannia in the start off at 10:30, but the Vigilant quickly overtaken it and got the lead which she held to the finish, only once coming over being put in the second place.

At the completion of the first round the Vigilant's lead was three minutes, fifty seconds, only twenty seconds more than the time allowance to the Britannia. On the second round the Vigilant increased the lead to six minutes and fifty seconds. She went over the course in three hours and fifty seconds, or at a rate of about twelve miles an hour.

A YOUNG HOUSE THIEF.

Got He Is Said to Be an Adept at the Business.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 4.—A girl twelve years of age with big blue eyes and freckles almost as big, set in the Central police station last night were held by a group of happy police officers and detectives. His name is Marion Kromberg and the officers were glad to see him. Marion is a little over nine years old, but he has more any amount of trouble. Besides causing trouble for the police force, he came near burning up a portion of Milwaukee on several occasions. It is Marion's idea of fun to set fire to barns and steal horses. In the home dwelling fire he was an adept. He would jump into a buggy, drive out into the country, turn the horse loose and under back home. Twice he returned them for fifty cents, saying he had found the horse straying down the street. Steps will be taken to place him in some charitable institution.

RAILROAD RETALIATION.

The Division Shops Taken Down at Duluth, Ind., to Be Moved Away.

DULUTH, Ind., Aug. 4.—General Manager Stringham of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, has arrived in the city, and ordered the company's division shops taken down and loaded preparatory to moving them to Momence, Ill. A committee of thirty business men waited upon Mr. Stringham and requested that the shops be left was to remain. He answered that he was simply carrying out the resolution of the company; that the city and county authorities had refused the company a proper right of way, by having caused Sheriff Hinge to forbid the company's property when appealed to for protection, wearing the white ribbon, and when deputies were asked for he smile in strikers and the engines were loaded with ties and filed with cinery, etc. He said the boarding houses and eating houses had refused to feed the men and they thought it best to move the shops. The business men assured the company of protection and called for a public meeting at the opera house to take steps in the matter. The company is tearing down the coach house today. A telegram was received from President Carpenter telling the men to be in no hurry down the building, and that future action depended on future conditions here. If the shops are moved it is said the city will sue the company for $25,000 given the road when it was built here on the promise that the shops would be maintained here. The lawyers are searching for the agreement, but it seems to be lost.

CHEELLY SEATES.

A Young Woman Supposed to Have Violated the Moral Code.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 4.—A young woman who had violated the moral code supposed to govern the Slavs was seized last night by Slavs, who stripped off her clothing, plaited her hands and feet, tethered her to a stake and whipped her savagely for over an hour. She was terrified, tormented and sent upon. She was left in the woods for a short time. A young man who offered to release some of her clothes was beaten off. When the girl was released she could scarcely move.

Found Death in the Water.

TIFFIN, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Last night there was a cloudburst in the hills above Berwind, and the water came down the canyon leaping in that place in such volume that a party of five persons, who were caught in the road, were swept away and drowned.

THE STANFORD SUIT.

Proceedings in the Courts to Compel Payment of an Old Debt.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—The Chronicle says: Although the claim of the U. S. against the Leland Stanford estate for $15,000,000 was barred by the statute of limitations on the 1st of last January, there is every reason to believe that proceedings in the state courts to recover the alleged indebtedness will be commenced at a much earlier date.

The suit has yet a cloud on the title of every portion of the valuable estate, liable to remain until the legality of the claim has been passed upon by the courts, if only the time for commencing an action to enforcing its collection has passed and the right to such action lost.

Mrs. Stanford and her attorneys are confident that the government's claim will be wholly unsustained and that a judgment in its favor will never be granted. Therefore, the prospect for a long delay in the settlement and distribution of the dead founder's estate is not in doubt, and will be prevented, if such a thing is possible. The suspicion of an amount sufficient to meet the government's claim would move the swallowing up of the entire estate and will be fought vigorously. The distribution of the estate cannot take place until all the claims against it have been settled, and it has not been determined whether there is sufficient to meet all claims.

Peru's New President.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 4.—General Cceres, elected to the presidency May 10th, has taken his seat.

