C. E. THOMPSON, president of the Logan city council, was an interested visitor at the meeting of the Salt Lake city fathers last night. Mr. Thompson left for home this morning after spending three days in the capital on private business. He says that Logan is advertising the sale of $40,000 sewer bonds. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to building a system of sewerage.

THE COMING SCHOOL ELECTION.

Citizens of the Fourth Precinct Want to be Non-Partisan.

There is an evident disposition on the part of the most prominent citizens of the Fourth precinct to make the coming school election non-partisan, so far as they are concerned. They have issued the following call:

To the voters of the Fourth Precinct:

There will be a meeting of the voters of said precinct on Thursday, December 1, 1892, at the independent school house in the Eighteenth ward, for the purpose of nominating a member of the board of education for said precinct, to be voted for on Wednesday, December 7. All are cordially invited to attend. The meeting will be called at 7 p. m. sharp.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 30, 1892.

RAILWAY TO CAPITOL HILL

When the West Temple Street Line Will Be Extended to Roper Street.

The City Council recently adopted a report from the committee on streets which made an emphatic and almost unqualified request of the City Street Railway company to change its route in building and operating a line to Capitol hill from Main to Center via Current street. This has caused the company to file a strong objection with the city auditor. Their complaint was read at a meeting of the City Council last night and referred to the city attorney for investigation and report. The company states that it would be impracticable and almost impossible to build and operate a line over Current street until a portion of that thoroughfare shall have been cut down sixty feet and that work the company says they should not be expected to do.

In regard to its West Temple street franchise, the company says all conditions will be complied with by them as soon as the property owners along the route will move their fences as formerly agreed upon. This will not be done for some time and all they ask, they say, is that their franchise to build their road on West Temple from Ninth South to Roper street be extended for one year.

AN ELECTION DISPUTE

Comes From Summit County, and an Action Has Been Filed.—Other Suits.

George W. Young, plaintiff and contestant, vs. J. H. Deming, defendant and contestee. This is the title of an action filed today in the office of the Third District court, in consequence of the recent election in Summit County, at which the respective parties were candidates for the office of treasurer, and the canvass of the votes by the board of canvassers showed that the defendant was elected by a majority of five votes. Plaintiff now contests the election on the ground of alleged misconduct on the part of Thos. Ball, Sr., the presiding judge of poll 1 in Coalville precinct, and of the board of judges of poll 2, in the receiving of ballots. He insists that he was wrongfully deprived of six of these, and therefore declares that Deming's election is illegal.

Williams & Van Cott are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Marcus Clawson has brought suit against James Moray to recover $145, with interest at 8 per cent, on a promissory note, secured by a mortgage.

George C. Kidder and R. W. Kidder are the plaintiffs and William R. Jay the defendant in a suit brought to recover $2100 and costs of suit on account of the building of a house and the furnishing of materials. Plaintiffs carry on business under the style of Kidder Bros., at Park City.

A. N. Bolts has brought a suit against Henry C. Pierce and W. W. Hollister to recover $575, with interest, on a promissory note, secured by a mortgage.

Sidewalk Board.

Councilmen Lawson, Kelly, Rich, Horn and Simondi were appointed by President Lambourne last night as a board of equalization and review on sidewalks. They will meet next week and continue in session for five days. The board will appoint its own chairman.

A SHUFFLING OF CARDS.

Marshal Parsons Will This Evening Yield to His Successor.

THE NEXT PENITENTIARY WARDEN

The Re-organized Staff of Deputy Marshals.—Tomorrow Begins the New Order of Things.

In view of the change which will take place in the U. S. marshalship tomorrow morning, the outgoing deputies who have hitherto been acting under the retiring marshal, Mr. E. H. Parsons, were today breathing their farewells to those of their fellow officers who will continue under the new regime. Up to this time there have been seven deputy marshals; the new management has cut the number down to four in addition to Clerk Swan. So that while Messrs. Roman Cannon, Abe Dyer, Will Goodsell, with Dan Swan, as clerk, will go on as though nothing had happened to disturb the harmonious whole, Charlie Goodsell and Arthur Parsons will say adieu. A new corner will complete Marshal Benton's quartette, namely, A. L. Keeler, who is well-known among Salt Lake real estate men.

At the penitentiary Warden Sam Parsons—who during his brief reign as that institution has won many friends as well as proved himself a thoroughly efficient officer—will be succeeded by Colonel George R. Squires, a gentleman who for the past three or four years has resided in this city and occupied himself with mining and kindred pursuits. He originally came from New York.

As stated in these columns yesterday, Marshal Parsons will henceforward engage in stock raising; as to what, it is more than likely he will shortly be heard of as a deputy marshal of Provo.