LONDON, August 4.—Hagrin, of California, has bought Water Green, a bay two-year-old brown colt, by Persimmon out of Wasch Mother and Gold Finch, a four-year-old chestnut gelding, by Cambridge out of Doewick. The price paid for the latter was £1,000.

SPURIOUS NOTES AND COINS.

A Million Dollars' Worth Said to Be in Circulation.

The Secret Service Hot on the Trail of the Members of a Large Band of Counterfeiters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A million dollars' worth of spurious treasury notes, it is estimated, have been put into circulation by a gang of counterfeiters around whom the government detectives have now at last succeeded in drawing the meshes of the law. Chief Drystdale, of the United States detective bureau in this city, will not give any information as to the nature of the evidence in the possession of the government, feeling that it might interfere with the work of capturing the other members of the band, as which Daniel D. Hoyt and Samuel Maney now in Ludlow street jail, are said to be members.

It is thought to be certain that the presses and plates of the gang have been found and confiscated. Plates of the plates are said to have been stolen from the government. The counterfeiters not only had the facility of turning out 5, 10, 20, 50 and 100 dollar treasury notes, but also bonds and securities for which a market was found in foreign countries, particularly England.

When the plate was located is not yet a mystery, but one man, formerly a secret service detective at Washington said that the counterfeiters had their money factory in some out of the way place in Connecticut, where they made the plates, printed and issued for the last two years, growing bolder and increasing the volume of their output year by year, until agencies for the distribution of the fake money had been established in every large city of the Union. The work was carried on with wonderful skill, and even the banks accepted the counterfeits and rarely was the spurious condition of any notes discovered until they reached the native city.

A wholesale dealer in false notes, Hale, was arrested. He first swore that he knew nothing, but finally said he would rather die than say anything because his wife would be secure if he "squealed" while any of the gang remained at liberty. The secret service also now hot on the trail of the members of the gang. A full description of them has been added to the police bulletins at foreign ports and they will all be rounded in a short time.

It is believed that the gang of counterfeiters was the main branch of the Ottges gang captured in the summer of 1892 in Dayton, Ohio. They had flooded the western country with counterfeit notes for years. One of the gang escaped with the wife of one of whom the detectives were anxious to get hold of, for he had in his possession a $10 "Webster head" plate, series 1880, which had been engraved by Ben Boyd, a former employ of the U. S. bureau of engraving, who was then serving a 10 year sentence in Joliet prison. Ben Boyd has received since his release from Joliet and is now said to be a highly valued employe of the Chicago Bank Note Printing company.

FICTITIOUS BOOKKEEPING.

Alleged Frauds Connected With the Adirondack Railroad.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Adirondack railroad scandals may develop sensations that will throw in the shade McLean's transactions in the Philadelphia and Reading. Members of the protective committee say there will be many revelations in connection with the investigation of the proposed systematic overcharging of accounts to the extent of $2,250,000 during the last four years. President Reinhart, it is said, is preparing to leave for Europe in a short time, which is said to have run down. He will return to New York on Monday in time to attend an important meeting of the reorganization committee on Monday when a comprehensive report will be made upon the supposed fictitious bookkeeping during the four years prior to the receivership.

LAST DAYS OF THE CONVENTIONALITY

A Lecture Delivered by Governor John E. Gordon.

MADISON, Ga., Aug. 4.—Between 4,000 and 5,000 people listened to Gov. John B. Gordon's lecture on "The Last Days of the Confederacy." Gen. Fairchild, ex-commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. and present national commander of the Loyal Legion was to have introduced Gov. Gordon, who is at the head of the Confederate Veterans, but being in his political condition obliged Mr. Fairchild to remain at home and he sent a letter of regret.

General Gordon dwelt with thrilling force on the high water mark of the war, he described the battle and told the results of the fight. The story of picketing at Gettysburg, Lee's surrender, and the Union army, was graphically told. The increase in the northern women made on Gordon was noted. A contrast between northern and southern women was made. The patriotism of the South was strongly portrayed. The situation around Petersburg and Richmond in that engraved story of the Confederacy, the starvation of the southern troops, the odds they fought against and the final surrender at Appomattox Court House, followed by the meeting between Grant, Gordon and Gen. Sheridan were all recalled. This was the last day of the assembly.

THE HAWAIIAN COMMISSION.

Wildman Has a Pleasant Interview With a Journey Brethren.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—H. A. Wildman, one of the three Hawaiian royalist commissioners, today had an hour's interview with Secretary Gresham. The call was purely informal. The secretary questioned the commissioner closely as to the authority by which he appeared, what the commission was doing here and as to the Hawaiian affairs generally. To all these questions Mr. Wildman responded freely and among other things showed the secretary's mind of the impression that the commission was seeking to influence Congress in the congressman's favor. The interview was characterized by the best of feeling. As Wildman had been given to understand that the commission cannot be dealt with officially by the department, there is ground for the presumption that the mission is at an end.

FINDING IT DANGEROUS

To Bring in Chinese Coolies as Returning Merchants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The Chinese have apparently come to the conclusion that it is no longer safe to bring coolies into the port as returning merchants. Commissioner Heinrich has made idle sweating in his court, a dangerous experiment, and the Chinese have complained by the law his actions impelled by the law his action put them in fear. Owing to the state of affairs the "merchants" are now coming by way of Mexico, and many of them are awaiting trial on write of habeas corpus obtained from the southern district court.

Metcalfe, of New York, a member of the general executive board of Knights of Labor, is making a tour of the West, organizing local assemblies and addressing the workingmen upon the labor question in the minds of the laboring classes. "Every effort is being made," said he, "and will continue to be made till election, to persuade all the workingmen to join the Populist party. Since the loss of the recent strike it has become apparent that the labor was the only remaining source of hope for the workingmen. In the Populist party they believe in the means of realizing that hope and they intend to see a Populist President in the White House."

"Unofficial facts have been shown," says General Armstrong, in "and Savage in the state prison. I think he has escaped to Mexico and we should be followed up and an example made of him. If he can be extradited. From the first transaction three or four years ago to the day he left, he was in some way defrauding the government. THE ASIATIC WAR.

The Report of the Defeat of the Chinese Land Army Confirmed.

ARMS SHIPPED FROM ENGLAND

The Attitude of the United States Board.—A Rumor Emphatically Contradicted.

FUSHOUAN, Aug. 4.—Captain Gilkerson, Chief Officer Temple and Quartermaster Evangelist of the sunken transport Kow shung, escaped by the mate of the Japanese cruiser have been taken to Sasebo where they are held as prisoners. Admiral Sir E. R. Freemantle in command of the British China squadron has ordered the Alacrity from Sasebo to Gensan with instructions to demand the release of the British sailors. Upon the arrival at Nagasaki the commander of the warship was informed that the prisoners would be delivered to him today.

THE CHINESE DEFEATED

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4.—A dispatch has been received which confirms the report that a second battle has been fought at Yashan between the Chinese and Japanese. The Chinese were defeated.

THE OFFICIAL DECLARATION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The Japanese legation has received a telegram announcing that on August 1 in the great battle was fought by the Emperor of Japan, formally announcing that war has been declared against China. Mr. Miyoshi, the Japanese charge, promptly will communicate this formal notification of war to Secretary Gresham today.

VIOLATING THE NEUTRALITY LAWS.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—In view of the instructions which were sent to Admiral Sir E. R. Freemantle, in command of the China station, not to allow British ships to carry war material to either China or Japan, parties having guns, but of indifferent war material for sale are in negotiation with both Chinese and Japanese representatives and both countries are known to be placing large orders. The Japanese expect to be able to dispatch a steamship full of war material from England for the Japanese next week. It is stated that the furnishing munitions of war to China and Japan is a clear violation of the laws of neutrality.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Strong denial is entered at the state department of the published story that the United States will enter into a treaty with the European powers to jointly occupy and keep open the treaty ports of China. It is also denied that overtures to that end have come from the other countries. When the war was only threatening, the United States sent the proposal offices to avert the evils. It did so in carry out the solemn obligation imposed by treaty with China made in 1862. It was under its terms that the President indicated to Japan that he would be pained should she inflict upon just war upon Corea. That was as far as the United States could go. It is said at state department that the attitude toward the belligerents will be precisely upon the same lines. We will side with neither China nor Japan, but as was intimated by Mr. Bayard, ambassador to Great Britain, the attitude of the United States will be one of "impartial neutrality."