Marshal Benton will qualify before Judge Zane at the close of the ordinary court business today, and his deputies will "qualify" at the same time. Their bonds, for the faithful performance of duty, are fixed at $10,000 each. Mr. Benton paid an official visit to the penitentiary this morning, accompanied by the new chief warden, who virtually took possession and received instructions relative to his duties. They returned shortly after noon.

The staff of guardsat the penitentiary will—at any rate for the present—remain wholly undisturbed, and the future plan of the new marshal seems to be to make everything as pleasant as possible all round.

LAWYERS' TETE A TETE.

Counsel in the Kollins Case Take Testimony, Cavil and Adjourn Until Tomorrow.

The Kollins case was resumed before Justice Geo this morning and occupied all of the time up till noon. Thomas Pevreyear, Thomas H. Nott and Al. N. Thorogood, witnesses for the prosecution, were examined and gave strong testimony against the defendant. There was considerable quibbling between counsel on either side over the statements made under oath by Thorogood, who claims to have been a witness to a beating with Kollins, and who is the principal witness for the prosecution.

Judge O. W. Powers indulged in characteristic language that a man who would swear in a particular way, as Thorogood swore, or Thorogood says he swore that he had done and then gave States' evidence, could not and should not be believed under any condition. Assuming that the defendant was guilty he was less a criminal than his traitorous accuser, or rather employer. The case was continued until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Snow Storm on Long Island.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Nov. 30.—The heaviest snow storm on Long Island since the blizzard of 1888 has been experienced today, the fall being 18 inches to two feet. Heavy drifts in many cases impede travel and all trains are delayed or snowed in. Those from Sag Harbor are missing.

A SPECIAL CABINET MEETING.

The Nicaragua Canal Convention.—Commissioner Busch's Report.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30.—The committee of twelve appointed by the international monetary conference to report on the proposals submitted by Rothschild, sat yesterday for eight hours with only a short interval for luncheon. The members have arranged to give exclusive attention to the work of the committee, so as to be able to present an exhaustive report to the conference. Several experts, not delegates to the conference, have offered to give evidence on the production of precious metals and other points relating to the deliberations, but the committee declined to hear witnesses on any side of the questions. It is understood the committee take as the nearest approach to accuracy the statistics, prepared by Ottomar Haupt, especially for the use of the conference, giving estimates compiled from the latest data of the monetary stocks of the world and the annual production and consumption of gold and silver.

Senator Jones, one of the American delegates, has prepared a special statement of the consumption and production of silver. The committee has consented to request the Danish delegate, C. F. Tietjen, to submit his plan as an addendum to the Rothschild plan. Tietjen is a monometallist. He proposes the coinage of silver of five-franc, four-shilling, or dollar pieces according to the price of silver in the year previous to the adoption of the international agreement, with a seigniorage of 10 per cent. He also proposes the appointment of a permanent international commission to fix the initial price. Should the price of silver fall to 5 per cent below the coinage rates, the commission will have authority to fix a new rate and order the recoinage of the pieces. These coins shall be legal tender internationally, banks to keep them as a reserve against notes and have the right to demand gold in exchange for them at any time from the government issuing the particular coin held.

The members of the committee declare that their proceedings must be kept completely private until definite decisions are attained. They will not communicate to the delegates not belonging to the committee the progress they are making in their discussion.

PRESS COMMENTS.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Daily Telegraph suggests that silver be made legal tender up to the amount of £4, in order to secure the bimetallists of the five pound pieces. It continues: "Even if the conference should adopt the Rothschild silver plan, it might be months, perhaps years, of negotiation between the different governments before anything could be actually done. But it is universally felt that Rothschild has done a great service to the commercial interests by averting an utter smash of silver through the collapse of the monetary conference."

The Standard says: The silver market is not favorably impressed with Rothschild's scheme. The more the scheme is examined, the more patent becomes its impracticability. The collapse of the monetary conference is expected in all thoughtful circles.

The News: "It is understood the proposed limit of the legal tender of silver will be reduced to 4 pounds. It also suggests that inasmuch as Sir William Vernon Harcourt selected Rothschild as a delegate to the monetary conferences, the last named gentleman has probably received an inkling that the British government will support his scheme."

DID NOT MEET.

The international monetary conference did not meet today. The next session will be on Friday, when it is expected the report on the Rothschild scheme by the committee will be ready.

A Defaulter.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 30.—It is reported that the agent of the Bank of British Columbia at Nelson is a defaulter for $40,000.

Senator Gibson's Condition.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 30.—The condition of U. S. Senator Gibson, of Louisiana, who is lying very ill here of affection of the heart, was practically unchanged this morning.