Washington is not alone in other powers in the preservation of neutrality, we will not be a party to a joint treaty or combination, the object of which is a further interference in China or Japan. The entire United States fleet now in Chinese waters consists of the Baltimore and the Monocacy. About a week ago, orders were sent to Bering Sea to have the Concord and Petrel cut over to join the station, and that is all that has been done in that direction.

THE JAPANESE VICTORY.

TOKIO, Aug. 4.—The following is the official report of General Oshima, in command of the Japanese troops, of the recent engagement when the Chinese were defeated: "After a severe fighting five hours, from 3 a.m., July 29, we won a decisive victory. Ten enemies' intrenchments were carried, five captured and over 500 out of a total of 2,000 Chinese soldiers were killed or wounded. Our losses were five officers and seventy soldiers. The enemy fled toward Hoangchow and perhaps joined by reinforcements. We captured many flags, four cannon, many rifles and much ammunition. We occupy the enemy's headquarters.

New York Change.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Speculation opened strong with cotton the feature and 1 per cent higher, at 10c. It made a further advance of 1. Then lost the entire advance. The general list advanced 1 @ 2.

The market generally continued strong for the close. Sugar was an exception; after gaining 1 it sold down one per cent to 1 @ 1 where the close sugar gained ½.

STRUCK WITH A LEAD PIPE.

A Jeweler Assaulted by a Would-be Robber.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A young man entered the jewelry store of Alexander Newberger, of 1,000 Forty-fourth street, last night. Newberger recognized his visitor as a customer who had a stone set in a ring a few days before. The customer leaned heavily against the counter, so that he could take in the room without turning his back upon the man whom he had come to rob. Falling off the repaired ring, he said: "Here, I don't like the way you put that stone in."

Newberger gave a quick inspection and said: "Oh, I guess it is all right."

"No, it isn't, I tell you," the man persisted. "Take your eyeglass and see if the stone is not cripped."

The jeweler applied his glass and bent down over the man's left hand, which he had cast over the counter. He has just time to see that he had received a blow on the right side of the head from a piece of lead pipe, which the stranger swung with remarkable force. The violence of the blow sent Newberger, for he knew the man, to the floor. As Newberger fell he caught up a heavy revolver he always kept in a drawer in the counter. As he scrambled to his feet he saw the man leaping for the door. As he reached the door the man suddenly went up to him and fired four shots into his body, causing instant death. The youthful murderer was no one of reason. Her mother and John McNeiff were held as accomplices. McNeiff admits furnishing Miss Lunney with the revolver with which she did the killing. McKenna's friends claim he was innocent of the deed which fell to his death and charge that McNeiff is the guilty party. McNeiff is a relative of Miss Lunney. Public sentiment is against McNeiff, while a few believe McKenna guilty. Miss Lunney is a well educated woman of 18. Her father is one of the substantial farmers of Amity township.

The parents of the young people have been neighbors and friends for many years.

SUGAR SCHEDULE SUBMITTED.

The Date Fight Now on Coal and Iron Ore.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The tariff conferees began the work today with the sugar schedule. It is claimed the Senate conferees pointed out that with the new schedule the bill would not receive the votes of the Louisiana Democrats (Louisiana) become no bounty for this year is provided, or of Allen and Kyle (Populists), and those four votes, with that of Senator Hill would defeat the bill.

The Senate conferees say the Louisiana men cannot afford to vote against the bill so favorable to the sugar interests, simply because no provision for a bounty on the year's crop is included, as Congress certainly would pass a free sugar bill to go with the bill.

The sugar conference was supposed to have been held to ascertain if some new arrangement of the schedule could not be proposed, which would meet with more favor. Shortly after the conference of the senators was over, it was stated by one that the sugar schedule would be agreed to as the lines suggested yesterday, and the main fight between the conferees then would be on the coal and iron ore. When a short time was taken the House conferees announced that an agreement had been reached on the three main items—sugar, iron and coal.

Some of the conferees said it might take three or four days more to bring the members together.