A CLAIMANT.

Mrs. Freeman Says She Was Cheated by Her Lawyer.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Adena Freeman of San Diego has filed a suit here, claiming the ownership of about a million and a half worth of the best property in this city, as the only heir of Burton Grant, her father, who died here in 1887, leaving the property in question. She claims that through the treachery of her lawyer a false will of her father was probated. The will does not mention Mrs. Freeman and under the California laws an unmentioned heir inherits all if there were no will. If she is the only heir, she will inherit all.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

The Convention Opened at New Orleans Today.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—The national convention in the interests of the Nicaragua canal opens here today. The convention is the outgrowth of a movement inaugurated on the Pacific coast. In response to the desire of commercial bodies of San Francisco, Governor Markham last March called on the governors of various states to appoint delegates to a convention to be held at St. Louis to consider the means of forwarding the work under national auspices. That convention met last June and before closing, arranged for the present convention.

The general idea is to induce Congress to recognize the canal company by granting it a charter, and extend government protection over it, to prevent any further interference in its management, detrimental to American interests. This course is urged, not on the distinct ground of guaranty, which Congress is asked to raise the necessary amount for the construction—a hundred million dollars—but on the general ground that this country should control its management. A bill to that end is now pending in Congress. The convention promises to be a large and representative one.

The states represented so far with the number of delegates are as follows: Arkansas, 25; Alabama, 4; California, 15; Washington, 11; Florida, 10; Georgia, 5; Illinois, 11; Iowa, 14; Indiana, 2; Kentucky, 3; Kansas, 11; Louisiana, 15; Mississippi, 19; Maine, 2; Missouri, 4; Michigan, 2; New York, 15; Nebraska, 1; North Carolina, 6; Ohio, 1; Oregon, 2; Pennsylvania, 3; South Carolina, 11; Tennessee, 10; Texas, 19; Virginia, 5, making a total this morning of 195.

The convention was called to order by President P. J. Claverie of the board of trade in the Odd Fellows' hall, magnificently decorated for the occasion. The American and Nicaragua colors prevailed and an eagle with outstretched wings nestled the treats. The orchestra also played the national hymns of the two countries and a Nicaragua air arranged for the occasion was encored and encored.

On the platform were the city and state officials, including Governor Murphy J. Foster, and acting Mayor Irwin Lemkuhl; Hon. George L. Converse, permanent chairman of the St. Louis convention and Governor Fleming, of Florida. Dr. R. M. Palmer of the First Presbyterian church offered prayer and President Odenthal gave the formal welcome for the board of trade. City Attorney E. A. O'Sullivan followed for the municipality and Governor Foster for the State. Converse replied for the convention.

The principal business of the morning was the appointment of the committees on credentials. Recess was taken until the report was prepared. Several speeches will follow, probably by Jones of Arkansas and Judge Uedes of California. One of the leading matters discussed this morning is the resolution which President J. C. Clarke of the Mobile and Ohio railroad will offer. It recognizes the measure as a national one as having been endorsed by both parties, and provides that the government guarantee the one hundred million of bonds, the latter to be used as a basis for new national banks. No party shall own more than a thousand shares of stock in the concern, the percentage of bills to be deposited annually in the United States treasury.

THE COAL COMBINE.

The Investigation Resumed this Morning.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The investigation into the coal combine was resumed here this morning. Thomas Tomlord, a coal dealer, testified that the prices this season were unusually uniform. He attributed the fact to the coal combine.

Thomas Torrey, general sales agent of the Delaware and Hudson Coal company, testified that at the meetings of the sales agents no coal iron scale of prices was fixed, but there was a sort of tacit consent that the prices should be approximately uniform. Also, while the output was generally referred to no decisive action thereon was taken.

GLADSTONE'S HOME RULE.

"Details" as Cabled to America Unworthy of Notice.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—"Yankee details" and "exclusive information" are the sneering headings under which the Pall Mall Gazette publishes this morning the details of Gladstone's new home rule scheme for the Irish provinces, as cabled here. A few papers print the cable dispatch, but none comment on it.

A representative of the Associated Press today had an interview with Herbert Gladstone on the subject and asked whether the scheme as published, is based on an autograph letter of his. Gladstone said there was not a word of truth in the report that there was any such autograph letter in existence. In regard to the alleged scheme, which purports to be the plan of the government, Gladstone said it was unworthy of notice, adding that it contains its own most effective denial.

Kolb and Jones.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 30.—Kolb has decided not to attempt to be sworn in as governor tomorrow. There will therefore be nothing to disturb the inauguration of Governor Jones.

Express Safe Robbed.