The schedule submitted to the conferees yesterday provides for a duty on raw sugar of forty per cent; on refined sugar forty per cent; on the quantity of raw sugar necessary to make an amount of 1 pound to any composition, and a fifty cent additional, and sugar a tenth cent additional from countries paying a bounty on sugar exported.

There was a hurried conference today between Senator Gorman, Smith and Jones. Previous to this the Louisiana senators made a vigorous protest against the proposed sugar schedule which did not provide for a bounty on the product of this year.

THE SUGAR SCHEDULE GOES OVER.

It developed today that a conference was held at the White House last night at which were present the President, the Speaker, Chairman Wilson, Secretary Gresham and some others. The new sugar schedule was gone over and the unexpected action of those present warrants the inference that the President and others learned it advisable to accept the proposition. It was with this understanding that the House conferees met the senate today, but the objection of the Louisiana senators developed an unexpected obstacle.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 4.—Henry C. Slater and Co., the largest wholesale dealers here and about in the city, have assigned. The liabilities are $200,000 and the assets about $170,000. Last year the business of the house amounted to over $600,000, and it fell off greatly this year. This with the failure of several customers caused the assignment. The liabilities amounts due the firm are $150,000.

Secured a Receiver.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—W. A. McCormick, manager of the Brooklyn tobacco, secured a receiver Wednesday, respondent being a well known on the stage as Mary Hunter. McCormick claims the business of the daughter of Judge Gaynor is of California.

WITH A $20 GOLD PIECE.

George Olive Accused of Trying to Bribe a U. S. Commissioner.

Has Its Owner's Name—Sloan Denies All and Says It's a "Put-up" Job.

If all that it is stated be true, it would seem that George Olive has some guilty of an act which may yet land him in an uncomfortable position. The serious allegation is made that he sought to bribe Commissioner McNally, by means of a $20 gold piece, thus giving a decision in favor of the defendants in the famous replevin suit tried this week, in which Lorsel Evans Jr. was the plaintiff and Contractor Wm. Harkins the defendant. The facts of the case are to take time well known to the readers of the News.

Olive is an applicant for the office of county sheriff at the next election, so, indeed, he has been on several previous occasions, but he never yet succeeded in "getting there." He was one naturally anxious for defendants, on the point city and county officials, and consequently acted as head engineer on the gravity scheme, with Mr. E. F. Dieterich as his chief.

At the present judicial Commissioner McNally does his apparently decided to say to north upon the subject of the alleged attempt at bribing, but this he did admit when questioned: "After the hearing had made judgment had been pronounced on Thursday, Olive came to my office and, placing an envelope on my desk, hurriedly went out. On opening the envelope I found it contained a $20 gold piece. I came to the conclusion that people might as well know at once that I was not in that kind of business, and I stepped the door and handed over the gold and the envelope to Assistant United States District Attorney Howat for him to take whatever action he saw proper, and I understand the grand jury will likely have an opportunity to investigate the matter." Olive, he added, had appeared long before the hearing and said he would like to see the case decided in favor of Harkins, at the same time offering him a $20 gold piece, which was then understanding record.

Olive absolutely denies having offered the Commissioner any sum of money, and declares that "such a thing never happened." He says he had no interest whatever in the case, knew but little about it, and limits his action to a political point, namely the prospects of his nomination for the office of sheriff, when the time arrives.

Judge Howat was seen by a News reporter this morning what action he intended to take in the matter, and he said: "As soon as the grand jury assembles next month, then perhaps something will be done."

When spoken to regarding Olive's denial, Commissioner McNally characterized it as false throughout, and said he would be ready to back up his statement above made when the proper time arrived. He honor regrets exceedingly the publication at this time, by the newspapers, of the story of the alleged bribery, obtained from some outside source, and says he intended to keep it secret for the present, for good reasons. When, however, he learned that the incident had leaked out he thought it advisable, when interrogated, to briefly state the true facts.

PIONEER REUNION.

The Big Celebration Day Been Postponed to August 20th.

The big pioneer reunion intended to be held at Saltair on the 6th inst., concerning which brief mention has been made in the local newspapers, has been postponed until Monday, August 20th.

The postponement was announced at the conclusion of a meeting held by the executive committee, of which General H. H. Clawson is chairman, at noon today and after one considerably three present as to the importance of the occasion. The effort, although only recently inform in to date, has arouse so much interest as to suggest to those in charge the possibility of permission. This coupled with the fact that there was scarcely time enough to make the reinstatement that was decided on the 6th, led to the postponement.

Competent committees on transportation, entertainment, program and advertising have been appointed, and when the Pioneers, veterans and early settlers of Utah meet at Saltair the happy occasion of August 20th, they will discover that their friends have done much to make the day an enjoyable one for them.

Excursion from Ogden.

The Union Pacific brought up 100 excursionists from Ogden this morning. They were taken out to Garfield, where they spent the day. They will return home tonight.

A GREAT LAWYER.

Hon. A. S. Trude, Prosecutor of Alleged Pinkertons, in the City.

ON THE WAY TO ALLIGATORS.

"Stopped" With the Orders of Mayor Harrison "Until He Was Heard"—Went to Grand Island Today.

A representative of the News this morning had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with Mr. A. S. Trude, the famous Chicago attorney who was the principal prosecutor in the case of the people against Pinkertons, the murderers of Mayor Harrison.

"There never was a more interesting case in all the world's criminal annals, in the history of crime," said Mr. Trude, "from that of the whilom Pinkertons, and I regret with it could be was hanged and the demands of justice thus far satisfied."

Mr. Trude is regarded as one of the ablest and clearest attorneys in the United States. His services always come high, but then they must be had and are a matter of course are paid for accordingly. He never defends a criminal who does not feel sure of reason of the strongest characteristic, who, if convicted doesn't feel assured that his punishment will be lighter and the time of imprisonment greater than that he employed some other attorney. Not since the prosecute a violator of law who doesn't feel as though the "rig was up" with him was, in fact, wouldn't about as soon plead guilty as go on the witness stand and be cross-examined by his artful and searching questions.

There is no member of the bar in this country that receives greater deference or better treatment at the hands of judges in the north as the bench of railway officials than Mr. Trude is well known to the trade it is in the line of style. Private cars and parlors and well filled larders are furnished him every without the asking. He is in consequence from one company's track to another as though he were one the highest foreign potentate invited about the country at the expense of the government.

Mr. Trude is a man of splendid physique and the personal appearance and is probably about forty-five years of age. He arrived here this morning over the Rio Grande Western in a private car belonging to the vice president of the Burlington and Quincy. With him is his father, his wife and five children and Miss Margaret Griffith, A. F. Weege and F. B. Cain, associate city attorney of Chicago. Mr. Trude's brother Frank is corporation counsel for the World's Fair city.

The foremen the party were shown about the city and this afternoon went out to Garfield from where they were booked to return in regular Union Pacific trade at 6:20. The News man found Mr. Trude's very unassuming and almost common place gentleman so far as outward actions are concerned and yet interesting in the highest degree. He said he was an his newspapermen friends of the first concerned with the defense. At present he is the attorney of the Chicago Herald, the Times and several other newspapers and takes great interest, he says in defending them, from their suits.

He is now on the way to the Yellowstone National Park where he has leases of his new as at different places in which he has spent the season for several years past. He expects to remain in that part of the country this season until after cold of the fall snows.

THE CEMENT COMING.

It is in California Yet, But Will be Forwarded.

Work on the sewer probably will be resumed on Tuesday or Wednesday next, upon the arrival of two carloads of cement, which are expected on Monday or Tuesday at the latest. The sewer contractors, after considerable pleading of the national cement, at last succeeded in learning that the cement was tied up at some station on the Central Pacific, this side of Sacramento. Upon being appealed to, the Southern Pacific agreed to forward two carloads at once. A telegram received today stated that the cars would be attached to the eastbound passenger train.

The remainder of the shipment will be forwarded as soon as possible, to prevent further delay on the sewer work. The cement has been detained on the Sacramento division.

Train Will Be Sold.

The regular southbound passenger train which leaves this city daily at 4:30 p.m. over the Union Pacific will be sold tonight at the usual hour. Only until 9 o'clock, in order to carry the Juarez-Guthrie excursionists back to their homes, which they will leave at midnight.