DWIGHT, Ills., Nov. 30.—A robber with a key to the express safe of the United States Express company, yesterday, while the messenger was absent, entered the express car on the Illinois, Indiana and Iowa road, here, unlocked the safe and stole $200. There is no clue to the robber.

Cabinet Meeting Today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Harrison, in view of the exigency of the near approach of the session of Congress, called a special meeting of the cabinet today to consider the recommendations in his message. It is now his intention merely to touch on one or two points which he has in his mind to elaborate, and he expects to have the document ready for presentation to Congress on Tuesday. The Bering sea case and the financial outlook are also considered at the cabinet meeting today.

The Pension Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The annual report of Commissioner of Pensions Green B. Raum shows that there were on the pension rolls June 30th last 876,029 pensioners, an increase during the year of 196,036. There were added to the rolls during the year 225,607 new pensioners and 3,471 pensioners previously dropped restored to the pension rolls. During the year 25,300 pensioners were dropped from the rolls. The total amount expended for pensions during the year is $139,056,125, for the present fiscal year $144,130,000 is appropriated and taking the cost of pension allowances during the first months of the fiscal year as a basis of calculation, the commissioner estimates a deficiency appropriation of $15,000,000 to be necessarily to supply the needed funds.

An estimate of $165,000,000 is submitted for the next fiscal year. The commissioner says, however, if the many pension allowances are made the ensuing year as last, this will not be enough. Under the dependent and disability acts 820,985 claims were filed, of which 60,861 have been allowed. Pension payments under the law to September 30th amounted to $79,014,487. The commissioner heartily commends the disability act.

Church Makes an Assignment.

ALMA, Mich., Nov. 30.—Nathan Church, interested with those in the Tecumseh and Ithaca banks, which failed, made an assignment today for the benefit of his creditors.

Will Stock Recover.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A report was started in Wall street this afternoon, that Jay Gould, who has been ill at his residence, is dying. A subsequent rumor had it that he has died. Rumors are not generally credited and these had but little effect on the market.

The Smith Trial.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30.—The charges against Professor Smith having been declared sufficient in form and effect, the trial proper began today.

The prosecution began by presenting two published articles by Professor Smith, in which he discussed the ordination vows and the freedom of opinion among ministers. He declares there that it is absurd to expect entire conformity of views among ministers. He says it would be simply an impossibility for every minister to conform to even the views of a majority of the general assembly, and says in such case a minister cannot be expected to go to another church, as he may be unable to find one in entire accord with his views, and to break away and found another would be unchristian and sinful. There are too many sects already.

Testimony on the first charge was not all in when recess was taken.

Governors Inaugurated.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 30.—Governor Tillman and Lieutenant-Governor Gary were inaugurated at noon in the House of Representatives.

A Buena Ventura Fire.

PANAMA, Nov. 30.—Buena Ventura has suffered severely from fire, a great portion of that important distributing centre for the Pacific coast being destroyed on the 19th by a fire causing irreparable loss, and widespread desolation and ruin. Later advices announce that the fire destroyed between sixty and seventy buildings, including the post house and prison, but the principal commercial houses are uninjured.

THE STREET SPRINKLING.

Another Plain Case of "How They Are Doing It."

WHO IS TO BLAME!

It has been Costing the City $15 to Allay the Dust During the Recent Storm.

Another plain case of "how they are doing it" has just come to light. By "they" it is meant certain prominent city officials. During the early part of November, when there was considerable falling weather and when the dust was not nearly so dense or suffocating as in the summer months, the city was paying for street sprinkling at the rate of $187.50 per day—the regular contract figure, it is true. But the contract specifically sets forth that the sprinkling can be increased or reduced according to the "pleasure of the City Council." It seemed to be the "pleasure" of that august body to allow this state of things to continue as long as possible, and it did continue until relief was promised. Here is the kind of relief the taxpayers obtained: A contract was entered into by two members of the sprinkling committee with Mount & Griffin, without consulting with the council or asking that body to ratify its action. The terms of the contract were that ten teams should be employed at $4.50 for fifteen days; that they were to cover the same district that three times the number of teams had done before them; and that they were to receive pay whether it rained or not. From today until the 15th day of December, six teams are to do the work under the conditions. But this is what certain councilmen find the most fault with. They say that for some time past the sprinkling firm has been using there ten teams at grading and doing other street work at $6.50 per day.

Councilman Kelly, who is chairman of the street sprinkling committee, was asked by a NEWS reporter this afternoon if it were true that the city was paying for the services of these teams for sprinkling while they were engaged at other work, and he replied: "Well, how can we help it? We do not own the teams and consequently cannot control them."

And thus will it continue until December 15th, at least as a the council said, on Friday night last, refuse to approve the committee's action.
